

Foreword

In a sincere attempt to make this the 1923 Gambalaya more complete and to present it in a new and original form we have made a radical departure from previous issues and have introduced several innovations which we hope will make this volume more interesting and more valuable as a keepsake.

We have endeavored to make this not only a remembrance of Tulane, but also of Louisiana and the South. We hope that those who peruse this book will gaze kindly on our efforts and speak a word of appreciation to those who have helped in making this book a success.

PREFACE

It is the editor's idea that this book reproduce the atmosphere of Louisiana and New Orleans, which is called the "most interesting American city." New Orleans is unusually rich in romantic traditions and places of historical interest.

The editors have tried to trace the history of Louisiana by portraying periods, prominent events and local color. From the first view, the Indians, to the last, the oldest cemetery in New Orleans, the theme of Louisiana history has been consistently maintained. The periods—Indian, Spanish, French, Colonial and Modern—are represented in the Beauty Section and throughout the book. Of especial interest are the reproductions of the early buildings of the three colleges of the university. Others of note are the transfer of Louisiana, the Mardi Gras parade, Duelling under the famous oaks, and the renowned French Opera. In each case the pictures adhere to the true historical facts. Even the border is a touch of local color—the Creole mammy and the chimney sweep.

The editors hope that in this way they have succeeded in combining a memory of the university with an appreciation of its unique locality.

University Council

The Council considers all scholastic questions relating to university administration or policy which in its opinion are of general university concern, and has jurisdiction to decide all such questions. Matters of dissent by any faculty from action by the Council are referred to the Board of Administrators for decision.

Members of the University Council for 1922-1923: President Dinwiddie, President Emeritus Sharp, Deans Aldrich, Anderson, Bass, Bechtel, Butler, Chassaignac, Fletcher, Foster, Leefe (acting), and Professors Crozat, Gessner, Lyon, McBryde, A. H. Northrup, E. J. Northrup, E. D. Martin, Pelz, C. S. Williamson and Miss Carmelite Janvier and Mr. Gustaf R. Westfeldt, of the Alumni Advisory Committee.

JAMES FAIRLY ALISON, Σ A E, Φ X, K B Φ
KINGS LANDING, ALABAMA

B.S., University of Alabama; Owls; Assistant Business Manager Jambalaya, '21-22; Manager-in-Chief, '22-23; Pan-Hellenic Council; Varsity Football, '22.

All of us love good ole Jim. How could we help it? When fate was dealing out personalities, Jim came in for more than his share. A man of genuine good nature, thoroughly dependable and with a scholastic record to be proud of, he will surely carve a name deep into the tablets of fame and leave deep footprints on the sands of time. His quiet, unassuming, dignified poise plus attentiveness to duties has won him a high place in the estimation of fellow students. Jim is our largest contribution to the Rolling Green Wave.

JOHN CALVIN ALLEN, A K K
TATUM, TEXAS

University of Texas; Square and Compass.

An open face, but Greek to the ladies. J. C. is one of the few who has the honor of mastering the four years without being subjected to that awful humiliation of conditional examinations. Being a man of many accomplishments, Allen was not satisfied with the study of medicine alone, but spent some of his time delving into the depths of French, in which he attained a wonderful degree of efficiency. He is that rare type of man endowed with the ability of making friends of all he meets. He has a high sense of honor and justice, and a frank expression, which is the criterion of the inner man.

HENERY B. ALSOBROOK, Φ B II
MANNING, ARKANSAS

Square and Compass; Vice-President Class, '21-22; Honor Committee, '20-21.

Here is a man who has been from Arkansas for several years, but has not yet learned not to tell about it—not that he is inapt—it's loyalty—and he is that way about everything else—just politician enough to get popular and stay that way, modest, unassuming and sincere in his work, and no social failure either. That smile that didn't weaken over a foundation of years not spent in vain will put him over strong.

HOBART STATON AWTREY, X Z X
STEELE CITY, ALABAMA

University of Mississippi.

"Framed to make women false." Many years ago up in the mountains of Alabama this lad was fired with an ambition to become a great physician. He first entered the University of Mississippi, where he mastered the entire curriculum in four years and entered Tulane in the junior year. He has recently been wounded by one of Cupid's darts, but his resistance is good and we believe he will survive for a long and successful practice with an amiable companion up in the hills of his native state.

JAMES JOSEPH BARON
NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA

B.S., A.B., Tulane; Vice-President Senior A. & S., '21.

Joe is a Frenchman and suffers from that disease with which all Frenchmen are afflicted—insanity (apologies to Dr. Van Wart). He is not dangerous, however, if you rub him the right way, but if you step on his corns, the only way to quiet him is with a brick. His condition underwent an acute exacerbation, complicated with matrimony, a year ago, from which he has not yet recovered, hence he is deserving of our sympathies.

CLARA BIMMS BARRETT, A E I, A Ω A
MACON, GEORGIA

A.B., Shorter College; Stars and Bars; Class Historian, '19-20-21-22; President of Women's Medical Association.

When in doubt, ask Clara—she always knows—but then, she must, she tells us because she may some day be the only doctor within reach in the oriental part of the world where she has chosen to make her future home. A good student and justly rewarded, for she has all the honors given by the medical school.

ROSSELL C. BASINGER, Δ K E, Ν Σ Ν
MOBILE, ALABAMA

B.S., University of Mississippi.
"Wherefore art thou, Romeo?" "The Wee One" blew in last year with a cheerful smile and a healthy line of bull. Some of the smile has worn off, but the line has improved. He follows Aescnylapius too cheerily to ever do much research work, but will be a healthy practitioner. His mydriatic pupils coupled with the "String" will be sufficient to insure his success. His only handicap is his first name.

HAROLD JOSEPH BATTALORA, X Z X
NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA

B.S., '21.
"Batt" says he is Swiss. Dr. Hopkins says he is hopeless; on inspection it would seem that the latter, at least, is true. We hate to hold him up as a bad example, for he has some redeeming qualities; he is handsome (when he keeps his lips together) and the boy possesses speed. Harold is the kind of a fellow, who, if a fair looker happened to glance at him hard, would run up and seize her hand and convince her they had met. And the funny part is—he gets away with it.

MAREUS EDWARD BIZZELL, K Σ, Φ X
GOLDSBORO, NORTH CAROLINA

B.S., University of North Carolina.
Eddy joined us in the junior year, and has won a place in the hearts of all his classmates by his genial disposition and honest efforts. Though a hard worker, he did not neglect his social duties, as can be surmised by a mere glance at this very likable chap. It is rumored that he intends doing some research work on arsenical preparation; Dr. Menage thinks there is a great future for Eddy in this field. Be it said that it is the honest opinion of all that Eddy will undoubtedly be a successful M.D., and an honor to Tulane.

GILL W. BLACKSHEAR, Σ Ν, Φ X
PANAMA CITY, FLORIDA

A.B.; Class President, '18-19; Varsity Football, '18-19-22-23; Honor Committee, '18-19.
Blackshear, our standby, hails from everywhere. Those of us who have been closely associated with him are extremely fortunate, because he is that rare type of man who possesses all the cardinal virtues which characterize the true chivalrons and typical Southern gentleman. Like a Spartan of old, "Black" has been an active participant in athletics, especially in football, where he has proven himself one of the best tackles who ever wore the "Olive and Blue." When it comes to scientific endeavor, "Black" is there, too, as he has been one of the most consistent students in the class.

DANIEL BRANNIN, Φ Δ Θ, Φ Α Σ
DALLAS, TEXAS

University of Texas; Owls; Honor Committee, '22-23.
Brannin came to us two years ago from Texas. His pleasing personality and intellectual ability have won for him the highest esteem of his many friends. He is a man of high ideals, unselfish, and a gentleman, and a scholar. He is one with whom we all would like to be associated in the future. He will certainly attain a success that will not only make us proud to have been his classmates, but one that will make Tulane proud to have graduated such a man.

OTIS WINFIELD BRITT, X Z X
ANDALUSIA, ALABAMA

Well versed, well liked, and that well enough. A man who meets obstacles as they arise, and conquers them with the coolness and calmness of a warrior. His path has been rocky and his lights have been dim, but he has stuck by the ship with the gridiron determination to push forward, and well now has he proven his worth. In future years he will undoubtedly attain the highest honors as he will well deserve. His patients will be lucky.

CLARENCE STROUSE CARTER, Σ N, A K K
BUNKIE, LOUISIANA

Owls.

Old Swanee, a product of The Old Home Town, is one of those fellows who always has a good word to say about everybody. He apparently never has a care and never works very hard, but the fellows say, "He knows his stuff." During the past two years he has developed a decided interest in the New Orleans Medical Society Library, but we are unable to determine what particular subject requires his presence there.

CHARLES EVANS CATCHINGS, Δ T Δ, N Σ N
WOODVILLE, MISSISSIPPI

Mississippi A. & M.; University of Mississippi; B.S.

"Chas" arrived here last year and readily made for himself a place in the ranks of the tried and true. He is a conscientious worker, a true student and a gentleman, never failing in his obligations, and steadfast in his friendships. Being a worshiper of the gun and rod, he will probably locate in the country, where the products of these are readily accessible. He would rather hunt than ply his books.

JEROME C. CHAPMAN, K Σ, K Ψ
ANDALUSIA, ALABAMA

B.S., University of Alabama.

Jerry naturally became imbibed with the spirit of Hippocrates, and possessing traits of a genius which have been cultivated by his industrious efforts to the extent of burning midnight oil while his fellow students played bridge. He intends to return to Andalusia or Opp, Ala., where he contemplates on relaxing in a swivel chair and limiting his practice to the eye, ear, nose and throat.

LAURANCE JAMES CLARK, X Z X
CLINTON, MISSISSIPPI
Mississippi College.

Quiet, unassuming and free-hearted, seeking knowledge wherever it may be, and determined to succeed, Laurance joined the followers of Hippocrates. He is an ideal gentleman in every sense of the word, and is liked by all—because he is a friend to all. With a scholastic record that anyone should be proud of, he will leave our midst duly and truly prepared.

JOHN ASHBY COLCLOUGH, K Ψ
DALZELL, SOUTH CAROLINA

B.S., Presbyterian College of S. C.

John Ashby is preparing to become an oil magnate to judge from his work with John D.'s firm after school hours. Our hat is off to a man who finds the time to work, even though attending school. "Cokes'" ambition and incentive certainly should make him realize his fondest dreams.

HENRY OCTAVE COLOMB, B Θ II, N Σ N
ROMEVILLE, LOUISIANA

Owls; Pan-Hellenic Council, '21-22.

"Sunbeam," thusly dubbed in his freshman year, still runs true to form. He is one of the few men who can compound two incompatible ingredients—society and medicine—without a precipitation. This is evidenced by the fact that he frequently makes an "Eight Thirty" in spite of heavy eyelids and ballroom snow on his brow. He already has many traits of a good doctor, namely, running "Sunbeams" end of the business; letting others run their's; knowing what to say; when to say it, and what to leave unsaid. With these characteristics, we feel sure that he will make some community a good doctor.

WILLIAM HAYS COOK, A K K, Σ N, K B Φ
BATON ROUGE, LOUISIANA

Louisiana State University; Olive and Blue; Owls.
Coming from the city on the bluff, Bill has stuck to the job of studying medicine with a determination seldom seen. He has improved each year, and each year has impressed us more and more with his ability. Once a decided ladies' man, he seems to have sworn off during the past two years, but we predict that once having received the old diploma, he will again be playing for their smiles.

CYRIL GUSTAVUS DEVRON, Δ Σ Φ, K Ψ, A Ω A
NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA

B.S.; Tulane Weekly Staff, '19; Hullahaloo Representative, '20; Secretary Senior A. & S., '21.

Cyril Gustavus are the baptismal cognominal burdens that were bestowed by his infatuated parents (it is rumored that he slept during the bestowal). But he will succeed, in spite of this handicap, for his ability to disperse (during his waking moments) an attenuated stream of asphyxiated thought, that would make Dr. Johnson and Walter Scott look like rookies, will overcome all obstacles. Furthermore, his ability to do and say nothing in the most intricate fashion and to slumber under any condition has hitherto never been surpassed.

NOLAN S. DICKSON, Δ T Δ, N Σ N
WOODVILLE, MISSISSIPPI

B.S., University of Mississippi.

"Dick" came to us in the junior year suffering from two things for which we take no blame: One, baldness; the other, the yoke of the Benedict. His leisure hours have been spent in the pursuit of knowledge, and success will some day crown his brow—in place of hair. Like his friend, Charley, he is small in stature, but, at meal times, when the conversation is thick and fast, he towers far above his friends, a veritable Anak in the fields of contemporaneous fiction. How he and Charley are both going to make a living in Woodville, nobody seems to know.

HAL C. DOUGLAS, Φ K Σ, Φ X
BUSSEVILLE, ALABAMA

University of Alabama.

"Let not size be thy harrier." After his freshman year in Mobile, Hal was admitted to our Sophomore Class with a clean slate, which is yet as spotless as any. "Little Shad," though gifted with a vampish way, as yet has kept his heart his own. With a disposition so friendly and cheerful and his determination to succeed, we have no fear for his future. The medical profession will be proud of our blonde.

JAMES P. DYAR, Φ B Π
BOAS, ALABAMA

Valparaiso University; Honor Committee, '20-21.

Dyar is from Alabama, and possesses the qualities that generally distinguish the sons of Alabama. He is a deep thinker, a hard worker, and his friends like him for his good nature and faithfulness. He is one of those who believe that it is not good for a man to live alone. He learned early that a physician should not talk too much, for "By their fruits ye shall know them." Wherever he may go, Dyar is destined to stand out as one of medicine's best and most capable men.

JOHN RUFUS EVANS, Σ N, A K K
CORDELE, GEORGIA

Ph.G., Auburn; Owls; Class President, '20.

Georgia has sent Tulane quite a few good men, but we believe Rufus is the best. He led us through our freshman year as class president, but has consistently refused to again enter the political arena. When not working, he can always be found trying to entice a bet from someone on a football game. If his insight into the future of his patients proves to be as canny as his predictions on football games are, his success as a doctor is assured.

D. J. FARLEY, Φ K Α, Ν Σ Ν
IRONDALE, ALABAMA

A.B., Howard College; Square and Compass.

What a silent thing is dynamite—and yet how potent. Quiet and unassuming, D. J. is one of those men who can have all friends, and few, or no enemies. His natural tact, urbane deportment and thorough knowledge of medicine are sure to make for him a place in the world, as it has among his fellow students. The great are not always heralded by trumpets.

JAMES VANCE FERGUSON, Χ Ζ Χ
MARSHALL, ARKANSAS

B.S., University of Arkansas.

Vance is his name and ad-vance seems to be his motto. He came to us two years ago from the University of Arkansas, and if there are any more behind like him, they have a hearty welcome to Tulane. A tall, handsome blonde with an abundance of golden curls; girls fall for him; boys admire him, and all the patients rejoice at his approach. He is quiet, modest and considerate, a hard worker and a true and loyal friend. He has all the essentials of a great physician, and we are sure he will be heard from in a few years.

WILLARD L. FITZGERALD, Δ Τ Δ, Α Κ Κ
BIRMINGHAM, ALABAMA

St. Laurence University; Owls; Vice-President Senior Class.

"Fitz" has always contended that grass cannot grow on a busy street, thus his explanation for a bald head. In "Fitz" true worth is exemplified, and it is all too seldom that we meet a man who shows such constant and zealous attention to duty. His attention to details, his orderly, exact and at times verbatim notes, and his persistence and technic have been in a scholastic sense, the outstanding features of his whole college life. Fitzgerald is a synonym for thoroughness. In other ways we find him a good companion, to everyone—an all-round man, one of our best.

JOHN ROBERT FLOWERS, Α Κ Κ
ANDRINS, SOUTH CAROLINA

B.A., Wofford College; Square and Compass.

Bob came to us in the sophomore year as a disciple of Aesculapius and a worthy student of medicine. Robert has a jovial and fun-loving disposition and has made friends of all his classmates. Struggling through difficulties and hardships, he now hails the golden gate, and, when once upon the open sea, his voyage will be smooth and pleasant. He claims to be a woman-hater, but one never knows where he spends his Saturday nights.

THOMAS PAUL FRIZZELL, Ν Σ Ν, Α Ω Α
KNOX CITY, TEXAS

A.B., T. C. U.; M.A., Rice Institute; Stars and Bars.

A partially reformed West Texan who thinks a six and a nine on a grade book are alike except the way you look at them. This "Man of the big outdoors" knows just how much to work and how and when to play, and does both. The past is settled with, "Well, that's that," and "That's alright," and the future is present in an original creative imagination, which, behind an ability and less than a normal aversion to work will easily put him over the big things and make the little necessary details, ordinarily troublesome, a pleasant diversion for him.

GEORGE G. GARRETT, Κ Ψ
GROVE HILL, ALABAMA

B.S., University of Alabama.

George hails from the University of Alabama with a B.S. degree. He is a shy, modest chap with pretentious desires, namely, to emulate Dr. Matas. Like the other Grove Hill boys, he desires to exert a Valentino influence over the fair sex. His silence has won many friends for him, and if you don't believe he has a sense of humor ask him to imitate a certain nasal-voiced member of the faculty. He will surely succeed.

EUCLID BORLAND GILL, A Ω A

NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA

B.S., Tulane.

"The shrimp that's a little crab" started his career at Tulane in the fall of '16, and a very successful one it has been. Although some of us have accused him of following "the path of least resistance," the fact that he has been elected a member of Alpha Omega Alpha indicates otherwise. We feel certain that from now on he need fear no one when he desires to read the newspaper. Possessing a high type of intelligence, and with the knowledge he has stored, we predict a very successful career for him.

