TULANE

It gives me a great deal of pleasure to welcome you to the 1966 JAMBALAYA, the yearbook of Tulane University. It is the wish of the editor that this edition of the JAMBALAYA will be remembered for many years to come. Hopefully, there is a little bit of everything in the book so that even the most critical will be somewhat appeased. If anyone is not fully satisfied I bear the full responsibility and apologize here and now.

Tulane is growing before our very eyes and is becoming quite modern. Therefore, the mood of the JAMBALAYA is one of modern in design and subject matter but still rich in memories and tradition. The JAMBALAYA captures the life at Tulane from the unwelcome winds of Hurricane Betsy through the final exams in May. The 1966 JAMBALAYA is dedicated to the students, faculty, and administration of Tulane University who make this pictorial survey possible. Thank you.

The college experience is indeed a very personal one. The task of portraying life at Tulane pictorially would not only be impossible but ridiculous, for it exists only in the minds and memories of student, faculty, and administration. In the coming years, perhaps a few of these pictures may spark and rekindle thoughts of Tulane as you have experienced it.

There is more to operating a good university than merely classroom instruction. Although the classroom is the basic part of Tulane, the rules by which the classrooms function, the buildings in which the classrooms are housed, and the students who partake of the classroom instruction are all the responsibility of the administration. Providing direction for our university is probably the hardest task of the administration; however, with such projects as the Tulane Forward Fund, the direction of our university is moving forward—with all deliberate speed.

DR. HERBERT E. LONGENECKER, President, Tulane University

Dr. Longenecker talks with victims of Hurricane "Betsy" in Tulane's gym.

In hand is the 1966 JAMBALAYA: record, album, college of a busy year. It graphically reflects a tradition, captures the exuberance of a youthful community, and suggests a future. Its pages dramatize not an institution so much as a multifaceted people, creating for themselves an even better, ever more meaningful collegiate life.

Candid cameras provide us with a store of events, ranging from heaven to earth, sense to nonsense. Asi es la vida.

Axiomatically, the whole equals its parts; poetically, nothing is so constituted. This book can show us parts —greeks, classes, sports, features, administration—which equal the whole year mathematically. The poet in each Tulanian must add the integrative dimension to those pages.

Again, a competent and dedicated staff have given us a book which is truly representative of this university's finest aspirations. Sincere appreciation is in order.

Division of Student Life

For many a new and old Tulanian the complexities of campus life are unwoven by the Division of Student Life. Through its departments, this branch of Administration aids the individual development of each student with guidance, information, activity, and advice.

This Division has only one purpose in serving Tulane, which is to make each year enjoyable in every phase of college life by providing social and cultural activities supplementing academic study and an opportunity to develop talents and interests.

The Orientation program which helps to integrate the student into college life is a project of this Division which tries to make the student at home at Tulane. The University Center becomes the living room of that home providing him with intellectual and recreational activities. Because every aspect of college life is linked to this Division, it is an integral part of Tulane.

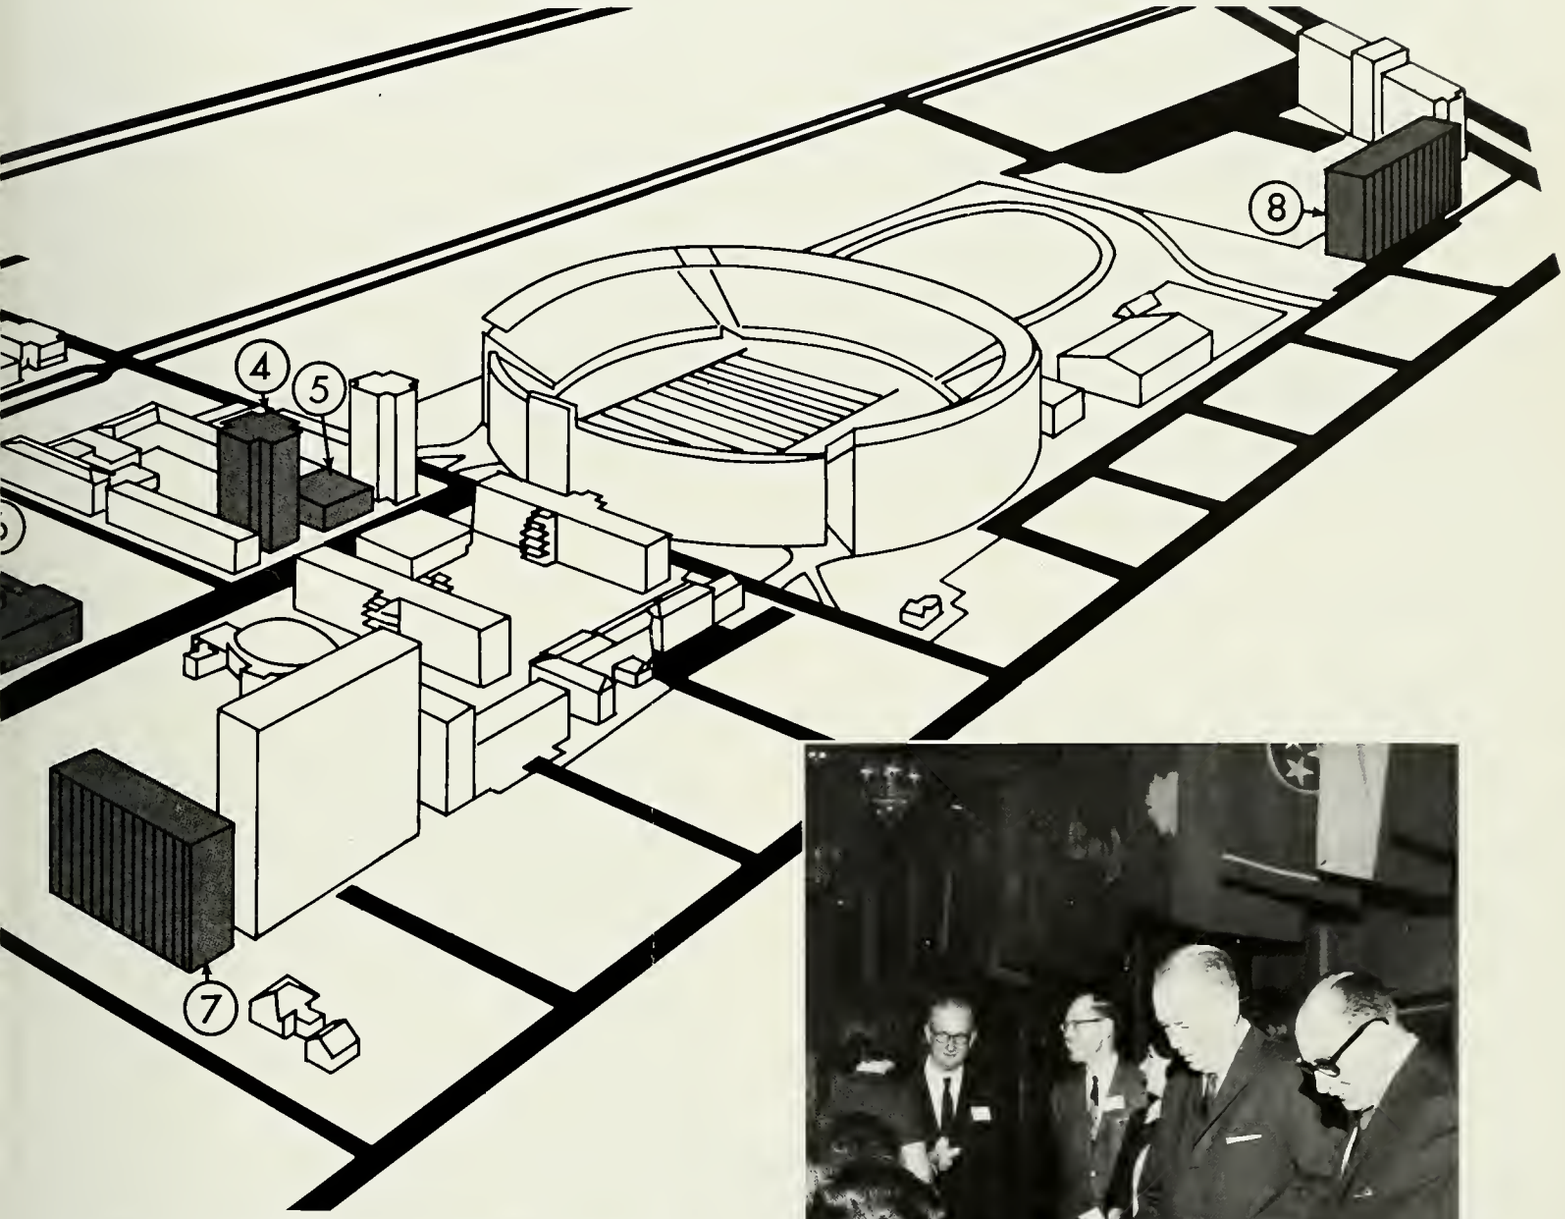
Tulane Accepts Challenge

TULANE TODAY . . . . . AND TOMORROW



Tulane University today faces the greatest opportunity in its history—an opportunity to move forward as a great independent university essential for the South. To seize this opportunity, Tulane has accepted the greatest challenge since its founding in 1834—a drive for funds of unprecedented magnitude. The first step has been taken. After extensive analysis of the University's needs and plans for the next decade, an immediate goal of $24.4 million from private sources by 1967 has been established. This Tulane Forward Fund goal is substantial. So, too, is the record of Tulane's past and present achievement. A powerful incentive is a $6 million grant offered Tulane by the Ford Foundation, provided that $12 million is received in cash, securities or real property from other private sources by March 31, 1967. The opportunity is clear. The challenge is large. Meeting the challenge will require the concerted effort and carefully considered investment in the University by all persons interested in the future of Tulane and the South.

Tulane Alumni Association

The Tulane Alumni Association, incorporated in 1898, is dedicated to the broad principles of loyalty and service to the University and its alumni. During the past sixty-eight years it has grown into a world-wide organization of 39,000 members living in the fifty states and in sixty foreign countries.

The Alumni Fund, now in its twentieth year, has been of great significance to the University. Currently alumni are actively involved in the Tulane Forward Fund drive. The Association's contributions to higher education have been equally important.

Alumni are active in assisting in admissions. The annual Tulane Conferences, presented by the Association and Alumni Clubs, bring to many cities throughout the nation programs in the specialized fields of science, the humanities, law, medicine, engineering, social work and many others.

Other regular activities include Homecoming, reunions, and the principal publication for the alumni, THE TULANIAN, a magazine sent to all alumni without charge.

Each year at Homecoming about 35 classes celebrate their reunions. Above is the Medical Class of 1920.

Georgia Seago Fischer, Executive Secretary of the Newcomb Alumnae Association.

The Newcomb Alumnae Association is composed of all students who have attended Newcomb College whether or not they graduated from the school. The Association has grown to over 9,800 members scattered throughout the United States. The alumnae office, in the Tulane Alumni House, keeps up-to-date files on the addresses of all former students.

The Association holds two annual meetings, one at Homecoming in the fall, and the other at Commencement in the spring. The Alumnae Association Clubs are located in various major cities across the country and promote interest in Newcomb College.

The growth of the Newcomb Alumnae Association has paralleled the expansion of the College itself and now coordinates its various activities with other University-wide organizations such as the Student Council and the Tulane Alumni Association.

Tulane University Student Council

Standing: John Fullilove, president; Sandy Mellow, secretary, Hayes Fush, representative-at-large. Sitting: Janet Moore, vice-president; Margaret Noble, president of the UC Board.

The Student Council not only serves as a representative body that governs for Tulane and Newcomb but also as a liason between the students, the administration, and the community. The Council is headed by President John Fullilove. The other members are Janet Moore, Vice President; Sandra Mellow, Secretary; Hayes Fush, Representative-at-Large; and Margaret Noble, President of the University Center Board. As for the Council committees, Academic Affairs is headed by Lee Kantrow, Alumni Relations by Mike Goodrich, Community Relations by Susan Marland and LaFon Pease, Elections by Hope Harwood, Publicity by Prissy Hess, and Special Projects by Bert Seyfarth.

The six committees of the Council play an important role in the functioning of the Council. This year the Council has intensified its effort to increase beneficial off-campus activities that involve the community. The Community Relations Committee sponsors literature programs for children, and Project Opportunity for junior high students, which introduces them to cultural events in New Orleans. The Special Projects Committee is in charge of Outlook, a tutoring program for children in the neighborhood. The Government Reforms Committee is concerned with improving the structure of the present council and studies other systems through the New Orleans Intercollegiate Exchange and the National Student Association. The Publicity Committee is new this year and its purpose is to magnify the position of the Council. On campus, the Council has sponsored the construction of the Rathskeller, a student entertainment center in the University Center.

Cosmopolitan

Carolyn Gifford, chairman

The Cosmopolitan Committee is the University Center contact group with the International Students. Through its various functions ranging in scope from the swimming parties, Christmas dance, and International Days to the Travelogue Series of slides from foreign countries, the Committee attempts to acquaint the foreign students with the American way of life and to familiarize the American students with the various aspects of international life.

Fine Arts

Regina Brody, chairman

Events which add a cultural flavor to the University Center program in the fields of film, literature, and the arts are presented by the Fine Arts Committee. Throughout the year it sponsors events such as the Fine Arts Film Series which features films from comedy to ballet. The committee also brings varied art displays to the campus which are shown on the mezzanine of the University Center.

Hospitality

Janie Moser, chairman

To the Hospitality Committee belongs the responsibility of making the students and visitors on campus feel at ease and welcome. The members, who are the student hosts and hostesses, try to accomplish this by providing receptions and tours of the University for the visitors. For all members of the University family, Hospitality sponsors "Caffeine Capers," a weekly coffee with informal entertainment. Before each holiday they put up a travel map to help students obtain either rides or riders home. Another service of Hospitality is ushering for events sponsored by the other committees within the program.

"University Center throws an open house for the incoming freshmen."

Lagniappes

Henry Harnage, chairman

LAGNIAPPES is a Creole word meaning "a little extra." The purpose of the Lagniappes Committee is to offer this "little extra" to the student in the form of dances and spirit rallies. They sponsor the Orientation dance at the beginning of the year, the

Lyceum

Mike Corley, chairman

The Lyceum Committee's function is to provide Tulane and Newcomb students with "big name" speakers on current issues, present outstanding faculty lecturers, and to act as a sounding board for the expression of student opinion on the topics of the day. In the past the committee has sponsored forums on University and world problems as well as small discussion groups on controversial, philosophical, and generally challenging subjects. This year soap box forums on the above subjects have been held by this committee.

Music

Lynne-Donna Rocker, chairman

The Music Committee Schedules all major musical events sponsored by the University Center. Such events as concerts by the Niños Cantores de Monterey, Jan Pierce, Itzhak Perlman and Andrés Segovia have been presented by the Music Committee. Another primary function of the committee is the planning and control of the two music listening rooms on the University Center mezzanine. Committee members instruct students in the use and care of those stereo and monaural machines. This year a series of hootenanies with student participation has been co-sponsored by WTUL radio and the music committee.

Padohad

Eugenie Watson, chairman

The function of the PADOHAD Committee was originally a two-fold one: that of the Preservation and Development of Hobbies and Decorations. However, through the years this committee has come to concentrate all its activities in the field of decorations. The artistic committee members decorate the University Center for the different school seasons—Orientation, Football, Christmas, Dead Week, Mardi Gras, etc. PADOHAD also works closely with the other committees to plan and construct decorations for events sponsored by these groups.

