THIS IS OUR UNIVERSITY

An eternal stream of humanity is the life of Tulane. An integral part of that stream is you, the student. Where you went and the things you did each day were "Tulane, 1961".

The University Center, Gibson Hall, Tulane Stadium . . . all are inanimate objects. But they take on life as you and other students enter. These objects, though they may be only stone, mortar, and steel are brought to life by your acceptance of them in your life. You are the University, and it is toward you that all efforts were guided in capturing your year in pictures and words in the 1961 JAMBALAYA.

But pleasing such varied tastes with originality and thoroughness is no simple task. By constant shuffling and reshuffling, we have attempted to bring you something new through layouts, color, and copy.

There is no dominant theme, no central idea running through the book. The introduction was designed to cover the realities of the year from arrival to graduation by fusing together the four major changeless reflections of Tulane: the Spirit of its people; the Endurance of its facilities and resources; the Stability of its culture and teachings; and the Reward of genuine efforts—the great payoff of its perpetual opportunities . . . a slightly different approach with the same goal in mind—to record the events of the year in a formal "scrapbook" of the personal experiences that shape your memories.

DEDICATION

There are few Tulanians, whether students of Psychology or not, who have not come in contact with the respected Dr. Mann. His accomplishments in the field of Psychology, and his position as Director of the Guidance Office have brought him admirers throughout the University and the country.

Dr. Mann's interests are numerous, and range from his intense devotion to his profession to photography. His talent is evidenced in the color photography and "Endurance pictures" appearing in this publication.

June, 1961, will mark his retirement from the field of education. In slight token of sincere admiration and appreciation of his contributions and inspiration to all who knew him, the staff of the 1961 JAMBALAYA is honored to dedicate his volume to . . . Dr. Cecil W. Mann.

The unbeatable combination of keen perception with the eager "do-ability" of youth, through planning and action, perpetuates opportunities with such stimulation that one cannot escape a pulsating feeling of "go" all about.

ARRIVAL ...

Whether for the first time or the fifth, we arrive together in the fall and don our other faces for the year. To the freshmen it's new and strange, and even to the rest of us there is a mixture of the new with the old. A new face, a new course, a new instructor, but the paths are old and well-beaten. To the most tempered scholar there is an excitement, a sense of new horizons. So the clothes go in the closet, the books back on the shelf, and we open the door on another year.

For the new freshmen, orientation is the first contact with the serious world of the University. Here is the first glimpse of the patterns and people who, for four years, will shape their lives. It's dull at times, but it's another part of beginning.

Fall arrival signifies the beginning of a new year.

RUSH...ORIENTATION

How many fraternity men have said, "If I could just go through rush again, now that I know what was going on." And how many rush captains would say, "Thank God they can't." Whether a rushee or rushing, the annual ritual of choosing pledges is uniquely fascinating. A kaleidoscopic whirl of parties, meetings, conversations and faces.

The women do it a little differently, of course. More ordered. More sedate. But behind it all are the same breathless questions. Will we get her? Will they take me? Halfway through the week it seems time has stopped, and the madness will go on forever. Then, one Sunday, rush week is over, the sun shines on new pledge pins and new faces. Faces for which the world will never be the same again.

The clothing essentials have not quite adjusted to the compact car look,

They are not unlike other college women, except that they are Newcomb women. They are different because of their personalities, their traditions and their individual purposes. The Newcomb "way" comes quickly to the newly exposed. Rain coats over bermudas, gab sessions after dates, books with crests on the dust covers—they are all a little bit of Newcomb. And when Saturday night comes they are chic of clothes and hairdo, sophisticated in manner, womanly in their ways. They belong to Tulane as much as to themselves. They and we understand these intangibles.

TRADITIONS

Some days and events belong to Tulane alone. These are our traditions. In the fall it's football–Homecoming and L.S.U. Derby Day and Engineering Week. Christmas Night and Graduation morning. In the Spring we invite our mothers and fathers for Parents' Day, our hometown sweethearts for the fraternity dances. At Newcomb, the Juniors steal the Seniors' caps and gowns. The girls stand the girls in the Powder Puff Bowl. These are the big things-the ones we plan and look forward to.

Just as traditional are our special ways of spending Saturday afternoons, our coffee breaks and library dates, our favorite restaurants, Campus Cops and campus dogs. PEOPLE ¹Fhere is only one movement in a university. Its people. Their goings and comings, studying and laughing, stoppings and turnings, doings and being make up our world. They do things as groups, as clubs, as classes, as teachers, writers, politicians, athletes, students and friends. And they do things as themselves. We know their faces and names and deeds. We know their disappointments and rewards. We like them and dislike them either for what they are or what they pretend to be. These are Tulane people. They make it go.

OF ITS FACILITIES AND RESOURCES . .

The strength of the physical plant stems from a continuous struggle to expand and improve. The sinews of buildings and surroundings, hardened and flexed, are traced to more than a century of planning and execution of development programs.

to by Dr. Cecil W. Munn

Beneath the people and events there is a hardness that endures. Beneath the leaves and flowers of our season, it sees another Spring. It is buildings and quadrangles and administrators. It is a way of doing things. It changes but slowly, manifested here and there in a new building, a new president, a new regulation. It is the part of the University that remembers the class before and plans for the one to come. It's the part we'll come back to see in 10, 20, or 50 years.

OF ITS CULTURE AND TEACHINGS . .

Constancy is a quality of the people whether in their ready friendliness or in their search for newer frontiers. The University is literally freekled with diversified, competent educational staffs and facilities. Their influence is felt in the conditioned poise and appreciation of the students who move easily from a class to a test, from a lecture to a concert.

RESEARCH

While last year's knowledge is being handed down in classrooms and laboratories, the search continues for new facts and new relationships that guide the coming term. In test tubes, fossils, cyclotrons, and in the minds and bodies of men, Tulane people are searching for knowledge. Between the lines of a poem, the edges of a canvas, the keys of a piano, the characters of a play, Tulane people are looking for knowledge. Most of what they find will not appear in the news. It will go between the covers of journals, be read from papers at academic and professional meetings. It will be bound, numbered, catalogued, and placed in libraries between the things we discovered yesterday and the things we will find tomorrow. Separately the papers and facts will cause no revolutions, but together they will write the name Tulane upon the future.

CLASSES

There is a routine in our existence. It may be Monday-Wednesday-Friday at 8, or Tuesday-Thursday-Saturday at 11. It may be Taylor, Riess, or Franklin-English, Physics, or Contracts. It could be HB 101, or GH 424, or even NH 222. Whatever the names or the numbers, the succession of classes is our life. With them come the midnight typewriters, daybreak in the lab, books, notebooks, pens, rulers, erasers, libraries, outlines, and exams. From them we take the information, the techniques, and the talents as we want and need. Today it seems they are endless, but tomorrow it will seem as though we had barely begun.

CHARACTER

The bricks of our education are mortared with experience and smoothed by the gentler fingers of art and life. From lectures and concerts, bull sessions and bridge games, we take home the new ideas that will build us new purposes. The ideas we share in the cafeteria, the music we hear in McAlister, the films we see in Dixon Hall are the catalysts that put together thought and action. There is an art or an idea for everybody. And there is a place in us for every art and idea.

We did what was required on Monday, we had a lab on Tuesday, a paper due Wednesday, a big meeting Thursday, and we took the test on Friday. We had a short lecture Saturday morning, but after that—the weekend belonged to us.

PARTIES

With our date, or our roommates, or the guy down the hall—we went to parties. In fraternity houses, French Quarter apartments, private homes, and in our own dorms we danced and joked and drank a little now and then. We tried to forget the week before—tried not to think about the week ahead. We had a great time on Saturday—we recovered on Sunday, but Monday it will all begin again.

Then there are beach parties and Sunday cocktails—baseball and track. There are afternoons in the park, evenings on the beach, and ... Ah! Spring.

GRADUATION

A solemn procession moves from the Library to Gibson Hall Quad. And it is moving from the University into the world. For this is Graduation . . . the day that seemed so distant yesterday. When we wake tomorrow things will seem remarkably the same. We will feel no wiser, no more certain, perhaps no different at all. But there will be a difference, and what a difference it will make.

Commensurate with graduation are the commissioning ceremonies for all ROTC graduates.

Dr. Longenecker discusses current problems with Pan-Hellenic officers, Nelson Castellano and Bennet Powell.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

To the Class of 1961:

As you are the first graduating class of my administration at Tulane, the day of your Commencement will always be an especially memorable occasion for me.

Your graduation is, however, no occasion for bidding you farewell. Many of you will remain here for further study in the graduate or professional divisions. None of you will really leave Tulane, for your educational experience is a permanent part of you and will be a determining influence in the rest of your life.

As the years go by, the University will continue to take pride in your advancements. We hope that you will remain interested in Tulane and in the continuing growth of its ability to provide for each of its students the range and quality of educational opportunity required in this fast-moving and ever-changing world.

Tulane University is a privately administered, non-denominational University governed by a selfsustaining board, incorporated as the Administrators of the Tulane Educational Fund. The original membership was named by Paul Tulane, for whom the University is named, to receive and administer Mr. Tulane's gifts. The Board is composed of prominent Louisiana citizens. In addition to the members, the Board consists of three ex-officio members including the governor of Louisiana, the Mayor of New Orleans, and the State Superintendent of Education.

It is through the guidance of these Administrators that Tulane is able to continue its outstanding work in research and educational service as well as all other phases of higher learning.

BOARD OF ADMINISTRATORS

OFFICERS OF ADMINISTRATION

The day to day administration of University affairs is directed by a group of officers, composed of Vice-Presidents, Deans, Directors, and others who are in charge of the various departments and divisions of the University. It is through the efforts of each of these that Tulane students are counseled, advised, informed, and serviced. The Tulane student can benefit much by advice from any of these because each is a specialist in his respective field.

The University is proud of these men and women for the essential part they play in the conduct of University affairs and for their dedicated work.

Tulane's Student Program has true and definite aims—to enable the student to complement his formal studies with social and cultural growth, to give him opportunities to develop his interests and appreciations through companionship and, not the least of these, to help make his college years enjoyable both in actuality and in retrospect.

New facilities—residence halls, dining areas, athletic fields and courts, health services, and the splendid University Center—have kept pace with the demands created by the increasingly in-residence character of the student body for a full campus life.

TULANE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The Tulane Alumni Association was incorporated in 1898, dedicated to broad principles of loyalty and service to the University and its Alumni. During the past sixty-one years it has grown from a few local alumni to a world-wide organization of more than 35,000 members living in each of the fifty states and in sixty-six foreign countries.

The Alumni Fund, inaugurated fifteen years ago, has provided more than $2,000,000.00 in annual giving for the needs of the University. The Association's other contributions to higher education have been equally important. The annual Tulane Conferences, presented by the Association and Alumni clubs, bring to many Southern cities programs in the specialized fields of science, the humanities, law, medicine, engineering, social work, etc.

Other activities include Homecoming, reunions, local clubs and publications for the alumni.

The Newcomb Alumnae Association is composed of some 8,200 alumnae, graduates, and non-graduates. The office is in the Tulane Alumni House, where files are kept containing current addresses of former students. Clubs of alumnae are located in leading cities.

The Association has two national meetings annually, at Homecoming in the fall and at Commencement in the spring. All former students are considered members of the Association.

Dean John H. Stibbs. Dean of Students, and Mr. Einar Pedersen, Assistant to the Dean of Students serve as advisors to the Council. This year the Council has been under the leadership of Henry Blake, a senior in Business Administration. Dick Shenk served as Vice-President, Meade Fowlkes as Secretary, Bill Argus as Representative at Large, and Steve Shamberg as President of the University Center Board. Besides acting as a voice of the students, the Council has direct control over student organizations and the budgeting concerning all student affairs.

The Newcomb Student Council represents the major division of student government, being composed of class presidents, school presidents, major school organization presidents, and Student Body Officers. UNIVERSITY CENTER

This year the Tulane University Center Board celebrated its second anniversary. The Board, made up of the chairmen of the thirteen University Center Committees and four officers, is the overall programming, planning, co-ordinating, and governing body for the University Center.

Some two-hundred students make up the membership of the individual committees. Programs put on in the U.C. are all planned and staged by the committee members.

Although the University Center is only two years old, this year's activities of the Board were varied and extensive. Big name entertainers in the persons of Dave Gardner and Roger Williams were brought to the campus by the Special Events and Music Committees. Sixteen of the world's best films, both foreign and domestic, were presented in two film series by the Fine Arts Committee. Dances were staged throughout the year by the Lagniappes Committee. These dances included the Homecoming and the Spring Dance with Woody Herman.