P. MERRITT GIRARD, N Σ N

LAFAYETTE, LOUISIANA

Georgia Tech.

Fellow of the pre-med days. His even temper and consistent endeavor have placed him high in the esteem of class and faculty. He is both serious and fun-loving, and smokes a pipe like a typical countryman. As in all other things he is moderate in the cup. There are two . . . awaiting his return home. One of them is the good town of Lafayette—perhaps you can guess the other.

WILLIAM HENDON GORDON, A K K

MARION, ALABAMA

B.S., University of Virginia.

"Once seen, never forgotten." That shining countenance has graced this institution for four years. He is a hard worker and a good mixer, and a chip of the old Bush block of '96. This chap hails from the good state of Alabama, and since he is a married man no complimentary bouquets need be thrown at his good looks. We sincerely hope that his future will be as promising as his past, and support the reputation of his father.

MRS. MARY RAYMOND GOULD, A O II, A E I

NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA

A.B., Newcomb College.

We are often asked why we study medicine. Mary has wanted to study ever since she can remember. She tried it in small doses for a year or two under the label of working towards a M.A. degree. She finally decided to take a full dose and become a freshman with us. Medicine was not enough, however, so at the end of her junior year she acquired a husband. Mary is a jolly good fellow, and liked by all.

LEONARD D. GREMILLION, K Ψ

ALEXANDRIA, LOUISIANA

A.B., St. Charles College; Loyola University.

Gremillion succeeds sometimes in looking like one of those "Stern, Silent Men." His stern profile and piercing eyes may have given rise to his nickname, "The Black Sheik." Whether it is natural or whether it is being cultivated to impress his future patients, is hard to tell. However, he fails to impress us, for we know his true friendliness and cheerfulness, and, although not susceptible to masculine wiles, admit his charm. His conscientiousness and determination will aid him in a profession where the temptation to weaken is great.

GOLDIE SUTTLE HAM, A Δ II, A E I, A Ω A

GREENVILLE, MISSISSIPPI

A.B., Agnes Scott; Stars and Bars; Class Historian, '20-21; Secretary and Treasurer, '22-23.

Goldie possesses the rare quality of being intellectual without allowing it to interfere with her good sportsmanship, for she is truly a good sport. Her wonderful personality and her thoroughness in the class room have won for her the admiration of every classmate. She has the gentleness of a woman and the ability of a man. These virtues, combined with her thorough knowledge of medicine, will assure her a great success wherever she may go.

ROBERT THEODORE HAMBRICK, Φ X, Σ Φ E, Ο Ν Ε
ROXBORO, NORTH CAROLINA

A.B., Trinity College, N. C.

"Bob" comes to us as a junior from North Carolina, a bit late in arriving, but at once finding work his constant companion, he is nearing his goal. As big in heart as in stature; knows everyone and liked by everyone. Bob brings together soul, intelligence, and a feeling for others, the combination upon which is written "Relief for those who need it" and "Future Success."

MARION DOUGLAS HARGROVE, Σ N, Φ X, Α Ω Α
NATCHITOCHE, LOUISIANA

Louisiana State University; Stars and Bars; Owls; Class President, '20-21-22-23; Vice-President Y. M. C. A., '21-22; Member of Student Council, '22-23.

A man whose lofty ideals of honesty, truth, service and diligence have brought him the highest honors of any man in the class, having reached the peaks of fame in being elected to Stars and Bars and Alpha Omega Alpha, and, in addition, having been honored by his fellow students in being elected president of the Senior Class. A man's man, a scholar and a gentleman, and of such men Tulane is justly proud.

JOHN ALEXANDER HART, X Z X
SOUR LAKE, TEXAS
University of Texas.

The subject of this sketch came to Tulane four years ago fired with a determination to learn something of the science of medicine. He is of the fittest, because he has survived, and even triumphed, in every friendly encounter during the entire four years. He numbers his friends by his acquaintances, and his record is a bright page in the history of the class. He hails from the heart of Texas whence he shall return shortly, and we believe he will immediately take his place among the leading medical men of that great state.

ROY EARL HENDERSON, X Z X
LONGVIEW, TEXAS

B.S.; Square and Compass; Honor Committee, '20-21. "Pop," as he is familiarly known, is another one of the noble band who hails from the Lone Star state. Since the days of Camp Martin this big Texan has gone his way with his ever-ready smile and hearty hand shake, creating a sense of warmth and good fellowship wherever he chanced to be. Those who have been lucky enough to be closely associated with Roy are, indeed, fortunate. To his friends intensely loyal, and possessing gentleness, and real strength of character, he is a friend worth while. As he travels along the paths not yet attempted, practicing the ideals and doctrines of Hippocrates, our best wishes go with him.

J. SHIRLEY HODGES, Δ K E, Ν Σ Ν
DENTON, TEXAS

University of Texas; Owls.

"Schizo," is the best known exponent of the many virtues of the noble state of Texas, and particularly of Big D on Hickory Creek. Arriving in the fall of 1920, he has continued with us over many rugged spots of our student career, always doubting, always looking for the hidden causes, he will undoubtedly reach high in the realm of his profession. Equally high, he has already reached in the heart of a certain young lady, if the length of telephone calls is any criterion. Luck to you, "Schizo," and may your future patients be as numerous as your present friends.

JOSEPH ROBERT HORN, Σ N, Φ X
LUVERNE, ALABAMA
University of Alabama.

Joe, an Alabamian, through and through, is always ready to expound the wonders of his state. Early in his medical career, he took unto himself a bride, and since then has been studying like the deuce—we wonder if Mrs. Horn has held the watch on him. We doubt if Alabama could be quite as wonderful as Joe has pictured it, but we know Alabama will have a splendid doctor when he gets back.

MRS. EDNA HUCKABY, A O A
NATCHITOCHES, LOUISIANA

A.B., Louisiana State University; Stars and Bars; Secretary and Treasurer Class, '20-21.

Diligent application always brings its reward, and so it has, as Mrs. Huckaby has all the honors possible. A good student, not bashful about getting additional information from the professors, and, although she has her favorites, she is always ready to lend a helping hand and be a good friend to everyone.

MARCUS CREW HUNT, A K K
RIVERVIEW, ALABAMA

Auburn; Square and Compass.

Crew is one of the most persistent workers we have in both love and medicine. He attends to his own affairs and envies no man his good fortune. Possessing the traits of honesty, character and determination, we predict great success for him in the future.

GUY EDMOND KNOLLE, Δ T Δ, A K K
BRENHAM, TEXAS

Texas A. M.; Owls.

The latest of a long line of "Knolles" who have graduated from Tulane in medicine. His four years here have been characterized by steady work and steady progress and there is no reason why his efforts should not be crowned with success. His father will have some one to make those long calls for him in the "zero hour"—but why refuse to make a night call when one can so soon reap the benefits of a very desirable partnership. Also, hurry, Guy, and send Tulane some more "Knolles."

MORRIS STERLING LEDOUX, Φ B Π, A O A
INDIAN BAYOU, LOUISIANA

B.S., Tulane; Owls; Honor Committee, '21-22; Stars and Bars.

A son of Louisiana and a noble example of her manhood. During his pre-med days he not only led his class, but he excelled in K. P. duty at Camp Marion. Never did Tulane boast of student with a better record, a higher sense of honor and justice, and a more perfect endowment of manhood. His worth and ability have been proven by the honors conferred upon him. His future success is certain.

CLYDE JAMES LEWIS, Δ T Δ, A K K
AMORY, MISSISSIPPI

University of Mississippi.

"Dub," like all other good "Ole Miss" boys, came to the greatest medical school in the South to take his last two years in preparing for his advent into the practice of medicine. He has made a score of friends during his time in Tulane, and, unquestionably, success is his. We predict his specialty in psychiatry because he is interested and adept in that line.

ASHFORD HUNTER LITTLE, Σ X, N Σ N
WESSON, MISSISSIPPI

B.S., University of Mississippi.

During his four years' stay at "Ole Miss" his personal appearance and professional air won him the name of "Doc," which he justly deserves. He is a good student, but a better fellow, numbering his friends by those who know him. This we know will win him much success and renown in the medical world, and we hope will change his name from "Doc" to "Doctor."

JAMES NICHOLAS LOCKARD, Σ X, Ν Σ Ν
OCEAN SPRINGS, MISSISSIPPI

B.S., University of Mississippi.

Five years at "Ole Miss" has given Jimmy many ups and downs with the ladies, those at the University of Mississippi in particular. Coming to Tulane for his junior and senior years, Jimmy has cast aside "the bundles of rags and banks of hair" and has plunged deeply into the science of medicine. With his ability to make friends and his jovial disposition his success is inevitable.

FRANK LEA LORIA, Α Ω Α
NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA

B.S.; Square and Compass; Stars and Bars.

Loria has a most enviable record at Tulane, having attained membership in both Stars and Bars, and Α. Ο. Α., our only honorary fraternities. That he has good judgment, we know by observing his social activities. That he possesses the necessary knowledge, we know by the class record he has. Therefore, we predict that suffering humanity in him will find a great benefactor—Quacks and Chiropractors, where he chooses to render his services, beware.

CECIL OLIVER LORIO, Α Κ Κ
LAKELAND, LOUISIANA

B.S.; Stars and Bars; Vice-President Class, '20-21.

This jovial, noisy, happy-go-lucky Frenchman, with his Marcelle wave and friendly smile, has endeared himself to all who know him. Lorio has been fortunate in that his affairs d'amour have been limited and concentrated on one fair damsel from Mississippi. A perfect lover, a friend to all, and a man in the true sense of the word are his characteristics. He is such a deserving student of medical science that he has been rewarded with the honorary scholarship of "Stars and Bars." He is an amazing "Specialist."

TRAVIS PRATT MCGAHEY, Χ Ζ Χ
OAKVALE, MISSISSIPPI

B.S., University of Mississippi; Glee Club; Tulane Quartet.

Two years ago a little giant in personality and intellect "exploded" from the University of Mississippi, known to his fellow students as "Mac," and to the ladies as the "little man with the winning ways." Mac is incessantly full of "pep," always ready to share his part in everything. His qualities are innumerable, hence his friends by the score. His qualifications for a position are according to Hoyle, and he will do honor to old Tulane.

EDWARD HAROLD MAURER
NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA
Loyola University.

"Handsome Harold" is almost everything a man admires. We don't know how he stands with the alleged fair sex, but at least one of its number has exclaimed, "He's so handsome, but oh! what a butcher!" which after all is rather noncommittal. Ed is frank, even to the point of brutality sometimes, but we like him in spite of this. Speaking of faults, generosity is one of his greatest. His friends are fortunate in being so termed, and the community in which he locates will be fortunate in the acquisition of such a one to treat the ills of its members.

Z. LEWIS MERRITT, Κ Ψ
BOLTON, NORTH CAROLINA

A.B., Trinity College; University of N. C.

"Shorty" came to join us at the commencement of our junior year, and he is an acquisition of whom we are proud. He is quiet, and performs many acts of kindness in his quiet, unassuming way. His cheerful greeting and sunny disposition have done much to give him an eminent position in the esteem of his classmates. Rumor has it that he has a girl who watches his progress from afar.

KENNETH ALEXANDER MORRIS, N Σ N, A Ω A
JACKSONVILLE, FLORIDA

Litt.B., Princeton University; Owls; Stars and Bars; Editor-in-Chief Medical Section of Jambalaya, '22-23. "The longer you know him the better you like him," men say; "To know him is to love him," women say (it's been rumored). His eyes twinkle and his upper lip is long. Furthermore, ye Medical Editor of Ye Jambalaya, can do things besides medicine—well. Honesty of purpose, good nature, industry and scholarship—invaluable in the practice of medicine—are characteristic of the man.

L. J. NEAL, X Z X
SHAWNEE, OKLAHOMA
B.S.

Endowed with the God-gifted power of reasoning, he slowly but surely will make a name in time to come, immortal in the medical world. Married, quiet and persistent, never saying unless knowing, for he knows of what he speaks. Neal joined us in the junior year, having taken his preliminary work in the Indian territory state. Oklahoma should be proud to have such a son, and we wish him God-speed.

JULIAN GARY PALMER, A T Ω, Φ X
OPELIKA, ALABAMA

University of Virginia and Auburn; Owls; Assistant Editor Jambalaya, '21-22; Assistant Art Editor, '20-21-22; Art Editor, Medical Section, '22-23.

Auburn sent him to us and we are proud to stamp our approval. With his pleasing personality, adaptability, modesty, scholastic ability and high character he will make a man of whom the medical profession will be proud. Being one of the Beau Brummels of the class, fair Newcomb will bemoan her loss. One of our best examples of a gentleman and a scholar, we predict the greatest success for this blue-blooded Alabamian.

CLAUDE VICTOR PERRIER, K Ψ
NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA

A.B., Loyola University; Class Treasurer, '21-22. Vic has been variously termed the perfect lover, the answer to a maiden's prayer. Some call him "The Sheik," others, "Lothario." His activities along certain lines make these applications not entirely unmerited. He is one of the most popular of our number. His friendly manner, upright principals and sterling character make all who know him like and admire him. His friendships are acquired through the above qualities, and with these to guide him, his career will be a brilliant and successful one.

LEE TINKLE FRUIT, Φ X
JACKSONVILLE, TEXAS

A.B., Baylor University.

Tinkle entered the Junior Class and made solid all around in no time. He has an amicable disposition, a rather peculiar sense of humor, and such a tendency towards blondes that he also prefers Marechal Niel roses and yellow taxis. He believes in his own opinions, and has a determination to back them that usually gets him what he starts after and will make him hard to stop in his profession.

KHYLLIS CHEEO REESE, Δ Σ Φ, K Ψ
OAKLAND, CALIFORNIA
University of California.

Hail the Greek from California, Khyllis Cheeo Reese. Had it not been for Reese, the present Senior Class would certainly have not learned much about the California climate of which he loves to speak. Khyllis is a man of many loves—he dearly loves to talk, to harangue the students, to speak to the professors to chat with the instructors, and to converse with members of the other sex. Continuing at the present gait, he will probably become a professor at some large medical school.

MATTHEU JAMES RIVENBARK, X Z X

WAKE FOREST, NORTH CAROLINA

A.B., Wake Forest College.

"Jimmie" is another product of the old North State. He has had many predecessors at Tulane, and we believe he lived up to their precedent. He has made great strides of progress during the last two years. He can adjust the spine, find malaria bugs, and do threshold percussion with equal facility. After his two years at Charity and three at the Mayo's, he will go back to North Carolina and settle down.

COUNCILL COURTLAND RUDOLPH, K A, N Σ N

JACKSONVILLE, FLORIDA

B.S., V. M. I.; Owls; Historian Class '22-23.

The "Count," formerly a V. M. I. cadet, but now, with his winning smile and irrepressible good humor, a captain among the Debs, leaves Tulane with a scholastic record anyone should be proud of. The "smile" is so characteristic of the man that we need mention it again, and which, along with his frankness, courtesy and good judgment, will play no small part in the successful practice of medicine, which we feel sure will result from his endeavors.

MARIANO SALIZAR

SAN JOSE, COSTA RICA

B.A., Tulane University.

Mariano is a quiet, unassuming, hard working chap, who, in a strange land, has overcome the handicap of language and customs. He is popular with the ladies because of his temperament. His perseverance has won for him the esteem of the faculty. Tulane would welcome more students of this calibre from Costa Rica.

SCARDACCIONE

NEW YORK CITY

B.S., Columbia University.

"Scar" came to us during the latter part of the sophomore year from the far eastern school of Columbia. He has made a berth for himself in the class and the school, and whereas he is slow and easy going, he usually manages to reach his destination. With his knowledge of Einstein's theory, to say nothing of medicine, he is marked to take his place among the noted men of science.

WILLIAM MASTIN SCOTT, Σ N, Φ X

MOBILE, ALABAMA

Alabama University; Pan-Hellenic; Owls.

Scott came here a sophomore, hot from Alabama, and showed right off he had come to stay. Both handsome and intellectual, his only care is to keep out of trouble, but if enough friends are not too many we can easily see for him a path of roses along life's way—if they don't happen to be orange blossoms—then we hope for the best. Serious in his work, true to his neighbor, honest with himself, and that's enough for any man.

JOE F. SHUFFIELD, A K K

NASHVILLE, ARKANSAS

Class President, '21-22; Honor Committee, '20-21-22-23.

Joe is one of the most popular men we have. To know him is to like him. The respect and esteem of the students and faculty alike is the reward of his services to the class. Joe is happily married, and, with an M.D. from Tulane, success is only a matter of time.

JOSEPH SICOMA

NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA

Tulane; Stars and Bars.

This poet hails from Sicily's sunny shores. Instead of the usual long locks of the poet, Joe takes his out in sideburns. After instructing uptown for two years, Joe decided to get his M.D., and therewith joined our class. His intellectual ability is evidenced by his making Stars and Bars. With his extensive knowledge of Anatomy he should go far in the fields of Surgery.

TOM SIMS, A K K

ALBERTVILLE, ALABAMA

Ph.G., Auburn.

In Tom we believe Alabama has sent us her best; convinced that still waters run deep, being very rarely seen or heard, but found conscientiously performing every task assigned him. Being popular and an earnest worker, his success as a doctor is assured.

CLARENCE T. SMITH, K Σ, Φ A Σ

NACOGDOCHES, TEXAS

S.W. University, Georgetown, Texas; Owls.