Personel and Evaluations

Mickey Friedberg, chairman

The Personnel and Evaluation Committee maintains the personnel records of all members in the University Center Program. The bulk of this committee's duties lies in working toward unification of the various committees, the recognizing of outstanding persons in the program, and the elimination of inactive committee personnel. In addition to this phase of the committee's activity, evaluation of Program sponsored events and subsequent recommendations to the University Center Board are handled through this Committee.

"Eliot Levin talks it up at UC open house."

"Margaret Ward and Louis Berndt compare notes at one of the weekly UC Board meetings."

Publicity

Lenn Knapp, chairman

No program, however well-planned or executed, can be a success unless students and faculty are fully informed. It is the function of the Publicity Committee to publicize University Center activities. The committee uses all possible forms of publicity, including newspaper articles for campus and city papers, posters, banners, leaflets, and fliers, Representatives from Publicity are appointed to other University Center groups to cover the publicity for their events during the year. From suggestions made by the sponsoring committee, the Publicity Committee plans and helps execute the publicity campaign for the event.

Public Relations

Jim Yawn, chairman

The Public Relations Committee is the image-building group in the University Center Program. Among the functions of this committee is the maintenance of the University Center Scrapbook, the promotion of better relations with other schools and universities throughout the country, and the establishment of contacts with the hometown newspapers of students outstanding in the University Center Program.

Recreation

Lucas Ehrensing, chairman

The Recreation Committee, as its name implies, has as its primary function to provide all types of recreational activities for Tulane students. This committee handles annual tournaments in billiards, bowling, tennis, chess, bridge, and other sports. The sponsoring of vacation trips and tours is a further function of this committee. In addition to its activities on the Tulane campus, this committee sponsors delegates to the Regional Association of College Unions tournaments and contests.

Spotlighters

Norris Lupo, chairman

The main function of Spotlighters is to search for student, faculty, and big name talent and bring it to the attention of the Tulane student body. Spotlighters is active in the presentation of various entertainment events such as freshman talent show, campus-wide talent show, the orientation week style show, and outstanding entertainment in the non-musical field such as the Smothers Brothers and Bob Hope.

Activity with a purpose is the motto of Tulane's organizations. At our university one does not find overactivity or inactivity; however, one does find activity. The projects of the organizations provide the individual with a useful outlet for his particular interests during his college career. The facilities and events that are offered to the individuals by Tulane organizations greatly increase the university experience.

Tim Jones, Assistant Editor.

The JAMBALAYA enjoyed another profitable year while Benson Printing Company sat on edge until the last bit of copy was submitted. The whole mess came out of the lower left hand corner basement office of the U.C. The main instigator of the annual and the person to blame is Jim Saalfield, who wore the dubious title of editor.

Further down the chain of command was Gray (Mr. Loveable) Plosser who edited the opening part of the book. The other assistant editor was Tom Jones who in addition to editing the fraternity section pitched in whenever and wherever he could. Erick Albert, assisted by Diane Dallas, did an excellent job on the administration section. Sylvia Dreyfus was in charge of the classes section and for the first time in many years the classes section was in ahead of the final deadline. Assisting Sylvia was Suzanne Dupuy, Meg Burns, Len Blackshear, Susan Dees, and Sandy Durst. Bill "All American" Zimmerman did an outstanding job on the sports section, that is, whenever he was not busy selling insurance. Martha Bond took care of the society portion of the JAMBALAYA and headed up the features section, she also took care of Mr. Walker. Elaine Cuellar took the task of editing the sorority section along with Chuck Robilio.

Chris Irwin edited the military section with great pains while George Barlow undertook publications. Woody Norwood took care of the honoraries after Dr. Riess gave his final check. Ralph Wafer was responsible for the clubs and Al Childs did a marvelous job on the religious section. Pretty Rachelle Galanti was the first to have a section in, which was spirit. Lois Guller took care of the music and drama section. Special thanks go to Mary Brown and Margaret Noble who took care of the art work and general advice in time of need down here in the lower left hand corner basement office of the U.C.

Student Directory

The Student Directory staff this year strove to put vitality into a previously empty publication. A dual checking system using both dormitory lists and registration cards kept errors to a minimum. The purpose of the directory is to provide a listing of each student's many addresses. Phone numbers are gratis. This year's book emphasized the GREEN SECTION, including a calendar of major events and V. I. P. telly ciphers. Placed suspiciously in the back of the book were the departmental and faculty numbers. Double checking placed quality over mass produced, sloppily designed media. Under the direction of Dick Alderman, editor, and Curtis Tatar, business manager, the Student Directory into a recognized, well-developed student publication.

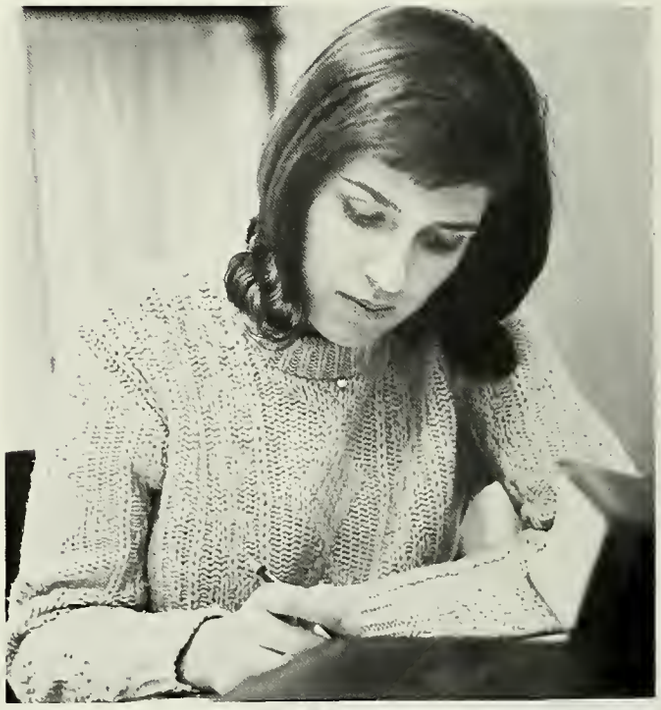
Hullabaloo

Laboring under a cross of newsprint, Clark Rowley attempted to bring the Hullabaloo up to acceptable newspaper standards. Taking out after fraternities, "the warlike Rowdy" shot at anything that moved for the rest of the year. Things could have gotten a lot worse but for the moderating influences of Erica Metz, Viet Nam editor, and Barbara Edin, who insisted that news wasn't really news. "It might be just an exception, not news," she protested. Meanwhile, Andrea Vogel with the musical laugh insisted on humming and singing through thick and thin, and Vagn Hansen couldn't seem to convince anybody that Editorship without Portfolio was a legit position. Nevertheless, he shared the title with a bagful of reprobates. Taking care of the features department, Carol Sowell had her staff rewriting News Service copy. Ron Balson kept the local radio stations off balance, and the football team enjoyed his wholehearted support, if nobody else's. The culture department under Telise Johnsen was accused of being anti-symphony. Ronald Scott, who knows everything, suffered a mild case of schizophrenia with loyalties split between WTUL and the picture-clogged Hullabaloo. Charles Klaveness and Mark Renshaw eked out a living writing columns when columns were in surplus. Joe Wilhelm, John Fitch, John Lankford, and a medley of others comprising the Staff Writers chased down a variety of stories under the command of the editor, and scads of freshman stringers scoured the campus picking up the pieces.

The upshot was a read newspaper, and sometimes a stolen newspaper, if not a well-liked one.



Erica Metz does a little writing of her own.

Photographers Ron Scott, Jack Payton, and Bishop Cornwell filled Hulla pages with pictures, and in general turned up everywhere with popping flashbulbs.

Rodolfo Pastor, Barbara Edin, Nora Cooke, and Bill Rushton didn't actually spend all their time looking at walls.

Forbiddingly barring entrance to Hulla's sanctum sanctorum are Mark Renshaw, Paul Schulman, John Lankford, Ted Arnold, Arnold Shelby and John Fitch.

Henry Bernstein and Joe Wilhelm make sure that readers take only one copy at a time.

Steve Fox and Ron Balsom tried their best to make Tulane sports-minded and succeeded, sort of.

Jeff Howie and Telise Johnsen soak up a little of the culture that they peddle every Thursday.

A few glances at the bound copies of years past convince Karen King, Leonard Horowitz, Jim Porter, Carol Sowell, and Gary Janko of the '66 model's superiority.

The clown princes of radioland; Nelson Brown, Bill Klinkenstein, Mike Midnight, Dick Spero, Jeff Johnson, and Ralph Whalen: WTUL's executive staff.

WTUL

WTUL celebrated its banner year in 1965, beginning its sixth year of radio broadcasting at Tulane. An increased budget allowed the addition of new technical facilities and WTUL covered virtually all the dormitories with twenty-four hour broadcasting and its best AM signal in history. A boxful of politicking resulted in a second studio and two new offices in the University Center. Enthusiasm overflowed on such occasions as the Studio A painting party, broadcast live and in living color, Spanish ochre and green snake paint highlighting the day-long celebration. The sixty member staff included a host of WTUL disc-jockey personalities such as The Mighty Spirit, Captain Midnight, Daddy-O, The Wolf Man, and J. Thaddeus Toad. Special features were the broadcast of tapes from the Newcomb Hall language lab, Student Council meetings, lectures from McAlister auditorium, and remote shows from each dormitory lounge. Sports specials, taped highlights of Tulane football victories, and broadcast of away roundball games kept the jockophiles smiling.

Corky Avner and technical facilitiess the new publications teletype.

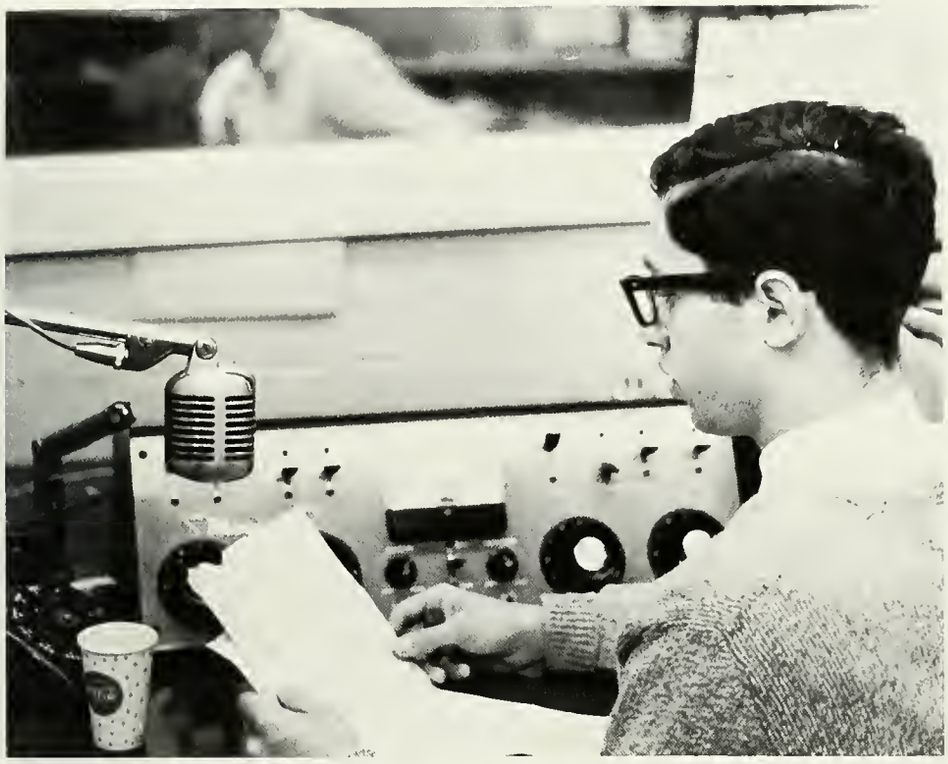
WTUL-sponsored Folk-fest gave the button-downs their chance to be rope-sandled heroes; chief protest was Bruff.

WTUL

"The World of the Paperback," a weekly series of programs analyzing current paperbound books, and "Latin Sunset," broadcast entirely in Spanish, premiered on WTUL. The nightly "Concert Hall" featuring classical music retained its number one position, with the Sunday night Folk Festival pulling a close second. Other regular programs included popular music, jazz, and Broadway music backed up by Sam Seeburg, WTUL's silent disc jockey from two til eight in the morning. Captain Midnight's rock-us show from midnight to two won the Most-Number-of-Phone-Calls Award and his infamous black cape and mask were guarded almost as carefully as WTUL's brand new olive and green banner. The Wolf Man's ominous wolf call, the "gunk-gunks" of the Toad, and the running humor of Bill Klink kept WTUL spirits at a high pitch all year as the station looks to the future with hopes of increased expansion, with the exception of Mr. Klink, who still eats too much.

Captain Midnight was the essence of professionalism in his public appearances, and rumor had it that the masked avenger was just as thrilling in private.

Jeff Michael goes under the rack to see where the resistance is hiding.



Sometimes Dennis Kahane's newscasts of the escalation of the war in Viet Nam were not as refreshing as Coke, but things do go better, anyhow, in a manner of speaking.

Dick Spero repeatedly asked Klink to stop eating the paint because it would make him sick. Gail Brogan and Captain Weesner frugged until Studio A and Klink were both bright green.

Whenever things go wrong WTUL calls in Jeff Johnson, who can always flux things up.

Drama Review

The Tulane Drama Review is the largest and most respected theatre magazine in the English language. It has subscribers in fifty states and forty-two foreign countries. This year TDR received a three year grant of fifty-seven thousand dollars from the Rockefeller Foundation, the largest grant ever awarded to a magazine. The grant will enable the Drama Review to encourage research in every aspect of theatre, to offer nationwide play reviews, and to have more foreign plays translated. Herbert Blau, director of the Lincoln Center Repertory Theatre, stated that "Before TDR there was not a substantial word to be heard about the theatre anywhere in the country." The Tulane Drama Review, with articles ranging from Greek tragedy to Happenings, provides an outstanding body of writing for anyone interested in theatre.

Tulane Law Review

The Tulane Law Review, a professional legal journal, is published quarterly by students and faculty members of the School of Law. The review is the oldest of its kind in Louisiana and boasts an international circulation. It is devoted to the study of comparative law and the civil law. The review publishes articles submitted by prominent members of the legal profession. The student section, written by members of the Student Board of Editors, deals with current legal problems. Four of the Reserve Officer's Training Corps programs are offered to qualified students on the Tulane University campus: Air Force, Army, and the Navy which includes the Marine Corps in its department.

The purpose of ROTC is to familiarize the cadet with military life, to make him aware of its importance in civilian life, and to develop in him certain traits necessary for efficient military officer-ship.

Full completion of the four-year course results in the commissioning of the candidate as Second Lieutenant or its equivalent in the Reserve Corps of either the Air Force, Army, Navy, or Marines.

Arnold Air Society

Named after General H. H. Arnold, the Arnold Air Society is an honorary organization for outstanding Air Force ROTC cadets. Since its establishment in 1947, the Society has undertaken the responsibility of uniting Air Force cadets and of promoting better relations between military and civilian personnel. Today, more than one hundred sixty colleges and universities have Arnold Air Societies. The squadron located at Tulane University is the Alvin Callender Squadron.