Programs for and about Tulane's international students were conducted by the Cosmopolitan Committee. Special dinners and films devoted to various foreign countries were regular features. Visitors to the campus were treated royally and given special tours as part of the activities of the Hospitality Committee. The visitors included such people as Malcolm Muggeridge and Aaron Copland and foreign personalities.

Many of Tulane's students and faculty are very talented and were given a chance to perform in talent shows put on by the Spotlighters Committee. New clubs and groups were formed under the auspices of the Recreation and Hobbies and Crafts Committees. Some of these included photography, bridge, bowling, billiard, and card clubs. A completely equipped tool room was installed in the basement of the U.C. for those who have an interest in crafts.

The efforts of many committees were combined for the presentation of a Fine Arts Festival during the month of April. Lectures, films, concerts, and exhibits were part of the Festival devoted to the fine arts—music, jazz and classical; creative writing; ceramics, sculpture, painting, films, and theatre.

Looking to the future, the University Center Board intends to further its activity by providing Tulane students, faculty, alumni and guests with more and varied programs in all fields. SUSAN PACE Vice-President for Administration

TULANE INTER-HOUSE COUNCIL

The Tulane Inter-House Council is the governing board of the dormitory residents, composed of the Presidents of each of the Houses and a representative from each. The President is elected from the entire population of dormitory residents, and represents no particular House.

The principal duty of the organization is trying all quadrangle violations, and hearing appeals from the various House Council cases. Besides this duty, the Council publishes a quadrangle newspaper, sponsors Homecoming decoration contests, supervises the orientation program at the beginning of the year, and sponsors a needy family at Christmas and an Inter-House Spring Social. The Resident Student Government Association is composed of all residents of the dormitories, and its purpose is to develop an efficient system of self-government among the students in all matters relating to the conduct of the members individually and as a social group. The duty of the Councils is to see that judicial decisions and legislative resolutions of the Association are carried into effect and to execute the decrees of the Inner Council in matters not covered by such legislative resolutions. The Inner Council has the power of making rules, of inflicting penalties, and of enforcing penalties to the degree which they find necessary.

The success of the Association depends upon each individual member who is responsible for upholding its standards. By this, she is entitled to the privileges of selfgovernment.

SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

The Tulane School of Medicine, organized in 1834 as the Medical College of Louisiana, was the first medical college in the Deep South or Southwest. From an institution established to train physicians to combat the discases peculiar to the area, Tulane medical school has grown into an institution of learning as broad as the entire area of medical knowledge. Its services are international in scope. Its research programs are supported by grants amounting to $30,000,000 a year.

Its fifteen departments, representing the basic medical sciences and the several clinical specialties, are housed in three buildings. The Richardson Memorial Building and Dinwiddie Hall are located on the main University campus, and the Hutchinson Memorial Building is located in downtown New Orleans, adjacent to the Charity Hospital of Louisiana at New Orleans.

The medical student body and faculty profit from nine annual lectureships. At the Annual Ivy Day exercises, nineteen awards are presented to members of the senior class who have distinguished themselves in their studies. An annual Senior Scientific Session affords an opportunity for selected senior students to present results of their research projects. In addition to the lectureships, four medical fraternities sponsor a variety of social functions during the year, a principal event being the annual Cadaver Ball.

SCHOOL OF LAW

The Tulane School of Law, established in 1847, has long enjoyed a distinguished reputation for training students in the fields of civil and comparative law, as well as for training students to be thoroughly grounded and highly principled practicing lawyers. The unique legal history of Louisiana, combined with the geographical position and Latin culture of New Orleans, makes it particularly appropriate that Tulane Law School should attract and serve a varied group of students with a diversity of legal programs.

A distinguished feature of Tulane School of Law is that its instruction is offered to a select student body of ideal size. The relatively small student body, taught by a highly qualified faculty that takes a personal interest in each student, generates an enthusiasm and high morale which make the task of studying law a rich and rewarding experience.

The old and imposing structure of Tilton Memorial, the "new" Zemurray Law Dorm, tutorials, seminar classes, cases to be briefed, Tulane Law Review, Moot Court, Legal Aid, Derby Day and the Barristers' Ball– all are integral parts of the law students' varied activities at Tulane School of Law; all constitute a mixture of academic and recreational activities that go toward developing the whole lawyer and the whole man.

GRADUATE SCHOOL AND SOCIAL WORK

The Tulane Graduate School, established in 1883-1884, is the training ground for college professors and research scholars, and offers programs leading to the degrees of Master of Arts, Master of Science, Master of Fine Arts, Master of Arts in Teaching, and Master of Education. It also offers a Ph.D. in twenty-eight fields, and in certain areas is the only school in the South to offer this traditionally highest academic degree. The Graduate School is undergoing very rapid development, having more than doubled its enrollment in the past four years, and attracts graduate students from some four hundred different institutions in all parts of the world.

The Tulane University School of Social Work was organized in 1921 and expanded in 1927 under a Rockefeller Foundation grant. Here specialists in human relations are trained and, as graduates of the School, they make up the staffs of federal, state, and private welfare agencies and institutions. The School offers a two year curriculum, leading to the Master's degree, for work in such fields as family casework, medical and psychiatric social work, child welfare, and social welfare planning. In addition to their classroom studies, social work students are assigned two and a half days a week to various New Orleans social agencies for field instruction. Beginning in the Fall of 1961, the School of Social Work will offer a Third Year Residency program in practice, and a doctoral program leading to the Ph.D. in Social Welfare.

Graduate student furthers his technical and specialized studies.

ARTS AND SCIENCES

The college of Arts and Sciences, Tulane's liberal arts division for men, is the largest division of the University for full-time students. It offers curricula leading to the B.A., B.S., and B.F.A. degrees for its own students and general-education courses in the curricula of the schools of Architecture, Business Administration, and Engineering. It also provides many faculty members of University College and the Graduate School. Many of the Arts and Sciences classes are held in Gibson Hall, the oldest building on campus, but the College also makes use of all or parts of more than a dozen other buildings.

Major emphasis in the College in recent years has been on the pursuit of excellence in both instruction and research. Admissions standards have been raised; the quality-of-work rules for remaining in school have been made more exacting; the faculty has been strengthened by the addition of new members; and special programs have been developed for superior students.

Language labs aid conversational proficiency.

NEWCOMB COLLEGE

Newcomb College was established in 1886 by Mrs. Josephine Louise Newcomb as a memorial to her only daughter, Harriott Sophie, who died at the age of fifteen. Newcomb was the first co-ordinate college for women in the United States. As such it enjoys its own buildings and campus, its distinct traditions and history, and its own faculty, thus preserving the congenial atmosphere of a small liberal arts college. Yet there is no academic, cultural, or social isolation. As an integral component of a major university system, Newcomb offers its students the manifold benefits attendant to Tulane. In terms of library resources, the great variety of course offerings, and the caliber of instruction assured by the presence of a Graduate School of recognized excellence, Newcomb is indeed rich in its ability to offer a truly liberal education.

SCHOOL OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

To educate men and women for careers in Business Management the School of Business Administration provides an undergraduate division and a graduate division. The undergraduate division offers a four-year program integrating a broad selection of studies in the Sciences and Humanities with professional courses designed to engender a thorough knowledge of sound business principles.

The graduate division offers a two-year program designed to acquaint students with the application of analytical techniques to the solution of business problems. In addition to these instructional activities, the faculty of the School serves the business community through engaging in Economic and Business Research. The instructional and research programs have earned for Tulane's School of Business Administration a national reputation for quality and excellence.

SCHOOL OF ARCHITECTURE

Tulane University began offering a full Architecture curriculum in 1907. Thus, there is a long unbroken tradition which establishes the School as an early exponent of architectural education at the collegiate level in this country.

The School offers a five year program leading to the Bachelor of Architecture degree, and has as its first objective the professional qualification of its students to practice architecture. The one hundred and forty students and some twenty faculty members, with many others in the University cooperating, seek the fulfillment of this objective in their joint effort to identify the decisive forces of the twentieth century, an understanding of which offers the only hope of deliverance from environmental chaos. Putting these forces to constructive and imaginative use is a large task; it can be performed only by men and women who are competent both in the art and science of building, and who are, at the same time, liberally educated so as to have meaningful cultural motivations.

Long hours are spent in precision type work.

From survival shelters to entire cities, the Architects display their concepts.

SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING

The Tulane School of Engineering offers both graduate and undergraduate programs to prepare its students for careers in professional practice, teaching, and research in the areas of chemical, civil, electrical, and mechanical engineering. Tulane graduates have pioneered many engineering developments both locally and nationally.

Engineering students have the opportunity to take advantage of the unusual features of the school, which include the Chemical Engineering Practice School held at the Shell Oil Company Refinery at Norco, Louisiana; the experimental research frame in Civil Engineering, an anechoic chamber for research in sound in Electrical Engineering, and a gas dynamics and propulsion laboratory in mechanical engineering.

Students participate in the numerous student engineering societies' functions, the year being highlighted by the annual St. Patrick's Day Dance. On the more academic side, the engineering students aspire to Tau Beta Pi and to recognition on Honors Night, stepping stones to greater achievement in professional practice.

Electrical engineers tackle intricate problem.

Surveying labs give engineers a chance for practical application of classroom explanations.

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE AND SUMMER SCHOOL

The history of adult education at Tulane goes back for more than one hundred years, but the most important date in the records is the establishment of University College in 1942, primarily for evening and part-time students. In addition to its degree programs-Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Commercial Science, and Bachelor of Medical Technology-University College offers a wide variety of certificate programs equivalent to two years of full-time college study. Recent years have seen the rapid expansion of non-credit programs for adults-informal seminars and "tailor-made" courses designed to meet the specific needs of groups in the community. Nearly onefourth of the two thousand five hundred students currently enrolled in University College are registered in such non-credit courses. The faculty of University College consists chiefly of members selected from the regular teaching staffs of other divisions of the University and of recognized authorities drawn from the community to teach specific subjects or courses.

The Tulane Summer School conducts a twelve week session in which courses are offered from the curricula of the College of Arts and Sciences, Newcomb College, Business Administration, Engineering and Graduate School. The credits earned in the Summer School may be applied in those colleges, as well as in colleges of other universities offering similar programs. The session is divided into two six week terms, except for evening courses which are conducted on the basis of a single longer term. A student may enroll in either term or both, and earn a semester's credit in a subject for each six week term. In addition to the regular courses the Summer School also offers several workshops and institutes in certain fields, as well as a program in English and Orientation for foreign students.

Court and ROTC escorts at Alumni House prior to Homecoming game.

HOMECOMING

The autumn season continues to usher in one of Tulane's most anticipated and exciting celebrations, Homecoming. The whole of the University rallies to one of its most spirited occasions when the returning alumni are especially welcomed once again, when fraternities and sororities begin their concentrated competition for awards in Homecoming decorations, and when the student body makes its selection of its Homecoming Queen and her Court.

The Alumni Dance was highlighted by the presentation of Tulane's 1960 Homecoming Queen, lovely Miss Joan Girot, and the maids in her Court: Miss Joni Carlin, Miss Lynn Orkin, Miss Anne Davis, Miss Gnann Williams, Miss Joanne Wolf, and Miss Anne Wood.

The major festivities began early Saturday morning with the judging of the colorful decorations of fraternity and sorority houses, which were later open to visiting alums throughout the afternoon. The game later that evening against the College of William and Mary was interrupted at halftime for the traditional presentation of the Queen and Court. Following the game everyone gathered at the annual Homecoming Dance which climaxed the Homecoming festivities.

IF THE NORTH HAD WON THE WAR

MARDI GRAS WEEKEND

As the traditional New Orleans Carnival Season drew near, Tulane once again sponsored its own collegiate version of a Mardi Gras spectacular. The weekend of February third and fourth was selected by the Special Events Committee of the University Center Board, just one week before the authentic New Orleans festivities.

A barbecue and dance opened the weekend fun. The clever theme of the dance . . . "If the North Had Won the War" . . . a bit confusing on first glance, but to the delight of all Southerners (and to the amusement of our Yankee nomads), was carried out with clever decorations. The students danced to the very "southern" music of the "Royal Dukes of Rhythm."

The newly initiated competitive spirit of the Mardi Gras weekend culminated on Saturday evening with a parade of the Krewe of Tulane in which fraternities and sororities challenged each other with decorated floats. Sigma Chi was awarded for the most original float, and Sigma Delta Tau contributed the most outstanding design. Perhaps the most anticipated event was the presentation of the recently elected "Campus Lover" of Tulane, King of the Tulane Mardi Gras. Each fraternity had entered a member to compete for this distinguished title which finally went to Mr. Aavron Fogleman of Zeta Beta Tau. The parade was followed by a dance in the University Center to the music of Aaron Neville's band. The weekend resulted in putting everyone into the spirit of New Orleans Mardi Gras a week before its arrival.