Another good man from Texas—"Doc" has been with us four years, and during that time, all who have met him have been his friends. In spite of being handicapped by living with LeDoux and Palmer for the past two years, he still has a good record in every way. Generous even to a fault, a true friend and a loyal student, qualities which insure him success in any branch of medicine.

THOMAS LUTHER SMITH, Φ X

BIRMINGHAM, ALABAMA

B.S., Alabama; Square and Compass.

Smith has been a quiet and considerate chap from the first day he joined us. It has been his policy to follow instructions to the very point without ever questioning. With constant, steady work and this "do as you are told" policy, he has become a well-liked fellow. We feel sure that, with this attractive and likable personality, T. L.'s success is assured and Alabama will possess another valuable asset.

A. STERNBACH

NEW YORK, N. Y.

New York University.

"Stern" hails from Hicktown on the Hudson, and is imbued, in common with all other inhabitants of that village, with the idea that the civilized world ends at the city limits. He is ambitious and has three aims in life: to outshine Fritz Kreisler; to do more work than anybody else in class, and to weigh as much as Jim Alison. We wish him luck.

WILLIAM DOWNING STICKLEY, K Σ, Φ X

STEPHENS CITY, VIRGINIA

A.B., Roanoke College; Owls; Olive and Blue.

A gentleman from Virginia suh!—and one of whom that state should be justly proud because he has all the attributes of a gentleman. "Stick" is another of the four-year Tulane men, and during his stay with us, we have all grown to admire and respect him for his manliness, diligence in his studies, magnetic personality, gallantry and charm. His sterling traits of character and his gentleness of manner stamp him as a future leader in his profession.

GEORGE HERBUT SUMNER, K Ψ
FRANKLINVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA

University of North Carolina.

"Dup" embarked upon his sojourn to the medical "Mecca of the South" in 1921. Since his arrival he has proven himself one of the faithful. Determination to succeed seems to be one of his marked traits. His unfailing good nature has made him quite popular with his fellow-students. He seems to lean towards surgery, and in this field we expect to hear great things of him some day.

FELIX M. TANKERSLEY, K A, Φ X
HOPE HULL, ALABAMA

A.B., Alabama University; Owls; Olive and Blue.

Some day Alabama will be as proud of Felix as he is of his state today. For four years his unfailing determination to reach the top has won the respect and admiration of every classmate. He is a man of high ideals, unselfish ambitions, pleasing personality, a scholar and a gentleman. We expect to hear of him in the future as a man high in his profession, and doing great work to alleviate human suffering.

CARL B. TITTLE, Φ X
MT. VERNON, TEXAS

B.S., Texas Christian University.

"By his gait ye shall know him." It isn't ataxic, neither is it spastic. It isn't included in Dr. Cazana-vette's classification at all. Carl B. Tittle entered our class as a junior and was immediately administered the milk of human kindness Tulane accords transfers. It wasn't long before his scholarship and ability became evident to all. His wit, and all the other qualities that have been enumerated in these little sketches—fore and aft—make us wish that four years had been spent in Tulane instead of two.

CURTIS HARTMAN TYRONE, X Z X
PRENTISS, MISSISSIPPI

Mississippi College.

Tyrone joined the class in the fall of 1921. During his two years at Tulane he has made an enviable record and now enjoys the distinction of being recognized as one of the most promising men in the class. At present he is employed as resident pathologist at Hotel Dieu, which position he fills in addition to keeping up with his regular school work. We are not informed as to his intentions after graduation, but we predict a bright future for him.

JAMES MARVIN WASHAM, Φ X
SYLACAUGA, ALABAMA

B.S., University of Alabama; Square and Compass.

Our tall and handsome classmate is one of those individuals we are always proud and glad to know. Since he joined us we have had the addition of a steady and faithful worker with unswerving perseverance; the latter quality for which he must be congratulated. He brings to mind that little saying of "still waters run deep," for he says little, but hears much, and only divulges his knowledge at the proper time and place. His native Sylacauga will be proud of him, fortunate to possess one of his type, and satisfied with his consultations.

FRANK K. WILLIAMS, Φ X
TOWNLEY, ALABAMA

B.S., University of Alabama.

"Big" Williams joined us in the sophomore year, having had his freshman year at the University of Illinois. During his stay here he has been a dependable and steady worker. Though most of his time has been spent in the study of medicine, he has delved somewhat into the mysteries of Mosaic Law. In Williams we find a man who is big physically, mentally and morally, and we predict that he will attain high honors in his profession.

Ye Senior Diary

SEPTEMBER 23d. Didst return after many wanderings in ye land of ye Pharisees to ye scene of former activities and soon hath been introduced into ye presence of all high one, Dr. Bass, whom ye shiftless students otherwise knoweth as "Malaria." From thence didst repair to ye Comptroller of Currency where ye contents of ye pockets art skillfully evacuated. After attending to ye other perfunctory duties of ye pre-educational requirements and registering much disgust therewithal, didst meet with several merry fellows of former acquaintance and journeyeth forth into ye bright lights of ye city. Finding ye Grunewald still firmly fixed to ye ancient foundation, didst repair to several former taverns of good cheer where much merriment doth reign.

September 24th. Waketh with few memories, but many resolutions for ye future.

Taketh my way to ye ancient temple of learning where many rumors pervadeth ye atmosphere.

Heareth with great disappointment of ye absence of ye great Chief and ye former mentor, Halsey, from association with whom ye disciple of knowledge gaineth much and repayeth with ye greatest respect and appreciation. Findeth ye chair of ye great man ably filled, but am sorrowed that ye great cardiac stimulant will no longer be ye sheet anchor in ye therapeutic quizz.

September 27th. Early to ye wards where it seemeth like yesterday that ye student hearth ye sarcasm of one Lemann over ye total ignorance of ye conditions which confineth ye Ethiopian recumbent on his couch.

One Bel soon wakeneth him from his dreams of yesteryear and teacheth him much concerning ye non-protein nitrogen, urea nitrogen and ye other blood chemistry findings, 'til ye brain whirl-eth. Truly ye patience and sympathy of ye head of ye Department of Medicine doth refresh and stimulate ye poor student.

September 30th. Learneth much of ye skin lesion, though ye shirt stud of ye professor daz- zleth ye student 'til he no longer regardeth ye eruption.

November 3d. Chàngeth sections and with ye section ye sex of ye patient.

Heareth for ye first time of ye threshold percussion. Truly, alas, doth it seem that ye addled student must be musician as well as artist and scientist. Heareth also of ye fibrillating cerebrum and am much impressed thereby.

December 6. Early to 8:30 tea under chaperonage of ye crimson-topped mentor of pediatrics where ye young physician learneth much of ye aseptic technique of withdrawal of ye lacteal secretion of ye cow and meeteth with many undignified accidents with ye patients of ye early age.

December 7th. Learneth with much joy of ye return of ye great Doctor Matas and imbibeth much knowledge under his tutelage.

January 31st. Listeneth with interest to ye latest ideas concerning ye fractures and becometh both carpenter and plasterer to repair ye broken femur.

April 11th. Early to ye nose and throat clinic where much knowledge concerning ye deviated septum is imbibed. Also doth ye disciple laugh heartily at ye most excellent jokes of ye able head of department.

April 15th. Truly impressed with ye brainy discussion of refraction though, alas, little doth sink into ye head of ye poor dumbell.

April 17th. Up at ye early hour to observe ye forceps delivery. Truly ye infant should be more considerate of ye hard life of ye tired student.

May 30th. Ye poor medic doth suffer ye tortures of ye damned. Ye night oil burneth and ye coffee magnates doth acquite fortunes. Alas, remorse doth assail ye benighted student as he thinketh of ye lectures spent in slumber and ye idle hours spent in merriment.

June 2d. Ye seniors doth assemble from afar to meet in ye ancient rendezvous where pre- sideth in glad raiment "Dr." Belfield, in whose hands for ye time being resideth ye fate of ye class. Methinketh, indeed, there abideth much merriment at such a time, but soon learneth ye reason therefor.

June 8th. Ye Class of 1923 disperseth to all parts of ye globe to begin ye task of emblazoning its numerals upon ye rolls of medical history.

HISTORIAN.

What Would You Do If You Ran the Medical School: Standardize "history taking," classification of cases, the use of digitalis, and the limits of Psychiatry. Put elevators in Hutchinson, a trolley between Hutchinson and Charity, soft cushions on the upper three rows of the amphitheater, and start classes at 9:30 a. m. Give Dr. Halsey eight drachms of digitalis; Dr. Simons 1,000 pills of ipecac; Dr. DuBuys a red mark; and apply the Binet-Simon test to Dr. Van Wart.
Do You Drink? Yes—45. No—22. Eleven were doubtful.
Do You Chew Tobacco? No—50. Yes—16. Twelve were doubtful.
Why Is 1923 the Greatest Class in the Medical School? Because quizzes have made us that way; the "Profs" can pronounce nearly all the names; more men who know how to make a good impression with little work; we lived through Psychiatry and—look at the others.
In What Line Do You Expect to Specialize? Doubtful, 16; Surgery, 11; O. B. and Gyn, 9; Medicine, 9; Gyn, 6; Ped, 3; Nose and Throat, 2; G. U., 2; None, 2; Psychiatry, 1.
Where Do You Expect to Intern? Charity, 30; Doubtful, 16; Touro, 7; T. C. I., 6; Dallas, Texas, 2; Cook County Hospital, 2; I. C., 1.
Have You a Degree? Yes—40. No—22. 16—?

"Day by Day"

A TRAGEDY IN ONE ACT

SCENE I

Place: Ward 43, Charity Hospital. Time: 8 a. m. (Morpheus reigns, as evidenced by variegated snores, emitted by colored female denizens).

8:15 a. m. Enter Miss Barrett. (Takes chart from wall and wakes patient).

8:30 a. m. Enter Goldie, Mary, Julian, Scott and Cook.

9 a. m. Enter Pruitt followed by Title, rubbing his eyes.

9:30 a. m. Enter Rudolph, Frizzell, Hodges and Morris.

Hodges: "Where's Dr. Guthrie? I have four cases to be checked."

9:45 a. m. Enter Washam, one elevator ahead of Dr. Guthrie.

(There is a mad rush to be checked. Miss Barrett wins by a nose.)

(Curtain)

SCENE II

Place: Miles' Amphitheater. Time: 11 a. m.

(Scene opens with Mrs. Huckaby, Sternback, Salazar and Juniors occupying the front row. Seniors arrive, climbing over Scar Tissue and P. G.'s)

Enter Horn, Stickley and Evans, passing Williams, seated on end. (Each slaps the back of his neck).

Williams (in broad Alabama brogue): "What the h—l you birds think this is?" (Throws lighted cigar at Stickley, which lands in Carter's hair).

Carter: "Who in ——— (Thundering crash from above. All eyes turned in time to see Jim Alison falling down steps.)

Palmer: "Oh meee-e!" (P. G. on second row gets excited and swallows toothpick. Uproar finally ceases. Goldie resumes letter writing).

Scott (to Lorio on right): "Tippity Witchet, me eye!"

Lorio: "How about Sea Mint?"

Enter Dr. Matas. (Momentary respectful silence broken by loud applause. (The Chief is back from Europe).

(Curtain)

SCENE III

Time: 3 p. m. Place: Chamber of Inquisition—Snappy quiz conducted by Dr. Bass.

3:02 p. m. Dr. Bass: "Well, now, Mr. Knolle, have you obtained any further data on your question?"

Knolle: "I have a monograph from the surgeon-general's library written in Latin, but I haven't heard from the Swedish bureau of research, Tice, Nelson or the Siamese set of scientific statistics."

Dr. Bass: "Mr. Blackshear, will you please read the history."

Blackshear (to himself): "Pretty soft." (Aloud): Name: Catcha Stein. Age: 23. White, male. Nationality: Denies it. Address: Pirat's Alley. Complaint: "Thirst." Past history: Genu Valgum, Furunculosis when child. Present illness: Began at age 17 while student at prep. school. No relief obtained by drinking an unknown quantity of water. Roommate suggested a bottle of beer. This relieved thirst for two days, but it came back in more severe form, requiring two bottles. He states that this kept up until several bottles daily had no effect, but gastric symptoms developed, so he started complementary treatment of Manhattan cocktails, taking one as often as indicated. This soon lost its effect, and dry Martinis, slow gin rickys, and finally all brands of straight whiskey were added. For two years some relief was obtained. He suffered from intermittent attacks during the remainder of his academic years. In 1919, he entered Tulane Medical School. During this year his attacks again became frequent and have increased in frequency every year since and, except for rare elapses of two weeks when finances won't permit, he now has at least one attack a week, usually Saturday night or following an examination. The last attack was Mardi Gras—a very severe one which required three days of steady drinking to relieve. Since then he has been fairly free from symptoms, but thinks he is now in a pre-thirst state and is likely to have an acute flare-up any Saturday night.

"Physical Exam: Head: Exceedingly large and nearly normal in shape, and covered by hair which is supposed to be parted in the middle. Eyes: Pupils dilated Saturday nights, react to accommodation and sometimes to light. Nose: Typical. Abdomen: Liver: Palpable four fingers below costal margin. Extremities: Knee Jerks: All during sleep. Lab. Erythrocytes by the millions. Leucocytes:

"Diagnosis (Abram's method): Post-examinationitis and chronic Saturday nightitis."

Basinger: "Aneur — A-n-e-u-r — Aneur — Aneur—"

3:30 p. m. Dr. Bass: "Mr. Carter, do you think 8002 is a hyperleucocytosis?"

Carter: "Yes, Doctor."

Dr. Bass: "Where did you find that, Mr. Carter?"

Carter: "In your book, Doctor."

Dr. Bass: "Well, I know my book has some errors, but—Mr. Tankersley, what do you think about that?"

Tankersley (with a start): "Huh!—I mean 'yes, sir.' What was the question, Doctor?"

Dr. Bass (piercing glance in direction of Mr. Tankersley. Writes in little book for ten minutes): "Mr. Hambrick, what do you think about that?"

Hambrick: "Well, Doctor, I don't believe—
Simons says that 8002 is not a hyperleucocytosis."

Dr. Bass: "Did you read that after you received the history?"

Bell rings.

(Curtain)

SCENE IV

Place: Hutchinson Memorial Amphitheatre. Time: 4:30 P. M. (Class Meeting.)

HARGROVE: "This meeting is called to set a date for the surgery exam. Are there any suggestions?"

VOICES: "Monday! Saturday, three weeks! Tuesday! Wednesday week! Sunday morning! Saturday night!"

HART (rising): "Mr. President, I move that the date for the senior dance be set for June 3, 1923."
(Loud guffaws.)

HARGROVE (raps table): "One at a time, please."

LORIA (rising): "Whereas, in order that, as a matter of fact, however, on account of, notwithstanding, it certainly is, as a matter of course, upon which the subject is nevertheless based, brought me finally, therefore, after much mental labor, by many complicated conjunctions, to a definite conclusion, which you might call, to be sure, a fixed idea. Wherefore, I thank you, however."

HARGROVE: "Gentlemen, that settles the question. The exam will be Saturday week."

(Curtain)

I.

One-half of three score years ago
Dr. Rudolph Matas sat,
With hypo needle beneath his hat,
At the ghostly hour, when lights are low.
Few men knew why he did this,
But he did prepare,
And he did ensnare
Filaria sanguinis hominis.

II.

As the midnight hours approach near,
In a later day and later year,
There slips into Dr. Guthrie's ward,
With oily motion of sliding lard
Preparing to do the self same stunt,
The embryo doctor Marcus Crew Hunt.
Armed with his stop watch and needle, too,
Here in the darkness, sits Marcus Crew,
A sly little devil, yet he did miss,
Filaria sanguinis hominis.

Junior Medical Class History

FAIN would I call upon the Muses and make sacrifices unto the gods to endow me with the efficient fluency to pen the eulogies of the Class of '24. But of what use, for even the great Herodotus or Livy could hardly do justice to our worth or merit; and so, like Burns, "If my Muse, though homely in attire, may touch the heart," I will feel that I have not labored in vain in chronicling the annals of '24.

It would hardly be possible for me to tell this History without first going back to our beginning as freshmen three years ago. We started out one hundred and ten strong, and, true to Dr. Hardesty's prediction, at the end of our first year only eighty were left, and had it not been for a certain anatomist who, though small in stature, is mighty large in heart, the casualties would have been greater. We then entered into our next stage of development; wise sophomores bloomed forth in varied hue. How full of great things to be done, and how we did think to put a Matas, a Mayo or a Murphy in the shade. Tread lightly, gentle reader, on this part; for we are reconciled now to be just what we may. And yet the mill did grind some more. Hence our motto is "Many are called, but few are chosen."

Some may say it is the survival of the fittest, but we say it is the survival of the luckiest, for here we are in our junior year. Many strange faces were seen at the beginning of this year and they were received with a hearty welcome. With them our number has increased to ninety-six. This year we realize that medicine is, indeed, more than theory. Associated with hard work there are nevertheless many amusing happenings in the junior year. Who among us will ever forget Frank's little experience—"Thank you, Doctor?" We could relate many more, but space prevents. However, if luck is with us and we succeed in reaching that great historical day in June, 1924, we will, no matter how far from civilization, recall with pleasure—"See-See," "Thirty pounds per body weight," "You're all wrong, all wrong," "You owe me an hour," "Five per cent. for declaring a holiday," "I've been associated with the faculty," "Now, gentlemen, we were discussing the last time."