Pershing Rifles

Pershing Rifles is a National Society dedicated to carrying on the ideals of military proficiency and leadership. Company K, 6th Regiment is organized among the cadets of Army ROTC. Pershing Riflemen represent the University and the Cadet Brigade annually in Mardi Gras parades, drill meets and shows, and by providing honor guards for visiting officials.

Scabbard and Blade

The National Society of Scabbard and Blade is comprised of elected members of the Air Force, Army, and Navy ROTC departments. These members become eligible for election through their outstanding dedication, participation, and proficiency in all phases of the military program.

The purpose of the Society is to correlate the three departments on the campus and to exemplify and demonstrate military excellence. Tulane's E Company, 8th Regiment, also attempts to present to the campus military information pertinent to the welfare of all students.

Army

The Army Reserve Officers Training Corps Program was established at Tulane University in the fall of 1947. Since that time it has commissioned more than five hundred and eighty second lieutenants in the United States Army.

This year saw the cadet corps grow over previous years to over two hundred and seventy cadets.

Under the leadership of the Professor of Military Science and his staff, the Army ROTC program offers a four year course of instruction culminating upon graduation in the commissioning as a second lieutenant.

Academics plays a large part in preparing the cadets to assume their leadership role. Leadership Laboratory gives a chance for practical application of troop leading skills. But, in addition, the program offers more in extra-curricular activities ranging from professional organizations to honoraries such as the Association of the United States Army and the National Society of Pershing Rifles. Athletic participation is carried on an interscholastic basis by the Army ROTC Rifle Team and on an intramural basis in the sports of the university intramural program. For cadets musically inclined, the Army Band offers a chance to exercise their particular talents.

Each activity has its own special social functions, but every cadet is also invited to the two big military balls each year. The Army offers a program designed to accommodate the interests of its cadet corps.

Navy

The mission of the Naval Reserve Officers Training Unit is to provide highly qualified officers for the Navy and the Marine Corps. Since its establishment in 1936, a tradition of excellence has been maintained and refurbished, and this year the esprit de corps of the 1965-66 Midshipman Battalion reflected not only that great tradition but a recognition of the demands of naval officership in widespread areas of the world.

In addition to academic and drill schedules, the midshipmen find time for extra-curricular activities such as the annual Welcome Aboard pary, the "Bayou Bash," and the touch football game with the newly-formed Commodores. Later a festive Christmas party in the Navy Drill Hall, the "Tri-Military Ball" on the S. S. President, and finally the "Farewell Ball" in the Spring provide high spots. Trips off campus during the school year were made to Camp Lejeune, N. C. and Pascagoula, Mississippi for orientation on Marines and submarines and to the Southern Invitational Drill Meet at Baton Rouge.

Throughout the year the Battalion excelled not only on the drill field but in intercollegiate rifle competition, intramural sports, campus leadership, and civic service. Of special note was the Rifle Team which continued its fine shooting which has led them to win the 8th Naval District Trophy six years in a row and to place in the top ten among NROTC Units throughout the country.

Air Force

Detachment 320 exists for the purpose of training future officers for leadership positions in the United States Air Force's combined aerospace team. To accomplish this objective cadets go through a program of combined drill, classwork, and practical preparation. The program lasts four years. It utilizes the skills of the regular officers to the utmost degree, and channels the enthusiasm of the basic cadets into the experience of the upperclassmen.

The Basic Course during the freshman and sophomore years consists mainly of introduction, indoctrination, achieving drill proficiency and developing leadership potential. At the same time academic courses concerning the history of the USAF, career fields, and the principles of warfare are taken.

The Advanced Course, composed of academically and physically qualified cadets, provides for more intense academic instruction and the opportunity of exercising command positions on the Drill Field and within the Detachment itself. Summer training at an Air Base provides for an actual taste of military life, and the Flight Instruction Program enables the cadets in the pilot category to obtain their private flying licenses.

As a final view, at the end of four years the program has become more than a mere "course." It is a way of life. The new officers are not only fully qualified to defend their country, they have more perfect understanding of it, and the organization which helps to defend it. This is the mission of the detachment, and one in which it is succeeding well.

Angel Flight

The Angel Flight is a national honorary service organization for university women sponsored by the Arnold Air Society of the Air Force ROTC. Founded originally at the University of Omaha, the idea of the Flight has quickly spread, and in 1959, during the 8th Annual Conclave of the Arnold Air Society, the Angel Flight became a national organization. The Tulane Angel Flight was organized in 1962.

"Angels" are Newcomb College and Tulane University women who serve as representatives of the AFROTC in the University community, as official hostesses, and participate in AFROTC and University functions and projects.

Miss Susan Dreyfus, National Honorary "Little General" of Arnold Air Society's Angels

Miss Susan Dreyfus, a senior at Sophie Newcomb College, was elected by the Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps Arnold Air Society 1965 delegates to the National Convention. She will serve as the national "Little General" until late spring of 1966.

Susan was Commander of the Tulane University AFROTC "Angel Flight" sponsor organization in 1964. She represented Tulane's AFROTC at the area competition where she was elected the "Little Colonel" for the schools with AFROTC in Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, and part of Tennessee. She then went to Washington, D.C. to the National and won the election in competition with "Angels" selected by similar competitive elimination in each of the other ROTC areas of the United States.

Music and Drama

The Tulane University Concert Band performs at the Christmas Concert.

Tulane Band—Tulane Orchestra

Under the leadership of director-composer John J. Morrissey the Tulane University Band is considered to be one of the best concert bands in the South. The fifty band members provide entertainment for students and townspeople through several appearances during the year in which a wide variety of music is played. The highlights of the year are the Christmas and Spring Concerts.

The three-year old Tulane Orchestra, conducted by Ted DeMuth, boasts a membership of forty students and faculty members. The Orchestra also participated in "Christmas Night at Tulane" in addition to its annual Spring Concert on March 20.

A Cappella Choir

A Carnegie Hall appearance with the New Orleans Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra highlighted the A Cappella Choir's year. Under the leadership of director John Kuypers and choir president David Wright, the fifty choir members completed a successful tour which was arranged and managed by Miss Agatha Newitt.

The choir also performed at Homecoming, at the two H. Sophie Newcomb Memorial Services, at "Christmas Night at Tulane," and at Baccalaureate Services. The versatility of the choir was enhanced by appearances by the Chamber Choir, a Madrigal group composed of choir members.

Tulanians

The Tulanians are a group of twenty-one versatile young singers whose voices combine to produce an entertaining array of selections from diversified fields of music. The group boasts members from the schools of Medicine, Architecture, and Law, as well as from Newcomb and the College of Arts and Sciences of Tulane.

Led by director Louis Berndt and president Gray Plosser, the Tulanians participated in Orientation functions, entertained the Alumni at Homecoming, sang at "Christmas Night at Tulane," and presented "Caffeine Capers" monthly. The group also represented the University off campus at a performance for the Charity Hospital student nurses and for the Orleans Club. The annual Spring Concert was the climax of their busy year.

Tulane University Theatre

An avid interest in the theatre, coupled with technical assistance and dramatic participation in theatre productions, characterizes the membership of Tulane University Theatre. National Collegiate Players, Tulane's national theatrical fraternity, recognizes students and faculty who have continually demonstrated excellence in their contribution to Tulane's theatre. At the annual spring Banquet, awards are presented for the best student actor and actress, for outstanding work in technical production and for service to the theatre; at this banquet, new members of TUT and NCP are announced.

Four major dramas were presented this year in the arena or in the playhouse. In addition to the major shows, each directed by a faculty member, two student-directed one-act plays were produced. Born Yesterday, Garson Kanin's popular comedy-commentary on American business morality and the meaning of democracy, opened the season. The November production of Reginald Rose's Emmy Award winning Twelve Angry Men followed. Jean Giraudoux's fantasy of man's wavering between the ideal and the real, Ondine, was presented in December. March featured The Rivals. "This classic 18th century comedy by Sheridan served to reestablish British wit in the theatre and gave the stage one of its most memorable characters in Mrs. Malaprop." Woyzeck, an early "anti-romantic and starkly realistic tragedy with expressionistic overtones," by Gerog Büchner, was presented in April. The season ended with Eugene O'Niell's shattering and magnificent autobiographical drama, Long Day's Journey Into Night.

Ondine (Jeanne-Nell Gement) whimsically mourns the death of Hans (James Lee) while the Old One (Michael Wheeler) remains austerely quiet in the final moments of Ondine.

A qaestion of values leads to mutual accusations by Ed Devery (Al Salzer) and Harry Brock (Don Marine).

Ondine makes her debut in a temporal world.

Paul and Harry cooperate in a plot to educate Billie.

The final ballot of "Not guilty is verbally cast, ending the tense conflict between jurors Paul Glaser and Paul Hostetler.

Campus Nite Presents "A Funny Thing . . ."

Instead of using an original script as in past years, the members of Campus Nite again presented a rollicking Broadway musical, A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum. All aspects of the production were handled by the students.

A Funny Thing tells the story of the slave Pseudolus (Jack Grapes) who can gain his freedom from his master Hero (John Barret) by inducing the virgin Philia (Gay Yellen) to leave the house of Marcus Lycus (Marty Wertkin) and to marry Hero instead of the Roman captain, Miles Gloriosos (Dick Grede), who bought her. Mistaken identity leads to hilarious subplots that further complicate Pseudolus' plight. When the plot is finally unraveled, Pseudolus is free, and Hero and Philia are together.

Constant hard work by the entire Campus Nite organization overcame the numerous problems attached to the production of a Broadway Musical. The overwhelming success of the show was due to the efforts of Al Salzer, director; Mary Helen Young, accompanist; Denny Blodget, technical director; Susie Schwarz, stage manager; Jack Payne, choreographer. Louis Berndt, musical director; Mrs. Reba Herman and Mr. Einar Pedersen, advisors, and the executive officers of Campus Nite '66: Neil Levine, Milt Overman, Claire Oppenheimer, and Diane Andrews.

Spirit

"Aw, Chuck . . . ."

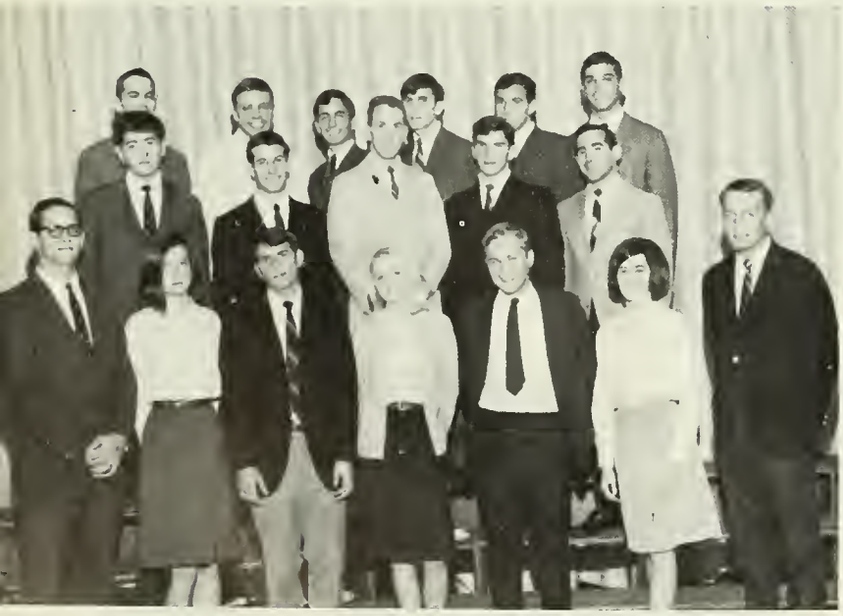
"Ya-Hoo, Mountain Dew."

"Cheerleaders Deming and Tucker proudly stand with the football team's banners."

"Newcomb Coeds go wild at pre-game pep rally."

Greenbackers

As the only official spirit organization on campus, the purpose of Greenbackers is to instill spirit in every phase of student activity. The members have done this most successfully this year. Under the excellent and spirited leadership of president Chip Gatto, the two hundred members of Greenbackers started the year off by selling Greenie Beanies and Newcomb pins to all freshmen. The money they made on this project went to provide funds for the spirit dances and bonfires. The club really has reason to be proud of its two bonfires, one during homecoming, and the other before the LSU game. Last year Greenbackers chose the final emblem for Tulane—the Green Wave, which is seen all over our campus. Among their behind the scenes football activities included decorating goal posts for games, working closely with the team, and sponsoring the Player of the Week award. Not letting basketball go by without enthusiastic support, the group supplied half-time entertainment at all games. Greenbackers can readily be spotted by their bright green and blue uniforms which they often wear.



Pep Band

The Pep Band is known for its liveliness and everpresent spirit. The twelve members, led by Dave Ehrhart, are the official musical group for all Tulane spirit functions. They play at football and basketball games and pep rallies and bonfires. Perhaps they are best appreciated for boosting morale, for they never seem to lose enthusiasm. They work along with Greenbackers. One of the highlights of our Pep Rallies this year was when Emile of Pat O'Briens sang along with the Pep Band in "Roll On, Green Wave."

"Like they say practice makes perfect?"

"M-I-C-K-E-Y M-O-U-S-E."

"Tulane cheerleaders lead the football team onto the field for the start of another game."

"World, here I am."

"Smile, your on candid camera."

"Coach O'Boyle shakes hand of Mississippi States head coach after a hard fought Tulane victory."

"Yes, Mecca is in this direction."

"Dejected Tulane Fan leaves the stands."

"Football hero Dick Steigerwald intently watches the action of the Green Machine."

Clubs

I. E. E. E.

The student branch of the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers at Tulane serves to create for the Electrical Engineering student a realistic view of what the engineering profession is and what its functions are. The aim is to help all the members further understand all aspects of the profession in both theory and practice. Meetings are held monthly and the organization is governed by elected student members. Presentations at meetings are a technical nature and are oriented toward the further development of the student's understanding of engineering.

Alpha Phi Omega

Alpha Phi Omega is a national service fraternity which brings together in its nearly 400 chapters college men formerly connected with Scouting in a program of leadership, fellowship, and service. Men of all races, religions, and creeds participate through APO in service to their schools, communities, and country.

Gamma Upsilon's many projects include an information booth at registration, Campus Carnival, and a Christmas project for underprivileged children. It also serves as campus representative for the Red Cross, and is always a willing helper at various campus and community activities.

Arab Club

The Arab Club at Tulane is an organization whose aim is to create and promote better understanding between American and Arab students. The members of the club represent serveral different Arab countries although membership is not restricted to just them, but is open to anyone who is interested. In February, the club holds an annual exhibition of Arab industries, art, and culture. During the year, activities include lectures, discussions, travelogues, and social events, the high point coming in the Spring at annual Spring Banquet.

Barracuda Club

Sissy Sharpe	President
Mrs. J. Micheles	Advisor

The primary interest of the Barracudas is the promotion of aquatic art. Tryouts are held every fall, and membership is based on skill in performing basic strokes and special stunts. The new members are known as "Baby Barracudas" until they have participated in the annual spring water show. The Barracuda Club presents this show in the Monk Simons Memorial Pool in the University Center. An annual intramural swim meet held at the Sophie Newcomb College pool is also under the club's sponsorship.

Circle K at Tulane is one of many such organizations situated on college campuses throughout the nation. Circle K is affiliated with Kiwanis and serves as a service organization on the campus. Membership in Circle K provides the student with an opportunity to take an active part in service to the University. An example of their service at Tulane is the single sheet directory of dorm students that the club publishes every year.