Bongo bedlam.

Avron Fogelman accepts crown of "Campus Lover."

1961 JAMBALAYA

There have been over sixty editions of the Tulane JAMBALAYA. We of the 1961 staff are proud and happy to be able to contribute one more in a long list of sincere efforts that we hope you will feel, as we do, to be the finest to date.

Few realize the tremendous amount of effort that is put forth to capture a year at Tulane in pictures and words in some sense of order and completeness. Work on the book is started in the summer in planning what sort of creation will be most pleasing to you, the critics. It is the fulfillment of these plans that necessitates the months of picture-taking, sorting, filing, captioning, and making still more plans to reach the final objective.

If one were to ask what the editor's job was, you would have to answer, "To put out a yearbook." True enough but in actuality it is the staff that makes the book possible; and the neglect of any one of them could mean total disablement. They are the ones who do the work, take the criticism, and perform those many thankless little tasks necessary in reaching the deadlines that approach all too quickly.

One may wonder why anyone would go through all this. As is necessary in any well-oiled organization, there is more than enough time spent in idle chatter, subtle sarcasm, and just plain fun so characteristic of the JAMB staff over the years. New faces come and go, but it's the same spirit day after day.

To these new faces and particularly to the old ones goes most of the credit. To those unnamed and not pictured goes the rest, especially to the man behind the scenes, Mr. Dan Eadie of the Benson Printing Company, who carried on in his fine tradition as "Johnny on the spot."

The Hullabaloo this year continued its policy of presenting to the student body a clear, objective account of news of importance to the campus community. Under the guidance of Editor-in-Chief John J. Cassel and the careful eye of Managing Editor George E. Foster, the Hullabaloo gave the students an organ of interest and controversy.

In accordance with tradition, the Hullabaloo adopted a policy of Conservatism and was the recipient of many attacks-sometimes warranted and sometimes unwarranted-for failing to give the "liberals" on campus a chance to express their views. A head-on collision with the members of the graduate departments of political science and sociology and anthropology added to the eventful occurrences of the year.

Through the voice of the editorial page, the Hullabaloo called for an end to extreme federal government spending; the formation of a third party; an end to the trend toward centralization of power.

On the lighter side, the Hullabaloo fostered a policy of improving school spirit with complete coverage and editorial comment on intercollegiate sporting events.

Students were offered a look at the latest in the world of entertainment through Alan Guma's "Going's On" column; and a chance to gripe through the "Letters to the Editor" column. Columnist Steve Goldware provided readers with much controversy and food for thought.

TULANE STUDENT DIRECTORY

The Student Directory provides a most helpful listing of all full-time students' names, local and home addresses, telephone numbers, year and school, and all the campus organizations. This year found a successful innovation of last year's initiation of the use of IBM, the inclusion of departmental listings, the Tulane-Newcomb Junior Year Abroad, and modernized cover design.

THE WAVE HANDBOOK

The "Wave," the University handbook, is primarily for the benefit of incoming students. It contains pertinent information, both academic and social, which is needed to introduce these students to Tulane and help them find their way around. The expanded "Wave," initiated last year, proved most successful with an expanded staff under the guidance of Editor, Edgar Hull.

 The Tulane Law Review is a professional legal journal which is published quarterly by the students and faculty of the School of Law. The "Review," the oldest journal of its kind in Louisiana, emphasizes the study of comparative law and contains articles by leading members of the legal profession. A student section, which deals with current legal problems, is prepared by members of the Student Board of Editors, which is composed of honor students in the School of Law who have exhibited outstanding legal writing ability.

WTUL

WTUL is Tulane's student-operated campus radio station. It broadcasts music, news, and special events to all residence halls twenty-four hours per day. The station's second year of operation saw many technical improvements, increased programming variety, and more comprehensive news coverage.

The format centered around pop-standard music, with daily programs of classical music and rock 'n' roll, as well as weekly shows devoted exclusively to jazz and Broadway cast recordings. A Continental flair was introduced by three weekly programs from the French Broadcasting Company, which presented classical, popular, and folk music of France.

WTUL listeners were kept informed of the latest world happenings through the facilities of United Press International. Five daily five-minute newscasts were supplemented by the daily fifteen-minute "World in Review," New Orleans' most comprehensive news program.

THE CREW-Karen Pevow, Logan Perkins, Phyllis Alexander, Nelson Becker, Lynn Orkin, Jim David, Jerry Burford.

CHEERLEADERS

Cheering the team on field and court, the Cheerleaders exhibited great spirit as they backed the Green Wave during the 1960-61 sports year. They carried the "Hullabaloo" to all corners of the southland while backing the teams on the road; while at home they sparked enthusiasm at pre-game rallies and bonfires. As usual they were active and enthusiastic members of such spirit organizations as Tusk and Greenbackers, as well as many other campus activities.

Leading the group this year was Lynn Orkin, most capably supported by Karen Pevow, Logan Perkins, Phyllis Alexander, Nelson Becker, Jerry Burford, and Jim David.

TUSK

The Tulane University Spirit Club is an honorary spirit organization composed of members elected by majority vote of the active membership of the club and represents all the fraternities, sororities, and independents on campus. The organization's main desire is to foster school spirit throughout the year.

This year TUSK was in charge of pep rallies, bonfires, the shaker section for the L.S.U. and Vanderbilt games, as well as decorating the goal posts and co-sponsoring pep dances. TUSK was also responsible for the flower arrangement at the Vanderbilt game. Second semester found its members participating in Campus Carnival, various services designated by the Student Council and Student Activities Board, and promoting spirit for the basketball team. It is through the efforts of these students that the growing school spirit at Tulane is fostered.

GREENBACKERS

Greenbackers is the oldest spirit organization on the Tulane-Newcomb campus. Members are chosen on an honorary basis based upon their interest in school spirit, school activities, and upon their willingness to work. The members of Greenbackers are representative of all the fraternities, sororities, and independents on campus.

During the year, Greenbackers was in charge of planning and promoting pep rallies, decoration of goal posts for home football games, and, in addition, sponsoring the student trains to the Georgia Tech and Vanderbilt football games.

As in the past, plaques were given to senior basketball players at the end of the season; but a new touch was added when Emille Parre, of Pat O'Briens, was presented with an honorary membership and Greenbackers jacket at the L.S.U. basketball game for being the most rabid "Greenies" fan of all.

ALPHA PHI OMEGA

Alpha Phi Omega is a national service fraternity composed of former scouts. The fraternity's purpose is to assemble college men in the fellowship of the scout oath and law, to develop friendship and to serve the school, community, and nation.

Orientation tours for Freshman, aiding with the party for children of Tulane students and faculty at Christmas, decoration of the Campus Christmas Tree, and coordination of Campus Carnival in the spring are among the many activities of Alpha Phi Omega.

HISTORY OF MEDICINE SOCIETY

The Tulane History of Medicine Society has, for over twenty years, provided the medical student with an opportunity to learn the exciting heritage of his chosen profession on a voluntary basis. The society, the only University-sponsored medical organization, features historical presentations by students, faculty members, and guests.

The annual banquet at the close of the school year is highlighted by the presentation of awards to three students whose papers have been selected as most outstanding during the year. The awards are: The Rudolph Matas Award for the best paper, the I. F. Lemann Award for the best discussion of a paper, and the B. B. Weinstein Award for the most original paper. In addition, the banquet features an outstanding guest speaker, who presents the annual B. B. Weinstein Lectureship Series lecture.

MOOT COURT

The Moot Court, organized on a competitive basis, conducts a program designed to give all law students experience in preparing and arguing cases under actual courtroom conditions. Justices of the Moot Court consist of junior and senior law students selected on the basis of scholarship. The Chief Justice and the Recorder are elected from the membership.

The climax of the competition is in the third year, when the two teams who have survived the preliminary elimination rounds argue before the Supreme Court of the State of Louisiana.

The Moot Court carries out its duties under the able guidance of Leon D. Hubert, Jr., faculty adviser.

TULANE MARKETING CLUB

The Tulane Marketing Club was organized in the spring of 1957 as the campus affiliation of the American Marketing Association. Since then it has played an important role in acquainting the students of marketing with the opportunities and problems arising in the business world. Through numerous guest speakers representing companies noted for their contributions to the marketing field-such as Esso Company, Proctor and Gamble, U.S. Steel, WDSU-TV-they are able to develop sound thinking in marketing theory and a more exact knowledge of marketing principles and their practical application. Following the meetings are luncheons where the students are able to talk to the speakers personally, thereby allowing them to promote friendly relations with the business world. As campus affiliates of the American Marketing Association, the members are guests at the Association's monthly meetings; therefore enabling them to broaden their marketing knowledge and acquaintances.

The principal objectives of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers are to broaden the student's acquaintance with the practical side of mechanical engineering and to meet the men engaged in this field as a profession. To accomplish these objectives, the Tulane student branch holds monthly meetings. Aside from the normal run of business at the meetings, speakers from industry come to lecture. To complement these meetings, field trips out into industry are made to see how the modern industry of today operates.

Each spring, the Tulane student branch attends a Regional Convention. Many schools from Texas and Louisiana participate in the convention which usually runs for three days during which seminars are held on various subjects.

Founded in 1908, the American Institute of Chemical Engineering maintains over one hundred student chapters in colleges and universities through the United States and Canada. The Tulane Chapter is organized in an attempt to better familiarize the student with the professional as well as the technical aspects of his chosen field. Members are afforded the opportunity of learning the specific phases of chemical engineering from talks by scientists and engineers in industry, educational movies depicting various processes, and field trips to nearby plants. Each year the local chapter sponsors the trip to the A.I.Ch.F. Southern Regional Convention, held on the campus of a member school.

The A.I.Ch.E. serves as a bridge in helping the student prepare for the day when he too will try his skill in the world of industry.

Through the Student Branch organization, the students become acquainted with professional engineers in the surrounding areas. Humorous skits given by the many classics classes provided entertainment, which was followed by Latin carols and refreshments. Of special interest to Oreades is the influence that classics have made on our life today. An excellent example here in New Orleans is the Carnival Season and those unpronouncable streets Melpomene and Terpsichore. The new initiates plan a program each spring along these lines. This year the Young Democrats opened the election year with an all-out membership drive, which successfully turned out fifty members. Work was begun to build up enthusiasm over the coming election by having several speakers from the state democratic committee, who talked on the democratic platform and the candidates themselves.

Members were also on the committee which planned city-wide welcomes for such leaders as Sen. Eugene McCarthy, Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn, and Vice-Presidential candidate Lyndon Johnson.

The main objective during the later campaign months was to contribute to the city-wide campaign in as many ways as possible. For instance, such things as making posters, spreading circulars and debating with the Young Republicans of Tulane were some contributions. And on election day help was given in arranging transportation, along with assisting at the polls.

After a successful election, activities were directed to other matters, for example, organized discussions on many of the problems with which the new administration is trying to cope.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS

The purposes of the Tulane Young Republican Club are political action and political education. The Young Republican's gain experience in practical politics at the local level by working for the election of Republican candidates, while promoting the principles of Republican conservatism through sponsoring prominent speakers, debates, and social functions. This year's activities were highlighted by the presidential campaign, during which Young Republicans met Vice-President Nixon at Lafayette, La., cosponsored the appearance of Sen. Barry Goldwater at the Loyola Fieldhouse, manned the polls and had an election night party at which sorrows were effectively drowned. Spring undertakings included working for the election of a Republican city councilman, an all-day picnic across the lake in May, and hosting the Young Republican Southern Convention and political workshop in June.

TULANE UNIVERSITY BAND

Drawing its membership from all colleges of the University, the Tulane University Band with its renowned director-composer, John J. Morrissey, is considered to be one of the finest concert bands in the south. The band provides entertainment for students and townspeople through several appearances during the year in which a wide variety of music is played.

One of the highlights of the year is the annual four day tour when the band spreads the fame of Tulane by playing for high schools in many of the larger Southern cities. The biggest event of the year, however, is the Annual Spring Concert when an outstanding program, often featuring new works by John Morrissey, it presented on three consecutive nights.

TULANE PEP BAND

Bright green-striped blazers and spirited music are familiar characteristics of the Tulane Pep Band, a group which contributes to the increasing school spirit of Tulane. TULANE UNIVERSITY THEATRE

The Tulane University Theater (TUT) is composed of participants in two of the four major productions offered by the Tulane Theater Department. Tryouts for any phase of the productions, cast or crew, are open to the members of the student body, faculty and staff.

With the addition of the new Arena Theater, TUT has been able to expand its activities in the past year. Utilizing both the original TUT Playhouse and the Arena Theater, productions have been increased from four to seven. The Playhouse is used as a showcase for the graduate students in theater who are working for M.F.A. acceptance, while the theater faculty directs the plays in the round.