Or "Even Gray Cats Look Black in the Dark"

There was once a good SHEPARD who lived near a HARBOUR on the river JORDAN, whose daughter, SEBASTIAN, was desperately in love with a YOUNG man whose name was RICHARD McNAIR.

McNAIR, formerly the village blacksmith, should have been AZAR on account of his AYERS, but was now a COLEMAN on the good ship, PARADES. He was not WIRTH much, but he had a little MAUNEY which he got from COHEN on his CAR, "a MITCHAEEL."

As WINTERS icy grasp loosened and the BRUMFIELDS and sweet WILLIAMS blossomed, he TUCKER with him to the PARSONS. As the BEALLS were pealing they were joined midst spring FLOWERS, the HARPER playing the wedding march (reTARDO).

The brides HEAD was adorned charmingly in a BROWN HOOD.

The groom did then GRABER and EGDORF on their honeymoon to LOMBARDY by way of DONALDSONVILLE and BISCOE bay.

He proved to be a FERRO daddy, for one morning he ROSEN was told that there was a NEWBURN. This filled the old boy with joy, for this little SHAVER was RICHARDSON.

Ere many years had passed, the little boy was kidnapped by FUNG (the pirate) who thought his secret safe, but BIENVENU and told Mrs. JONES who told Miss KASITIZA who told Miss ROBERTSON who then told SLADCYK the great Sherlock HOLMES of WERKSHEISER, who swore he WOOD find her.

A long and tedious search was started, from coast to coast, from Rome's CAMPAGNA to the land of the MOERS, yea even to the heights of Mt. WILSON.

Sherlock with SNELLING his CHAMBERLAIN, together with DARRINGTON the TAYLOR, TUMBLESON the MASON, and RIKE the GLAZER formed the posse which was making this untiring search.

Declaring a HOLIDAY, after a swim in the POOL as clear as GLASS 'neath the shady BOWERS, the party entered JENSENS to dine on CULPEPPER sauce and DUFFY pudding. Then lo and behold! there sat the villian smoking a CAMPBELL cigarette.

Sherlock did PEARCE him with his eagle eye and demanded the child. Whereupon, FUNG cried out, "I can tell you nothing of the child, but DUNCAN," who didn't.

They then consulted SHUFORD the POLMER who said the child was hidden in LOUNT and FELDNER's dry goods store.

There they found the little child surrounded by a gang of cut-throats: STOOKEY, RATTNER, Kid REYNOLDS, Happy HOULAHAN, Ike NELKIN, Pug MCGARY, Battling LAWSON and Fidgety CLARK.

They recovered the child who said he would ROSSER go home than anywhere else he knew. So, after spending many RUBLES they returned the child safely home.

Loud cheers from the populace were heard as the once more united family received the blessings from good old Father PIGFORD and prepared to live happily forever after.

Sophomore Medical Class History

The Class of 1925 has passed through the first stage in the strenuous process of becoming a medical person. Possibly it is egotism on our part, but we think that we made a very creditable showing last year—at least, until we began the study of Physiological Chemistry, the "Jonah" of the freshman "medic." This, indeed, proved a terrible stumbling block whereon many of our number tripped.

However, with the beginning of the second stage of our struggle, we found a goodly number of our band on hand eager for the fray. We regretted the loss of some of our number through transfers and other causes, but we received our share of transfers and our enrollment was only three short of last year. We have had a most successful year so far, having been the recipients of numerous bouquets from the faculty—and a few lemons. Thanks to the faculty for their constant repetition of some things which will be with us always—for example, the definition of a polyvalent serum.

Our year has been a most happy one, for it seems that at last we have begun the study of medicine. Our professors have been very nice and extremely patient with us, and we appreciate it. We realize what yet lies before us to be mastered, and we have hopes of leaving behind us this year a record of which we shall be proud.

Senior Dental Class History

HIS being the fourth and last year, I feel that each one has an individual history which should be written and it is a personal regret that there is not enough space allotted for this purpose; consequently I must mention the class as a whole.

It was just after the war, in the fall of 1919, that we registered in the Tulane University School of Dentistry, some of us being ex-service men who had left college at the time of the declaration of war with Germany. Unlike most preceding classes, many of our members are college graduates and this fact has helped in raising the standard of our class. We remember very well that in our freshman year we had a most "glorious" struggle with the study of the gross structure of the human body and congratulate each other upon having been so successful in completing this strenuous course.

For the first year or two, our progress toward obtaining a degree was rather slow, it seemed, but now, as we gaze upon the past, it seems but yesterday that we registered as freshmen. From time to time our ranks have suffered casualties, but have been replenished by men and women transferring from other schools. There are, in our class, members from parts of the world far distant from here, and together we have struggled side by side as brothers. As historian, I wish to congratulate these classmates upon the success attained by adapting themselves to their new environments.

It scarcely seems that four years have elapsed since we entered school and it will be difficult for us to say good-bye to each other with a mere handshake for we have stood together as brothers. There will come a time when we will look back with love and fond recollections upon the trials and triumphs of our days spent in Tulane, and we will say, no doubt, that those were the most pleasant of our lives.

Graduation day approaches for many, and we hope for all of us, for we owe this great success to our loyal and worthy professors, who, through their intelligent and untiring instruction, have guided up to the goal we now approach; and may we reflect credit upon them by standing for everything that promotes the welfare of humanity and the advancement of our chosen profession.

To our Alma Mater, and to each other, we extend our true and sincere affection.

HISTORIAN.

CHARLES M. BANNISTER

NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA

Φ K Σ, Ψ Ω

Charles, the most "paged" man in the class, is also one to whom we take off our hats in recognition of his perseverance and ability to overcome obstacles. His personality and ability assure his success as a dental surgeon.

MILLARD LEE BLAND

NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA

Ψ Ω

Millard is the one member of our class who, we honestly believe, never has the blues. He enjoys life so much that we suspect him of being an optimist. The only thing that ever embarrassed him was to find his sock rolled down over his shoe while dancing with his girl. Here's luck to you, Millard, and we know you will have it.

JOHN GRANT BOURGEOIS

MORGAN CITY, LOUISIANA

Ψ Ω

Class Representative Jambalaya, '22-23.

"Sam" is a studious looking fellow, and when his name is mentioned among the fair sex, a flutter of excitement is noticed. He is very modest about being interviewed, so we can learn nothing of interest concerning his past. We are certain of his success—at least we know he will have one patient in Morgan City, won't you, Sam?

JOHN HORMAN BURTIS

DENISON, TEXAS

Ξ Ψ Φ

Vice-President Class, '22-23; Honor Committee, '21-22; Class Business Manager Jambalaya, '21-22.

"Brutas," the quiet little fellow from Texas (can you imagine anyone from Texas being quiet?—but he is, really), is another example of what the "Crescent City" will do for one. Upon leaving the ranch, he decided on a professional career, coming to Tulane—and New Orleans—the combination resulting in Brutas becoming a dentist of no small ability, and—well, we can't tell everything.

FRANCIS MICHAEL CONNELL

FARLEY, IOWA

Ξ Ψ Φ

"Mike" has been with us for two years and we all like him. He is capable, energetic and says that he is strong for Mr. Volstead. (?) He is a true friend and a good pal. May the future hold much for him.

ANITA LOUISE CROZAT

NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA

Tulane Women's Organization; Class Secretary, '19-20.

Four years ago, when our labors began, Miss Crozat was our only girl; she held this distinction for two years. Illness for her is an impossibility, and she can always be found where the work is hardest. Unselfishness is one of her most predominating qualities, and whenever we have needed a helping hand she has responded most willingly.

MIGUEL ANGEL CORREA, JR.

PORTO RICO

Ξ Ψ Φ

"Mike" is a gentleman and an all-round good fellow. He never says much, but means lots when he speaks. He insists that "where there's a will there's a way," and has almost convinced us that he is right; we hope that he is.

CLEMENT QUITMAN DURHAM

WINNFIELD, LOUISIANA

Ψ Ω

Square and Compass; A.B., La. College; Class President, '20-21; Class Representative Jambalaya, '19-20; Honor Committee, '20-21; Assistant Instructor Chemistry, '21-22-23.

"Bull," after having decided that an A.B. was not enough, came along with us in quest of a D.D.S., and he probably will be the first to find it. His every effort has been directed toward making the dental world a better place to live in, and if there were a few more of his kind it would be, no doubt. Lack of space prevents our saying anything about him, but you will hear from him in the near future.

VICTOR N. HALL

SHAMROCK, TEXAS

Square and Compass.

"Vic," the electrician, wandered into Tulane Dental School four years ago and has been wondering ever since if there was a chance for him to become "Vic the Dentist." Judging from his past, he will be there when the sheep is skinned. Honesty of purpose and action has been his record while with us, and we know there is a bright future in store for him.

EUGENE PERRIEN HOLLOMAN

NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA

Ψ Ω

Unfortunately for us, "Gene" has been with us only two years. He is a most affable sort of fellow and can do a day's work wearing smiles. Here's wishing you every success, Gene.

JAMES FRANK JOHNSTON, JR.

GALVESTON, TEXAS

Ψ Ω

Square and Compass; Class President, '18-19; Class Secretary, '19-20; Dorm. Committee, '19-20; Class Representative Jambalaya, '19-20.

Johnston, formerly the lad of yellow shirts—green tie fame, has long since discarded Texan dress for local attire, and by diligent study, has stepped into the front ranks of his class and will soon be a sure-enough, all-round dentist. If high grades count, Johnston should be famous some day, somewhere.

GEHANGIR DOSSABHOY KAPADIA

BOMBAY, INDIA

Assistant Bacteriology Laboratory, '20-21.

Gehangir, "The Sheik," knows how to use his time to the best advantage. We feel sure that India will be proud to greet him upon his return, and that the orient will have at least one good dentist.

GEORGE GERALD KAUFMAN
SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS

Kaufman is another one of those "quiet" boys from Texas, but having lived far from the influence of "BIG B," he has developed into one of those hard-working, steady fellows of whom you often hear, but seldom see, and, with the aid of his solid, firm, well fixed grasp, will be a success.

THOMAS J. KIVNEY, JR.
HARTFORD, CONNECTICUT

Ψ Ω

"Kiv," after serving two years at Georgetown, joined us as a junior. He is the type of fellow one likes to know, and he will go the limit for a friend. Prosthetics is his hobby and we expect to hear more from him along that line.

BARNEY KOGEN
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

Barney could not decide where he would receive the coveted hide of the sheep, but realizing the value of a good education, he came to Tulane, and, to our pleasant surprise, has stuck it out with us. Having spent most of his time in the "Windy City," around such well-known places as Friar's Inn, Moulin Rouge, etc., he finds our town a bit slow; anyway he is "one of the boys" and carries our best wishes for his success.

DEWEY BRYAN LANTRIP
HOULKA, MISSISSIPPI

Σ Π, Ξ Ψ Φ

Captain Varsity Basketball, '23; Captain Scrub Basketball, '20; Interfraternity Basketball, Tennis, Baseball, '21-22-23; Class Editor Jambalaya, '22; Varsity Basketball, '21-22-23; Pan-Hellenic Council '23.

Poor "Trip"! How quickly the four years have slipped by and how sad it will be—farewell, ladies; goodbye, old pals; adieu, basketball and baseball, and hello, Houlika Miss! Why not start all over, Trip? you can't leave us now! He won't. You'll see Trip's shingle hanging around New Orleans before long.

PAUL HERBERT MALONEY, JR.
NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA

Varsity Football, '19-20-21-22; Captain Football Team, '22; Basketball, '20; Baseball, '19.

Paul, sometimes called "Ferocious," is a popular and well-liked member of our class who became "fixed" early in his junior year. Being full of vim, vigor and vitality, we know that he will be as successful in his career as he has been on the gridiron.

GEORGE DEWEY McANALLY

RICHMOND, VIRGINIA

"Mac" has been with us this year only. Upon being persuaded he finally buckled down to work and is going to be a regular dentist some of these days. His genial nature and gentlemanly bearing have won for him the friendship and esteem of the entire class. Our good wishes accompany him upon his return to Old Virginia.

LOUIS ROCKWOOD MELZE

TEXARKANA, TEXAS

Σ Π, Ψ Ω

Class Business Manager Jambalaya, '20-21; Pan-Hellenic Council, '21-22.

Another case of Texas being on the map, but being so close to another well-known state, he came to us entirely civilized. Melze has always been a credit to us, and when it comes to dentistry, he is the real thing. We are solid for you, old boy, and expect great things of you.

THEO T. MOORE

NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA

Clive and Blue; Tennis, '20-21.

Theo is the Bean Brummel of our class, always grabbing the good-looking vampire patients. Possessing high ideals and being an earnest worker, he will always be found at the top—and we have heard whispers to the effect that—it's funny how lucky some fellows are.

TOMIICHI NAKAHARA

JAPAN

"Nak" insists that he is not a Chinaman, and we know that he displayed rare judgment when he chose Tulane as a soft place to land when he blew in from the Orient. Although he has been with us for only a short while, he has demonstrated his superior natural ability as a technician, and success is his in Japan.

(MRS.) MYRTLE PROCTER PLASTER

HOUSTON, TEXAS

Class Secretary, '22-23.

Having seen, dear reader, samples of the masculine inhabitants of Texas, you now behold our only member of the fair sex of the Lone Star State. She is a friend worth having, and during her two years in Tulane, she has been an influence upon all about her. We are sure that her patients will be attracted to her, just as her classmates have been.

MEYER LEWIS ROSENBAUM

MERIDIAN, MISSISSIPPI

Ξ Ψ Φ

Square and Compass; Class Historian, '19-20; Vice-President Student Body, '21-22; Honor Committee, '20-21; Class President, '22-23.

Rosey is just the kind of man one would expect to be president or general manager of something. A man of high ideals, with experience, knowledge and personality that will carry him high in the profession. Since the day he wrote that Freshman Class history, he has been recognized "Ipso Facto" as the class humorist. We predict that he will make as much noise in the profession as he does with the drum in the Shrine band.

ANGEL ROURE

PORTO RICO

Class Secretary, '21-22.

Porto Rico has, in Roure, a worthy representative. It was not easy for him to attain the high standing that he now enjoys and credit is his for his conscientious and successful efforts. He bids fair to be numbered among those of dental fame in the future.

MADISON LAFAYETTE SMITH

CHATOM, ALABAMA

Σ Π, Ψ Ω

Square and Compass; Honor Committee, '20-21.

With such an illustrious combination for a name, one would expect wonders, and truly wonderful has been the advancement of M. L. since the day he arrived fresh from Chatom, Ala., wherever that is. The natives of that fair city won't recognize the distinguished young doctor when M. L. goes home and demonstrates all the modern methods of scientific dentistry. And how proud "She" will be, too.

JAMIE THOMPSON STINSON

JONESEBORO, LOUISIANA

Ξ Ψ Φ

Square and Compass; Class Historian, '21-22-23; Assistant Bacteriology Laboratory, '21-22.

Jamie hails from North Louisiana, where they grow 'em tall and handsome, and for the four years that we have known him, he has been the same big-hearted, joking Jamie. While taking care of two or three offices and keeping a Ford in running order, he has found time for work and play. Nothing is too hard for him to attempt, and once started, success is his.

ROBERT E. L. STUART

POPLARVILLE, MISSISSIPPI

Ξ Ψ Φ

Representative Year Book, '19-20; Class Secretary, '20-21; Class President, '21-22; Honor Committee, '21-22; President Dentistry Student Body, '22-23; Vice-President Student Council, '22-23.

"Chubby" is one member of our class who is often heard, but seldom seen; however, he delivers the goods, even if he does have several sidelines. We rather expected him to star as an athlete this past year, but Chubby said that he had rather be a real live dentist, and we expect to hear of his being president of the Mississippi State Board in a year or two.

FORNO M. TALBOT

BERNICE, LOUISIANA

Φ K Σ, Ψ Ω

Square and Compass; Olive and Blue; Class President, '19-20; Class Historian, '20-21; Pan-Hellenic Council, '21-22; Honor Committee, '21-22-23; Student Activities Committee, '20-21; Interfraternity Baseball, '22; Assistant Editor Jambalaya, '22-23.

"Red," no doubt, is one of the most popular men in school. A glance at his achievements and honors proves his standing in Tulane, and we are sorry that lack of space forbids us recording herein those attained at Newcomb.

Junior Dental Class History

IN giving the history of the Class of '24, the historian would, indeed, find it a pleasure to enumerate some of the wonderful accomplishments of each and every one of his class-mates, but as my space is limited, a short history must suffice.

We entered the dental school in 1920, forty-eight strong, but by persistent attacks of the many "Ologies" and "Technics," not neglecting to mention our course in Anatomy, our number has been reduced to thirty-four. These courses were presented to us by our ever patient professors of the uptown campus. We are grateful for the opportunity to express our gratitude to these professors for the skillful manner in which they conducted their respective subjects. The class this year appreciates the facilities of the clinic where we receive training and practical work. Our class boasts of having some real exodontists. One of our number tried to improve on the modern method of extracting teeth by removing two at once. We also have another who has distinguished himself as an exodontist by extracting the wrong teeth, claiming that this is the way to get more work.

There are so many other interesting things about the class of '24 that we need not relate here, for we have another chance to appear. We are very glad to have the honor and privilege of being students of old Tulane.

Freshman Dental Class History

On September 22, 1922, the Class of '26 started on its uphill and arduous career. The goal of the first lap in this four-year climb was a pass in Anatomy. However, we realized that there were other classes than Anatomy when Prof. Meade tried to persuade us that a pig knew as much about cube root as we did about the internal anatomy of a tapeworm.