The Tulane Sailing Club is one of the largest and most successful clubs on campus. The club is affiliated with the Southern Yacht Club of New Orleans and is a member of the Inter-Collegiate Yacht Racing Association of North America. The club provides thorough training for its novice members and many opportunities for the skippers to enter regattas, in which the club has been quite consistent in its success for the past several years. The club also sponsors many social events throughout the year which are noted on campus for their success.

Moot Court

Presiding Judge — W. Woodrow Stewart

Advisor — Prof. Leonard Oppenheim

The Moot Court at Tulane offers the qualified law student a chance to prepare and argue cases under actual courtroom conditions. The Moot Court was designed and established on the basis of competition between its members. Justices of the Court are selected from the members of the junior and senior class of the law school, the basis of selection being scholarship. The Chief Justice and Recorder are elected from the group of justices.

The high point of Moot Court competition occurs in the third year when the two teams surviving the elimination rounds are allowed to argue a case before the Supreme Court of the State of Louisiana.

Newcomb Athletic Council

The Newcomb Athletic Council is comprised of representatives from each sorority and independent group at Newcomb. The Council's main function is being in charge of planning all intramural sports events at Newcomb. The Council awards the Athletic Trophy to the group that accumulates the highest number of points during the year's competition. Some of the sports are volleyball, badminton, basketball, and swimming. Awards are also given to the seven girls who have ammassed the most individual points during the year. The Council also plans the annual student-faculty volleyball and softball competition.

La Tertulia

La Tertulia, founded in 1939, is the Spanish honor club at Newcomb. Its purpose is to maintain an active interest among its members in the customs and cultures of Latin America. The meetings, which are held monthly, offer varied subjects of interest to the club members, featuring guest speakers, films, and slides. During the year the club marks the commemoration of such days as Columbus Day, Panamerican Day, and Cervantes Day. The club also holds an annual Christmas Party and a banquet at the end of the year.

Pre-Medical Society

Stanley Lennick President

The aim of the Tulane Pre-Medical Society is to introduce its members to the many different fields of medicine and to each field's respective problems. The Society is made up of young men and women who are planning careers in medicine. The Society serves to present current medical trends to its members about which the undergraduate pre-medical student might otherwise be unaware. This is done by way of lectures by New Orleans and Tulane Medical School doctors, films pertaining to current medical problems, and field trips to New Orleans area medical centers.

Inter-Faith Council

Serving as the official channel of communication between the recognized religious organizations and the University, the Inter-Faith Council holds monthly meetings designed to carry out certain functions for the benefit of these groups and the University.

It is composed of two representatives from each of the organizations, and the presidents and chaplains from the groups. The council also co-sponsored several interesting and informative lectures, such as Dr. Victor Frankl, who spoke on Existentialism, and Dr. Bharati, an Indian philosopher.

Tau Beta Pi

Founded in 1885, Tau Beta Pi was established at Tulane in 1936 to recognize the highest accomplishments of junior and senior students in the School of Engineering. Considered in the selection of members are outstanding scholarship, high character and breadth of interest. The society also fosters a spirit of liberal culture in the engineering colleges of America.

Kappa Delta Phi

The oldest honorary leadership fraternity on campus, Kappa Delta Phi, confers membership each year upon no more than ten students from the junior and senior classes, and upon one member of the faculty, for outstanding service and unselfish loyalty to Tulane.

Beta Gamma Sigma

Beta Gamma Sigma Fraternity rewards and encourages scholarship and accomplishments in all phases of business among students and graduates of the School of Business Administration, and fosters principles of honesty and integrity in business practices. The Alpha Chapter in Louisiana was established at Tulane in 1926. Juniors and seniors are selected by the faculty on the basis of high scholarship and promise of marked ability.

Alpha Omega Alpha

Election into Alpha Omega Alpha recognizes not only present accomplishments, but also the promise of future leadership in some phase of medicine. Membership is based upon superior scholarship, initiative and independence in thinking and research. The Tulane chapter, founded in 1914, includes in its activities annual lectures by prominent men in various fields of medicine, clinical discussions and an annual banquet.

Order of the Coif

The national legal honor society, Order of the Coif, recognizes senior law students for exceptional ability and performance in the School of law and in law. Also considered in the election of new members are scholastic achievement and leadership, and service to the school and community. Each year a Louisiana lawyer who has rendered outstanding service to law and to the public is initiated as an honorary member of the chapter.

Alpha Epsilon Delta

The Louisiana Delta Chapter of Alpha Epsilon Delta, a national honor society for pre-medical students, was officially installed at Tulane in 1958.

The purpose of the society is to encourage excellence in pre-medical scholarship; to stimulate an appreciation of the importance of pre-medical education in the study of medicine; to promote cooperation and contacts between medical and pre-medical students and educators in developing an adequate program of pre-medical education: and to bind together similarly interested students.

Scholars and Fellows

The Tulane Scholars and Fellows program was inaugurated in 1962 for superior students in the College of Arts and Sciences and in Newcomb College. The Program arranges special academic counselling to assist the student in coordinating his schedule to adapt the University offerings for superior students to his own abilities, objectives and needs. Basically, participation in the program provides an opportunity for academic advancement and recognition through a carefully planned program of honors courses, independent studies, and other special instructional possibilities not normally available to other students.

Mortar Board

Mortar Board is a national senior honorary society for women. Alpha Sigma Sigma Chapter was installed at Newcomb in 1958. Mortar Board handles the planning, organizing and supervising of the Freshman Orientation program, the directing of the Freshman government, participating in the Advisory System, and serving as hostesses at University functions. Members are elected on the basis of superior scholarship, outstanding participation in student activities, and unselfish service to the school.

Assets

At the last Newcomb Student Body meeting of the year, freshman girls who are outstanding in leadership, service, scholarship and school spirit are tapped for Assets, honorary sophomore organization. The new members are elected each year by the outgoing members.

The Assets wear white dresses to act as ushers during the year at numerous functions including the May Day Festivities. During fall orientation they are Big Sisters to incoming freshmen.

Chi Beta

Chi Beta, the freshman honorary scholastic society of Newcomb College, was established in 1963. Students achieving a 3.5 average during either semester of the freshman year are entitled to membership.

Omicron Delta Kappa

Omicron Delta Kappa, national leadership honor society for men, recognizes and honors those students, members of the faculty and others who have demonstrated leadership in extra-curricular activities and service to Tulane University. Student members must have attained at least junior standing, possess a high standard of character, and have achieved noteworthy recognition in two or more of the following fields: scholarship; athletics; social and religious affairs; publications; speech, music and other arts.

Who's Who

The students recognized in Who's Who each year are nominated from approximately 600 colleges and universities. Campus nominating committees are instructed, in making decisions, to consider the student's scholarship, his cooperation and leadership in academic and extracurricular activities; his service and citizenship to the school; and his promise of future usefulness. Recognition by Who's Who means that the student was officially recommended from the university or college he attends and then accepted by the organization.

The beauty of Tulane is forever in bloom on campus, whether it be in the sparkle of a Miss Pauline Tulane or the spontaneous excitement of a Homecoming rally. At formal balls, fraternity parties, and football weekends, beauty and spirit go hand in hand to resound across the campus.

Pan-Hellenic Formal

Miss Pauline Tulane and her court were presented at the annual Panhellenic Formal held at the Jung Hotel. The fraternity members and their dates crowded around with excitement as the girls in their long white dresses were escorted to the front of the ballroom. The masters-of-ceremonies first announced the five members of the court, the maid of honor, and finally that Miss Pauline Tulane was Patsy Smith, a sophomore from Dallas, Texas. Equally thrilled were Pam Dykes, maid of honor, and the other members of the court, Susan Clark, Janet Cohen, Patrice Harrison, Janet Moore, and Julia Yuill. Roses were presented to the girls by the JAMBALAYA Editor, Jim Saalfield, and a spotlight dance brought the ceremonies to a close.

Queen Patsy Smith gets last minute instructions from Dick Stephens and Chuck Robilio.

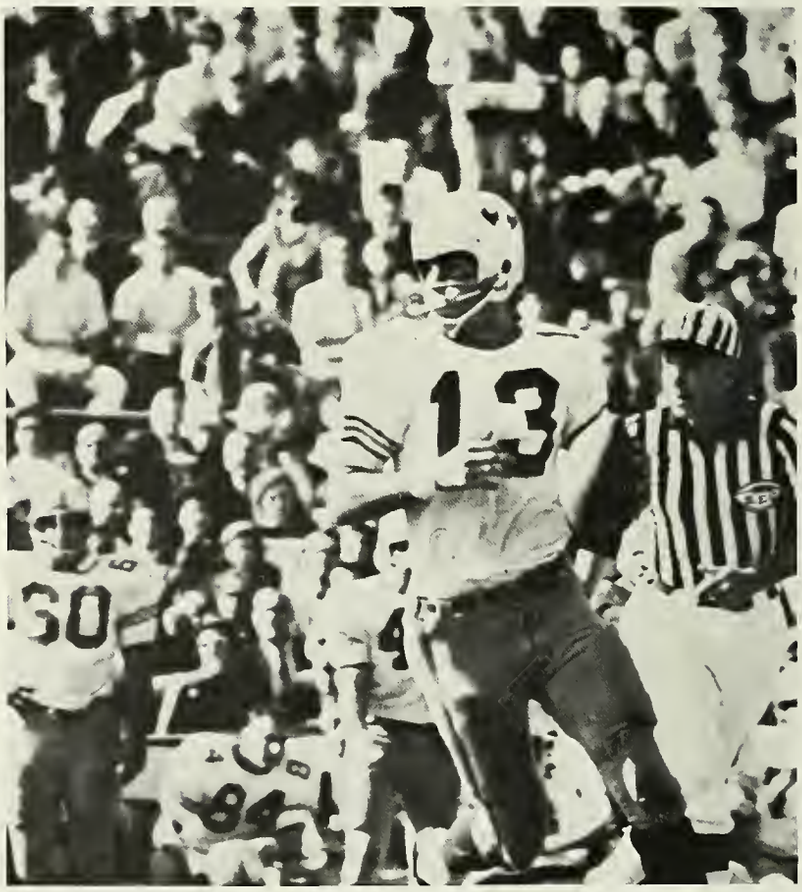
Homecoming Weekend

Excitement ran high during the days preceding Tulane's 1965 Homecoming. Preparations for decorations, plans for parties, the announcement that Susan Clark would reign as Homecoming Queen, and anticipation of the game with Vanderbilt all contributed to the high spirits before the weekend began.

The returning alumni were first welcomed at the Alumni Dance Friday night at which the Queen and her court were presented. Also on Friday night the Law School held their annual Barrister's Ball, celebrating homecoming week in their usual spirit. Saturday morning students and graduates alike took particular pride as they viewed the decorations constructed by the fraternities, sororities, and dormitories.

The excitement of the game and the pageantry of the half-time ceremony set the mood for fun at the annual Homecoming Dance held at the Jung Hotel. Queen Susan presided over these final festivities as the most anticipated fall weekend drew to a close.



"Quarterback Duhon under fire during Homecoming game with Vanderbilt."

"Law student plays taps after the game."

"Part of the sober student body attending Homecoming Dance."

"Hullabaloo ah ....."

"Queen Susan tries her crown on for size."

"One of the many excellent displays built by the fraternities and sororities."

Artists Series

Itzak Perlman, violinist.

Werner Torkanowsky, conductor of the New Orleans Philharmonic Orchestra.

Six performers, representing the fields of acting and music were presented during the 1965-1966 Tulane Artists Series held in McAlister Auditorium on the Tulane campus.

The thirty-five singing boys of Monterrey, who have endeared themselves to their large audiences during previous appearances at Tulane, returned to open this year's series. Felipé Jesus Ledesma directed the boys in a program of sacred and secular music in Latin, French, German, Russian, Spanish and English.

New Orleans' own Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra, with its brilliant young musical director Werner Torkanowsky conducting, made its annual appearance on campus. Pianist Sylvia Zaremba was the featured solist.

Currently celebrating the 37th anniversary of his first appearance in the United States, Andrés Segovia, world-famous master of the Spanish guitar, gave his first performance on the Tulane campus.

Itzhak Perlman is the teen-age Israeli violinist whose remarkable musicality and command of his instrument have brought him in a very short time to the forefront of the younger musicians.

One of the most beloved artists of our time, tenor Jan Peerce is that extraordinarily rare performer who commands both the highest respect and admiration from fellow musicians and critics and an unswerving adoration from the public at large.

Intercollegiate sports is one of the elements which greatly contributes to life at Tulane. Our memories of football, basketball, and track are linked invariably with the crispness of the Autumn air, the roar of a crowd in a packed gymnasium, and the sound of a starter's gun. It is winning and it is losing. For those of us who watch and those of us who play, it is excitement and enjoyment.

ATHLETICS

BILL "ZIP" ZIMMERMAN, Sports Editor

Director of Athletics

Tulane University, a charter member of the Southeastern Conference, will begin a new era in its sports history in the fall of 1966. It will be the first time since the formation of the S.E.C. thirty-three years ago that the Green Wave will not compete as a member of the conference. Tulane teams won conference championships in tennis twenty times, football three times (two ties), and golf once.

Dropping out of the S.E.C. will enable the Green Wave teams, under the direction of Athletic Director Dr. Rix N. Yard and the various team coaches, to schedule teams on a national basis. Thus, creating many new and exciting intersectional rivals.

Head Football Coach Tommy O'Boyle.

The 1965 Green Wave labored through what many experts thought to be the toughest schedule in the nation. Five of Tulane's opponents wound up in post season bowl games—Alabama, Orange—L.S.U., Cotton—Florida, Sugar—Georgia Tech, Gator—and Ole Miss, Liberty.

After being whitewashed by Texas and Alabama, Tulane played fine football against their next four foes. They scored victories over Miami and Miss. State and played hard-nosed football against Ga. Tech and Ole Miss. The early season injuries and disappointments began to take their toll and the Green Wave was run over by its last four opponents. After losing convincingly to Vandy, Stanford, and Florida, Tulane was humiliated by L.S.U. 62-0, in the last game of the season.

As a result of the disappointing 2-8 season coach O'Boyle resigned and University of Texas chief assistant Jim Pittman was announced as the new head coach.

With a new coach, the loss of only seven seniors, a much lighter schedule, and a new enthusiasm, the returning members of the Tulane football squad should have a fine team and a bright future.

Players take quick breather during the Texas game.

In what was to have been the home opener for Tulane, the home-standing Texas Longhorns worked the Posse to death and scooped up seven Wave fumbles en route to an easy 31-0 victory. Stadium damage caused by Hurricane Betsy shifted the contest to Austin. The Tulane defensive unit managed to hold down the score in the first half, but a relentless Longhorn ground game, coupled with several costly Green Wave errors, allowed Texas to pull away in the second half. Meanwhile. Wave quarterback Dave East was repeatedly dropped by the Steer line, although he did manage to hit on 13 of 25 tosses for 141 yards. Tulane's running attack was nil, totaling only 18 yards net. Fullback George Smith was the leading rusher for the Wave with 38 yards. In the first period, after an unsuccessful field goal try by Texas the Longhorns moved to the Wave 21 and scored a 3-pointer on Dave Conway's 29-yard boot. Later in the second quarter the Steers hit paydirt after recovering a fumble at the Tulane five. Quarterback Marv Kristynik ran for the TD and Conway's conversion made it 10-0 at the half. Two third-period scores, on short runs by Tommy Stockton and Linus Baer, put the game out of reach, and a 17-yard TD pass from Baer to Derrick in the fourth period capped the scoring.