The productions this year have varied in size, scope, and variety from Shakespeare to Becket and Miller. The addition of the doctoral program as well as the new theater in the round have increased the already high regard for the Tulane Theater Department which is held throughout the country.

CAMPUS NITE

Campus Nite is now in its twelfth year of production. It is a completely original musical comedy: the script, music, sets, and costumes are all products of the skill and hard work of Tulane and Newcomb students.

This year's show, entitled "Grapes of Rath," told the story of the problems of Samantha Rath, the owner of a vineyard, who has a psychological aversion to grapes; Anna Baccacaloopi, the actress who was forced to change her nationality with the trends of favorite movie stars in order to earn money as a star for her company; and the annual grape-pressing contest with the kidnapping of Carlos, the National Champeen. All in all, the combination of problems, confusions, songs, orgies, and laughter provided another successful show for Tulane.

Credit for this show must go not only to the cast, but also to the advisers—Mr. Einar Pedersen and Mr. Louis Berndt—and to the director, Moses Goldberg.

BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

The Tulane-Newcomb Baptist Student Union is an organization for Baptist students, and membership is open to those who participate in the campus program and a local Baptist church. This group meets each Monday evening under the leadership of president Roger Hite to plan the work of Baptist Student Union. Miss Betsy Blackman is the secretary of the executive council keeping those all important records.

The Baptist Student Union is not a church nor a substitute for that fellowship but encourages students to take an active part in a local church. Also students are invited to join the church choir, brotherhood and as many activities as a student can include in his schedule.

A major objective of Baptist Student Union is enlistment. All new students are invited to participate in the student program and are made to feel they are welcome at the Center. Also students are given assistance in finding a local Baptist church for his church-home while at Tulane.

The Newman Club, both the growth of an Idea and the answer to a Need, was established in 1893 at the University of Pennsylvania. The Tulane University and Newcomb College chapter was founded as such in 1942 by decree of Archbishop Rummel. Since then the Newman Club has come to be recognized as one of the more active and influential organizations on the Tulane campus.

The threefold program of the Newman Club is as varied, attractive and inspiring as the zeal and resourcefulness of the student leaders who plan and carry it on. It is a religious, intellectual and social program.

Though students themselves admit in many cases that they are not seeking primarily social advantages in the Newman Club, nevertheless experience shows the necessity of a social program toward creating an atmosphere conducive to strengthening the faith, promoting Catholic marriages, and in general providing opportunities for those who otherwise might find no apt social outlets on the campus.

In order to effectively provide officers for these men, ROTC units have been established at various universities. Army ROTC offers the only classes in Leadership available at Tulane so that prospective officers may "LEARN TODAY TO LEAD TOMORROW." Whatever the student's field of study, there is need for such specialists within the vast scope of the Army.

Army classes advise students on Army procedures and how to handle situations which confront officers. Along with classroom instruction, there are twice weekly drills in close order marching; a well equipped rifle range is available for improving marksmanship. Then there are recreational events such as the banquet each semester, and social events such as the elaborate military ball.

The Pershing Rifles, Army precision drill team, were selected Southeastern U. S. Drill Champions in 1958, received a streamer from the French consul for outstanding performance in the reception of Charles DeGaulle, and participate in several drill meets and Mardi Gras parades. Other activities open to Army cadets include the rifle team which is co-sponsor for the annual Mardi Gras Rifle Match which attracts teams from across the country. The Association of the United States Army informs its members of Army life in general. The National Defense Transportation Association acquaints members with the activities of Army logistics.

Throughout the year from the building behind the "cannon," the "GO NAVY" spirit resounded. Under the leadership of Captain R. V. Gregory, USN, the staff continued to fulfill the NROTC's mission of molding each midshipman into a qualified officer for either our country's Navy or Marine Corps.

One of the highlights of the Navy's social life-The "Welcome Aboard Ball."

"Eyes Right" is the command as "A" Company passes in review.

From the day that the Neophyte fourth classmen were welcomed aboard until that day the senior first classmen received their commissions as officers in the Navy or Marine Corps, and from the initial kickoff of the intramural athletic league until Awards Day in May, the competitive enthusiasm of the midshipmen never faltered.

Classroom instruction covered Naval Sea Power, Naval Weapons (guns to space technology), the Psychology of Naval Leadership, Marine Warfare, Naval Supply Procedures, Navigation, Naval Machinery, and Naval Operations.

Outside of class, the drill field was the scene of many maneuvers designed to teach the midshipmen the values of teamwork, discipline, and leadership that are so essential in the fleet. During the summer months, the midshipmen took part in training cruises that took some of them to ports of call in the Far East, while others toured the Mediterranean. Others went to Corpus Christi, Texas, for Naval Aviation indoctrination, and then to Little Creek, Virginia, for Amphibious Warfare indoctrination with the U. S. Marines.

Tulane's 1960 National Champion NROTC Rifle Team was back upholding its laurels in defense of the William Randolph Hearst Trophy.

Highlighting the social year were the "Welcome Aboard" Ball and the "Farewell" Ball held at the Algiers Naval Station Officers Club. Fun for all was the annual Spring picnic held at City Park.

The "GO NAVY" spirit evidenced on campus by the midshipmen exemplifies the Unit's pride in the NROTC at Tulane.

AIR FORCE

The training of future officers for leadership positions with the United States Air Force in the Space Age is the purpose for which Detachment 320 exists. To accomplish this objective, a program of combined academic and military preparation is offered.

The Basic Course during the freshmen and sophomore years consists mainly of achieving drill proficiency and developing leadership potential. At the same time, introductory courses concerning the history of the USAF, career fields, and the principles of warfare are taken. Orientation flights in military aircraft and visits to Air Force bases provide the basic cadets with opportunities to view the Air Force in being.

The Advanced Course, composed of academically and physically qualified cadets, provides for more intense academic instruction and the opportunity of exercising command positions on the Drill Field and within the Detachment itself. Summer training camp at an Air Base provides for an actual taste of military life, and the Flight Instruction Program enables the cadets in the pilot category to obtain their private flying licenses.

Despite the fact that AFROTC graduates have to serve a minimum of four years of active duty, enthusiastic interest in the Air Science program is well illustrated by the record enrollment of cadets during the present year. Their willingness to serve their country will help insure that competent leadership will continue to be available to America as she ventures towards the stars.

"Prepare for inspection" is the command as the cadets make a final check of their uniforms.

The purpose of the Society is to unite in closer relationship the military departments on the Tulane campus, to preserve and develop the essential qualities of good and efficient military officers, and to prepare cadets to take a more active part in the military affairs of their communities. Above all, Scabbard and Blade attempts to present intelligent information concerning the military requirements of our country.

1960 FOOTBALL

The 1960 Green Wave battled through a powerful schedule that included four bowl-bound teams and emerged with a record of 3 wins and 1 tie against 6 losses. Tulane provided its fans with an excellent team that could have defeated every team on its schedule. Tulane opened its season by outplaying the California Bears in their Berkeley Stadium 7 to 3. In the first home game for the Greenies, Alabama's Crimson Tide snatched a victory out of Tulane's grasp in the last minute of play to score the tying touchdown and leave the field with the scoreboard reading 6 to 6. The undefeated Green Wave then traveled to Houston only to drop a game to the Rice Owls by the score of 10 to 7. Then the undefeated Rebels from Ole Miss journeyed down to the Sugar Bowl and defended their No. 1 rating nationally by defeating a determined Greenie team 26 to 13. The Greenies lost their third in a row when Georgia Tech won their Homecoming game by defeating Tulane 14 to 6. An excited group of Tulane Alumni were pleased to see Tulane avenge its defeats by running rampant against the William and Mary Indians and downing them 40 to 8. Other disappointments followed, however, as the Red Raiders of Texas Tech played a poor host to the Green Wave in defeating them 35 to 21, and as Florida satisfied its Homecoming crowd and downed Tulane 21 to 6. From there, the Green Wave ventured to Nashville to overcome the Vanderbilt Commodores 20 to 0. In the season finale and the last home game, LSU outplayed the Greenies to win by a score of 17 to 6. Graduation will bring a few key losses to Tulane with Darre, Gamble, LeSage. Mason, McLean, Michiels, Nugent, and Osteen graduating, but the prospects look bright for the future with 21 lettermen eligible to return.

TULANE7CALIFORNIA3

A solid Green Wave defense held the California Bears to a lone field goal in their season opener at the Memorial Stadium in California. In the first quarter of play, California recovered a Tulane fumble and scored their first field goal since 1956. Demonstrating exceptional poise, Tulane swept back with Mason, Rush, and Camp ripping off consistent gains in a 73 yard drive that ended, with only 24 seconds to play in the first half, in an 8 yard scoring pass from quarterback Phil Nugent to halfback Tommy Mason. Fumbles and penalties contained the Tulane offense in the second half. but a rock-hard defense by the Greenies kept the Bears from Capitalizing upon the Wave miscues. In the Fourth quarter, the Bears gained a first down at the Tulane one-yard line. The Green Wave stopped the Bears and gained possession of the ball, only to have California recover a Tulane fumble on the Tulane 7 yard line. The Greenie's stout defense again held Cal from scoring to give the Wave a well-deserved victory.

TULANE ALABAMA

Tulane's largest opening home game crowd in years watched as Alabama's Crimson Tide snatched a victory out of Tulane's arms with less than a minute to play. Nimble-fingered Phil Nugent completed a long pass to Terry Terrebonne in the second quarter. Terry was stopped at the Tide's 3-yard line, but Tommy Mason raced over right tackle for the touchdown. Howard Kisner's conversion attempt was blocked by Bear Bryant's charging line. The teams left the field at the half with Wave submerging the Tide, 6-0. In the second half, Alabama came out passing, but the Tulane defense held stout until the waning moments of the game, when Alabama's Trammel scored from the four. A bad pass from center prevented the Tide from attempting a field goal. Alabama tried a successful onside kick and gained possession of the ball on the Tulane 48. Trammell threw a long pass to White who fell on the Tulane 10 as the game ended, with the Wave and the Tide even.

Riding on the crest of a win and a tie, the Tulane Green Wave had a record blemished as they ran into the Rice Owls. Tulane's passing game, instrumental in the first two games, bogged down in the critical moments against the Owls. Rice was the first to score near the end of the first quarter after Tulane had missed a field goal from the Rice 20. Tulane drove to the Rice 15 but lost the ball on downs to end the half. Rice was threatening in the third quarter, when big Gus Gonzales intercepted a pass on the Tulane 13 and made a spectacular run to the Rice 20 where he was brought down from behind. The Wave drove to the one-yard line and lost the ball on downs. The Owls punted and Tulane's Mason, Rush and Colon drove the ball to the one-yard line. Rush carried the ball over for the tying score. Not to be daunted, the Owls took the kickoff and set up a field goal from the Tulane 17. The Wave simply couldn't score again against the Owl's stout defense and left the field on the short end of the point count.

A rough Tulane line downs a Rebel.

Seventy-three thousand fans, their numbers swelled by nine bands, thronged into the Sugar Bowl stadium to watch the Rebels defend their No. 1 rating. The experience of Ole Miss overcame the fighting spirit that our Green Wave displayed on this evening. The play seesawed back and forth with no scoring in the first period. On the first play of the second quarter, All-American Jake Gibbs completed a 42-yard scoring pass and, minutes later, scored a second touchdown to put the Greenies in the hole at the half, 13-0. Ole Miss scored again in the third quarter, but Tulane's Phil Nugent brought the crowd to their feet with sensational passes to Terry Terrebonne and Adrian Colon. The Rebels stormed back in the final period to score again, but the Greenies weren't through. Nugent intercepted a pass and the Wave rolled deep into Ole Miss territory where a 23-yard pass from Nugent to Terrebonne set up the touchdown plunge of Bill Ary. The scoring was over, but only too little will be said of the play of the Greenies. The brilliant running of Mason, the passing of Nugent, the receiving of Terrebonne, and the superb line play are only glimpses of the greatness which the Tulane team displayed in this game.

Georgia Tech's Homecoming crowd watched the Yellow Jackets play their best game of the season to down the Greenies. The Wave battled to the end, but fumbles deep in enemy territory foiled several scoring opportunities. Tulane seized the lead in the first quarter when Colon recovered a Tech fumble on the Yellow Jacket's 4-vard line. Nugent completed a pass to Tommy Mason for the Tulane touchdown. The Yellow Jackets buzzed back on a sustained drive of 66 yards for a touchdown and conversion. Phil Nugent, deep in his own territory, tried a third-quarter pass to Mason, but Tech intercepted and ran it back for a touchdown. In the final quarter of play, the Greenies twice came close to scoring, only to have their drives halted inside the Engineer 20-yard line. Tulane played a mighty ball game, but their fumbles and hard luck kept the Georgia Tech eleven on the better end of the score.