Our class is smaller than any Freshman Dental Class Tulane has had in the past two or three years. In the beginning we numbered twenty-two, but since then we have lost several of our men for various reasons. Although small, we admit that we are the best, for what we lack in quantity we make up in quality.

Our past history is necessarily brief, but as time passes the Class of '26 will grow in deeds and discoveries. In spite of discouraging events which have occurred in the various classes, we look forward to the bright future that is before us. For the sake of progress and through loyalty to our professors we expect to upset all statistics in our diligent and ceaseless search after knowledge. We feel that we are destined to make history for our University, as well as for ourselves, but it is not in the province of this historian to prophesy, so I shall let the future unfold itself as we continue on our way rejoicing that we are the Freshman Dental Class of Old Tulane.

Roentograms of the Senior Dents

Bannister doesn't get so many phone calls lately—wonder what's happened?

Boob Bland is suffering from another acute attack of "Boobitis."

"Little Nell" Bourgeois had a cinch in getting off his gold crowns—he has a large following among the midnight blondes.

Sam Bourgeois may never drop anything, but he can certainly imitate a duck.

Buddy Burtis smiles often now, thanks to Dr. Ducasse.

After hearing one of Anita's extractions, we are glad that she is to be an Orthodontist.

Mike Connell is half married—he has his consent.

Since Correa has some new teeth, he wins the ladies by merely smiling.

Bull Durham doesn't have so many dates since the parlor sofa burned last Tuesday.

Judging by the questions Hall asks, one would think that Dentistry was a branch of electrical farming.

Holloman is living at the Grunewald—in the lobby.

Johnston came back to school after Christmas determined to leave the girls alone, but they won't let him.

We have just learned that Dick Kaufman's real name is George.

Kivney doesn't like Gym dances, they're too tame.

It's too bad that Kogen can't smile any more—he has a sore ear.

How late did Lantrip stay in the clinic one Saturday, and why?

Maloney thinks his clinic card is a meal ticket—maybe that's why he's saving it.

It seems that Moore would quit flirting since he has pledged his freedom.

We would like to know just how Kapadia passed Bacteriology and Pathology.

McAnally—synonym for "Dumbell of Pathology."

We wonder how Nakahara got by the emmigration officials.

If Plaster ever passed a quiz, it must have been the day we were all absent.

Here's hoping that Roure is made Cyclops, when he returns to Porto Rico.

If Stuart would spend less time borrowing things and read Melze's quiz papers more, he might amount to something.

T. B. Taylor hasn't been disturbed by any midnight phone calls lately.

Red Talbot may have lost the popularity contest, but he's still King.

Stinson shellaced his "Lizzie" and turned it in for technique before discovering that he had wrapped the wrong package.

We are glad that Rosenbaum doesn't play a horn in the Shrine band—he might begin tooting it around school.

It is generally understood that Melze is to conduct a special course in Pathology this summer for the benefit of a few downfallen seniors.

Preacher White will feel lonesome without something to politic about.

Everyone wonders how Zelenka obtained the nice little scar on his head.

M. L. Smith is getting quite brave—he stays around when car conductors are present.

We are sorry that we are graduating.

Senior Pharmacy Class History

THEN the slowly passing days of our summer vacation came to a close and the calendar registered the 21st of September, familiar faces were again seen in the School of Pharmacy. All but three responded to the roll call. The class was honored by the addition of three new students from other schools.

It was a grand old feeling to be together once more, for when the class completed their junior work and departed for their respective homes, who would have thought that this year would find the same old classmates working side by side?

We hear that the "three" who failed to return are in schools near their homes. To these we extend our sincere wishes for a successful year and a prosperous future. When the year comes to a close, the Class of '23 will depart once more, never to return as a class again. When we say good-bye to old Tulane, it will be in "body," but not in "mind and spirit." Tulane, we owe you everything and will always respond when you call.

Junior Pharmacy Class History

IN writing a history of a class, care must be taken to avoid an excess of praise, especially if the author be a member of the class. Hence, I must confine myself to the truth, casting aside the unparalleled compliments given our class by those who are qualified to judge.

We, the Junior Pharmacy Class, have assembled from the greatest states in the Union, and also from Arkansas, to prepare ourselves in the marvelous art of pill-rolling. Well may we call it an art for it has been considered as such from the time of Tiglath-Pileser. Had a stranger come within our gates and, led on by curiosity, entered our laboratory, he would have been amazed at the wonderful work which, I might say, we were accomplishing. No doubt, from the delightful aroma which issued forth, he would have been reminded of the beautiful verse:

"There is in Nature hidden,
Far from the human eye,
The mystic cause of aromas,
'Twill never be known ere we die."

It is alluring, but far more so to the artist who can so deftly wield a pestle and spatula, and bring about such wonderful results. But to my subject again.

After becoming acquainted with each other, we organized, electing Mr. G. R. Lea as the presiding officer, thereby making him useful. For the honorable post of vice-president we elected a gentleman with the cognomen of T. B. Durham, Jr. I say gentleman, for he is such, both at large and at leisure. Finding the need of a secretary to keep the records, we imposed on J. F. Baltar that duty, because he could take notes faster than the rest of us and, as he had never been in prison, we also gave him charge of our funds. The most honorable Mr. R. B. Finlayson was given the post of class representative for the book you are reading. I think you will agree in his success when you see our pictures and finally I, poor luckless chap, was given the task of writing their histories, and not being a modern Gibbon, will leave much to your imagination.

We worked faithfully, and our professors were continually telling us to get more books as we were going too fast for them. Until Xmas holidays everything went on smoothly, but strange to say when the day came for dismissing for the vacation, only one person was there, our splendid Dr. Brown. Just like him, faithful to the last. But revived by the vacation we began hard work once more and have continued to do so faithfully the remainder of the school year.

We have many interesting characters in our class. One of us is going to be a lawyer, one a physiological chemist, one a sugar chemist, one a physician, one a soldier, and three pharmacists. I wonder how many of these will follow out his ideal. As for the rest, they say they are willing to be a secretary of state, governor, or president (if they can play golf) should duty call them to that field.

We cordially invite any young man or woman to become one of us next year when we are in our new home, and we will gladly initiate him or her into the art, so ancient, of manufacturing, preserving and dispensing drugs.

This young lawyer is as bright as his hair, but he would swap all his profound learning for a promotion from the scrub eleven to the Varsity.

EDWARD RANDOLPH CARTER

COVINGTON, KENTUCKY

Δ T Δ

Class Tug-o'-War (1, 2); Class Football (2); Class Track (2); Class Secretary (1); Class President (2); Olive and Blue; Sphinx.

Having given his youth to the affairs of state, he spends his last years in rest and retirement.

THOMAS FREEMAN COPE

NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA

Captain Class Wrestling Team (2); Tulane Wrestling Team (2).

Is undecided whether to emulate Einstein or to strive for the crown now held by "Strangler" Lewis.

Senior Class

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

GEOFFREY EVERETT CUNNINGHAM

LITTLE ROCK, ARKANSAS

Tulane Band (2, 3); Class Historian (3); Chairman

Another handsome football player, the pride of the scrub team. Should have a green jersey next year.

Senior Class

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

ROBERT CARE HILL
BELL AMY, ALABAMA

The class has never been able to find out who gave "Daddy" his grey hair. He'll make a fine doctor if he stays out of politics.

HYMAN KARNOFSKY
NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA

Has the kind of handwriting that looks well on a doctor's prescription. Intends to go in for drawing as a side line.

ROBERT EMMET KERRIGAN
HAMMOND, LOUISIANA

But we know that shoe polish puts that shine there.

LEE GARISON BIRD

NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA

Class Wrestling (1, 2); Wrestling Team (1); Engineering Society; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet (3, 4).

Skipper Bird of the Garrison Lee
Had a little trouble—his eyes wouldn't gee,
He went into dry dock a while for repair
And when he came out his sight was all there.

Engineering Society.

Erwin's only distraction is that bit of attraction
He takes to the football games,
It's not nice to talk, but then this is no bark
And we wish we were he all the same.

HAROLD LANGDON GAIDRY
HOUMA, LOUISIANA

Square and Compass; President Tulane Engineering Society; Class Vice-President (3); Y. M. C. A. Cabinet; Class Tug-o'-War (2); Class Football (2); Class Baseball, Basketball (1, 2).

He's president of the Society of Engineers,
That bunch of guys who are so queer.

EDMUND GIRAULT
MEXICO CITY, MEXICO

Engineering Society.
He's the 'an of the 'ic and 'an,
And above all, he's a movie fan.

MANUEL GIRAULT
MEXICO CITY, MEXICO

Treasurer Engineering Society.

There's a certain word of Mexican tang,
That makes him try to lick the whole gang.

CALVIN CLARENCE GLASS
NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA

Class Football (1); Class Track (2); Scrub Football (2); Class Historian (1, 2); Varsity Track (2).
Our friend, Bud Glass, the ladies' man,
From his picture you'd think he was an old tin can;
But he runs the Green Lizard and Bud's Place, too,
You must admit he's a tom cat, too.

LOUIS KAUFMAN GOOD

Tulane Engineering Society; Pan-Hellenic Council.

Here's Louie who always stands the gaff
And takes it good naturedly with a laff.
The C. E.'s would not know what to do
If he left school before he's through.

DANIEL HALLARON, JR.
NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA

Engineering Society.

There's Dumb Dan before us now,
He and "Red" can surely raise a row;
He's a man of literary fame,
But an Engineer "When the woods came to Dunsinane."

REUBEN LOUIS HOCK
GRETN, LOUISIANA

Class Tug-o'-War (2); Class Wrestling (2); Secretary-Treasurer Student Body (4); Engineering Society.

Catches the ferry every morn.

WALTER HOLLOWAY
OCEAN SPRINGS, MISSISSIPPI

Engineering Society.

In the case of Springs, we'll leave it to you,
As to what in the world he'll ever do.
He's travelled a half a million miles
And all he can show for it is a great big smile.

CARY JEFFRES
NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA

Engineering Society.

Class interlocutor—his great fame,
Has put father Meade to shame.

CLAUDE JOHN KELLY
NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA

Engineering Society.

Lightnin' Red from the eighth ward,
Politics is his one strong card.

JAMES LAWSON KEMPER
NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA

Fourth Hearing Of Moses Murder Case Ends In Mistrial—Will Be Tried Fifth Time At Next Term

Moses, charged with murder, was tried today in criminal court for the third time. Judge Timm, who has heard a great deal of his life for the alleged shooting of John Guiley in a Wall Street restaurant. Two years ago he was tried on a charge of murder, the jury was discharged, it was shown to the jury that the evidence was not sufficient to convict. He was again tried before the criminal court and on the third day of the trial the jury again acquitted. Yesterday the jury was out but after an hour and more in with a mistrial report, the jury went to the judge's chamber. That he will come before the criminal court on charge of murder was made known shortly after the trial yesterday. Moses, was present at the trial with his mother, never leaving her side for a moment. A general acquiescence of innocent spectators was seen during the trial which went on for two days. The Moses trial is notorious because it has put the entire court in a lull. The next trial, appears to be on the first floor, which will be the fifth time that court has held the testimony on which the acquittal was reached the day before. A charge of second degree murder.

Madden to Get Two Years More on Friar Rock

New York, Oct. 23.—J. H. Madden, joint owner of Friar Rock, one of many fast race horses, arrived today on the suggestion of Supreme Court Justice Thompson, who was trying Madden's suit for an accounting and dissolution of partnership, to continue their joint ownership. Madden, a veteran de-luder after having suffered by both sides that Madden had been damaged in the extent of almost a full season because he had after reprieved from the terms of the partnership agreement and kept the stallion at his California ranch. He declared it would be difficult to catch the exact amount of damages, however, and suggested that Madden have Friar Rock at his Hamilton Farm, Hamilton, N.Y. After that the stallion shall stay there. After that the stallion shall stay there. After that the stallion shall stay there.

Famous Sayings

There will be no more roll call in the junior and senior classes for the rest of the year.

Query?
I dunno.
I haven't that case.
Dean, may I ask a question?
Well, what about it?
Not prepared.
Have you your cases?
Mr. ——— will not meet his class today.
Take the next case.
What's the difference between this case and the last?
Then why were they both put in the book?
Have you that case briefed?
Don't you see———
Er-er-er-
For other cases on the point see———
Oh, I read the dissenting opinion.
Did he succeed?
That's all for today.

Owing to the fact that this college started quite recently, the graduating class this year is quite small. Last year none were graduated, so that this year is a big improvement. From now on, though, it is probable that increasing numbers will distinguish themselves in the business world as graduates of this college.

Neither of the two 1923 graduates, strange to say, began their college career in this college, but both entered in their sophomore year. This did not deter them, though, and it is expected that more distinctions will be brought to the College of Commerce when these young business men step into the commercial world.

The Tulane Council of Fraternities

THE Interfraternity Council of Tulane University is the outgrowth of the old Pan-Hellenic Societies and is a result of the desire on the part of the fraternities and university authorities for a medium through which the various chapters in the university might come into close contact for the discussion of all matters conducive to the best interest of the fraternities and the university. It is composed of two men from each national fraternity represented at Tulane, and a chairman, the last named being a member of the faculty. Its main objects are to fix rules and regulations relative to fraternity activities and conduct, to prompt interfraternity activities and contests, and to foster a better student spirit in the university.

Kappa Delta Phi is an honorary fraternity for the promotion of Tulane spirit. It selects each year from the junior and senior classes men who have been conspicuous for school spirit during their university careers. It seeks to obtain its object in two ways: First, by holding forth membership as a reward to those who have done more than the average man for their university; and, secondly, by binding together those who have made unusual effort, thus becoming a force for great good by securing unity of action.

PELICAN QUILL was founded early in 1923 by several students interested in literary work. By thus binding themselves together into a society, they hoped to further advance their interest in and appreciation of literature. Only original manuscripts are read at the meetings held each month, at which different members submit their own productions. The society is petitioning SIGMA UPSILON, a national honorary literary fraternity.

Pi Alpha Phi is the highest honor which can be bestowed upon a freshman in the university. The Pi Alpha Phi key is awarded to the freshmen who during their freshman year have performed the greatest service for their class and school. The keys are awarded upon merit alone, the election to membership is unlimited, thereby giving every freshman in the university an opportunity to strive for the honor.

Tulane Varsity Debating Teams For 1923

Tulane's schedule this year was composed of a triangular debate with the University of Texas and Vanderbilt University. Tulane's visiting team debated the University of Texas at Austin and the other team met Vanderbilt University here. Tulane debated in this same triangular last year and came out the winner.

The teams chosen were as follows:

To Debate the University of Texas

LEON S. CAHN
LAWRENCE MARTIN

To Debate Vanderbilt University

EDMOND N. CAHN
LLOYD J. COBB

The alternates were James Irion and John Gooch.

The subject of the debates was: Resolved, That organized labor should enter politics as a separate political party. Tulane upheld the affirmative side of this question against Vanderbilt and the negative against Texas.

The Tulane Band

The Tulane Band has passed through one of the most successful seasons since its organization. Under the management of Frank Richardson, the bandmen gathered early in October and played throughout the football season, accompanying the team on its trip to Baton Rouge. The band consists of twenty-eight members under the leadership of the Old Reliable Chester Ford, whose golden notes emanating from a silver cornet have for the last few years spurred the Green Wave on to victory. Valuable assistance was rendered the band by Mr. H. C. Voorhies, of Werlein's Music Store, who, with several other local musicians, played with the band, and in many other ways assisted in making it what it was. The following are members of the Tulane Band:

Frank Richardson, manager and trombone; Mayfield, trumpet; Farmer, cornet; Haydel, cornet; Scott, cornet; Cohn, clarinet; Cahn, clarinet; Andrus, clarinet; Wolfson, clarinet; Scott, trombone; Waters, saxophone; Ayo, saxophone; Appel, saxophone; Emery, baritone; Enslen, alto; Cohn, alto; Zivitz, tenor; Van Benthuyesen, piccolo; Polack, flute; Gisclard, drum; Hull, drum; Hawkins, drum; Peyronin, cymbals; Wyatt, drum carrier.

The Young Men's Christian Association at Tulane University has a creditable history. In the first years, directed only by volunteer workers, with little more than a reading room, real results were achieved. The opening of Camp Martin brought in the Army Y. M. C. A. with its far-reaching program of activities and service, followed later by the special S. A. T. C. work.

It was in 1919 that the regular student "Y" work was reorganized, taking over the Army "Y" hut, with a part-time paid secretary in charge. The ensuing three years' work enlisted the interest and support of an increasing number of students and faculty members, and resulted in a healthy enlargement of the association program.

Religious meetings and Bible study groups, community service, social activities, such as the popular "Campus Nights," general campus service to all students, and the securing of part-time employment for students obliged to earn some of their expenses—all these activities have been continued during the year just closing. Improvements have been possible in many directions, with a full-time secretary at work. Special emphasis has been placed on the formation of Religious Discussion groups. Nearly fifteen of these were organized, including one for Jewish students and one for faculty members.

Every year, the Women's Committee has been a large factor in making successful many features of the work, especially the "socials" and the visitation of sick students, as well as church co-operation.

The Tulane "Y" is a student organization, under student leadership, with faculty members acting in an advisory capacity. The religious objective marks the association as an "arm of the Christian church," truly interdenominational and non-sectarian in spirit and in action. The local churches are largely responsible for the support of the organization, and are in full sympathy with all the regular social and general service features of the program. The expenses of the association are met by voluntary contributions from students, faculty, the university, the churches, and friends in New Orleans.