Tulane hits again through the air against Georgia Tech.

Tulane, faced again with one of the nation's top football teams—the eventual national champion, in fact—went down to a decisive 27-0 defeat at the hands of Alabama's Crimson Tide. The Wave defensive unit played poorly, showing the effects of the Texas ordeal, but Wave fans sat up and took notice of a new quarterback, sophomore flash Bobby Duhon. Starting his first game against a giant of college football, Duhon came through exceptionally well, completing 7 of 15 passes for 97 yards and scrambling through the Tide defenses for 58 more. End Jerry Colquette, Duhon's favorite target, grabbed four passes for 77 yards, and George Smith added 34 yards to the Green Wave rushing total. But for all Duhon's heroics, the Crimson Tide were never in trouble as they methodically ground out 216 yards rushing and 123 passing and racked up 21 first downs. Sloan's second-quarter TD pass of 17 yards to Tommy Fulleson plus the 10 points scored in the first-quarter made it 17 to 0 at the end of the first half. Sloan again found the range in the third-quarter with a 15 yard payoff pitch to Dickie Thompson. Ray's 25 yard field goal in the fourth period put the frosting on Bear Bryant's cake.

Bobby Duhon, proving his Alabama performance no fluke, led Tulane out of the football doldrums with an inspired performance as the Green Wave scored a come-from-behind, heart-stopping 24-16 upset over the Miami Hurricanes. The soph sensation amassed 175 yards in total offense, with 133 coming via 6 pass completions in 11 attmepts. The play that spelled victory for the Wave was a spectacular 71-yard Duhon-to-O'Steen aerial in the fourth quarter. Early in the game, however, Tulane seemed headed for disaster. A gift safety on a wild center pass and a 63-yard TD drive, with Fred Cassidy going over from the one, put the Hurricanes on top 9-0 as the second period opened. But Tulane, with Duhon running and passing beautifully and Carl Crowder picking up important short yardage, moved 83 yards for a touchdown, the payoff coming on a 20-yard Duhon pass to Mike Fitzpatrick. Uwe Pontius' PAT made it 9-7. A quick fumble recovery at the Miami 16 enabled the Wave to forge ahead, as Duhon found Jerry Colquette in the end zone with a 12-yarder. Pontius converted, and Tulane left the field with a 14-9 advantage. But a third-period drive of 57 yards, led by passer Bob Biletnikoff, who scored the TD from 6 yards out, put the Hurricances back on top 16-14. After unsuccessful field goal attempts by both teams, Duhon put the Wave ahead to stay in the last quarter with his mammoth heave to O'Steen. Pontius, who converted again, later gave the Wave breathing room with a 37-yard field goal, securing Tulane's first victory of 1965.

The rejuvenated Tulane Green Wave nearly played Georgia Tech's Yellow Jackets to a standstill, but a field goal by Tech's Bunky Henry with 6:40 left in the game beat the Wave by a 13-10 margin. Bobby Duhon, although generally bottled up on the ground, came through again with a fine passing performance, completing 12 of 25 tosses for 141 yards. But Tech sophomore signal-called Kim King more than make up for Duhon's efforts with deadly passing and timely running, piling up 190 yards in total offense. In the early going, Tulane appeared to be headed for its second victory of the year. A 58-yard punt return by Carl Crowder set up a TD after a scoreless first quarter. The Wave drove 15 yards in 6 plays, with Duhon driving over from the one. A 31-yard boot by Henry cut the Wave's halftime lead to 7-3. Tulane had a second down from the Tech 16 with 31 seconds to go in the half, but a field goal by Pontius missed the mark. Pontius was on target, however, with a 36-yarder in the third quarter, stretching the Wave's lead to 10-3. But Georgia Tech came back strong knotting the score on an 80-yard drive, climaxed by Tom Carlisle's one-yard plunge on the first play of the final quarter. Tulane, largely on Duhon's passing, moved to the Tech 27, but the drive stalled and a field goal attempt from the 43 was no good. Then the Yellow Jackets, despite a gallant goal-line stand by the Posse, capped a long drive with the game winning field goal by Henry.

The Green Wave, hoping for an upset over the Ole Miss Rebels in the last meeting between the two teams, failed to match their two previous performances and suffered a 24-7 setback. A devastating Rebel ground game wore down the Posse, and the Wave offense, particularly the rushing attack, was below par. Tulane started strong, lighting up the scoreboard when Jerry Colquette make a fantastic reception of a 14-yard Bobby Duhon pass in the end zone. Uwe Pontius kicked the PAT for a 7-0 lead but the aroused Rebels tied the score on a 62-yard drive. Mike Dennis scored the first of his two TD's from the one and Jimmy Keyes converted. A 38-yard field goal by Keyes put Mississippi ahead to stay in the second period. But it was not until the last period that two quick scores clinched the win for the Rebels. Dennis scored the first from 2 yards out, and Doug Cunningham caught a last minute 7-yard pass from Jimmy Heidel for the other. Duhon passed for 97 yards and Dave East for 32, and George Smith ran for 47 yards, but it was the Rebel backs, Dennis, Heidel, and Wade who dominated the game.

Goss and Mumme combine to down Miss. State ball carrier.

Bobby Duhon's passing and a brilliant defensive performance by the Posse carried the Green Wave to an exciting 17-15 upset of Mississippi State. The high scoring Bulldogs, nationally ranked just two weeks prior to the Tulane encounter, ran up against a stone wall, and but for a few bad breaks and critical errors, the margin of victory could have been much bigger. Duhon wrecked the State secondary with 12 completions in 28 attempts for 157 yards and two touchdowns. Jerry Colquette, Mike Fitzpatrick, and Lanis O'Steen were on the receiving end of most of Duhon's aerials. Carl Crowder was the running star for Tulane with 48 yards, while Duhon and Paul Arnold pitched in with 29 and 28 yards, respectively. After a scoreless first period, the Wave found itself in a hole when shifty State halfback Marcus Rhoden took a Dave East punt and rambled 70 yards for a score. James Neill's PAT put State on top 7-0. But the passes of Duhon quickly put the Wave back in the game. From the State 36, the sophomore flinger found O'Steen at the goal line. The Wave terminal took the football out of a defender's hands for the score, and Uwe Pontius' kick made it a new ball game. After a Bulldog drive ended on an unsuccessful field goal attempt—Neill's third of the half—Tulane took over, was forced to kick, and then Bill Goss pounced on a fumble at the State 26 with just 34 seconds left in the half. Duhon, rushed hard, spotted Fitzpatrick in the end zone and fired to him for the touchdown. Pontius split the uprights and Tulane left the field with a 14-7 advantage. Defensive heroics dominated the third quarter, but Duhon began to find the range again in the last quarter. Aided by an interference call, Tulane picked up a first down at the Bulldog three, then had to settle for a 15-yard field goal by Pontius. It proved to be the margin of victory as Mississippi State managed to intercept a Duhon pass and go in for the TD and the two point conversion.

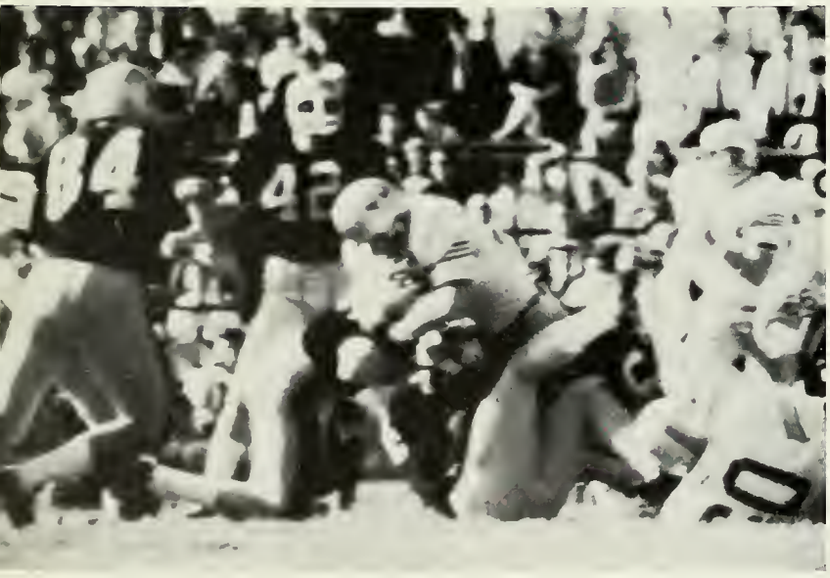
Darnley awaits aerial from Duhon.



Smith bucks inta Vandy defense for first down.

Tulane, enjoying the role of favorite for the first time, turned in a lackluster performance and succumbed to the defense-minded Vanderbilt Commodores, 13-0, in the annual homecoming game. The Posse, despite fine individual efforts by Bill Goss, Leon Verriere, and Bill Brown, was unequal to the task of stifling Vandy's running attack, and the Wave offense, while impressive in spots, could not maintain a scoring drive. Dave East punted well as usual, but for the first time since the Texas game, he also limbered up his passing arm and outgained Bobby Duhon 81 yards to 60. Jerry Colquette snagged 5 passes for 66 yards, while Duhon and Carl Crowder headed the rushing totals with 52 and 39 yards respectively. But collectively, the Green Wave could never get going, and Vandy's two second-quarter scores decided the contest. Four Commodore interceptions further increased the Wave's woes. Vandy's Steve Bevil, aided by perfect blocking, pranced 67 yards with a Wave punt to open the scoring. Later in the second period Jim Whiteside capped a Commodore drive with a 3 yard scoring jaunt. and Toby Wilt's conversion gave Vanderbilt a 13-0 halftime lead, which they never lost. The Posse tightened up in crucial situations in the second half to prevent further scoring, and East led an exciting if futile drive in the waning minutes, but it was simply not Tulane's day.

STANFORD	16

In a completely inept performance, Tulane ran up against a surprising band of Stanford Indians and went down to a 16-0 defeat. Stanford smothered the Green Wave offense, holding it to 7 first downs and 77 yards total offense. Meanwhile, the Indians, sparked by quarterback Dave Lewis, racked up 25 first downs and 455 yards of Tulane Stadium turf. While the Wave offense played dead, Stanford got things started with a first-quarter field goal by Terry Desylvia from 37 yards out. Two second period scores gave Stanford its final margin of victory. Ray Handley climaxed a 62-yard march with an 11-yard end run. Desylvia's PAT made it 10-0, and Lewis stretched the Indian's lead to 16-0 with a scoring run of 5 yards late in the second quarter. Dave East punted 10 times for a 39.2 average to prevent further damage, but the listless Green Wave offense was too much to overcome. Duhon managed only 4 completions in 12 attempts, while his counterpart, Lewis, hit on 8 of 11 for 129 yards.

The bowl-minded Florida Gators, with fabulous Steve Spurrier at the controls, coasted to an effortless 51-13 rout of the Green Wave. Tulane, perhaps looking forward to L.S.U., showed occasional spurts of life, due primarily to Dave East's fine passing effort, but the Wave ground attack was non-existant, and the potent Gator offense hit paydirt from all over the field. Spurrier threw for three scores, all to different receivers, and a reserve passer connected on a 72-yard bomb in the last quarter. Tulane's scores both came on East-to-Jim Darnley passes, the first for 22 yards in the second period, making the score 28-7, and the second for 9 yards in the third quarter, cutting Florida's margin to 35-13. But the Gators scored and scored again, grounding out 25 first downs and 486 yards in total offense. Spurrier, besides leading the Florida ground attack with 66 yards, connected on 15 of 32 passes for 196 yards. His brilliant receiver, Charlie Casey, caught 7 for 76 yards and a TD. East, back in the starting quarterback slot, was successful on 15 of 37 aerials, good for 142 yards, but four of his tosses were picked off. Jerry Colquette led the Wave receivers with four catches. Tulane's net rushing total was minus one yard.

Crowder drives hard against Cotton Bowl bound Tigers.

Louisiana State, anxous to recapture its pre-season prestige and remembering its narrow victory over Tulane in 1964, lowered the boom on the outclassed Green Wave and romped to a 62-0 victory in the season's finale. The Tigers made the yard-gaining offenses of Stanford and Florida seem weak by comparison, as they rolled up 29 first downs and 497 yards, 332 of them on the ground. Five L.S.U. backs ran for 45 yards or more, but the chief engineer of the slaughter was quarterback Pat Screen, who, in addition to his outstanding ball-handling, completed 8 of 10 passes for 136 yards and two touchdowns, and started the fireworks by scoring himself. The outcome was never in doubt, as the Bengals struck for four tallies in the first period and left the field at halftime leading 34-0. Billy Masters led the TD parade with three scores and was also L.S.U.'s top ground-gainer. Tulane managed 180 yards in total offense, mainly on the running and passing of Bobby Duhon. But the Green Wave never threatened seriously, and Tulane bid farewell to S.E.C. football on a somewhat sour note.

Freshman Football

Tulane's 1965 freshman football team finished the season with a 1-3 overall record. However, they successfully fulfilled their task of familiarizing the varsity with the opposition's offensive and defensive alignments. They lost to strong LSU, Alabama, and Southern Mississippi freshman teams. The team took a long road trip to Mexico City where they ripped Mexico Poly Tech and gained over 500 yards rushing alone! It will indeed be hard to evaluate the freshman players until they are forced to compete for positions with the already proven members of the varsity. All in all the freshman should add strength and depth to next years varsity under the new head football coach Jim Pittman.

Varsity Basketball

The 1965-66 basketball season was one of definite improvement over those of the past few years. Head Coach Ralph Pedersen got the Greenies off to a good start with wins over Southwestern at Memphis and Florida Southern. One high point in the season was the mid-season victory over chief rival Louisiana State. The varsity cagers also beat them in the second encounter.

With good material the team had several players averaging in the double figures. Big gun for the Greenies was guard Al Andrews. Al scored over 370 points with an average of 19.3 points per game. He also holds the record for the most points scored in a single game. Dan Moeser and Craig Spitzer were also big men for the "netters." Each scored over 200 points during the season and both had averages in the double figures.

Forward John Schweers and Mitch Urbanski were also outstanding players who participated in all of the Greenie games. Other starters for the team were O. J. LaCour, Jim Thiel, and Mike Mucklin.

Overall the Greenies had an erratic season with a composite record of 9-16 and a final SEC record of 5-11. However, next year looks quite different with help from this year's freshman squad which went undefeated.

Freshman Basketball

Frosh Go Undefeated

One of the most inspiring things to enter the basketball picture at Tulane is this year's freshman team. This young team has gone the entire season undefeated running every opponent into the ground· The freshmen have averaged over 100 points per game and are rated second only to UCLA by many of the paper polls through out the nation.

The team has worked hard together, showing great team spirit. Six players have averages in the double figures, they are—Johnny Arthurs, Terry Habig, Bob Spurk, Joel Miller, Billy Fitzgerald, and Rick Carlson. These talented players have added much to the overall sport enthusiasm on campus and should provide quite a core for the varsity next year.