TULANE40WILLIAM AND MARY8

A crowd swelled by Tulane and Newcomb Alumni witnessed an exciting homecoming victory as the Greenies ran roughshod over the William and Mary Indians. Outstanding running play by Tommy Mason resulted in three scores, the first coming after a 13-yard pass from Nugent to Terrebonne. A second quarter score came when the Indians, deep in their own territory, punted to Greenie Ted Miller, who took the punt on the Tulane 20 and sprinted to the Indian end zone to post the third longest punt return in Tulane's history. Later, with the ball on the William and Mary 48, Tommy Mason broke through right tackle, shook off all Indian defenders, and went all the way. The fifth and sixth touchdowns were scored by Ary and Domingue to complete Greenie drives. The lone Indian score was set up by a short pass as the clock showed two minutes of play remaining.

TULANE21TEXAS TECH35

A trip to Lubbock, Texas, to raid the Red Raiders of Texas Tech proved to be a Greenie disappointment. Tech scored a touchdown on a long pass only three minutes after the whistle started action. Tulane was unable to penetrate Tech territory for the remainder of the quarter, but in the second period, Terrebonne intercepted a pass on the Greenie 12 and the Wave marched down the field to a Mason touchdown in twelve plays. In the opening minutes of the third quarter, Tulane reached the Tech 3 but ran into a stone wall. The Greenies bounced back strong and scored a few minutes later when Mason skirted the right end. The conversion was good, Although the Wave led 14-13, the fourth quarter was all Tech. The Raiders scored three touchdowns, the final score coming with two seconds remaining in the game. Tulane's last touchdown came after Mason returned a kick-off and then sprinted deep to receive a pass from Nugent for a tally.

The Florida Gators seized all opportunities to please a homecoming crowd by defeating a Tulane Greenie team plagued by fumbles and pass interceptions. Scoring was limited to the first half for both teams. The first Florida score occurred when they recovered a fumble and scored on a forty yard touchdown run. A few plays later the Gators intercepted a Nugent pass and scored their second touchdown. The third Florida score came early in the second quarter after a Gator punt rolled dead on the Tulane three. The Greenies battled to get out of the tight spot, but Mason was hit hard and fumbled on the 19-yard line. A penalty against Tulane aided the Gators and an off-tackle plunge yielded the TD. The Tulane TD came later in the second period when a pass from Bobby Dodd Jr. was intercepted by Adrian Colon, who caught the ball on the Tulane 30 and completely outhustled the pursuing Gators as he cut across the field for the score. Tulane fought back hard in the second half, holding the Gators scoreless, but were unable to score themselves. Dave Michiels played a fine defensive game for Tulane along with Gus Gonzales, Ed Reynolds, Ernie Colquette, and Joe LeSage.

In the final home game and the last of the 1960 season, Tulane met arch-rival L.S.U. Seventy-four thousand excited fans filed into the Sugar Bowl to witness this annually hard-fought contest. Eleven minutes after the opening kickoff, L.S.U. scored its first touchdown on a fake pass. In the second period L.S.U. scored again on a quarterback sneak for the second touchdown of the game. The Tigers were threatening again in the third quarter as they reached Tulane's three; but a Tiger fumble, recovered by Miller, ended that scoring threat. Mason's eleven yard run took Tulane out of the hole, but L.S.U. blocked a punt by Sam Camp, and the Tigers took over on the Tulane 19 to boot a field goal from the 24vard line. The Greenies battled like Spartan warhorses and contained the Tigers until the fourth quarter, with the clock showing one minute and 45 seconds remaining, when Nugent sent a long pass to Tommy Mason, who leaped over the heads of two Tigers to gather in the pigskin and hit paydirt. This pass clinched the Southeastern Conference scoring title for Mason. Although costly Tulane fumbles provided the breaks for the Tigers, the game was well-played and hard-fought all the way.

Sixteen thousand overcoated spectators gathered in Nashville, Tennessee, to view a superior Tulane eleven pile up yardage in scoring a creditable win over the Commodores of Vanderbilt. Tommy Mason, Tulane's pulverizing halfback, with another hard runner, fullback Bill Ary, were outstanding on the offensive. Pat McLeen, Gus Gonzales, and Joe LeSage helped maintain Tulane's line strength. The Greenies first score was the result of a drive which moved the pigskin for 80 yards in 14 plays. Ary and Mason sparked the drive which saw Tommy slant off right tackle from the one for the score. In the second quarter Tulane continued to grind through the Vandy line with Larry Stein doing the fullbacking. The advance was climaxed as Mason scored again, this time from three vards out. The final Greenie score came in the last quarter when quarterback Phil Nugent used a combination passing and running offense to move the ball to the Vandy three. Bill Ary plunged over for the final score of the game.

Tulane finished the 1960-61 basketball season with an overall record of 11 wins and 13 losses. The Green Wave was sixth in the Southeastern Conference with a conference record of six wins and eight losses. Sophomore Jim Kerwin topped the Greenies in scoring and best scoring average, Junior Jack Ardon was the best rebounder and had the highest shooting percentage from the field among the regulars, and Junior Wayne Pearl had the finest free throw shooting mark among the regulars. In the honors department, Kerwin was named Southeastern Conference Sophomoreof-the-Year and was named to the All-Sophomore team; and Jack Ardon, who received S.E.C. Sophomore-of-the-Year honors last year, was named to the coaches All-S.E.C. team and led the conference in rebounds to become the second best rebounder in Tulane history. Kerwin set three season records and four individual game marks in his sophomore season. His top achievement was breaking the all-time seasonal scoring record of 483 points held by Calvin Grosscup. Kerwin scored 493 in 24 games. He averaged 20.5 for the season to topple Grosscup's previous high of 20.1. Kerwin also became the first Greenie player to score 30 or more points four times in one season. Our Tulane basketball coach, Cliff Wells, is in his 45th season as a coach and his 16th campaign as professor of Tulane's Green Wave. Coach Wells' Greenies have won 241 games and lost only 140 to hold an edge over every S.E.C. rival except Kentucky. Under his guidance, the 1961-62 Tulane basketball team should be one of the contenders for national and conference honors with six returning lettermen headed by Ardon, Kerwin, and Pearl. The Greenies are losing the services of Captain Gus Wenzel, Garry Lindboe, Mickey Simons, and Rickie Berger in the coming season, but also have big Larry Getts returning to action plus some red-hot freshman players. The team will be a big, fast team with a lot of scoring punch and rebounding potential. Freshman coach Ralph Pedersen has been carefully grooming his squad in preparation of the role they will play in lending support to the veterans in the coming season. The Baby Billow had a season record of seven wins and five losses.

The 1961 season should see the Green Wave winning further victories for Tulane under the able coaching of Emmett Pare, who has served as the Tulane Tennis coach since 1934. The Tulane diamondmen concluded their 1960 schedule with a 3-15 record in 18 varsity games. The Greenies had the use of the new stadium behind Favot Fieldhouse, but this was not enough to stave off a losing season. Coach Jack Orsley, former athletic director of Loyola University of the South, was unable to cope with a lack of manpower to prevent an unsuccessful season. Next year holds no great rays of hope for the undermanned and understaffed Wave, but Coach Orsley had a host of promising freshmen which should lead the Greenies to winning seasons in the coming years. If these freshmen develop the potential which they have shown, the future will overshine the weakness of the present squad. The 1961 hardballers will be relying heavily upon the thundering bat of Bobby Cornett, the hustle of veteran Ben Edwards and the experience of Pete Capdepon, Buzz Moen, and Jon Peebles. The lack of experienced reserves will present a barrier to the immediate success of the Greenie baseball squad, but the outlook for future seasons is promising.

1961 Track Squad

Hardrunning sophomores formed the nucleus of the 1961 Track Squad. Senior letterman and team captain Tommy Sparks led the cindermen in both experience and performance, winning nearly every intercollegiate mile run in which he participated, and racking up the majority of the team points that the Tulane squad earned during the season.

Coach Oelkers has been concentrating his attention on an outstanding sophomore class that should bring Tulane's track program into an increased limelight among the spring sports. Fred Levitan, Lee Gary, and Tom Schneider are returning members of a freshman mile relay team that set a Southeastern Conference record last year. Tom Meade and Bill Latimer provide depth and strength in the relays and distance runs, while Lee Gary represents the team in the hurdle races. The squad speedsters are Jerry Winsbery and Tommy Ogg in the short sprints. Team versatility is provided by Larry Getts in the weights, Larry Stein in the sprints and weights, and Jack Ardon in the high jump.

This squad, loaded with underclassmen potential, should return in 1962 with the experience and desire necessary to change the complexion of Tulane's undermanned track program.

The 1961 golf season found the Greenies short on depth but deep with power. Three lettermen-Jerry Greenbaum, Wayne Barcello, and Delph Gustitus-returned to lead the squad through a rigorous schedule. Coach Innas Miller, a proficient Scot from Carnoustie, served his 18th season as the Tulane mentor by guiding the team through a difficult and demanding schedule. Par-breakers Greenbaum and Barcello were the mainstays of the squad and were selected as the team co-captains. The future is excellent for the golf squad as the majority of the golfers are underclassmen who should lead Tulane through many successful seasons.

SWIMMING

Swimming was established as an intercollegiate sport this year, with Coach Lowell Damonte building the nucleus of a squad that will be representing Tulane in the next years. The team participated in five meets during the year, and served as host team to the Southern Indoor Swimming Championship meet held here at the University in January. The Junior National 50-yard men's championship and the Junior National 250-yard women's championship were the main feature races at this meet. Dual meets were also held with Emory, Alabama, Georgia Tech, and the University of Miami. The future is promising for the team, with excellent high school swimmers indicating an interest in attending Tulane, and Coach Damonte, with an eye on the future, building a team composed of a solid core of top-notch swimmers.

SAILING CLUB

The Tulane University Sailing Club, now one of the largest organizations on campus, has been very active this year. The club copped second place in the Southern Intercollegiate Sailing Championships in October and won first place in its own Baldwin Wood Invitational Regatta last November. Through the help of Garner Tullis, a local sailing enthusiast, and Tulane University, the Sailing Club managed to buy ten Ganet Class Sailing sloops. These boats really place the club on a par with any other sailing club in the country. The Club held the Garner Tullis Series in March, attended the Spring Championships in Mississippi and sponsored two Semester Cruises. The Sailing Club gives students an opportunity to learn the art of sailing through the facilities of the Southern Yacht Club. Fun and play are the mottoes of the day as much time is spent in sailing, mending sails and line, and painting.

The Faculty's Intra-Mural League In Action

Tulane meets the athletic needs of students who do not participate in intercollegiate competition by offering an intramural sports program that is unrivaled in the South. An adopted motto of "A sport for every man, and every man in a sport," encourages students to participate in athletic events on a team and individual basis, classified by dormitory, school, club, or military unit. Coach Ben Abadie and his staff have enlarged the sports program to 28 different sports, the most that any SEC member offers, with an emphasis in every sport centered upon the ideal of individual participation. Tulane has entered intercollegiate competition in intra-mural sports for the first time, fielding a soccer team as a member of the Louisiana Soccer League. A new intra-mural activity has been initiated, the Saccharin Bowl, a football game which is open to participation by all Tulane students. This game will be an annual event in the future. With a new field house, three handball courts, and outdoor facilities, the Tulane Intra-mural sports program has developed into an important phase of student life.

NEWCOMB PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL

The first sorority at Newcomb College was founded in 1891. Since that time the sorority system has continued to expand, and now there are ten national sororities on Newcomb's campus. These groups are governed by the Newcomb Pan-Hellenic Council, the aims of the Council being good scholarship and cooperation with the college ideals for student life.

The Council is responsible for the conducting of sorority rush during the fall. It is also in charge of Homecoming decorations, inter-sorority sports, and Campus Carnival. In this past year a new tradition has been started—Pin Night. This is the time that the newly initiated members can show off their pins to the other girls.

The City Pan-Hellenic Scholarship Trophy is awarded to the sorority with the highest yearly scholastic average, and each year the Newcomb Pan-Hellenic Trophy is given to the sorority which has accumulated the most points during the past year for participation in various campus activities.

ALPHA DELTA PI

Alpha Delta Pi, the oldest women's sorority, was founded at Wesleyan College in Macon, Georgia. Epsilon has participated actively on the Newcomb Campus since it was chartered in 1906.

Every year Alpha Delta Pi can boast of many outstanding activities and successes, and 1960-61 is no different. The fall semester commenced socially with the annual house party before Rush, followed later that month by the Pledge Banquet at the Bali Hai. Alpha Delta Pi's social calendar also marked such events as the annual President's party, dinner at the house, Founder's Day Banquet, Friendship Week, and the Alumnae Christmas Party. Climaxing the year perfectly was the spring formal held at the Roosevelt Hotel.