Alumni Association of Tulane University of Louisiana

THE Alumni Association of Tulane University of Louisiana is the general association of the Alumni of all departments of the University.

The association is active in all things which work for the good of the University in any of its departments. The association in recent years has been particularly active in student affairs. The association prides itself in never having refused to aid financially or otherwise any worthy Tulane activity.

Any graduate of the University or any former student of the University who withdrew in good standing after having attended during one session is eligible for membership in the association. There are three forms of membership: Annual (dues $2.00 yearly); Life (dues $25.00 for life); Honorary. Every Tulane Alumnus ought to be a member.

The business of the association is carried on through the Executive Committee which is composed of the officers and two representatives from each department of the University.

The Executive Committee for 1923-1924 is as follows:

CHARLES E. DUNBAR	President

Review of the Season

Nothing that has not already been said can be said about Tulane's 1923 football season. All that is now past and we look forward to next year's contests. Starting out from practically nothing the team was shaped into a very presentable article for the first game. So much so, in fact, that every Olive and Blue follower looked forward with great expectation to the rest of the games. The most successful feat of the season was the securing again of Clark Shaughnessy's services. With practically every man on the team new to him, it was only with the super-human efforts he can call forth that welded him a team that got anything like the even break it did.

The first game was a decisive victory for Tulane. Mississippi College was her opponent and the wave swept over her in fine style.

The second game was with Springhill, another ancient rival. Although defeated, Springhill managed to tally the first score against the Olive and Blue. Camp Benning, old, experienced soldiers, was the next opponent. And though a tough proposition, Tulane finally downed them.

Mississippi A. & M., nearly as old a rival as the Tigers, again went down to defeat, swamped by the Green Wave, and Tulane felt victory for the last time of the season.

North Carolina brought down one of the strongest teams ever seen on the local gridiron and in a hotly contested game finally defeated Tulane by one touchdown. This was one of the best games of the season, as up to the last minute of play it was charged with exciting moments. Going up to Auburn to play the next game, Tulane went down fighting to defeat, not even scoring on the Plainsmen.

Florida next came here, bringing as an aggregation, one of the heaviest teams ever encountered by the Olive and Blue. Fight as she would, Tulane could not make headway against the big fellows from the 'gator country and managed to score only one touchdown.

Only a passing remark does the last game of the season deserve. What happened to Tulane the Lord will only know suffice to say her deadly and ancient enemy, L. S. U., walked away with the victory.

Now, with Shaughnessy back at the helm, with "Monk" Simons, who deserves far more than passing notice, as it was his great work that kept the team fit throughout the season, assisting, and with the freshman team and the scrubs to recruit from, Tulane can look forward with brighter eyes and wait with pleased expectancy for next year's results.

COACH CLARK D. SHAUGHNESSY

"Absence makes the heart grow fonder" has been attributed to some wise gentleman, perhaps of the time of old King Tunkanhamen, and we, 3,000 years later, heartily agree with the old gent when speaking of Coach Shaughnessy. Clark D., as his intimate friends are privileged to call him, remained away from Tulane for a year and then he came back with a bang. If it were possible to run Shaughnessy for mayor of New Orleans he would have the backing of every Tulane man for the job and he would cake-walk in if the Greenies had anything to do with the electing. Shaughnessy is a football coach par excellent if ever there was one. To those who saw the 1922 squad crawl out onto the gridiron for the first week's practice Coach's work alone is appreciated. That first outfit was about as pitiful a looking bunch as has ever turned out the first week. But what a change before the season had well started. If it would be possible to class Shaughnessy with an alchemist we would nominate him. From apparently useless metal he moulded a golden team, and a team that upheld Tulane honor in every manner, shape and form. We will wager that Shaughnessy will not be allowed to slip the fold ever again.

CAPTAIN PAUL MALONEY, Fullback

If there is on Tulane's campus a truer, stauncher, sturdier supporter of Tulane than Captain Paul Maloney then we have failed to have been honored with his acquaintance. Tulane's fighting spirit is embodied in the plucky little field general who led the Olive and Blue this season on the gridiron. Although perhaps a bit erratic in some ways, Paul has never varied the infinitesimal degree from the path of what he thought to be right and just. Paul has been shifted considerably about the back field and line, and he has always responded with the same eagerness and the same classy brand of ball. His playing of end against the Florida team was the best defensive work of the season seen on the part of any terminal. Tulane lineups will, indeed, have a vacant stare without the familiar name of Maloney listed thereon.

NAT MARKS, Manager

Perhaps the man on the football staff who gets the least amount of credit is the manager, and Nat Marks, this season, was no exception to the rule. Nat succeeded one of Tulane's best student managers, and to Nat's credit it must be said that he certainly did uphold the standard set by Gus Fritchie the year previous. Marks was an untiring, ever working manager who thought of the comfort of the players in every particular and of his own comforts last. That Nat did not forget the loyal supporters of the team was evidenced in the trip to Montgomery for the Auburn game. Many who saw that game owe the privilege to the fact that it was Nat who made it possible for them to get to Montgomery.

HARRY TALBOT, Tackle

"Little Eva," the hero of more than one battle, who first came into prominence three years ago when he picked up a fumble and dashed through a broken field for a touchdown against Georgia, will be the Greenback's captain next season. Those who have seen Harry play, and those who know Harry are confident that the team did not err in selecting him as its leader next season. Eva is as plugging, faithful and steady a pigskinner as has ever donned the spangles of the Olive and Blue, and much is expected of him next season.

Football "T" Men

JIM ALISON, Tackle

"Wee Jim" is one of the senior medics who will be lost to Tulane through graduation next season. With two huskies on the line in "Little Eva" and "Wee Jim," Tulane had two men who greatly helped to make up the noted Greenback defense. Alison was one of those big boys who usually made up his mind just where he wanted to go and he usually got there.

BENNY BROWN, Halfback

Here is the real "papa" of the Tulane team. Benny played exactly fifty games in a Tulane uniform and in every one of those fifty games the name of the Brown family was well upheld. Benny's is counted with five years' service on the team owing to the fact that he was on the club during the S. A. T. C. year when America was at war. Benny has played with the stars of old who have carved their names on the wall of gridiron history and who have given way to younger blood. In Brown, Tulane will lose, indeed, one of her most dependable backs and one of the speediest men to ever don the uniform of the Olive and Blue.

EDDIE REED, Center

"Tulane's All-Southern Candidate" is applicable to Eddie Reed, former captain of the Olive and Blue, and the greatest center who has ever stepped on a gridiron 'neath Southern skies. We admit that many have seen football games before we thought of lamping them, but Eddie is the best there is when it comes down to playing the pivot position. Eddie's game against the Auburn Plainsmen was one of the most brilliant that we have ever witnessed. He is positively the only center to snap the ball back and then get down the gridiron in time to tackle the man receiving the punt. The sporting writers of the South certainly did not make any mistake when they placed Reed at the center rush.

ALFRED BROWN, Halfback

Tulane can well be proud of Benny's little brother. This sheik of Tulane stadium is the answer in person to a maiden's prayer. Besides sharing with Eddie Reed the honor of having more feminine admirers than any of the other well-known celebrities (not excepting Rudy Valentino) he is undoubtedly one of the greatest halfbacks developed at Tulane in recent years. "Brother" showed speed and dazzling ability more than once and a football brand that is going to place him on the All-Southern team before he leaves Tulane. The Olive and Blue is depending on the services of "Brother" a great deal for the next two years.

Football "T" Men

EUGENE BERGERET, Guard

'Gene, the big Frenchman of the curly locks and Adonis like stature, got the idea from Coach Fuller that he could play football and learned how under Coach Shaughnessy. But it took the Auburn game to fully determine and convince 'Gene that he was a real football player. In that game some Auburn player accidentally smashed him in the nose, breaking it, and reducing it to the size and shape of the well-known pancake. 'Gene, apparently for no other reason, lost his temper, got mad and proceeded to be, for the rest of the season, a tower of strength in the line. It is, indeed, a blessing that this is only Bergeret's second year because he has the size, weight and fight that it takes to make a good linesman and also an unholy desire to beat the upstate bengal next year.

GILL BLACKSHEAR, Tackle

Black comes from Auburn, but that didn't prevent him from giving them "what they came for" when Tulane played the Tigers at Cramton Bowl. Although, exceedingly light, Blackshear is one of the best and pluckiest forwards on the squad. As the Florida boys said, he is "the best little man they ever saw." After this season it will be Dr. Blackshear.

LESTER LAUTENSCHLAEGER, Quarterback

Here is one of Coach Shaughnessy's real finds. When it was evident that the quarterback's position would be left vacant many wondered just whom Tulane could depend upon for the vacancy. The candidates were scanned by the grandstand coaches and no suitable person was found. Shaughnessy selected Lester, and the boys groaned, for they thought that he would not make good. However, once again Shaughnessy proved his worth in seeing a good football player at a glance, and in Lester Joseph Lautenschlaeger, Tulane found a dandy quarter. Lester's most brilliant feat of the season was a ninety-five-yard dash from a kick-off through the entire North Carolina team for a touchdown.

FRANK PHILLIPS, End

This lanky, elongated youth was one of the few players who returned from last year's squad. Hank proved that his bright play of last season was no false alarm by playing another star game this season. Phillips' best game this season was, perhaps, the opening one of the year. Immediately after that game he had the misfortune to spring a charley horse which slowed him up considerably. However, there was no quitting in Frank and before the season had ended he again proved that he was every inch a real, honest-to-goodness football player.

Football "T" Men

GEORGE LAMPRECHT, Everything

"Limber" unheralded, unsung, and with no advance press notices, walked into Dr. Smith's office at the beginning of the season and announced that he wanted to play football and forthwith proceeded to show that it made no particular difference where he played. This big blonde bunch of loveliness is quite versatile and the world's champion utility player. It was always a matter of conjecture between games as to where "Limber" would play next, for he played in the course of the season, end, guard, tackle and fullback. We do not know which of the positions he will finally specialize in, but the one he selects will be filled by a football artist.

HARRY GAMBLE, End

"Smarty," as he is dubbed by Coach Shaughnessy, looked as though swaddling clothes and safety pins would be better suited to him than a football outfit. However, we'll guarantee that Gamble has more fight, fire and energy per pound than any man in captivity. Although this is Harry's first year on the varsity, he has played almost every minute of every game and handled himself like a veteran. He is one of the most promising men on the squad and is surely the real find of the season.

CARL DREIFOUS, Halfback

Here is Captain Paul Maloney's donation to the team, and if Paul has any more such donations it is our desire that he slip out mighty fast with them. When Dreifous was first trotted out the sport writers of New Orleans were advised to go lightly on Dreifous' ability as then it was an unknown quantity. However, that certain thing remained unknown for only a short period of time. Before long spectators were marvelling at the speed of the newcomer and right now he is set down pat as the successor of Benny Brown in the back field. Dreifous played a great game against the Tigers and it is with anxiety that many are awaiting his performances of next season.

WILLIAM BESSELMAN, Linesman

Here is Harry Gamble's side kick or, as the old French saying runs along something like this, "Saint Rocque et son chien." (We hope that French is proper.) Bess is a husky chap who, like Gamble, gives all that is in him for the team. Bess is a capable chap and a player who is going to develop into a real star before he ends up with the team. Some have touted him as Eddie Reed's successor and if the article of ball that he put up during the past season is a criterion of the future then we must certainly agree with those prognosticators.

Football "T" Men

GEORGE TUNSTALL, Linesman

And still the finds come along. Here is another one of them. Although George has been touted as a politician, by some he is by far a better football player, although last season was perhaps the first time that this formerly un-beknown star had the opportunity of touching a pigskin. A call was issued for all huskies, and George, realizing that he was no infant, trotted out for the team with no knowledge of the game except the will and determination to play it. Of course he went on the scrubs, but after he tumbled a few of the varsity backs for a loss, George found his way onto the varsity to there remain. George has three more years on the team and we hope that every one of them will be as crowded with jewels as his first year was.

WILLIAM GARDNER, Linesman

Although this was Bill's first year with the Tulane team, it will be his last, for before coming to Tulane, Bill put in some stellar years with the University of Mississippi, where he was captain in his last year. It is, indeed, a shame that Gardner went to "Ole Miss" before coming to Tulane, for what was "Ole Miss" gain was certainly Tulane's loss. Bill filled more than one gap in the line this season and played quite a few bright games for the old Olive and Blue and gave the very best that was in him.

HOWARD ROEHL, End

Here is the best received terminal that Shaughnessy and the Green Wave boasted of this season. Although Howard did not play in all the games and in parts for very long periods, he was always willing and ready to try his hand when called up, and his receiving of forward passes has been mentioned considerably. Roehl is as game as they come and when he is not getting passes on the football field it is whispered that he is either trying to make passes in other quarters and even swapping passes with some of the well-known waiters in the still better known Child's restaurant.

HENRY MONGET, Back Field

Among the most promising men on whom the burden of building up for the future will be placed is Monget, who displayed, during various practices, that he has the ability to play football. During some of the early workouts Monget displayed real ability while on the scrub team and it was not long that he was shifted over to the other side of the field with a green sweater 'n everything. Monget also showed something in the games that he participated in and his work will surely be watched in the future.

Once more, this time under the leadership of Coach Benny Smith, ex-star end and punter, the well-known Scrubs did battle for old Tulane. They succeeded in their aim, which was making a first-class Varsity, but went through many difficulties in doing so, namely, injuries, drafting of men over to the first team, and the freshmen ruling. Another main drawback to the teamwork was the switching of signals every time the Varsity played. However, the Scrubs, throughout the season, presented a fairly formidable aggregation, thanks to the untiring efforts of Benny Smith. Those playing on the Scrub team were:

Ends—Irvine, Meyer, Minsky, De Garmo, Houchins.

Tackles—Wall, Hopkins, Goldsmith, Wight, Wyatt, Jones.

Guards—Ebaugh, Cahn, Farrell, Walker.

Centers—Barrow, Clay.

Quarterbacks—O'Kelley, Davidson.

Halfbacks—Snelling, Moss, Monget, Schmidt, Rogers.

Fullbacks—White, Dupont.

Coach Smith also appeared in the lineup at times.

HAMMOND, DAWSON, WOODS, BESSELMAN, GASTON, CAPTAIN FLOURNOY, LEVY, MCLEAN, CLARK
HENICAN, MENARD, MOORE, POWERS, KILLEEN, LASHLEY

The Freshman Football Team of 1922

Due to the S. I. A. A. ruling this past year the university organized a freshman team to develop the men who were ineligible this year, but who would one day be able to fight for Tulane. Early in the season the freshies were put under the direction of Coach "Monk" Simons, and after the usual training for the gridiron a team was moulded, and this squad of youngsters represented the first freshman team of Tulane University.

The team was composed of Powers, Lashley, Killeen, Woods, Henican, Dawson, Killman, Besselman, Moore, Levy, Hammond, McLean, Carre, Gaston, Clarke, Duren, Brown, Menard, Buchanan, and led by Captain Flournoy.

The first game was played with Southwestern in Lafayette, although the Greenies were defeated, they did themselves justice by holding the powerful Lafayette aggregation to the score of 31-6. The second contest was with St. Stanislaus, and the Bay boys went down to a 7-0 defeat.

For the next game Louisiana State Normal came to New Orleans, and due to injuries on the freshman squad the teachers managed to put over the winning touchdown in the last few minutes of play, defeating the Freshies to the tune of 7-0. Convent was the next scene of battle, where they played the Jefferson eleven. All that is known about the game is that the score, 14-6, said the freshmen lost.

Then the big game of the season was at hand, and the outcome did not look very bright, as the foe was in the shape of a Baby Tiger, a team that was touted to be the best freshman team in this section of the country. When the dust had cleared from the battlefield on which the "Little Bilow" had done itself proud, it was found that the Tigers had been whipped and driven home to that immemorial score of 21-0.

Although the season was not filled with victories, the first freshman football team can be called a great success. Not only did their defeat of L. S. U. make it that, but its development of material for next year's varsity was what counted the most.

Basketball Review, 1923

THE 1923 basketball season was one of the greatest in the history of the Olive and Blue. Firstly, the team avenged the football defeat by L. S. U. by taking four straight games from our upstate rival; secondly, Tulane only lost three games out of a total of nineteen played, and did not lose a single series. The team was unable to go to Atlanta for the Southern Conference due to the fact that the two regular guards were unable to make the trip. This was indeed a bad break as the team was at the height of its form when the tournament was staged. However, we enjoyed an even break with the victors—Mississippi A. and M., on our own court. "Monk" Simons was again in charge. The following men were awarded letters: Captain Lantrip, Ex-Captain Wachenheim, Dahlman, Dabezies, Lind, Roy, Martin, Henican and Manager Elizardi. Also on the squad were Morgan, Davidson, O'Kelley and Wynn. Prospects for 1924 are quite encouraging as there is a lot of material in the school which was ineligible this year, thus Captain-Elect Martin should have another championship aggregation next year.

The record of the season was as follows:

Tulane	31;	Marine Bank	17
Tulane	44;	Y. M. H. A.	17
Tulane	34;	St. Stanislaus	22
Tulane	32;	Spring Hill	16

The Tulane Crew

The second year of crew activities at Tulane proved very successful. The mighty Pontchatrain eight went down to defeat by half a length and the course record at Washington and Lee was shattered by several seconds.

At the call of the manager and the captain early in the spring thirty-five candidates appeared to contest places on the varsity. This was cut down in a month to eleven, who practiced daily at the Pontchatrain Rowing Club. These quickly developed into a first-class aggregation, which was more remarkable, considering that no regular coach or trainer assisted them in any way.