Swimming team coach, Lowell B. Damonte

Swimming

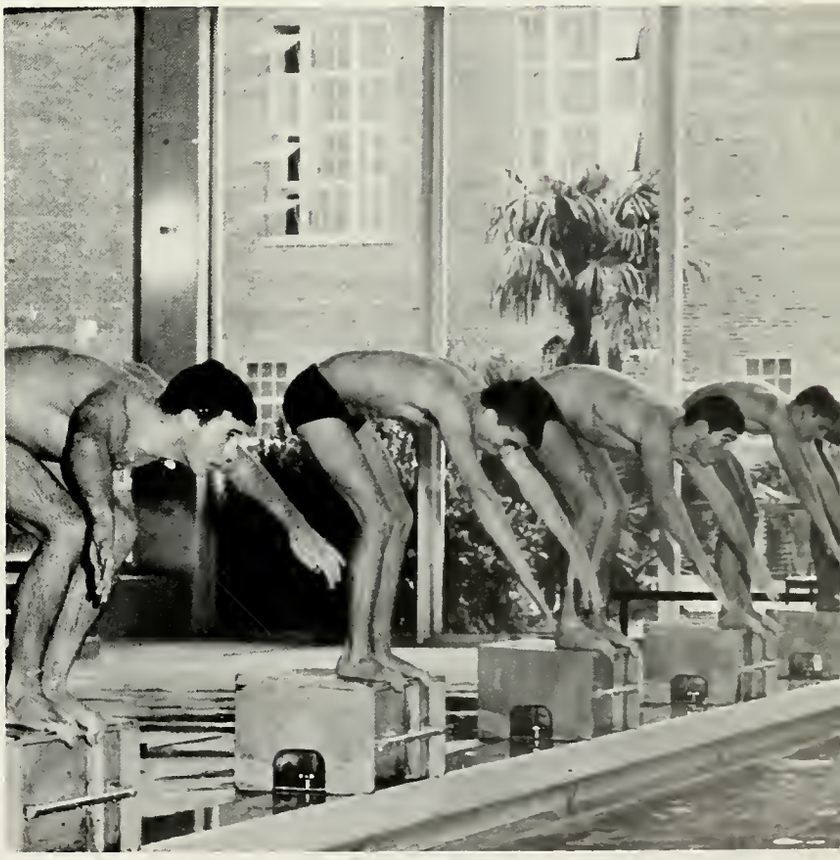
The 1965-66 Tulane swummers have seen a successful season in comparison to previous ones. Coach Lowell Damonte's swum team is rapidly improving due to the recruiting done in the past two years.

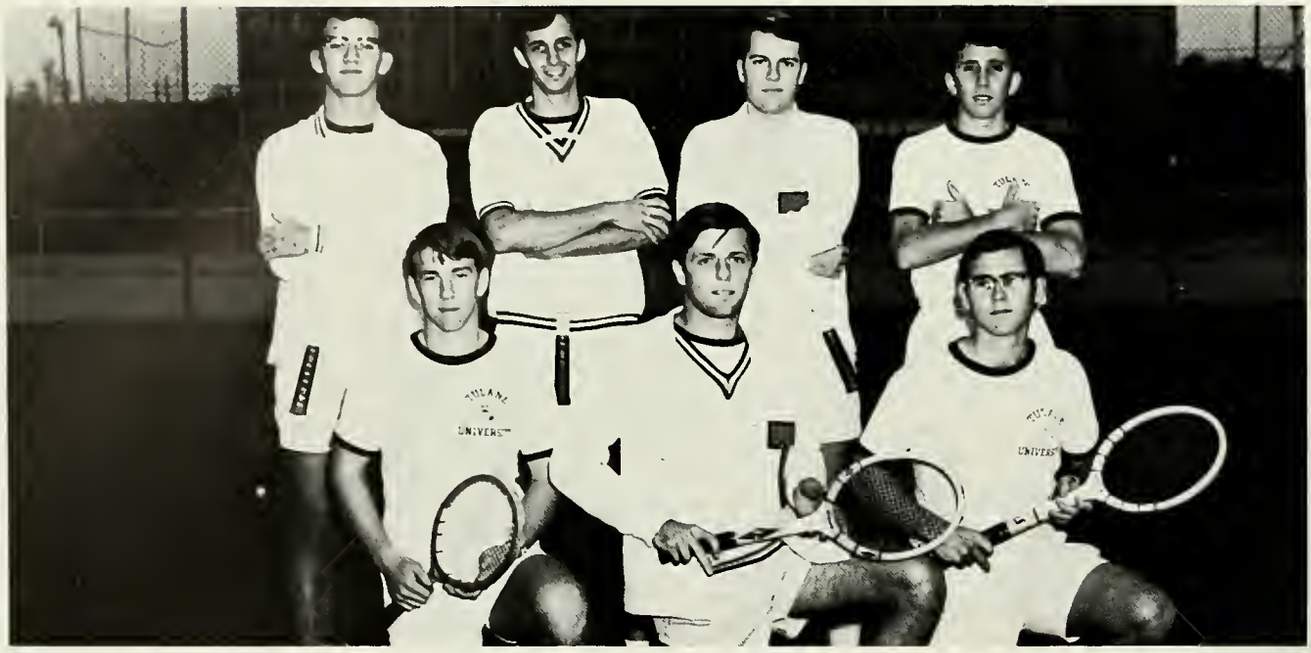
Freestyle aces Bob Jourdan and Larry Curran stacked up wins against most opponents. Curran, last years most valuable swummer, is again in the top position on the team. Curran holds school records in the 50 and 100 yard freestyle, and is a top contender for titles in those events in the S. E. C. championships. Jourdan, also an excellent sprinter, leads the teams distance freestylers. Other junior aids to the young team are Wayne Kehm, who specializes in the breaststroke, and Gwinn Murray in the butterfly.

The main strength of the team lies in last years freshmen. Paul Hebert led the sophomores, placing highly in the individual medley and backstroke. Don Kearns, the sophomore spring ace, is pushing Curran in both the 50 and 100. Tulane's butterflyers are led by Neil Benner who holds the school record.

Tulane can look forward to more years of winning when this years freshmen come of age.

Members of the team practice their starts in order to improve their overall times.





Standing: Mike Anderson, Richard Carter, Bill Banta, and Lee Kantrow. Kneeling: Bud Brown, Frank Lamothe, and Richard Peters.

Head tennis coach Emmett Pare.

Tennis

The Tulane tennis team, runner-up for the Southeastern Conference Championship in 1965, faced a challenging schedule this year. The Greenie netmen met Vanderbilt, Oklahoma, St. Louis University, Georgia Tech, and New Orleans Lawn Tennis Club, and journeyed away to meet Rice, Texas, Alabama, and Louisiana State. Competing in its final year in the SEC, the team hoped to capture its Twenty-first conference championship in twenty-seven years at the conference tournament held in Athens, Georgia.

Returning to the squad were four lettermen: Lee Kantrow, SEC singles and doubles runner-up at the number one position in 1965; Frank Lamothe, number two player in 1965 and a former SEC champ at number two; Richard Carter, SEC doubles runner-up at number one in 1965 and holder of a nine-four record; and Richard Peters, SEC champion at number six in 1965. The team received help from veteran Bill Banta and much improved sophomore Mike "Sache" Anderson.

The Wave fielded a fine freshman team composed of Turner Horward, Prince Kelley, and Phil Adams.

Track

The Tulane cindermen will not have the depth to compete for meet championships with the stronger institutions, but their individual talent will enable them to run with any team in a particular event. Our tracksters demonstrated this last season by constantly winning or placing high in the mile relay, the sprint medley, and the 880-yard relay. With the graduation of Bill Shaporo and James Conner, Tulane loses two of the men most successful in these relays and will try to make the switch to concentration on the longer relays. The team has the material to provide stiff competition for any rival in these longer events. The prominent individuals manning these relays will be Dave Crais, Jim McAleer, Bob Brown, Dave Barr, Don Cobb, and Malcolm Meyer. These boys have all done well in fall cross-country competition.

For the shorter relays and individual events coach John Oelkers will make ready use of Pete Johns, Lou Kapicak, and John Kenney. In the field events Tulane shotputters Barry Wax and Larry Duncan, discuss man Erick Albert, and broad jumpers Mike Arsuaga and Webb Jay. These boys should provide plenty of competition for anyone. Coach Oelkers has two prize frosh in Mike Arsuaga and Bobby Groft.

Baseball

With the loss of five top pitchers, the Tulane baseball team will have to rely on a sophomore dominated staff. The success or failure of these newcomers will determine if Coach Ben Abadie can repeat his 15-10 record of last year. Abadie feels that his is a rebuilding year and would be happy if his team finishes at the 500 level.

The Tulane baseball team will not be lacking in stars. In pitcher John Olaques Tulane has the best professional prospect in the S.E.C. John led the entire country last year in strikeouts. The 6'3" 210 pounder is only a junior this year and should provide Abadie and Tulane with many victories. Also, Dave Flettrich the flashy infielder was high in the national rankings in the batting average department last year. The sophomores are led by Ronnie Scoot, Robert Darhah, and George Ditta. These three led a fine group of freshmen last year in compiling a 14-1 season.

The team's strength lies in its defense. Tulane's major weaknesses last year at SS and outfield have been repaired. "If we are to falter, said Abadie, it will be in the pitching department. When a team loses pitchers like Blanda, Stevenson, Adams, and Weaver, it is in trouble. We have six games in four days in one stretch in April. That is where we will either have a good season or fade into mediocrity. It will be decided upon whether these sophomores can mature quick enough."

The team has worked very hard. Abadie has been moving his players from late September. Although he is anything but optimistic, he is pleased with the boys performances up to date. "Right now, he says our goals is to win half our games. But if things go right, you can never tell."

Awaiting a pitch is Mike Ward.

Golf

This year's Green Wave linksmen are expected to perform better than those of past years. Ably coached by Audubon golf pro, Innes Millar, the team has five returning lettermen. Last year the team participated in ten tournaments, compiling a 3-7 record for the season. The Greenies finished fifth in the Spring Hill Buckhaults Tournaments. Some of the highlights of last years season were the victories over Washington University 26-1, Mississippi State 18-9, and Southeast Louisiana 19-2. Great things are expected from this years co-captains, Walter Blessey and Ray Fontenot. The team is backed up by Steve Abrams, Steve Bellaire, Jim Thiel, Richard Rudolph, and Frank Wells.

Sailing Team

The Tulane University Sailing Team has established itself as one of the finest intercollegiate sailing teams in the country. Tulane has lead the Southeastern Intercollegiate Sailing Association three times in the four years that Tulane has been a member club. In addition to dominating the Southeastern I.S.A., Tulane has placed extremely well in national competition. In 1964 Tulane placed 8th in the annual Intercollegiate North American Championships held at Vancouver. British Columbia. In last year's North Americans the Tulane Sailing Team placed fourth among a field of colleges representing the best sailing teams in the U.S. and Canada. Tulane was also given the honor of representing the Southeastern district in the inaugural of the John F. Kennedy Memorial Cup sailed at Annapolis, Maryland in 44′ yawls supplied by the Naval Academy. Although the team had little practice in large boats, Tulane's 7-man team placed fourth in this event only 4 points behind the leaders. Because of this fine showing, the Tulane team has been invited back again this year.

This year the sailing team has already compiled a fine racing record. Tulane won the Triangular regatta over LSU and LSUNO for the 6th consecutive time. Tulane has never been beaten by LSU or LSUNO in this event. Tulane also won the Panama City Invitational and the Baldwin Wood Memorial Regatta. The team placed second in the SEISA Sloop Champs, Keelboat Champs, and was second to Southern Cal in the Sugar Bowl Regatta held in New Orleans with some of the finest teams in the country competing.

Again in 1966, the sailing team looks like a sure bet to qualify for the North American Championships at Kings Point, N.Y. Arthur Seaver and Pete Ware, who sailed for Tulane last year, are both back this year and will be trying to better their fourth place finish in the 1965 Championships at Grosse Pointe, Michigan. Ware won the Southeastern Individual Overall Championship as a freshman in 1962-63. He skippered on the 1964 and 65 North American Dinghy teams. In his four years at Tulane he has collected 13 gold medals in SEISA competition. Art Seaver, while only a sophomore, was the leading skipper on the Tulane team this fall. He was Junior Champion at Southern Yacht Club in New Orleans for several years and was Luder-16 fleet champion in 1964. Art has distinguished himself in large boat sailing as well as dinghy and monotype sailing. He and Ware will spearhead Tulane's yawl team in the Kennedy Cup this April.

The sailing team has developed some fine reserve talent also. Vicki Milliken, a Newcomb sophomore, lead Tulane to victory in the Triangular Regatta and Baldwin Wood Memorial. Bill Wark has also shown himself to be a more than adequate alternate. Bill sailed for Tulane in the Panama City Invitational and SEISA Sloop Championships. Everything considered, the outlook for 1966 and the years to come is very bright for the Tulane Sailing Team.

Soccer

Although soccer has drawn much interest at Tulane at intermittent intervals in the past, it is now firmly implanted and achieving the highest successes. Over the past two years, the Green Wave kickers competed in a ten-team local league, composed primarily of first-rate Central American players.

Despite the very good overall record that Tulane maintained in this league, the booters have recently formed a separate collegiate league in conjunction with L.S.U., U.S.L., Mississippi Southern, and Delgado, thanks largely to the dedicated services of the advisor, coach, and player, Walter Sablinsky. Several other Southern Universities have expressed interest in joining the field, and in years to come, Tulane's excellent squad will certainly be drawing thousands of spectators to the Sugar Bowl stands.

Soccer is unquestionably the most broadly-based activity on campus. Team members hail from Uruguay, Brazil, Peru, Colombia, Venezuela, Virgin Islands, Guatemala, Algeria, Spain, France, Italy, Germany, Egypt, Libya, Iran, Russia and the United States.

The intramural sports program at Tulane is one of the finest found anywhere in the South. The program is directed by head baseball coach Ben Abadie and offers competition in many sports ranging from football and basketball to pool and ping-pong. Any student can participate in any of the intramural sports events except a sport in which a person competes in at the varsity level. There are three intramural leagues at Tulane. They are the Panhellenic League, The Dorm League, and the University League. The Panhellenic League is made up of teams from each of the fraternities and is the league in which the highest caliber competition is found, participants quite ofter having been former high-school stars. This provides for quite spirited battle among the fraternities for the Panhellenic trophy which is awarded annually to the fraternity compiling the highest number of points in overall competition.

The Dormitory League is made up of teams from each of the houses in the dorms and the University League, whose teams come from the different schools in the university and the ROTC units are the other leagues active in the intramural program. This year the Sacchrin Bowl, an intramural tackle football game, held annually in the late fall for many years was cancelled. This game was a highlight of the fall intramural activity, but was not held this year due to the poor conditioning and chance injury among the participants.

Overall the intramural program offers everyone an excellent chance to take part in any sport they wish and also provides a basis for competition among the fraternities and residence halls.

The gregarious nature of young people in college is an accepted element in our society. It is only natural for students to seek each other's companionship, friendship, and loyalty, for associations formed on campus are valuable additions to one's university experience. Greek-letter organizations—specifically fraternities and sororities—are a means to these associations. No devoted fraternity man will contend that his group and its associations are everything is his life, but he knows that the inclusion of a solid fraternal experience has made his life at Tulane more meaningful and more educational.

Tulane Pan-Hellenic

The Tulane Panhellenic Council is the general co-ordinating and governing body for the eighteen national fraternities and one local on the Tulane campus. The Council is composed of two representatives from each member fraternity. The Council is governed by a Judicial Committee composed of the four major officers and two representatives-at-large. This committee executes the policies of the Council and serves as arbitrator in case of disputes.