Alpha Delta Pi is especially proud of its members' participation in campus activities as well as others: Ann Ratliff, vice-president of the French Club; Denise Bailliet, president of the French Club; Donna White, Featured Soloist with the Junior Philharmonic and New Orleans Cultural Attractions Fund's gala premiere, also secretary of the French Club and Recreational head of the Music School; and Fran Jones, Urchin Pledge Pin-Up Queen, and Sandy Richmond, a runner-up in the Urchin contest. Other active sisters were Susie Bruck, vice-president of Greenbackers; Diana Daly, secretary of University Center Board and co-editor of the Newcomber; and Lynn Haddock, secretary of Lagnappes and a member of Oreades. Two Alpha Delta Pi's, Joan Dickerson and Carolyn Kolb enjoyed the inspiring atmosphere of Europe on their Junior Year Abroad.

ALPHA EPSILON PHI

Alpha Epsilon Phi, founded ar Barnard College, has held an active and important part in campus life since its installation at Newcomb in 1916.

Alpha Epsilon Phi's whirl of social events began with a house party at Biloxi. A very successful rush week was climaxed by the party for the actives at Bruno's for the twenty-seven pledges. The annual Founder's Day Luncheon at Masson's Beach House and the gala fall dinner-dance at Lakewood Country Club followed in quick succession. Lunches catered by the alums twice a month were a special highlight throughout the year. Spring semester brought with it another pledge-active party, the Senior Banquet, and the festive Spring Formal. One of our big charity projects was sending toys to children in Europe.

As well as participating in events such as Homecoming, Derby Day, and Campus Carnival, and campus organizations such as Campus Nite, University Center Committees, and Jamb, and the Hullaballo, the $AE\Phi$'s held many honored positions on campus. Beverly Blumberg was President of the Newcomb student body and Lynn Orkin was Corresponding Secretary. Cecile Felsenthal was Treasurer of the Senior Class, Linda Glazer was President of the Junior Class, and Jackie Cohn was Secretary of the Sophomore Class. Beverly Blumberg, Lynn Orkin, and Sue Davidow were Tulane Student Council Representatives, and Phyliss, Lynn, and Beverly were selected for Who's Who. Karen Glosserman and Ann Arnoff were members of Assets, and Ann was president of this honorary organization. Karen Pevow, Lynn Orkin, and Phyliss Alexander were Tulane Cheerleaders.

ALPHA OMICRON PI

Alpha Omicron Pi was founded at Barnard College, and in 1898 Pi Chapter was originated on the Newcomb Campus.

As a campus leader, AOPi placed first in volley ball and badminton, fourth in Homecoming decorations, and third in scholarship among Newcomb sororities. AOPi held their annual Christmas party for orphans with Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity. Participation in Campus Carnival and Sigma Chi Derby Day were also additions to its list of activities.

The AOPi social season started with a house party before rush, followed by a picnic in Hammond for the new pledges and actives. A pledge dinner dance in November, the Founder's Day Banquet in December, the spring formal on April 8, and a Senior Banquet in May highlighted the social calendar.

Individual members also carried out AOPi's campus leadership. Loretta Babst was elected to Who's Who. Membership in Assets was awarded to Jane Cheney and Michaela Pellettieri. Michaela also served as Secretary of the Newcomb Student Body, and Secretary of the University Activities Board. Loretto Babst and Jane Cheney were respectively Chairman and Co-Chairman of Orientation. Serving as Associate Editor of the Hullabaloo was Cathy Carroll. AOPi also boasted several beauties this year, claiming Joan Girot Queen and Gnann Williams Maid in the Homecoming Court, as well as maids in the JAMBALAYA Beauty Court–Jane Cheney, Gnann Williams, Joan Girot, and Michaela Pellettieri. ROTC Sponsors were Kay Munch, Darlene Creevy, Joan Girot, Jane Cheney, Jeanne Foster, and Michaela Pellettieri. AOPi's also served on University Center Committees, as editors on the JAMBALAYA, and staff members of the Hullabaloo and House Council.

CHI OMEGA

Chi Omega Sorority was founded at the University of Arkansas in 1895 and established Rho Chapter at Newcomb in 1900.

To begin preparations for the 1960-61 rush season, the chapter met at the Buena Vista Hotel in early September. Rush activities for the Chi Omegas culminated in the pledging of twenty-six members.

Chi Omega was awarded the 1960 Pan-Hellenic trophy for first in scholarship among sororities. In October the Chi Omegas entertained the Newcomb faculty with an informal Coffee. Social service activities included care of a Greek orphan under the Foster Parents Plan and an orphan Christmas party with Kappa Sigma.

The Chi Omegas' varied social activities included spring and fall banquets, an informal dance, and the annual Spring Formal.

Chi Omega can boast of many honors obtained by its members. Molly Hocking and Martha Riser are members of Mortar Board; Rivers Alfred is Freshman Class President; Mimi Moss, Newcomb Student Body Vice-President; Tucky Moss, Secretary of the Resident Student Government Association; Tee Mann, Chairman of the University Center Talent Committee. Anne Davis was a member of the 1960 Homecoming Court, and Mary Munday Clayton is a JAMBALAYA beauty. Carol Ann Cram is the Regional Coordinator for the Tulane University Center, and Susan Shanklin was elected First Vice-Chairman of Region Nine of the ACU at their recent convention here.

Chi Omega in 1960-61 has achieved much through interest in scholarship, friendly relations with faculty, and active participation in civic, campus, and social affairs.

DELTA ZETA

Delta Zeta, largest NPC sorority with 130 collegiate chapters, was founded in 1902 at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, with Beta Theta Pi, Phi Delta Theta, and Sigma Chi as their national brother fraternities. Established on Newcomb's campus in 1928, Beta Upsilon has been an integral part of Tulane's campus.

After attending National Convention in Pasadena, California, Sonja Romanowski led Beta Upsilon in a successful rush season. The pledges, whose homes range from Washington to Florida, were entertained at La Louisiane and with two swimming parties soon after pledging. During the football season, the DZ's had two Homecoming Decorations parties and honored the DZ's from Sigma with a tea after the LSU game. The Winter Formal in the Kendall Cram Room, with music by the Seven Saints, was a highlight of the fall semester. Four Christmas parties kept the DZ's running until the holidays. In the spring, the Delta Zetas again entered the Barbershop Quartet Contest, Campus Carnival, and Derby Day. DZ had a "Come as you are" breakfast, several swimming parties, and other informal gatherings. Dr. Albrecht and Dr. Cohen were among the many speakers Marcia Herndon presented for the benefit and enjoyment of both the campus and the sorority. The annual Rose Dinner Dance was held at the New Orleans Country Club in March. A fun-filled weekend retreat ended the year for the Delta Zetas.

Among the well-known Delta Zeta personalities on campus are: Joan Rogers, Panhellenic president and Student Council member; Marilyn Marsiglia, ROTC Little Colonel; Sandy Ulmer, head of the Campus Lover Contest for the Special Events Committee; Marty Berry, Public Relations Sub-committee Chairman, and Donna Lowenstein and Vicki Martinez, Junior Year Abroad.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

Founded at Depauw University, Alpha Phi Chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta was installed at Newcomb in 1914. The Thetas have enjoyed participating in campus and Pan-Hellenic activities and were rewarded for their ideas and efforts in the Homecoming Display Competition by placing third.

Monday night suppers at the house, the Sunday afternoon baseball game in Audubon Park, the Kidnap Breakfast, and the Big Sister-Little Sister relationships all proved to draw the pledges and actives closer together. The Christmas party given by the Mother's Club was a gala occasion. Both the actives and pledges gave hilarious skits, and the food was out of this world.

Alpha Phi brightened up its home by getting carpets for the two front rooms, new furniture, and, as a reward for saving Marlboro boxes, a stereo. Another and most pleasant surprise of the year was the player piano given as the Pledge Project. They made their money by selling Sunday Breakfasts in the dorms.

Kappa Alpha Theta can be very proud of her members who have proved themselves to be outstanding participants in campus life. Among them are Nonie Waller, President of Alpha Phi Chapter, President of Mortar Board, elected to Who's Who; Letty Coltry, President of Athletic Council; Kathy Knolle, President of Johnston House, member of Honor Board; Lynn Johnson, President of the Music School, member of Honor Board; Betty Kelly, Secretary of Alpha Phi Chapter, representative to Doris Hall Council and Inner-Council; Ann Godfrey, representative to Doris Hall Council; Susie Husted, Secretary of Barracuda Swim Club, representative to Johnston House Council; and Sandy Noble, Treasurer of the Sophomore Class, member of Assets.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA

Kappa Kappa Gamma was founded at Monmouth College, Monmouth, Illinois, in 1870, and Beta Omicron chapter has held an important place on the Newcomb campus since 1904. The sorority colors are dark and light blue, and the flower is the fluer-de-lis. Rush week was heralded by a wonderful group of twenty-six pledges, and on the night of pledging, both actives and pledges celebrated at a swimming party. A week later formal pledging was held, after which the group adjourned to the Monteleone for its annual pledge banquet.

Pledges and actives were entertained at many fraternity parties, and by Christmas the pledges were well oriented in sorority life. Before going home for the holidays, the annual Kappa-DKE Orphan Party was held.

After a two-week vacation and exams, the sorority initiated those pledges who had made their grades. Thoughts then turned to the Spring Cocktail Party and Formal, this year held at the Royal Orleans Hotel. In May, the founding of the Beta Omicron chapter was celebrated at the annual Founder's Day banquet where the seniors were sadly told good-bye.

"How do I love him? Let me count the ways."

PHI MU

Phi Mu was founded at Wesleyan College, and Delta, now the fraternity's oldest existing chapter, was established on the Newcomb campus in 1906. In September, the members of Delta returned to Newcomb enthusiastic after the pre-rush houseparty at the Sun-N-Sand on the Gulf Coast. Soon after a successful rush season and pledging, came a banquet at Delmonico's. The pledge picnic presented a wonderful opportunity for the members to get better acquainted with their little sisters. Spice was added to the usual activities by the Mothers' Club luncheons and the annual Christmas party. The alumnae gave a reception honoring the Phi Mu members, pledges, and mothers. The highlight of the fall season was a workshop at Gulf Hills where friendship bonds were strengthened and numerous plans for the future were made. In February, the traditional Spring Formal was held at the Southern Yacht Club on the Friday before Mardi Gras.

As a group Phi Mu participated in campus and Pan-Hellenic activities, winning third place in volleyball and second in the Tulane Mardi Gras parade. Phi Mu is also quite proud of its individual members who are active on campus. Among these are Diana Weber, chairman of the Tulane Mardi Gras weekend and staff member of the Hullabuloo and Urchin; Betty Weaver, Vice-President of the Public Relations Committee, president of the Christian Science group; Rosalie Batchelder, secretary of the Music School; Ann Loughridge, editor of the Wave and Vice-President of the Inter-Faith Council; Georgia Connell, secretary of the Fine Arts Committee, and Kathy Connell, secretary of Chi Gamma Chi. Phi Mu is represented abroad by Martha Blair who is studying in Paris.

PI BETA PHI

Pi Beta Phi, founded at Monmouth College in 1867, was installed at Newcomb College in 1891. Pi Phi's have actively participated in campus activities this year, both individually and as a group.

After a work-and-play houseparty at Holiday Inn on the Gulf Coast, a highly successful Rush Week was enjoyed. The pledge banquet was held at Brennan's on Oct. 3. Winner of the 1959 Pan-Hellenic trophy, Pi Phi won first place in Homecoming decorations. They placed second in Pan-Hellenic volleyball. Other important events of October were the annual Mother-Daughter Tea and a visit from the Grand Secretary of Pi Beta Phi. The actives had the traditional surprise-breakfast for the pledges in November. For their project the pledges raffled a transistor radio and records. Outstanding highlights of the spring semester were the Province President's visit and the annual Spring Formal.

The Pi Phi's are proud of the campus honors won by their members this year. Linda Hardy served as President of the Art School, member of the Newcomb Honor Board, and was elected to Who's Who and the Tulane Hall of Fame. Sue Pace was Vice-Chairman of Region 9 of the Student Union Board. Anne McDonald was Treasurer of the Junior Class and President of the Barracuda Club. Cynthia Dawkins was Vice-President of the Senior Class. Cathy Donovan was Secretary of the Freshman Class and Camille Webb was Treasurer.

SIGMA DELTA TAU

Sigma Delta Tau was founded at Cornell University in 1917, and Alpha Iota chapter was established on Newcomb's campus in 1955.