The annual race with Pontchatrain was held in April and was viewed by an enormous crowd. Getting off to a bad start the Tulane crew showed its spirit by making an uphill fight and winning by half a length. The exciting finish of this race showed Tulane's spirit and ability to win.

Next came the trip to Washington and Lee. Our crew had the misfortune to lose the services of Captain Fritchie through illness. Nevertheless the Greenbacks did themselves proud. Besides the disadvantage of rowing in a four-oar shell, with which they were not familiar, having used an eight-oar one all the time, they were on a strange course. The victory was conceded the Greenbacks even though the races resulted in a tie, for in the first race, won by Tulane, they established a new record for the course and our winning time was best for the two races.

This year they hope to duplicate, at least, if not surpass this record. Frank Richardson was elected manager, and J. C. Dupont, captain, both with the avowed intention of putting rowing in the foremost ranks of Tulane's activities.

MURRAY

BARRET

Varsity Tennis, 1922

Nineteen hundred and twenty-two was a successful season for tennis at Tulane. The annual singles tournament was held in March and was won by D. K. Murray, with W. M. Barret runner-up. Murray and Barret represented the Olive and Blue at the S. I. A. A. tournament held in Atlanta, Ga., May 11th.

Murray was defeated by Blake of Georgia Tech in the final round of singles by the score 6-4, 6-0, 3-6, 6-4. In the doubles Murray and Barret were defeated in the finals by Williamson and Blake of Georgia Tech after a five-set match. Although the Tulane pair won more games than their opponents in this match, they lost by the score 7-5, 2-6, 0-6, 6-1, 6-4.

Baseball, 1923

FOR the first time in three years Tulane again has a varsity baseball team. The reception it received on the campus amply repaid the time it took to secure it. But now that it is here Olive and Blue supporters intend making baseball a permanent sport.

One of the most advantageous moves was the securing of Brue Hayes, one of the best baseball men in the South, as coach. With this start Tulane is bound to turn out a good team. Those out for the team who have been given uniforms are: C. Lind, captain and s.s.; S. Robertson, c.; J. Williams, c.; I. Hoffman, p.; D. Long, p.; J. Elizardi, p.; H. Newton, p.; L. Lautenschlaeger, p.; J. Baughman, 1st; M. Duffy, 2nd; E. Morgan, 3rd; H. Houlihan, l.f.; B. Lantrip, c.f.; E. Reed, r.f. Others out for the team are: P. Dufour, B. Carrington, P. Norton, G. Long, H. Wright, G. Tumbleson.

Games are scheduled with the following teams: St. Stanislaus, Illinois, Spring Hill, Alabama, and L. S. U.

Track, 1923

Tulane's track men will have ample opportunity to bring credit to themselves and the university as five track meets have been scheduled for this season. There are three dual meets and two championship affairs. It has formerly been the custom to prepare for only two or three meets, but this year Coach Simons intends to enter men in all meets and in all events. The meets scheduled are as follows: Tulane-"Ole" Miss at Tulane Stadium, Tulane-L. S. U. at the stadium, Tulane-Miss. A. & M. at Starksville, S. I. C. track and field championships at Montgomery, and the S. A. A. U. meet at Tulane Stadium.

The S. A. A. U. held here this year is expected to draw a large crowd and will prove a fitting climax to Tulane's greatest season.

Wrestling

Wrestling has always created interest at Tulane, but due to unavoidable circumstances the university has never been able to engage in any intercollegiate contest until this year. Just before the JAMBALAYA went to press, however, Captain Barnett was able to get an appropriation from the student council which made the holding of several contests possible. At the date of this writing Manager Robert Wynn had received favorable replies from the University of Alabama and L. S. U. regarding matches. The Tulane wrestlers will also enter the S. A. A. U. championships in which they won titles in five out of the eight classes in 1922.

Coach Claude Simons, who has complete charge of the grapplers, will most probably use the following men: 118 pounds, Captain Barnett; 126 pounds, Phillips; 135 pounds, Ex-Captain McConnell; 146 pounds, Hillery and Barkley; 158 pounds, Gamble and Aiken; 175 pounds, Wynn and King; heavyweight, Houchins.

BOOK VII
Kingdom of Misrule

Foreword

SAY, listen! It sounds sort of incongruous to begin the Wit and Humor section with a serious preface, but we want to prevent any misunderstanding on the part of our readers. We have tried to make this section funny, and if it appeals to your sense of humor we shall feel that our efforts have not been in vain. If you find yourself unable to conjure up a single laugh just remember that the rest of the book is really good.

One thing, however, we wish to make perfectly clear—nothing in this section is written in a mean, spiteful, or malicious spirit. We have taken care to exclude from the following pages those super-sensitive souls who shrink from the least bit of harmless fun-making, and have directed our shafts (or boomerangs) of wit at those whom we know are broad minded enough to join in the laugh on themselves.

We believe petty, vindictive, or vituperative remarks are distinctly out of place in a college annual, and have refused to print anything that would actually redound to anyone's discredit. We are not out to hurt people's feelings, and we would rather scrap the JAMBALAYA than sully the moral character of a student or hold to light his real foibles.

What we have done is simply to draw exaggerated pictures of campus conditions, organizations, and personages to a degree which will, we hope, make you smile. Please do not think we have written after the advice of Pope, who says (it is always excellent form to either begin or end with a quotation, especially one from such a first class versifier as Pope):

"Laugh at your friends; and if your friends are sore,
So much the better, you may laugh the more."

"Jambalaya" Book Review

THE JAMBALAYA claims the enviable distinction of being the only publication of its kind on the face of the globe to run a book review. Not only is this literary achievement of inestimable interest and importance to the world at large, but it has a special appeal to Tulanians in that the books reviewed are all the works of Tulane students. Due to the lack of space the editors have been forced to condense this review, merely naming the book and giving the readers an idea of the subject matter, with an additional word or so of explanation in regard to the author.

"THE SUCCESSFUL PUBLICATION OF A COLLEGE COMIC." By J. Olin Chamberlain.

Mr. Chamberlain needs no introduction to readers of the "JAMBALAYA." It is to his untiring efforts that "Cafe Brulo" is what it is today. In this little volume, Mr. Chamberlain not only explains how he succeeded in publishing this great magazine, but also how he won the approval of the entire faculty (especially Dr. Pierce Butler) in so doing. The author has devoted an extra chapter to his novel ideas on politics.

"WHY DEBATORS SHOULD BE AWARDED T's." By Nat Marks.

Nat Marks, known affectionately all over the campus as "the Debaters' Best Friend," has published this stirring appeal for rewarding the 'varsity orators. Mr. Marks's style is at times a bit sentimental, even poetic, but this is due to his high sense of aesthetic values. So enthused has the author become in the subject, however, that the tenor of the book is in marked contradistinction to his meek, submissive nature.

"PRINCIPLES OF PUNTING." By Alfred (Brother) Brown.

This interesting work will be of great interest to all aspiring football players. The author is Tulane's star punter, having averaged three yards on his punts consistently throughout the season. It will be remembered how in the last game with Auburn it was Brown's record punt of ten yards which paved the way for Auburn's first touchdown. The author attributes his success in punting to the strict attention he pays his studies. He is now preparing a second book on "Forty Ways to Fumble."

"THE WOMAN-HATER." By Julian Palmer.

This rather risqué novel is based on the actual experiences of Julian Palmer, Tulane's recluse. Palmer's narrative deals with his untiring efforts to keep away from all members of the fairer sex. His tattered clothing, unkempt hair, and illshaven face are greatly instrumental in preventing annoyances from the hated females. Palmer has never spoken a word to any woman for the last twenty years.

"ENGINEERING AS A PREPARATION FOR LAW." By Joseph Ruffo.

This book is really the autobiography of the young Turkish scholar, Ruffo. The author went about the study of law in the right manner by first preparing himself with a sound engineering foundation. "I found Elementary Thermodynamics and Kinematics excellent training for my courses in Torts and Common Law Pleadings," writes Ruffo. The author says that he now feels that he will be prepared to enter the College of Pharmacy next year, if he finds the law too simple.

"MONEY HINTS FOR STUDENT-BODY PRESIDENT." By Harold Meade.

The name of Harold Meade is a synonym for liberality on the campus. Due to his untiring efforts huge sums have been expended on every campus activity. The author was instrumental in buying a drumstick for the Tulane band, and offered to defray half the expenses of a tennis ball for the tennis team. Mr. Meade was unanimously elected Honorary President of the Pan-Hellenic Council just previous to the publication of his helpful work.

"PECK'S BAD BOY, REVISED." By Hooper (Nick) Carter.

This edition of the well-known old work was written as a satire on youthful mischievousness. The book is crowded with humorous situations. In one chapter the bad boys set alarm clocks off in the class-room, put itching powder on the poor professor, and hired an organ grinder to interrupt the lecture. The story is very amusing indeed, especially when the faculty joins in the fun. The author was not able to attend college during the latter part of last year, due to his work on this book.

"Jambalaya" Book Review

"THE BOY SCOUT." By Paul Maloney.

This volume, bound in beautiful pig-skin, is to boys what the "Camp-Fire Girls" series is to little girls. The author, who has drawn entirely from his own experience, tells us how as a football captain he scouted many games, while his team played in a different locality. While not scouting games the author wrote love lyrics to Mr. Clark Shaughnessy, and whenever he was lucky at the Y. M. G. C. he would buy a corsage for his loved coach. The aid of Mr. Eddie Reed was of invaluable assistance to the author in writing this book.

"SECRETS OF THE SUCCESS OF A GREAT MUSICIAN" or "HOW I RU(1)N THE BAND." By Frank Richardson.

This truthful narrative is the work of a man who has built the university band up to such a splendid height, that when the Tulanians stop playing and let some of the members of Kolb's orchestra, who are present, play, the result is excellent. The author and musician confides that the band which originally could only play one piece can now play three. The entire work displays the incalculable influence which personality plus a trombone can work upon the stolid unimpressible musicians.

"ANDERSON'S FAIRY TALES."

Written by the Dean of the College of Technology, and are interesting to old and young alike. The stories deal chiefly with sports, and explain how intercollegiate athletics, in the future, are to be run by the faculties of the universities. Of course, it is all just the imaginativeness of the author, but it serves to pass an interesting evening for the patients of the psychopathic ward.

"THE ROMANCE OF THE GAS INDUSTRY." By F. Edward Hebert.

This volume is an entertaining expository exhibition by the greatest authority on the subject. The author has met with great success in his line of endeavor, failing only to convince this year's debating judges of his ability. Other publications of the writer are "Hot Air and Where It Gets One" and "Vocal Asphyxiation."

"THE UNPARDONABLE SIN." By Miss Minnie Bell.

This novel has caused press and church to rise up in arms at its publication. The authoress, who learned the lesson of the novel in the school of bitter experience, preaches a tremendous sermon at this sin which she will never forgive. What the writer means by the unpardonable sin every Tulanian knows—it is talking in the library.

"THE CASE OF REBELLIOUS SUSAN." By Louis Garrard.

This work deals with the activities of a naughty little girl who wanted to have everything her own way. Susan rebels against the work of the grown-ups, and she teases, and nags, and worries them until they are all quite tired of her. The little minx leads her classmates into all sorts of mischief and the story closes by everyone concerned praying that she will grow up differently.

"VANITY FAIR." By Louis Rosen.

This enterprising work is published in serial form once every month in the Hullabaloo. It is much enjoyed by the subscribers who wait anxiously for its appearance. The only regret the readers have is that only one full page is allotted to it. "Next to the jokes," writes one subscriber, "I like the 'Vanity Fair' page best." The author is one of the best paid writers in the country.

"TRAVELS WITH A DONKEY." By William (Bill) Barrett.

This interesting work tells of the author's trip to foreign lands and of happenings there. His stories are all filled with exciting incidents as he never went anywhere that he did not raise a racket. Barrett's greatest bit of writing appears when he describes a trip to Atlanta during an S. I. A. A. tournament there. Dan Murray traveled with the author.

"THE SCHOOL FOR SCANDAL." By Dr. Pierce Butler.

In this volume the author relates how Newcomb (the School for Scandal) is the proper subject for scandalous gossip. Among other things Dr. Butler recounts with pride how it was due to his efforts that the system of "campusing" disobedient girls was abolished. "Let the young folks go out seven nights a week," concludes Dr. Butler in his last chapter, "I would rather see the girls have a good time than come to class."

New Courses of Instruction

The following courses will be offered at the university next year. Every one of the subjects is new and is treated in an advanced style.

Modern Literature—Dr. J. M. McBryde

This is a course of lectures, discussions, and special studies. Particular emphasis will be placed on the following works. "The Sheik," "Simon Called Peter," "The Rover Boys in Korea," and "The Sermons of Jonathan Edwards."

Banking and Finance—Prof. C. E. Bonnett

An introductory course in how to bank and finance dice, poker, and roulette games. Proper methods of fading, and the advisability of carrying cards up one's sleeve are two of the subjects touched upon. Bonnett's "Employers' Associations in Afghanistan" will be used entirely.

Object-Drawing—Prof. William Woodward

(Drawing is required throughout the four years at Tulane, both for its present necessity and as a training for the future.)

Exercises in drawing money from parents, friends, strangers, etc., for the object of buying clothing, cigarettes, and liquor. Students failing this course will find it difficult to get along.

Electrocution—Dean D. S. Anderson

A Chair of Electrocution has been established at Tulane through the kindness of Guy R. Moloney.

Class meets Friday at 12 P. M. (Fish will be served.)

This will enable our more serious students to gaze into the great unknown.

Correct Dancing—Dr. E. A. Bechtel

Class meets in basement on Saturdays at 3 A. M. This course is specially designed for patrons of the Newcomb and Broadway Pharmacies and Capponi's. The shimmy will be thoroughly emphasized.

Aesthetic dancing in charge of Prof. Peltz. This class will meet in the Tilton Memorial Library at the same hour each day.

Very Advanced Chemistry—Prof. H. W. Mosely

This subject open to candidates for an A.B. (Artful Boot-legger) degree. Laboratory work includes the analysis, qualitative determination and chemical combinations of 98% proof. Stills have been moved from the dormitory to the Chemistry building to facilitate the work.

Newcomb Child Welfare—Prof. G. P. Wyckoff

This subject has been added to the work of the Sociology Department. The work treats of the need for better conditions among the girls as brought to light by their weakness for restaurants, expensive theaters, candy, and perfume. The course aims to bring the mental attitude of Newcomb into a more logical conformity with the pocketbook of Tulane.

Legal Ethics—Prof. E. J. Northrup

The most advanced course on how to evade the law ever given. An excellent preparation for those who wish to take up burglary, blackmailing, bootlegging, stock manipulating, and other of the finer arts. What is an alibi and how to establish one given particular attention. An especially attractive course for those who intend practicing in Louisiana.

The Civil Code of Louisiana and Northrup's "Real Property" are used.

Chapter Letters

Dear Sisters in Pi Beta Phi:

Having finally overcome the difficulties of our horrid rushing system, and through the hearty co-operation of the non-fraternity world, we have just completed a most successful season. Although Sophomore pledging is the most recent system, accepted by everyone except the fraternities, and we cannot even accept promises from the Freshmen, we are encouraged to say that a small group of twenty-six have come to us and volunteered their desire to be $\Pi \Phi$'s.

As a chapter we are specializing in class presidents and other major officers, and for this reason we regret that we had to drop several good prospects who were not candidates for office. However, we feel that our loss is compensated by the Freshman President—as long as we get one president a year, we can't complain.

Of our active members, a few have reluctantly consented to run the student body, upon the unanimous petition of the other fraternities. Of these we wish to mention Rose Burgess, the last to leave the campus in the evening—our croquet champion. Also Edwa Stewart, who has, in her work among the less fortunate, succeeded in effacing herself and making herself as one with those whom she serves in the capacity of benefactor.

With such material as this, and Elise Roussel, who is always unselfishly working for others, and (Y. W.) Ernestine Bass, we are looking forward to the most successful year in the history of the chapter.

Dear Sisters in Chi Omega:

Having finally overcome the difficulties of our horrid rushing system, and through the hearty co-operation of the non-fraternity world, we have just completed a most successful season. Although Sophomore pledging is the most recent system, accepted by everyone except the fraternities, and we cannot even accept promises from the Freshmen, we are encouraged to say that a small group have come to us and volunteered their desire to be $X \Omega$'s.

Of these volunteers, including little sisters (98%), we wish to mention the elder Gwin, who, being a very thorough young person, turned down initiation this year in order to repeat her Freshman subjects. Also Amelie Prescott, a typical $X \Omega$, whose departure to L. S. U. we regret so much.

An amusing incident which might interest the fraternity happened last week at the student body meeting. We only needed ten more to make a quorum, so, hearing a loud noise in the hall, the president assumed that at least this number were approaching, and started the meeting, but the crowd proved to be only Elizabeth Hughes and her boon companion, the bobbed hair flapper, H. R. L. P., so we had to go out and get five more.

With such material as this, and our own private musical organization, the Mandolin-Guitar Club; and Mathilde Ross, who is leader of the "Back-to-Nature Complexion Movement," we are looking forward to the most successful year in the history of the chapter.

Dear Sisters in Alpha Omicron Pi:

Having finally overcome the difficulties of our horrid rushing system, and through the hearty co-operation of the non-fraternity world, we have just completed a most successful season. Although Sophomore pledging is the most recent system, accepted by everyone except the fraternities, and we cannot even accept promises from the Freshmen, we are encouraged to say that a small group have come to us and volunteered their desire to be $A O \Pi$'s.