The competitive activities of the fraternities are supervised by the Director of Interfraternity Activities and the Athletic Committee. These activities range from large sports such as football and basketball to such small sports as tennis and golf and other activities such as homecoming decorations, campus carnival, and scholarship. The newest addition to this list of activities is Panhellenic Sing.

The highlights of the fraternity year are the September Rush, culminated by pledging and a welcoming banquet for all new pledges, and Greek Week, which consists of a community "Help Day," pledge and officers discussion groups, a banquet with a distinguished fraternity man as speaker, and the Panhellenic Formal featuring a big name band.

The activities of the Council this year have included such projects as a large contribution to the Hurricane Betsy Fund, a clean-up day in Audubon Park, and a food drive for South Vietnam in which $7,089.37 was collected.

AEPi again won top honors during rush week by selecting 36 of Tulane's finest Freshman. Its pledge class, instilled by the brotherhood with spirit and unity, successfully elected one of its members President of the Freshman Class.

At the annual Pan-Hellenic Banquet, AEPi was presented with the scholarship trophy—first place on campus.

On the social side, Alpha Epsilon Pi reveled with its weekly TGIF parties, its annual jailbird hayride, mid-year Mama Lou's bash, George Washington Cherry Party, toga party, and finally, the annual Sweetheart Formal at the Jung Hotel.

Athleticly, AEPi has taken first place trophies in Bowling, Golf and Bridge, and has placed in Pool, Volley Ball, Handball, and Ping Pong. With three months of fraternity competition still ahead, AEPi has a good chance of taking the overall Panhellenic trophy.

In campus activities, AEPi excelled. AEPi's are President of the College of Arts and Sciences, President of the A&S Honor Board, Business Manager of the JAMBALAYA, Hullabaloo, WTUL, and Student Directory, Sports Editor for the Hullabaloo, Chairman on the University Center Board, Vice President of the Senior Class, President of the Junior Class, and President of the Freshman Class.

It was a great year for Alpha Epsilon Pi. The year to come will be even better.

After successfully hazarding the perils of Betsy and a hectic rush week Alpha Sigma Phi emerged with eighteen new pledges with which to begin the new year.

However, Betsy had created more than a hectic week at Tulane, and extra activities in the subsequent weeks included two missions under the direction of the Red Cross to the disaster-struck Chalmette area. This was followed several weeks later by participation in the Interfraternity Council's Food for Viet Nam Drive.

However the Alpha Sigs also found time to capture second place in the Panhellenic pool tournament, in addition to finishing fifth in the contest for all-fraternity academic average laurels.

Important events in a busy social calendar included the Black and White Formal on March 19, and the annual end of school Hawaiian party.

Living up to our proud reputation at Tulane for being outstanding in athletic competition, the Beta Epsilon chapter once again captured the highly prized Panhellenic trophy presented to the most outstanding fraternity on campus for the year.

Rush week proved to be a great success, and our membership was enriched by the addition of thirty exceptional young men as pledges for the first semester.

Maintaining a social schedule that topped even last year's party events, our traditional Christmas Party, Spring Formal, and Viking Party—which were interspersed with many a lively week-end party—combined to produce a fully successful year for the ATO's.

Since the establishment of the Beta Xi Chapter, the fraternity's members have assumed roles of leadership and responsibility in all facets of university life. Bill Goss, Al Hecker, Conrad Meyer, and Watt Arnold were recognized by Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities; Conrad Meyer was elected to Omicron Delta Kappa, national leadership honor society; Watt Arnold served as President of the Inter-House Council of Men's Residence Halls; and Tom Jones was Assistant Editor of the JAMBALAYA.

Outstanding in sports were Bill Goss and Conrad Mayer in varsity football, Andy Hamilton in varsity baseball, and Mack Miller and Frank Wells in varsity golf. Billy Wells was International Intercollegiate Pocket Billiards champion of 1965. Bill Goss and Conrad Meyer made the all SEC academic team.

The Brothers of Beta Xi feel that during the past year they carried on the tradition of the fraternity in every way and are looking forward to a promising future during the forthcoming banner year.

Delta Kappa Epsilon was founded at Yale in 1844 as a protest against the injustice of the society system then existing at that university. Known today as the oldest national fraternity of New England origin, Deke became the first fraternity to establish Southern chapters, among them Tau Lambda at Tulane.

Dekes have always achieved national and local recognition for their parties. Continuing in this tradition, the brothers enjoyed the usual full social agenda; including the Bayou Picnic, Viking Party, and the notorious Debutramp Ball (the latter an annual satire aimed at fraternity formals, Mardi Gras balls, and debutante parties). Innovations included the NASCAR Auto Demolishment Derby and the weekly Neighbor Relations Improvement parties. The Second Annual Hurricane Relief Party with Kappa Kappa Gamma provided the Red Cross with old clothes.

As usual, Deke was active in the areas of scholarship, athletics, and school activities: fifteen members in Law School, including Carl Cleveland (ODK) and John Wogan on the Law Review; Dick Baumbach, Fullbright Scholar, Tim Roniger, freshman basketball; to mention a few.

After two years of freedom from social pro, the Dekes feel that they have, with a few narrow escapes, carried on the fraternity's traditions and look forward to a promising future.

Under the leadership of Rush Chairman Don Cobb, Delta Tau Delta opened its seventy-seventh year at Tulane by pledging thirty-eight outstanding Delt prospects. Among the pledges are freshman officers in the School of Architecture, College of Arts and Sciences, and the School of Engineering. The Delts showed their school spirit immediately by winning first place in Homecoming Decorations, with the theme "Sink the Ship that Vandy Built."

Beginning with the "Suppressed Desire" costume party, the high points on the social calendar included the Christmas Party, South Sea Island Party, and the annual Rainbow Formal.

The Delts are well-represented in campus leadership with Tom Sawyer, Vice President of Arts and Sciences, chairman of the Honor Board, and a member of ODK; Luke O'Kelley, Representative-at-Large of the Engineering School. Other class officers include Mike Russel, Mead Miller, John Scurry, and Skip Miller. Terry Hardy is the Commander of the Pershing Rifles this year. Under the supervision of scholarship Chairman Dan Gribbin, Delta Tau Delta was among the leaders in scholarship. The Delts provided varsity athletics in football, baseball, swimming, and track.

We greatly regret the loss of career man T. J. Hoff, who has spent seven years at the Delt House.

FOUNDED: Washington and Lee, 1865
Established at Tulane: 1885

Kappa Alpha Order was founded in an atmosphere of idealism by four young men who sought to develop academic excellence, gentlemanly conduct, and high moral standards among themselves and their fellow students, based on a concept of Christian fellowship.

General Lee, exemplifying the highest traits of manliness, became the inspiration for the life and conduct of the group and thus earned a place of reverence in the hearts and lives of all KA's as the Spiritual Founder of Kappa Alpha Order.

Psi Chapter enjoyed a splendid rush week, pledging 19 outstanding men, giving the chapter great potential for a strong sophomore class in '66-'67.

Not to be outdone, Psi "the friendly chapter," undertook the traditional parties, including: the Shifazer's, Bushman's, and Old South Balls, plus an occasional house party at the plantation home of Brother Fagomel.

KΣ

Kappa Sigma's New World founding took place at the University of Virginia in 1869. Twenty years later, Sigma Chapter was chartered at Tulane University.

As a prominent fraternity on campus, Kappa Sigma boasts membership in such honoraries as Phi Eta Sigma, Omicron Delta Kappa, Eta Sigma Phi, Alpha Chi Sigma, Tri Beta, Phi Beta Kappa, and Who's Who. Other campus organizations in which Kappa Sigmas are active include the University Center Board, the Honor Board, and the JAMBALAYA staff. In evidence of the Fraternity's interest in campus politics and its efforts to improve class leadership, Kappa Sigmas hold the offices of President of Freshman Architecture, Vice-President of Sophomore A&S, and Secretary of Junior A&S.

The high spots of the Kappa Sigma social calendar are the Pirate's Party, Parents' Day Party, the Kappa Sigma-Pi Phi Orphan Party, the Shifazzers Ball, and the annually lavish Winter and Spring Formals. Other memorable soirées include T.G.I.F. parties, victory celebrations in honor of the all-spaz team, parties after the home football games, and Friday night levee bachanals.

Each year Kappa Sigma fields teams in all Panhellenic sports. Last year these teams placed second in tennis, third in track, and fifth in basketball, football, and softball.

Kappa Sigmas Stuart Martin, Bobby Duhon, Nat Tulon, Lee Haynes, and Glen Legnon are well-known to Green Wave gridiron fans, as are Jim Bob Laughlin and Toby Walcott to Tulane's basketball and baseball followers.

Sigma, along with the other one hundred thirty-four Kappa Sigma Chapters, has developed a Scholarship-Leadership Awards program which is backed by a two million dollar endowment fund and which is second to none in the fraternity world.

Sigma Chapter is proud of its part in upholding the fine traditions of Kappa Sigma and in helping to maintain the Fraternity's high national standing.

Louisiana Alpha of Phi Delta Theta began its 75th year at Tulane with an impromptu hurricane party necessitated by "Betsy." After a successful rush week, our Chapter started another traditional year of academic and social enlightenment.

Before settling down to the rigors of Tulane's scholastic demands, the Phi Delts enjoyed a party in loving memory of A. Turner with music by Floyd Reggin.

A committee of twenty pledges was chosen to decorate for Homecoming festivities. The decorations were as admirable, if not more so, as the showing of the Green Wave.

A few social events on the Phi schedule for later in the year include the River-boat formal, a hit two years ago; a "fix-the-pool-table-party"; and the pledges' "Inquisition" party.

The Chapter played a large part in giving aid to disaster of "Betsy" during the first semester. The Phi Delts also helped the collection of Red Cross contributions.

This year began for Phi Kappa Sigma with a successful Rush Week: thirty-one boys were pledged.

Highlights of the year's activities included cocktail parties, Hay Rides, Saturday night parties, sorority exchanges, pre-game open houses, T.G.I.F.'s and the Spring Formal.

Phi Kaps have many men in top positions on campus. There are Phi Kaps in all areas of student government, on U. C. committees, varsity sports, Who's Who, Tulane Scholars and Fellows, and the Honor Board. Offices held are: Charles Klaveness, Vice-President ΚΔΦ and President of ΦΗΣ; Chuck Foto, President of the senior class in Business Administration: Paul Lamb, Junior class Vice-President A.&S.; Steve Welsh, Secretary-Treasurer of the sophomore class in engineering.

The Pikes enjoyed an excellent rush week, pledging thirty-three outstanding men.

The year was highlighted on April 1, when the Pikes moved into their "new" house. At an expense of approximately $100,000, the old Pike house underwent an extensive renovation and was completely refurnished. Special features of the house include terrazzo floors, air conditioning, the most modern kitchen facilities, and the largest party room on campus.

On campus the Pikes were again extremely active. Brother James Yawn served on the University Center Board as Chairman of the Public Relations Committee. Pike class presidents included Marvin Beasley, junior class, School of Engineering; and Richie Gonzales, freshman class, School of Engineering. Brother Toby Kolstad served as secretary-treasurer of the junior class, School of Engineering, and as secretary-treasurer of the Society of Mechanical Engineers. In the School of Law, Brother O'Haver edited the Student Bar Journal; Brother Shaw edited the Student Bar Newsletter.

Major events on the social calendar were the Christmas Party, the Fais Do-Do, the Founders' Day Banquet, and the Dream Girl Formal. The Founders' Day Banquet featured as guest speakers Louisiana's Senator Allen J. Ellender and Eta's faculty advisor Dr. E. Lee Hoffman, Tulane's Director of Financial Aid.

ΣAE

FOUNDED: University of Alabama, 1856
Established at Tulane: 1897

Sigma Alpha Epsilon, founded before the Civil war at the University of Alabama, was the first Southern fraternity. Since that time, the fraternity has grown, until today when it is the largest national fraternity with 152 chapters in 46 states.

Louisiana Tau-Upsilon Chapter of ΣAE emphasizes all areas of student life. The chapter is well-respected on campus for its leadership and emphasis in scholarship and Panhellenic activities. The chapter's accomplishments in these areas have an unsurpassed history. Socially, ΣAE highlights the year with such parties as the Pledge Party, the Spring Formal, and the Cane-Cutters Brawl. In campus activities, ΣAE is represented by leaders in all areas of student government and student life, by varsity athletics in all Tulane sports, and by its members in ODK, Phi Eta Sigma, AED, Tau Beta Pi, Phi Beta Kappa, KΔΦ, Who's Who, and Tulane Scholars and Fellows Program.

The ΣAE chapter climaxed one of its best rush weeks with the pledging of 40 outstanding men and now looks forward to another successful year.

Since Sigma Alpha Mu began here at Tulane forty-five years ago, the brothers in our house have made SAM one of the top houses on campus. The Sammies went all-out during Rush Week and pledged twenty-five very fine boys.

As usual, the first semester's social activities began with a party after the first home football game and the year's first costume party. A big semester socially was planned for the Sammies; however, plans were curtailed because of circumstances beyond our control. During second semester we had our Orchid Formal, Obnoxious Party, Pajama Party, and Hawaiian Hangover. In Panhellenic activities the Sammies are once again near the top: third place in this year's homecoming display and a top slot in football are among our honors.

The fraternity also is active in campus activities, and has several participants on the Student Activities Board, Honor Board, Elections Committee, Uniersity Center Board, and the Student Council.

Finally, in Varsity sports the Sammies are represented on the Baseball and Track teams.

After climaxing an excellent rush week by pledging twenty-five outstanding men, Sigma Chi began enthusiastic observance of time-honored social traditions: Mad Mad World Party, Greek Revival Party, pledge-Active Buzzard's Hall fiasco, Hugh F. Burnett Memorial Raincoat Party, and Derby Day, where Newcomb sororities compete for Panhell points. These are all secondary, of course, to the incomparable Sigma Chi Sweetheart Formal which was successfully enlarged to Sigma Chi Weekend this year.

Sigma Chi is represented in Tulane athletics by Mike Steeves and Pro-Consul Carl Crowder who is a candidate for the national all-Sig squad. Consul Ray Fontenot completes his third straight year as golf team captain and is accompanied by Sig teammates Steve Bellaire and Fred Bradley. Pierce Kelley, outstanding SEC tennis prospect; Don LaGrone, Swimming; and Frank McCoy, Football, are Sigma Chi freshman athletes.

Innovations this year included painting the house, remodeling the chapter room, and the unique addition of a P.O.E.T.S. Club Library which was used extensively on Friday afternoons.

Sigma Chi is represented in all phases of campus life and can remember this year for advances in leadership, scholarship, and brotherhood.

Sigma Nu is one of the largest national fraternities with 140 active chapters and over 80,000 living alumni. Beta Phi chapter began another successful year by obtaining 21 select pledges during Rush Week.

The social year was the best, starting with the screaming Wombat Party, continuing with Cocktail parties, Saturday night casuals, hayrides, the Sigma Nu-ADPi Christmas Orphan Party, and climaxing with the elegant White Rose Formal.

Brothers were active in many areas of college life. Academically, brothers were tapped for Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Eta Sigma, Alpha Epsilon Delta, Alpha Chi Sigma, and Tulane Scholars and Fellows. Sig Nus served as Director of Interfraternity Activities and were members of U. C. committees, Greenbackers, Sailing Club and the Tulane Band. Included in the military echelons was the Commander of Arnold Air Society and the NROTC Battalion Executive Officer along with Scabbard and Blade members. Athletically, the chapter was again expected to field strong Panhell teams, as exemplified by last year's second place basketball and softball teams. Finally, Beta Phi was represented by brothers on the varsity football, baseball and track teams along with the freshman baseball and swimming teams.