The sorority began social activities in the early fall with an open house to show off the new pledges and the new house. Soon afterwards work started on Homecoming decorations that capped the second place trophy. The Big-Little sister luncheon, the French Quarter party, the winter retreat on the Gulf Coast, the Founder's day celebration, and the annual Spring Formal were highlights of a busy social calendar. In addition, SDT took part in various philanthropic, religious, and athletic events during the year.

In 1858 the first fraternity was founded on the Tulane campus. Since that time the fraternity system has grown and prospered to the extent that now there are sixteen national fraternities at Tulane, all of which are governed by the Pan-Hellenic Council.

The council is composed of a junior and senior representative from each fraternity. The executive function of the council is vested in the Judicial Committee, comprised of the four officers and two members at large, which serves as advisor to the chairman and assists him in the performance of his duties. The Judicial Committee is supplemented by the Athletic Committee, chaired by the Director of Interfraternity Activities. This comnittee has jurisdiction over all of the various competitive activities of the fraternities, ranging from football to swimming and scholarship.

In September the Council opens the year with a welcoming banquet for all new pledges. The Council also sponsors as its major activity the annual "Greek Week," and was one of the first campuses in the country to institue such a program. The "Week," climaxed by the Pan-Hellenic Formal features officer and pledge discussions and the community "Help Day," all of which are designed to promote a united fraternity system on the Tulane campus.

ALPHA EPSILON PI

Alpha Epsilon Pi was founded at New York University in 1913 and the Tau Upsilon chapter appeared at Tulane in 1951. Since that time the chapter has continued to grow in both size and stature. The tradition was continued this year with an outstanding pledge class of forty-two men.

This year's outstanding social activities included a Shipwreck Party, a Polynesian Picnic Party, and a Pledge Formal at the Prince Conti Hotel. The brothers and pledges have enjoyed the music of many of New Orleans' finest bands at our various parties, including Clarence "Frogman" Henry, Sweet Emma, Bobby Mitchell, and many others. The climax of the social season came with the gala Sweetheart Formal, at which Fats Domino's band provided an enjoyable evening of music.

 $AE\Pi$ continued its fine scholastic rating, placing second among the sixteen fraternities on campus in this all-important area. Many of our brothers are entering professional schools.

Brothers of our fraternity are active in all facets of campus life. President Stu Frank is also Vice-President of the Pre-Med Society and a member of the Pre-Med honorary AE_1 . Don Bierman serves as President of the Junior Class, Young Democrats, and AEP, Mike Weinrobe was Assistant Editor of the Student Directory. Ron Katz has served as Pan-Hellenic Council Representative as well as being secretary of the A.I.A. AEH men are also active in such diversified activities as the University Center Committees. Greenbackers, TUSK, APO, radio station WTUL, Circle K, ΠAB , ΦBK , all branches of ROTC, Campus Nite, TUT, Honor Board, Glendy Burke Debate Society, $\Phi H \Sigma$, and many other activities.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA

Alpha Tau Omega was the first fraternity founded after the War Between the States at Virginia Military Institute in 1865. Louisiana Beta Epsilon Chapter was established at Tulane in 1887.

After an extremely successful Rush Week, highlighted by the notorious Voo Doo, glorious Plantation and uproarious Prohibition parties, Beta Epsilon pledged 19 promising young men. Ninety percent of these men obtained the grades required for initiation, thereby proving their adherence to the standards of Alpha Tau Omega.

Immediately before first semester exams, confusion was brought upon the brothers by moving to their new house at 712 Broadway. But soon with the fine help of industrious Alumni and our considerate Mother's Club, the new house became a worthy center of Tau activity.

Beta Epsilon's social calendar included such outstanding events as the Barn Yard Party and the Comic Strip Party. At our annual Christmas Party the brothers' secret lives were exposed in slanderous verse, and Nixon Adams as a roly poly Santa distributed gifts to the orphans. The Sweetheart Formal in the Century Room of the Monteleone Hotel closed the first semester in style.

Active in all phases of Pan-Hellenic competition, the ATO brothers won first place in the annual homecoming decorations contest and placed in handball and pool. Beta Epsilon had its members in many honorary and elective organizations. Bill Argus, Representative at Large to the Student Council and President of the Sailing Club, was chosen as a member of ODK. Mickey Simons played on the varsity basketball team and Joe Brown served as President of AED.

BETA THETA PI

Beta Theta Pi was founded at Miani University of Ohio in 1839 and came to Tulane in 1908 as Beta Xi Chapter. 1960-61 was a very successful year for Beta Xi starting with the pledging of seventeen men in September. These pledges showed their zeal and desire to become brothers by building a new back porch on the house.

The social year was highlighted by the Annual Spring Formal, perenially imbibed with southern geniality and savoir faire. Also in this vein was the Jungle Party, a pleasant affair enjoyed by all.

Realizing that scholarly achievement is paramount at Tulane, the Betas sought to provide nourishment to the starving minds of the more intellectually prone members. This was manifested in an all out effort to improve the chapter's grade point average.

Among the leaders on campus this year were Steve Nichols, President of Delta Sigma Pi business fraternity, Who's Who, and Omicron Delta Kappa; Lance Mann, an outstanding member of the University swimming team, and many others, active in all phases of school groups, teams, and societies.

DELTA KAPPA EPSILON

Tau Lambda Chapter of Delta Kappa Epsilon, founded at Yale University in 1844, was established on the Tulane campus in 1889.

Since coming to Tulane, the Dekes have been most active in various campus functions and this year was no exception. The Chapter took part in many Pan-Hellenic activities and emerged with a most rewarding record. Topping its many activities was the successful Rush Week, headed by chairman Bobby Wehrmann, with the largest pledge class in many a year being signed to the Deke rollbook. Everyone enjoyed the many Deke social gatherings, and this year provided even more laughs and thrills to those who made Henry Clay their choice for excitement. The annual Pledge Skit astounded the audience, while the Sunday Sorority parties could never be forgotten.

Many members held high positions of responsibility during the year. Benny Powell was Vice-President of Business School, Buddy Friedrichs headed Tulane's Charity programs, and served on the Honor Board of Business School. Other Dekes served on the Honor Boards of their respective colleges, as officer of the ROTC, members of the JAMBALAYA staff, and as class officers, making the year a most commendable one.

DELTA SIGMA PHI

Delta Sigma Phi was founded at City College of New York in 1889. Seventeen years later Chi Chapter came into existence at Tulane. The watchword of Delta Sig is "Engineered Leadership" and as a result of its intensified leadership program we have moved forward in size, scholarship, and campus participation.

Delta Sig ranked third in the number of pledges with thirty-three. Along with size, scholarship has also improved with ten of the thirty-three pledges being National Merit Scholarship winners. Also, the Delta Sigs were recipients of the scholarship improvement trophy.

In campus activities, Frank Basile, who is Leadership Chairman, led the way. Frank served as President of the School of Business Administration and Vice-Chairman of the Honor Board as well as representative to the Pan-Hellenic Council while maintaining his usual four point average. Brother Basile was chosen for membership in Who's Who and the Jambalaya Hall of Fame. Pledge Tom Gallagher was Public Relations Director for WTUL. Ken Mills and Ted Nass were members of TUSK and Wally Sudol was chosen for Greenbackers. Early in the year Delta Sig placed third in the Homecoming Decorations contest under the able direction of Eddie Davis.

Partywise, the Delta Sigs, who are well known for fun and frolic, lived up to their billing with the Sailor's Ball right after rush week to the Carnation Ball in February, where the Dream Queen is serenaded, to the Bayou Brawl, the big party of the year.

DELTA TAU DELTA

Delta Tau Delta Fraternity was founded in 1858 at Bethany College in Virginia. Thirty one years later Beta Xi came into existence on the Tulane campus.

The Delts commenced this year's activities with a week of dazzling rush parties, one of the most successful of which was the annual picnic, held in the safety of the Delta Shelter after the chosen site at Ocean Springs was rained out by Hurricane Donna. Donna also cooperated in giving special appropriateness to the traditional name of another party, the Beta Xi-clone.

Members of Delta Tau Delta have been prominent in all phases of campus life again this year. Beta Xi is represented in Tulane's engineering, architecture, pre-medical, classic language, and political science honor societies; the Opera Workshop and A Cappella Choir; Phi Eta Sigma, Tusk, and Greenbackers; the Varsity Baseball Team, and the three R.O.T.C. units. Bob Clark and Al Taylor are captains of the Army Drill Team and Drum and Bugle Corps, respectively, and Al Boudreau is president of Glendy Burke.

Delts are also active on the non-academic side of the ledger. Mickey Michel again conducted the Powder Puff Bowl, and a rush of frantic football practice culminated in the ignominious defeat of the active chapter by the pledge class in Audubon Park, for which the actives forfeited a keg of beer to the victors. This year's social calendar was also replete, the brightest date being the Delt Formal at the resplendent ballroom of the new Royal Orleans Hotel.

The future promises much for Beta Xi as it carries on the proud traditions, high standards, and true brotherhood of its past.

KAPPA ALPHA

Kappa Alpha Order was founded at Washington and Lee in 1865. Psi Chapter was established at Tulane twenty years later and since then has prided itself with an outstanding group of young men.

This year as always the KA's upheld the principles of Southern tradition upon which the Order was founded. It is expected that the fifteen pledges obtained during the last highly successful Rush Week will follow in the tradition of General Robert E. Lee, who is considered the ideal gentleman, and is placed in high admiration by every KA.

Not forgetting that they are a social fraternity, the KA's gave parties that will be remembered for years to come. A few of the parties were the annual Bushman's Ball, the Cotton Brawl, and, of course, the Old South Ball.

The KA's are always active participants in Pan-Hellenic activities. Such members as Terry Terrebone, halfback standout, Gus Wenzel, the Wave's basketball captain, Dick Langenbahn of Greenbackers, and Porcher Miles, Tommy Zander, and Cam Payne of Adelphon fame, adequately represent the KA spirit.

KAPPA SIGMA

Kappa Sigma was founded at the University of Virginia in 1869 and chartered Sigma Chapter at Tulane in 1889.

This year Kappa Sig distinguished itself with a highly successful Rush Week and by placing in many of the Pan-Hellenic sports. The house was improved by the addition of a new sidewalk and the remodeling of the TV room as supervised by the Housemother. Miss Ruth van der Maaten.

Social activities included champagne parties for various Newcomb sororities, date buffets at home football games, the annual Jungle and Pirate Parties, the "Untouchables" Party, and the Christmas Orphan Party given with its sister sorority, Chi Omega.

Many Kappa Sigs were active in campus activities such as TUSK. Greenbackers. Student Center Committees, and Glendy Burke. Honorary organizations represented include Phi Beta Kappa. Phi Eta Sigma, ODK. WHO's WHO, and Circle K. John Wahl is at the University of Glasgow with the Junior Year Abroad Program; Bob Ambrose and Glenn House were elected President and Vice-President respectively of the School of Architecture: John Unverzagt was named Group Commander of the Air Force; and Neal Mangold served as Editor of the JAMBALAYA. In addition to these, several brothers were active in various phases of campus politics, and the Fraternity was well represented on the varsity football, track, and golf teams.

PHI DELTA THETA

Phi Delta Theta was founded at Miami University of Ohio, and the Louisiana Alpha chapter at Tulane appeared in 1889.

Active participation in campus activities and Pan-Hellenic competition occupied the chapter during the year. Louisiana Alpha performed a minor miracle by winning the Pan-Hellenic Scholastic Trophy. The pledges exemplified their energetic nature by such noble deeds as answering the phone, and, by some unexplained quirk of fate, maintaining good grades. Throughout the year we have been ably assisted by our housemother, Mrs. Marjorie Brown, and by our very active Alumni Club, to whom our appreciation is without bounds for their continued support and interest. Without this assistance the past year could not have been the success that it was.

Following a highly successful Rush Week in which Brother McDougall set the pace, the first semester saw champagne parties for sorority pledges, the Medieval Slob Party, the traditional Christmas Party, and several afternoon Parties. Spring highlights included the Formal, Founder's Day Dinner, and the South Sea Island Party.

Phi Delts were again active in Greenbackers, TUSK, Adelphons, Scabbard and Blade, and Honor Board. They held offices in Alpha Epsilon Delta and Phi Eta Sigma. Bill Barr was tapped by Omicron Delta Kappa. Phis were also ably represented on Tulane's football and tennis teams.

PHI KAPPA SIGMA

Phi Kappa Sigma was founded at the University of Pennsylvania in 1850. Mu chapter has the distinction of being the first fraternity at Tulane, having been established in 1858.

Because of the fine work of our local alumni chapter, the Phi Kaps returned this year to a splendidly remodeled chapter house.