Of these volunteers we wish to mention Totsey Morgan, for whom we had to work so hard; also the matron's daughter, who, having such a sweet and lovable disposition and being a little sister, was a cinch from the start.

As a chapter we have been able to secure several important student offices, by the co-operation of Chi Omega, without the usual resort to politics. In fact, the good will between these two has grown to such an extent that a committee headed by Genevra Washburn and Anola Priestley, joint chairmen, is now working on plans for consolidation, with the purpose of forming one good chapter.

With such material as this, and our church worker, Ernestine Hardtner, and with the help of Mary Bolton, who has turned over her flivver for the use of the chapter, we are looking forward to the most successful year in the history of the chapter.

Dear Sisters in Kappa Kappa Gamma:

Having finally overcome the difficulties of our horrid rushing system, and through the hearty co-operation of the non-fraternity world, we have just completed a most successful season. Although Sophomore pledging is the most recent system, accepted by everyone except the fraternities, and we cannot even accept promises from the Freshmen, we are encouraged to say that a small group have come to us and volunteered their desire to be $K K \Gamma$'s.

Of these volunteers, we wish to mention Beatrice Ford, for whose very presence we must be thankful, even though her delicate constitution prevents her from accepting any responsibility or position of leadership. Another is the daughter of a "prominent judge of New Orleans," who came in most handy during rushing season, as with her elder sister, one of our most attractive actives and one of the staunchest supporters of Pan-Hellenic regulations, they assisted in maintaining a high standard of honesty.

To one of the actives, Evelyn Gladney, the college is deeply indebted for a most constructive criticism as to the administration of the dormitory, her suggestion being that if the price of room and board were raised, a better class of girls would be drawn to the dorm.

With such material as this, and our sister, Bessie Johnson, who, in spite of her fatigue from the social world, makes her sweet, sincere presence felt on the campus, and peppy enthusiastic Mary Roberts, the life of the dormitory, we are looking forward to the most successful year in the history of the chapter.

THE STREET OF PROGRESS

On the street of progress, which is traveled at a rapid pace—individually or collectively—Maison Blanche takes first rank. Today there are more men and women trading at Maison Blanche than ever before in its entire history.

Today is the age of wisdom, for no longer is the public gullible. Our colleges and universities give so complete an education, in every line, that values are recognized on their own merits. An institution is judged by its own standards. A store by the real quality of its merchandise. This means that for a strenuous decade MAISON BLANCHE has withstood the severest tests of needful economy and enduring qualities. Wherefore it has become the "Greatest Store South," and is known far and wide as the outstanding traveler on the

Chapter Letters

Dear Sisters in Phi Mu:

Having finally overcome the difficulties of our horrid rushing system, and through the hearty co-operation of the non-fraternity world, we have just completed a most successful season. Although Sophomore pledging is the most recent system, accepted by everyone except the fraternities, and we cannot even accept promises from the Freshmen, we are encouraged to say that a small group have come to us and volunteered their desire to be Φ M's.

As usual, our chapter has completely mopped up, taking the cream of the campus from Kappa, Pi Phi and Theta. They are a modest coterie—conspicuous for their inconspicuousness. Elizabeth Savage is already promising, having gained much recognition in the dorm.

Among our actives we very much regret to report that Hildegarde Hillman has been reprimanded by the authorities for unlady-like conduct, such as rolled stockings and outrageous flirting at the Cadillac. Frances Marcum is aiding the Medical College in a drive against the poisoning of medics by lip-stick.

With such material as this, and poetic (both in nature and appearance) Florence Brown, and Dorothy Collins, who has already bought her sweater for next year's dancing contest (though of course she's not going in to win), we are looking forward to the most successful year in the history of the chapter.

Dear Sisters in Alpha Delta Pi:

Having finally overcome the difficulties of our horrid rushing system, and through the hearty co-operation of the non-fraternity world, we have just completed a most successful season. Although Sophomore pledging is the most recent system, accepted by everyone except the fraternities, and we cannot even accept promises from the Freshmen, we are encouraged to say that a small group have come to us and volunteered their desire to be Δ Δ II's.

Of these volunteers, we wish to mention Ethel Waters, whom we finally obtained in spite of the opposition of Bernice Thrall; also Mayo Crew, our most persevering debater.

A decided addition to our chapter this year is Virgil Hardon; our last year's transfer from Brenau did much to advertise the name of the fraternity, and we are glad to announce that the second sister is keeping up the good work. Another of the same type is Juanita Gonzalez, who has bravely overcome her great stage-fright, and even consents to appear in public performances.

With such material as this, and care-free Mattie Dickson, and our well-known public-spirited Rose Roy, we are looking forward to the most successful year in the history of the chapter.

Dear Sisters in Alpha Epsilon Phi:

Having finally overcome the difficulties of our horrid rushing system, and through the hearty co-operation of the non-fraternity world, we have just completed a most successful season. Although Sophomore pledging is the most recent system, accepted by everyone except the fraternities, and we cannot even accept promises from the Freshmen, we are encouraged to say that a small group have come to us and volunteered their desire to be Λ E Φ 's.

Of these volunteers whom we obtained after intensive rushing against much competition, we wish to mention poor little Selma Rothenberg, whom we took for charity reasons; also Louise Feilschmidt, who is rapidly rising to a prominent position on the Hullabaloo, financially speaking.

Among the actives who postponed their weddings until after graduation, one of the most prominent is Adeline Levy, whose sweet, seductive voice reminds us of circus day music; another is Elsa Lemle, whose even and submissive disposition promises future happiness to a certain Zeta Beta Tau.

With such material as this, and Erma Stich, who, even though she is taking a very stiff course, has time to go out for all college activities; and Marion Pfeifer, with her singular lack of conceit, we are looking forward to the most successful year in the history of the chapter.

Dear Sisters in Kappa Alpha Theta:

Having finally overcome the difficulties of our horrid rushing system, and through the hearty co-operation of the non-fraternity world, we have just completed a most successful season. Although Sophomore pledging is the most recent system, accepted by everyone except the fraternities, and we cannot even accept promises from the Freshmen, we are encouraged to say that a small group have come to us and volunteered their desire to be K Λ Θ 's.

Of these volunteers we wish to mention Barbara Gessner, whom we chose according to our custom of taking "little sisters." Also Ruth Sanford and Mathilde Talmage—we could not pass these two over, as their beautiful devotion to each other showed such promising and typical Theta tendencies; it has always been a strong point with our chapter that we have not had to go outside our own circles for our crushes, as do Λ O II and X Ω .

We wish to take this opportunity of publicly thanking Margaret Montgomery, who though she did not give much time to our rushing, did help in a small way. One of our literary lights is Elizabeth Sellers, who by her superior ability has made the Arcade what it is today—her revolutionary step of changing the cover design promises to make it yet a readable magazine.

With such material as this and our energetic scion of a French family; and Nellie Britton, who is so broad-minded as to go with people besides Thetas, we are looking forward to the most successful year in the history of the chapter.

New Pan-Hellenic Rulings

N furtherance of the motion passed by the Pan-Hellenic Council to appoint a committee to investigate the affairs of the various academic fraternities, the following rules have been adopted by which all fraternities will henceforth be regulated:

I. PLEDGING REGULATIONS

1. July 4th shall be the pledging day of all academic fraternities.
2. Every student pledged must satisfy the following requirements:
 - a. He shall have passed Freshman Chemistry.
 - b. " " " " " "
 - c. " " " " " "
3. No vocational student can be pledged without the approval of Miss Anna Many, Counsellor to Women at Newcomb.
4. Members of T. N. E. and Kappa Beta Phi need no further recommendation.
5. Students having more than one condition can be initiated if Mr. R. K. Bruff makes a mistake.

Violation of these pledging regulations will be punished by forcing the wayward persons to have the words "Naughty, Naughty" tattooed on their foreheads by the Pan-Hellenic Punishment Committee.

II. CHAPTER HOUSE REGULATIONS

1. (a) No chapter will be allowed to put its letters outside its house unless they are tacked up by the official Pan-Hellenic Tacking Committee.
(b) The letters must not exceed four inches in height.
2. All chapters must serve a uniform meal on Mondays and Saturdays.
3. No fraternity man can eat more than 1 lb. 7.2 ounces of food per day.
4. Talking will not be allowed in chapter houses after 7:19 P. M.
5. Members must be in chapter houses before 9:30 P. M., at which time all windows and doors will be locked. A member of the Pan-Hellenic Vigilance Committee will be stationed at each house to report any violation of this rule.
6. Members must wear pajamas provided by the Pan-Hellenic Council.

Violations of the above house rules will cause the refractory fraternity to be automatically barred from the inter-fraternity lacrosse tournament.

III. RULES FOR SOCIAL FUNCTIONS

1. No fraternity can give more than one dance every six months.
 2. Every student invited must present a certificate of approval from the dean of the college in which he is registered.
 3. No fraternity can invite more than ten members from any other fraternity.
 4. No fraternity can assess its members more than $3.78 per dance unless special permission is granted by a four-fifths vote of the Pan-Hellenic Council.
 5. Decorations for the dance must be approved by the Pan-Hellenic Decoration Committee.
 6. Newcomb Dormitory girls may attend all-night dances if they present a written excuse from Dr. Butler.
 7. Fraternity members cannot break until first receiving the sanction of the members of the Breaking Committee who are present.
 8. The Tulane University Band must provide the music for every dance.
- Violators of these rules must carry a banner on which is written "I disobeyed the Pan-Hellenic Council Dance Committee."

SPHINX CHAPTER

 HIS is an honorary Freshman-Postgraduate Fraternity for the recognition of those who have, by their unusual conduct, perspicacity, etc., etc., performed the greatest amount of work for no one in particular. The election to membership is limited to twice the total registration of Tulane University. A beautiful fancy key is presented to every one of the unfortunates.

HONORARY MEMBERS

Miss Minnie Bell: For allowing "Freedom of Speech" in the library.

Mr. Herman Fair Husted: For laying out a smooth roadway through the campus.

Dr. D. S. Elliott: For beautifying the campus with radio poles.

Miss J. B. Raymond: For making the J. L. House justify its name.

ACTIVE MEMBERS

Merlin Hanson: For making the best cheer-leader ever seen on the campus.

Somers Benedict: For his unselfish advertisement of THE FRAT and our football captain-elect.

Carl Lind: For being Tulane's most valuable athlete. (This honor bestowed upon him by Felix Edw. Hebert).

Walter Jimmie Amoss: For starting Kappa Delta Phi, the new Law fraternity.

Spencer B. McNair: For the victory of the Medics in the Hulabaloo popularity contest.

Douglas Porteous: For his splendid work on the varsity football team.

Charles Wiggins: For the successful Pan-Hellenic dance which he managed.

Leal McLean: For being the personification of Uncle Walt of "Gasoline Alley."

Arthur Delahoussaye: For having discovered the presence of T. N. (C.) E. on the campus.

"Sarge" Newburn: For his untiring efforts to down liquor.

Howard Roehl: For his "Childish" endeavors.

Why There Are No More Straight Hairpins

Just outside the south door of the dormitory there had gathered a host of hairpins, flung from the flurried, hurried heads of the few unbobbed students of Newcomb and probably of the faculty. No, we have no bobbed-hair faculty. How-the-soever, it was a motley bunch of hairpins, and one of the most gossipy imaginable. The crooked hairpins were the ones to tell the gossip and, while the straight ones drew themselves up still straighter, they listened as only straight-laced people do.

"Yes," one old tortoise-shelled pin cried out, "the Dormitory is in a bad way this year."

"That Council!" uttered a little wiry fellow in disgust, "thinks it has only to campus nine people in one night to show that it is not holding meetings just to gossip."

"Oh, I adore gossip," raptured a little hairpin with a sigh, "Now that girl who went to the Delta dance with one of their pledges, A MARRIED MAN!"

"Who, who?" screamed the whole hairpin chorus, but their question remains unanswered.

"Well, I know one girl they call Bopeep, whatever that means, who would not enjoy the popularity she does, did her swains know of the submerged Pan-Hellenic in her jewelry box," piped in a fat old guardian of the locks, just bent with age, "and while Margaret Kemper likes P. K.'s, Alma Potts prefers P. K. A.'s."

"That reduces me," said a tall hairpin, secretly rejoicing in her own slim form, "and while I said reduce, let me tell you about that poor chile, Dorothy Jones. She starved herself so that she fell down from weer sheeriness and skinned both knees and her elbows. Fasting is all right in its place, but that is taking it too far."

"But I've the best scandal of all," cried another hairpin, an old member of the Hump family, "I'd just like to say that it seems to me that a certain Phi Mu sophomore, who takes the vamp parts admirably in parties to Freshmen, and an S. A. E., who really belongs to Frances Marcrum, ought to find a better place to court than the little terrace to the east of the Dormitory. Everything they said and everything their did was heard!"

Hereupon, without notice, every straight hairpin in all that assembly just curled up in disgust and—rusted.

"If"

If I were a prof. at Newcomb College,
Spending my days in imparting knowledge,
I wouldn't wear socks of such brilliant hue
As a certain young gent is wont to do.
Nor would I talk of "my book, book, book,"
'Till all the studes wore a pitiful look;
I wouldn't laugh at my very own joke
And keep on cracking it till they were ready to croak.
You'd never catch me wearing nine undershirts.
I'd never flunk people, 'cause it hurts.
Do you think I'd send scared frosh out o' the room
And cause their young faces to be clouded by gloom?
I wouldn't mark quizzes with queer signs.
I'd never give Latin by the hundred lines.
I'd scorn asking girls, "Do you know you're you?"
Like philosophers think it's their duty to do.
Such daily expressions as these I'd rout:
"My, how pretty you look on the floor of the gym,"
"We'll sing this morn the ninety-ninth hymn,"
"This library's for quiet, young ladies, please hush,"
"Not prepared this morn? Sick?—Pish tush,"
"Do you want it in change, or one bill please?"
"You could have prepared this lesson with ease,"
But if I were a prof. at Newcomb College
I don't guess I'd impart much knowledge.

Courses by Plagiarism

I've taken each course as I found it,
I've passed and I've flunked in my time,
I've had my pick of professors
And four of the lot were prime.

One was a doctor named Bechtel,
Another was Hopkins the Shark,
The third was called Durel; he parled so well;
While Elliot comes in for a bark.

Mathematics I took under Hopkins,
And strict as the devil he were,
He'd say, "Take these problems for home work."
And you meekly replied, "Yes, sir."

I took my French under Durel,
But je ne peut pas talk at all,
He could talk all the time without reason or rime;
And he had me backed to the wall.

'Twas Physics I took under Elliot,
He could ramble on any old line.
Though he talked like a Browning machine-gun,
He was always cut short by the chime.

He showed me the value of short-hand
In taking his notes day by day,
He had quizzes each week for the prompt and
the meek,
But the late he sent empty away.

Then Latin I took under Bechtel,
It filled me with glorious thoughts,
But the best one that ever he taught was,
The plural of nothing is Nauts.

So I bought me a cute Latin pony;
A pocket edition she were,
She carried me through to a seventy-two,
And I learned about Latin from her.

You can talk of your going to college
And getting your "dips" and degrees,
But horses and jacks (if you cover your tracks)
Are the weapons that leave you at ease.

FOR THE DORMITORY ONLY

Palmer: "What is that statue I see out there in the dark?"

Louise: "That's St. George."

Palmer: "Hm—looks more like Major Report to me!"

My Idea of Heaven

Where I will not hear:

1. "Day by day, in every way—."
2. Don't forget there's a meeting at 12:45 today.
3. "Right dress"—especially when I am on the end.
4. You are on the —— committee.
5. Next assembly is compulsory.
6. For Monday we will have a written lesson.
7. Now gurls—I want to read you another favorable review of my book on Employers' Associations.
8. Please wear white tomorrow.
9. I ask you like a friend.
10. (a) Lend me a nickel to phone.
(b) Lend me a sheet of paper.

Where I will hear:

1. There will be no extra sport hour this week.
2. Prof. —— is ill, so the class will not meet today.
3. Due to the U. S. estrangement with England, English history will no longer be taught at Newcomb.
4. I am sending check for your contributions to Cafe Brulo.
5. At the Senior party to the faculty tomorrow the three other classes are cordially invited to come and eat all they want.
6. Due to your judicious expenditure in the past, your allowance has been increased 100 per cent. Signed, Father.
7. All those who have only one class on Saturday may leave Friday for the house party.
8. You may pledge any time during the year.
9. Victrolas, kazoos, ukeleles and hurdy-gurdies are included in the three-mile limit—five-mile limit on Sunday.
10. Any color of stockings may be worn to gym.

Song of Defeated Candidates

Yes, we've taken our fun where we've found it,
We've had of publicity our taste.
For a time we headlined the papers,
All that printing was but a waste.

We're convinced that in looks, brains, and charm,
The "regulars" ain't in our class;
But the "good" have no chance in politics,
This world is so wicked, alas!

We just want our dues, and we'll get 'em!
If we have to sing our own praise,
For though their pictures disfigure this book,
Our song will lengthen its days.

BENSON PRINTING CO. NASHVILLE, TENN.

¶ More than ninety universities, colleges and schools of the South favored us with their Annual printing contracts for the year 1923.

¶ This phenomenal record is the natural result of the high quality of workmanship displayed in all our publications, coupled with the very complete service rendered the Staff.

¶ From the beginning to the end we are your counselor and adviser in the financing, collecting, and editing of your book.

¶ Surely if "Experience is the best teacher," as an old maxim says, then our service must be supreme. Decide right now to know more about our work and service. Simply write for our proposition.