The chapter was most thankful to the guidance of the housemother, Mrs. T. O. Hotard Jr., and looked forward to another rewarding year.

September, 1965, marked another milestone for Sigma Pi: we moved into a "new" house located at 7103 Freret Street. It is far larger than our old house: consequently it affords us more than adequate dining facilities, a good deal of party space, and comfortable accommodations for fifteen men.

This past Rush Week Sigma Pi again gathered an outstanding pledge class. We are extremely proud of our pledges for they have done much to promote Sigma Pi on the Tulane campus.

Our Social Calendar has never been better. Besides our weekly parties, we have numerous special activities. We go all out at Homecoming, our Founders' Day Banquet on the 26th of February, our Annual Orchid Formal—this year Irma Thomas will help us celebrate—and the Children's Christmas Party for underprivileged children.

On all campuses where there is a Chapter of the Sigma Pi Fraternity, there are Sigma Pi's in leadership positions. And, the Tulane Sigma Pi's are no different. We have men in Tau Beta Phi Honorary Engineering Fraternity, Pi Mu Epsilon Honorary Mathematics Fraternity, and Circle K.

Epsilon Kappa Chapter of Tau Epsilon Phi began its ninth year on the Tulane campus by accepting eighteen outstanding pledges. Together with the brothers, these pledges have already become involved in campus affairs. TEPS are active in such organizations as Music Committee, Tulane University Theater, radio station WTUL, and the Pre-Med Society. TEPs are also prominent in such honorary organizations as Phi Eta Sigma, Alpha Chi Sigma, Scabbard and Blade, Scholars and Fellows, Tau Beta Pi, and Alpha Epsilon Delta.

Socially, TEP plans to continue the tradition of holding "champagne parties" in honor of various sororities and Newcomb girls in general, as well as the usual Saturday parties. The highlight of the social season will be the annual Sweetheart Formal, to be held at the Jung Hotel this spring. At that time, the new sweetheart and officers will be named.

In the community, TEPs were active in aiding with the Hurricane Betsy clean-up, and plan to participate in various campus and community charitable projects. Panhell sports were tackled vigorously by the brotherhood, as TEP displayed a top effort in all that was tried.

ZBT

1965-66 at ZBT began with a very successful rush week which appears to be the beginning of another great year for the house. As three times past winners of the National Fraternity Rushing trophy, the brotherhood carried on a rush highlighted by Arthur Alexander, the Lakewood all day picnic, and consumated by the pledging of 32 top men.

Our social calendar features memorable functions such as the First and Second Semi-Annual Zant Ball, the Shiffarzer's Ball, the Winter Formal, and the Orgy. Top billing socially will again this year be the Spring Formal at the Royal Orleans with Smokey Robinson and the Miracles providing entertainment. The entire campus anxiously awaits to see if last years fantastic show by Jackie Wilson can possibly be duplicated.

Last years athletic season found Zeta Beta Tau placing second on campus in total inter-fraternity competition. With such fine results behind us the Zebes again have begun to prepare for the challenge. Our first football victory of 32-13 gives evidence of another fine effort by our men, and we most definitely expect to live up to our former efforts.

Our social service program again is headed by our annual Christmas party for local orphanages and our periodical help days at Willowood Home for the Aged. Combining this aspect of our fraternity life with a continuation of a fine political image, we the membership of Sigma Chapter of Zeta Beta Tau project a great year for a traditionally high ranking chapter and the Tulane fraternity system.

Newcomb Panhellenic, a member of the National Panhellenic Conference, is composed of the three letter officers, the president of each of the sororities, and a representative of each sorority. The Panhellenic Council compiles the rules which govern rushing, pledging, and initiation. The Council awards the Newcomb Panhellenic Trophy each year to the group which has accumulated the most number of points for participation in campus activities and scholastic endeavors. Each year the Council presents the City Panhellenic Trophy to the sorority with the highest scholastic rating.

Throughout the year the Council strives to promote a better relationship between the member groups and between the sororities and the University.

Success marked another year for Alpha Delta Pi. With three girls JYA, a large percentage of the chapter on the Dean's List, and members serving as officers of Chi Beta. ADPi made her mark in the academic sphere of college life. Socially, the most prominent events of the year were the Christmas Buffet and Champagne Party, and, of course, the Spring Formal. In addition to these events were several exchange parties, one of which was a Christmas party given with Sigma Nu for the children of Magnolia School.

ADPi boasts several military sponsors plus members of Angel Flight and Commodores. Linda Barton reigned as "Sweetheart" of Alpha Sigma Phi and many others were on the courts of various fraternities. Special honors went to Erica Metz, a finalist for the Homecoming Court, and to Ann Bucaro, "First-Maid" in the Sugar Bowl Court.

Having started the year by winning first place in the pregame bonfire, ADPi not only maintained the high spirit evidenced there, but continued and is continuing to develop it even more.

Standing: Mary Edith Larson, treasurer, Mary K. Spier, vice-president; Sitting: Jinks Farwell, president, Marily Humphreys, recording secretary.

We the sisters of Alpha Omicron Pi, being of sound mind, do hereby present the following report. In the area of student government Marily Humphreys served as Junior Class treasurer and Linda Crawford as Sophomore Class Secretary. Eight AOPi's served on House Council. In the area of Foreign relations, Karen Oser, Marily Hartley and Linda Eustis are setting Europe ablaze while participating in the JYA Program. Our brilliant social functions have included The Spring Formal, Senior Banquet, our First Annual Beer Blast in the fall and the Founders Day Banquet. Luncheons have made Thursdays a little nicer including the Mother Daughter Christmas Luncheon. In campus activities Margaret Noble is President of the University Center Board and other AOPi's serve on various committees. Several girls participated in the Big Sister Program. Barbara Burgess and Carolina Dickey are marching with Angel Flight and Mary Edith Larson, Sally Blach, Jinks Farwell and Mary Snodgrass are swimming with Barracudas, Marily Humphreys and Carol got a trip to Carnegie Hall with the Tulane Choir. Dolly Hurtig and Margaret Noble represented us beautifully as finalists for The Homecoming Court. We once again joined with Phi Kappa Sigma for our Christmas Orphan Party. On that note we end this our annual report and look forward to another great year.

Even Hurricane Betsy couldn't stop Chi Omegas who gathered at the house in September to begin another great year. Highlights included lunches, dessert parties, supper meetings, banquets, Founders' Day tea, dinner dance, and, of course, the spring formal. Third place in homecoming also added to the year.

Chi Omega continued its tradition of campus leadership with Anna Baugh, commander of Angel Flight and member of the Homecoming Court; Peggy Wyatt, resident president and Mortar Board historian; Barbara Stuckey, J. L. House president and member of Assets; Gail Gourgott and Twinkie Floyd, Orientation chairmen; Anne Gates and Mary Coleman, senior class officers; Sylvia Staples, Honor Board member; Mary Cay Harwell, president of T. U. T.; and Vicki Elsas, vice-president of Barracudas. Nan Byorum, Sue Todd, and Suzanne Walter are members of Commodores; and Gretchen Hansen and Mary Sumner are new members of Angel Flight.

Tulane Student Council members are Prissy Hess and Mary Riser. New members of Who's Who include Mary Cay Harwell, Prissy Hess, and Peggy Wyatt. Chi Beta members are Bev Robert and Barbara Stuckey.

All in all, another fine year for Chi Omega!

The year began for Kappa with the September Open House during Orientation. A Foreign Students' Tea and the annual Boatride Party were among the events of the fall. The year drew to a seasonal close with the Christmas Party at the KA House for some underprivileged children. After semester break the Kappas joined in toasting at Bruno's their spectacular February pledge class. Spring came with the Art Show, the formal, the Founders' Day Banquet, and the highlighted initiation of the Kappa pledges.

On campus this year were many active Kappas: Florence deFroscia, President of the Newcomb Student Body; Susan Clark, President of Honor Board; Carolyn Crusel, President of Women's Panhel; Laurie Kyle, President of the Senior Class; Suzanne Dupuy and Marsha Dumas, Honor Board members; Susan Andry, Sophomore Orientation Chairman; Janie Moser, Hospitality Committee Chairman; La Fon Pease, Project Opportunity, Chairman; Maggie Moore, Greenbackers' Secretary; Elaine Cuellar, Cheerleader; Sudie Eustis and Margie Longenecker, Mortar Board members; Suzanne Dupuy, an Asset; Susan Clark, Laurie Kyle, Florence deFroscia, Carolyn Crusel, and Margie Longenecker, members of Who's Who; Susan Clark, Homecoming Queen; and Helen Childress, a member of the court. With these Kappa leaders and with enthusiastic chapter spirit, the year was a successful one for Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Delta chapter began another successful year with an industrious and fun-filled houseparty on the Gulf Coast. As a group, the chapter enthusiastically participated in many campus and Panhellenic activities which included decorating for Homecoming, Campus Carnival, and Derby Day. The busy social calendar was highlighted by weekly luncheons, a swinging Christmas party, the Founder's Day Banquet, the Senior Banquet, and the annual Spring Formal. As philanthropic projects, the chapter gave a Halloween party for the patients at the Crippled Children's Hospital and generously contributed to the Christmas Toy-Cart. In addition, the Phi Mu's participated in their annual Hope Day celebration and the Philomathean Hour.

Phi Mu is also proud of its individual members who are active as leaders of campus life. Their achievements include elected campus positions and honorary and social awards. Among these outstanding members are: Carolyn Gifford, Cosmopolitan Committee Chairman, Athletic Council President, member of who's who, and Pi Kappa Alpha Dream Girl Court; Carol Herman, Chi Beta President, and winner of the Chi Omega Freshman Award; Norris Lupo, Spotlighters Committee Chairman, Business School Honor Board, who's who; Dee Dee Connell, Oreades President; Celeste St. Martin; Pi Mu Epsilon President; Darlene Bierhorst, University College Representative-at-Large; Dee Dee Blache, Angel Flight Secretary; Gladys Salassi, member of Angel Flight; Jan Parker and Mufi Eden, maids of Sigma Pi Sweetheart Court.

Pi Phi started the year off right by winning the Panhellenic trophy for 1964-65. Homecoming was another exciting time for Pi Phi, for in addition to winning first place in the displays, the chapter was well represented on the Homecoming Court by Mary Brown, Susan Marland, and Mary Helen Young.

Parties this year included the Kappa Sig-Pi Phi Orphan Christmas party, a tea for International Students, and all-sorority-fraternity Christmas party, and lunches at the house.

SIGMA DELTA TAU started off the new year by returning to school to find not only "Betsy" but a beautifully remodeled house as well. The activities of the first semester were highlighted by the Sig Delt's party at the Playboy Club. Other activities included a Halloween party for the crippled children's hospital, Sunday morning brunches, a winter retreat, and a cultural lecture series. Second semester was filled with the excitement of a new pledge class and was topped off by a beautiful Spring Formal.

SDT is very proud of its members who excell in campus activities. Debby Shapiro is corresponding secretary of the Student Body; Regina Brody, U. C. Fine Arts Chairman; Lynn Donna Rocker, U. C. Music Chairman; Janice Levy and Ellen Stetzer are members of Mortar Board; and Richi Price and Jackie Blye are members of Chi Beta.

Knowledge is the wing

The wing wherewith we rise above our difficulties, above the past.

Knowledge is a lifetime asset that no man can diminish. Treasure it, and it will give you a wider, warmer world. Your years at Tulane will bring it new scope, deeper meaning. Use it well, in peace and in prosperity, through all the years ahead.

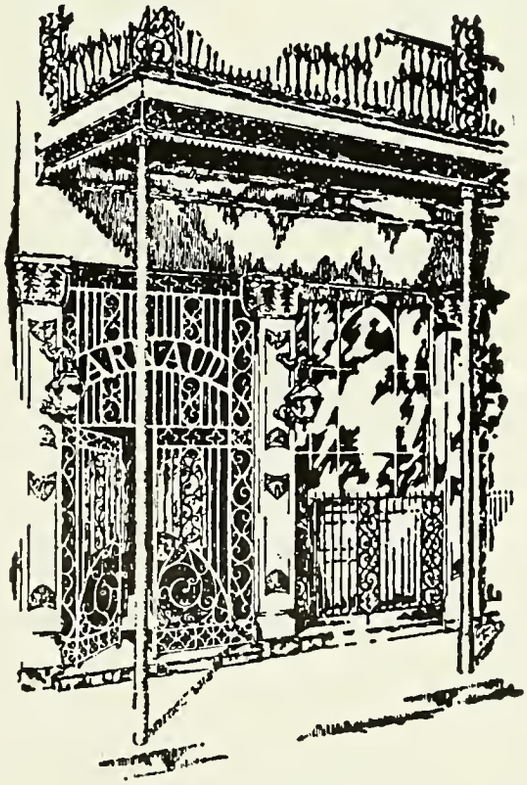
GERMAINE CAZENAVE WELLS

Owner of Arnaud's Restaurant, daughter of the late Count Arnaud, founder of the restaurant that bears his name, as well as creator of many famous Creole and French dishes famed throughout the world.

ARNAUD'S—Selected the best restaurant of the South for the 2000th anniversary of the founding of the City of Paris.



Few are the people who set foot on the sidewalk of New Orleans who do not seek to learn the location of Arnaud's and forthwith journey there to enjoy this famous cuisine. After partaking of a notable meal, guests frequently ask the derivation of a particular dish: "Is it French?" "Is it Spanish?" The answer is that it is a combination of the wizardry of the French with the art of Spanish to make Arnaud's masterpieces.

A WORD TO

College seniors and graduate students

You are on the threshold of one of the most exciting and important phases of your life . . . your career. Your reward for many hours of study will be a good position in your chosen field of endeavor. In other words, your future is unlimited. Why not protect it NOW?

PACE, Pan-American's College Estate plan, was designed just for you seniors and graduate students, to provide a fair amount of life insurance protection at an age when you benefit from lower rates. This is protection that will grow with you. And, we can guarantee that in future years we will sell you additional coverage regardless of health or occupational hazards.

Yes, we know you don't have funds enough to buy life insurance while in school. Most of us at Pan-American Life remember our undergraduate days when money was a scarce item. That's why we have built into the PACE plan a special deferred payment arrangement. It allows you to purchase a nominal amount of life insurance with the premium payment coming due after graduation, when you are located in that first big job.

There's a Pan-American agent near you. Why not give him a call, or write to our Special Plans Department in New Orleans for complete details of our unique PACE plan.

FORTY-FOUR YEARS OF SERVICE TO PRINTERS AND PUBLISHERS

A Memorable Year

• Congratulations to the Student Body and Faculty of the Tulane University for completion of another outstanding year of accomplishments.

• The Staff of your annual has worked exceedingly hard to give you a superb book and one which portrays the highlights of memorable activities.

• Neither time, effort nor expense have been spared to provide you with a permanent record, attractively presented and complete in every detail.

• To preserve the photography and literary efforts of the Staff, the best grades of material have been combined with skilled workmanship to provide the finest quality yearbook.

• We are proud that the 1966 Staff elected us to help design, print and bind the 1966 JAMBALAYA. We have earnestly endeavored to fulfill the confidence placed in us.