Phi Kappa Sigma experienced a very successful rush week this year, pledging twenty-five outstanding men.

As in the past the "Skull House" was the scene of many swinging parties. Sorority champagne parties, football parties, and such memorable events as the traditional Christmas party with its many elegant gifts, the Beatnik Party and the Voodoo Party, were all roaring successes. The Phi Kaps, with the help of 40Π sorority, presented their annual Christmas Orphan Party which was enjoyed by all.

As is customary. Phi Kappa Sigma boasts leadership in many campus activities. Robert Taylor served as President of the College of Arts and Sciences, while Lee Nesbitt served as Secretary-Treasurer of the Sophomore Class of Arts and Sciences. Bert Ponig, Chapter President, and Clyde Waddell were tapped for Omicron Delta Kappa. In the University Center, Warren Jung was Chairman of the Music Committee, and Alan Guma was Vice-President of the University Center Board. Tom Harmon was elected Vice President of TUSK. The ROTC units are well represented with Larry Brooks and Jerry Robinson commanding the AFROTC and NROTC drill teams. The annual Sweetheart Formal, held at the Jung Hotel, was the highlight of the Tulane social calendar.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Pi Kappa Alpha was founded at the University of Virginia on March 1, 1868, and established Eta Chapter on the Tulane campus in 1878.

Throughout the past year the men of Eta have been active in all phases of student life on the campus, but have not neglected scholarship. The Pikes started the year with an outstanding pledge class of twenty boys, thirteen of which were initiated into the brotherhood.

The Pikes had active participants in many organizations on campus. Nelson Castellano served as chairman of the Pan-Hellenic Council and was a member of Adelphons. John J. Cassel was editor-in-chief of The Hullabaloo, served as vice-president of Theta Nu and secretary-treasurer of the Adelphons. Cassel was also elected to the Jambalaya Hall of Fame and Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. John Abbott was a member of Adelphons and TUSK, Paul Cameron was named outstanding member of the year in Greenbackers, Bruce North and Charles Schaller were members of the Naval ROTC's national champion rifle team, and Jim Deacon served as vice chairman of the University Center Special Events Committee. Ash Ireland handled the sports editorship of The Hullabaloo, William Green graduated from the College of Arts and Sciences cum laude, Jay Seastrunk served as band manager in the Tulane Band.

The social season at the Pike House was highlighted by a round of cocktail parties honoring the various sororities in the fall and the annual Dream Girl Formal which was held in February. Parties after football games and semi-weekly costume parties rounded out a busy social whirl for dwellers at 1036 Broadway. The Pikes also entertained a group of orphans from one of the city's orphanages at the annual Christmas party.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON

Louisiana Tau Upsilon, of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, established at Tulane in 1897, started the year with a highly successful rush week and acquisition of the Pan-Hellenic Trophy for the seventh year in a row. This seventh consecutive trophy marked a new high in fraternity annals of Tulane University, and with its thirty-five member pledge class SAE looks forward to continued prosperity in all fields of endeavor on the campus.

The social calendar for the year was highlighted by the Pledge Party, the Christmas Party, and the Spring Formal. The Orphan's Party, given each year at Christmas, followed by the Egg Nog Party were other events particularly worthy of mention.

SAE contributed many campus political officers to student government this year: Henry Blake, Student Body President and Fred McCaughan, Battalion Commander NROTC among the many. The spirit is shown through head cheerleader Nelson Becker, and cheerleaders Logan Perkins and Jim David. Participation in varsity sports were All-American Tommy Mason, Larry Thompson, and Joe Lasseigne in football, Tommy Sparks in track, and Lee Fentress in tennis.

SIGMA ALPHA MU

Sigma Alpha Mu, founded at City College of New York, came to Tulane in 1920 as Sigma Gamma Chapter. The men of Sigma Alpha Mu are proud of their year in line with the reputation gained in the forty years they have been on the Tulane campus. 1960-61 again found the Sammies hot in contention for the coveted Pan-Hellenic Trophy after placing third out of sixteen competing fraternities the previous year.

Opening the year was a superlative rush week which brought the Sammies the largest pledge class on campus.

The brothers of SAM were again well represented in the extracurricular side of college. Stephen Shamberg was the University Center Board President and Harvey Stahl, Elliot Singer, and Gene Shafton were each committee chairmen on that important body. Stacy Roback was editor of the 1960-61 Student Directory, Randy Moret was President of TUSK, Joel Piassick served as President of Pi Lambda Beta pre-legal society, and Jeff Korach was President of the business school Freshman Class. Jerry Greenbaum was the coordinator of Pan-Hellenic activities. The fraternity was proud of Harvey Brice's receiving the D.M.S. award and Gene Shafton's election to Omicron Delta Kappa. Sammies, too, held offices in the Pre-Medical Society, Alpha Epsilon Delta, Pan-Hellenic Council, and numerous other activities.

SIGMA CHI

Sigma Chi Fraternity was founded on June 28, 1855 at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio. Alpha Omicron of Sigma Chi was established on the Tulane campus on May 20, 1886. Since that time the chapter has been active in campus affairs such as intramural sports and all of rhe various spirit, religious, and vocational organizations.

This year after a successful rush week and getting a pledge class of twenty-eight boys the Sigs added their contribution to campus activities with such events as the Sigma Chi Derby Day and the Sweetheart Dance. The Derby Day is an annual campus tradition and is held in conjunction with Tulane's Parents Day. The Derby features competition among the Newcomb sororities for the Sigma Chi Derby Day Trophy and Pan-Hellenic points.

In addition to traditional activities the Sigs had an assortment of social events including the Pledge-Active party, Caveman party, and a hayride. Preceding the Pledge-Active party was the annual Pledge-Active football game.

Sigma Chi's are found in nearly all phases of varsity athletics and campus offices. This year they were represented in football, basketball, track, and golf, as well as in student council and spirit club offices.

Last year the Sigma Chi's moved into a new house on Broadway and during the past summer remodeled its interior. Within the next few years the Sigs plan to enlarge the house to accommodate a growing membership.

ZETA BETA TAU

Zeta Beta Tau Fraternity was founded at Jewish Theological Seminary in 1898 and was established at Tulane University in 1909. Since that time, Sigma Chapter has continued to grow and now maintains a position as a prominent leader in all University affairs.

Sigma's years began most auspiciously by pledging over 99% of boys offered bids. The social season then commenced in which the Zebes enjoyed such fine affairs as the Viking Party, the Winter Formal, and the high-light of the University social year, the ZBT Spring Formal, held in the Grand Ballroom of the Roosevelt Hotel.

As usual, ZBT had more than its share of outstanding campus leaders. Some of them include Dick Shenk. Vice-President of the University Student Body, Chairman of the Activities Committee, Who's Who in American Universities. and the JAMBALAYA Hall of Fame; Lenny Hoffman, Business Manager of the Hullabaloo, Student Council representative from A & S, JAM-BALAYA Hall of Fame; Stanley Davidow, President of the Senior Class A & S; Dave Lewin, Associate Editor of the JAMBALAYA; Kenny Heller, Business Manager of the JAMBALAYA, President of the Marketing Club, Who's Who, and JAMBALAYA Hall of Fame; L. A. Train, President of the Junior Class A & S; and Marty Davidson, Who's Who. In addition, there are many ZBT's participating in varsity athletics and holding offices and important positions in University-wide organizations.

The Epsilon Kappa Chapter of Tau Epsilon Phi fraternity was founded on the Tulane campus on December 9, 1956. Since that time the fraternity has been active in campus affairs such as intramural sports, campus nite, and all of the various spirit, religious, and vocational organizations.

With the remodeling of the chapter this past summer, the TEP's can now proudly boast that their house is one of the best looking fraternity houses on Tulane's campus. After a high-flying rush week, topped off by a romantic hayride party, the brothers pledged an outstanding pledge class.

The TEP's social calendar was filled with many swinging parties, highlighted by our annual Sweetheart Formal. This year also marked the fiftieth anniversary of Tau Epsilon Phi as a national fraternity. The chapter celebrated this milestone with a very successful open house for the entire university.

Tau Epsilon Phi now looks forward to an even greater year, with all of the old favorite and traditional activities and many new exciting ones. This year we owe special thanks to our new housemother, Mrs. Doris Levinson, who has done an outstanding job in her first year.

MEDICAL PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL

For many years at Tulane the Medical Pan-Hellenic Council, composed of the representatives from each of the medical school fraternities, has been in existence. The council presently has eight members: the president and one delegate from each of the four organizations.

In years past, the council was not very active but was more of an honorary society. However, last year saw the beginning of a completely revised council, one that took an active part in supervising the activities of the medical fraternities.

One of the main purposes of the council is to promote better interfraternity relationships. The functions of the committee have also resulted in lending harmony to the many and varied activities taking place throughout the year.

On the social side, this council sponsored the annual Cadaver Ball, the highlight of the year's social calendar. The entire student body was invited to this affair, which promises to become a tradition on the Tulane campus. In addition, the Council schedules all of the medical fraternity rush parties during rush week.

During the last two years, this group has had tremendous success and has done an outstanding job. In the future we look to this group for continued leadership and guidance on the Tulane campus.

"See, the poor guy swallowed a safety pin."

NU SIGMA NU

Nu Sigma Nu Medical Fraternity was founded in 1882 at the University of Michigan by Dr. William Mayo and a group of associates. Beta Iota Chapter at Tulane was founded in 1910. Its chapter house, located on St. Charles Ave., is the largest in the national fraternity.

The year began with a very successful rush, highlighted by the annual banquet, held at the Metairie Country Club. Many enjoyable social functions were held during the year. Standouts among these were the Homecoming Reception for alumni, two buffet-suppers, a Mardi Gras Costume Party, and the annual South Sea Island Party. The final event of the year was the annual reception following graduation held in honor of the new graduates and their families.

The fourteenth Rudolph Matas Lectureship was held on April 7. The guest speaker was Dr. Victor A. McKusik of the Department of Medicine at Johns Hopkins University. A banquet and cocktail party followed.

Nu Sigma Nu is particularly proud of several of its members who held various offices during the year. Among these are Jim Wilson, President of the Student Body and A.O.A.; Earl Browne, President of the Senior Class and the Owl Club; Burr Ilgenfritz, Vice-President of the Student Body; Jerry Bordelon and John Gay, Vice-President of the Senior and Junior Classes respectively; and Gene Berry, President of the Freshman Class. Jim Wilson, Jim McIlwain, John Puckett, and Robert Harlin are members of A.O.A., and Nu Sigma Nu is also well represented in the Owl Club.

Among Nu Sigma Nu's distinguished alumni are the following: Dr. Rudolph Matas, one of the country's most outstanding physicians; Dr. Harold Cummins, Assistant Dean on the Medical School and former head of the Department of Anatomy; Dr. Alton Ochsner, retired head of the Department of Surgery; Dr. Ralph Platou, head of the Department of Pediatrics; and Dr. Robert Heath, head of the Department of Psychiatry and Neurology.

PHI CHI

Omicron of Phi Chi was founded at Tulane on December 20, 1902, being the sixth Phi Chi chapter chartered. The present chapter house is located on famous St. Charles Avenue in the heart of one of the historic sections of old New Orleans. Built by a cotton baron at the turn of the century, "The Rock" is a definite entity among the picturesque homes along the Avenue.

In the fields of student government and scholarship, members of Phi Chi perennially are very active and fill positions at every level. D. I. Wilkinson is Treasurer of the student body and President of the Junior Class. Louie Wilson is Secretary of the student government and Marvin Jeter is Secretary of the Junior Class. In the Sophomore Class Jim Brame is President, Earl Pennington is Vice-President of Alpha Omega Alpha, national medical scholastic fraternity; several other Phi Chi's are members. Phi Chi is also well represented in the Owl Club and the Honor Council.

In the way of entertainment, the chapter leaves nothing to be desired. Anyone who has attended our two annual formals, the monthly parties, or the famous South Sea Island Party can surely attest to this fact.

All in all, our aims are simple . . . to combine scholarship, leadership, and fellowship.

PHI DELTA EPISLON

Phi Delta Epsilon, a national medical fraternity, was founded at Cornell University in 1904. Alpha Iota Chapter came to Tulane in 1918.

Alpha Iota upheld its traditional intellectual and professional activities by sponsoring several lectures given to the fraternity by prominent physicians. One of the outstanding lectures was presented by Dr. Benjamin Manchester of Washington, D. C.

In the social area, Phi D.E. was quite active again this year. It started with the annual Rush Banquet which netted a fine group of pledges. Some of the other affairs included a square dance in November and a cocktail party in February.

These and many other social and educational events brought relief to the brothers in the midst of an intense medical curriculum, while bringing a sense of unity and brotherhood to the group.
