ANNUAL CIRCULAR

OF THE

MEDICAL COLLEGE OF LOUISIANA.

THE Eleventh Course of Lectures will commence in the Medical College of Louisiana, on the Third Monday of November, 1844, and terminate on the Third Monday of March, 1845.

The Faculty take pleasure in announcing that the main building of their College Edifice being now completed, the arrangements of its Lecture rooms, Amphitheatre, Dissecting, and other departments constructed after the most approved models, have been found, by the experience of the past Session, to be every way adapted to the various purposes of Medical Instruction.

Its Museum, Library, Cabinet and Laboratory have been largely augmented by valuable models in wax, casts, plates, specimens and apparatus; and arrangements have been made for a still further increase before the commencement of the next Course of Lectures.

The Faculty have united their efforts to make their system of instruction practical, demonstrative and thorough.

The Professor of Anatomy lectures five times a week, upon general and special Anatomy, for the illustration of which, besides an ample supply of subjects, he is furnished with plates, models and preparations of the greatest excellence.

The department of Practical Anatomy is entirely under his control, in which the facilities of prosecuting the study of this branch are unrivalled, subjects for dissection being supplied in any number without charge: and to assist him in this department, the Professor has appointed an able demonstrator.

The Professor of Physiology and Pathology lectures four times a week on the functions of digestion, respiration and circulation in man, and on the general principles of Physiology and Pathology.

The Professor of the Theory and Practice of Medicine lectures six times a week, and his course is devoted to the History, Causes, Character, Diagnosis and Treatment of Diseases: these he has daily and ample opportunities of illustrating to his class, in the wards under his charge, in the Charity Hospital.

The Professor of Surgery lectures five times a week on the principles and practice of Surgery, on Surgical Anatomy, and on Operative Surgery: in this department, the advantages of the School are equal, if not superior, to those of any other in the country. For the number of surgical accidents and diseases requiring the frequent use of the knife, admitted into the wards of the Charity Hospital, will be found, on enquiry, to exceed that of any other in America. These advantages, the Professor avails himself of, by delivering much of his course at the bedside of his patients, and performing all his operations and dressings in the presence of the Class.

The Professor of Obstetrics &c., lectures four times a week on the principles and practice of Midwifery, on the treatment of women in childbed, and the management and diseases of newborn infants, and, besides an ample supply of models, plates and instruments for the full illustration of his course—he furnishes to the senior members of the class, as many cases of labour as are necessary to give them a practical acquaintance with this important branch.

The Professor of Materia Medica and Therapeutics delivers four lectures a week on the general principles of Hygiene, Therapeutics and Toxicology, and pays particular attention to the Natural History, properties and mode of administering the articles of the Materia Medica.

The Professor of Chemistry lectures likewise four times a week, and devotes much of his course to the subject of Medical Chemistry.

In both these departments the same system of practical and demonstrative instruction will be fully carried out.

The Faculty have adopted for graduation, the rules, regulations and requisites, obtaining amongst the highest Schools in the country, which are, three years' study, inclusive of attendance on lectures,—two full courses of lectures, the last of which must be in this School,—the candidate must be twenty-one years of age, and must deposit with the Dean, a well written Medical Thesis, together with his Diploma Fee, one month before the close of the Session.

TERMS:

For the Ticket of each Professor,	$20 00
For the Ticket of Practical Anatomy,	10 00
Matriculation Fee,	5 00
Diploma Fee,	40 00

Lectures and Attendance in the Hospital, and Subjects for Dissection, gratuitous.

Graduates of all respectable Schools, will be admitted to the Courses without charge, when properly introduced.

The expenses of Board and Lodging in New Orleans, are now very moderate. Students requiring accurate information on this and other subjects, will please address themselves to the Dean, or Professors, (post paid) or call upon them as soon as they arrive in the city.

ANNUAL CIRCULAR
OF THE
MEDICAL COLLEGE OF LOUISIANA.

THE TWELFTH COURSE OF LECTURES will commence in the Medical College of Louisiana, on the third Monday of November, 1845, and continue four months.

In announcing the annual course of Lectures in this Institution, the Faculty take great pleasure in stating that the merits of the School being fully appreciated by the members of the State Convention, it has been adopted under the new constitution, as the Medical Department of the University of Louisiana.

Since the commencement of the last course considerable additions have been made to the Museum, Library and Laboratory, and a still further increase will be made before the next, which will enable each Professor to make his course thorough and practical.

The Professor of Anatomy lectures five times a week, upon general and special Anatomy, for the illustration of which, besides a large supply of subjects, he is furnished with plates, models and preparations of the greatest excellence.

ANNUAL CIRCULAR

OF THE

MEDICAL COLLEGE OF LOUISIANA.

THE LECTURES will commence in the Medical College of Louisiana, on the third Monday of November, 1846, and continue four months.

In announcing the annual Course of Lectures in this Institution, the Faculty take pleasure in stating for the information of the students that a bill for the establishment of a University of which the Medical College of Louisiana will be the Medical Department has passed the House of Delegates and will have become a law before the termination of the next session of the school.

Considerable additions will be made to the Museum, Library and Laboratory, before the commencement of the session.

The Professor of Anatomy lectures five times a week, upon general and special Anatomy, for the illustration of which, besides a large supply of subjects, he is furnished with plates, models and preparations of the greatest excellence.

The department of Practical Anatomy is entirely under his control, in which the facilities of prosecuting the study of this branch are unrivalled, subjects for dissection being supplied in any number without charge; and to assist him in this department the Professor has appointed an able Demonstrator.

The Professor of Physiology and Pathology lectures four times a week on the functions of digestion, respiration and circulation in man, and on the general principles of Physiology and Pathology.

The Professor of the Theory and Practice of Medicine lectures six times a week, and his course is devoted to the History, Causes, Character, Diagnosis and Treatment of Diseases: these he has daily and ample opportunities of illustrating to his class, in the wards under his charge, in the Charity Hospital.

The Professor of Surgery lectures five times a week on the principles and practice of Surgery; in this Department, the advantages of the School are equal, if not superior, to those of any other in the country—for the number of Surgical accidents and diseases requiring the use of the knife, admitted into the wards of the Charity Hospital, will be found on enquiry, to exceed that of any other in America. These advantages the Professor avails himself of, by delivering much of his course at the bedside of his patients, and performing all his operations and dressings in the presence of the class.

The Professor of Obstetrics, &c., lectures four times a week on the Principals and Practice of Midwifery, on the treatment of women in childbed, and the management and diseases of newborn infants; and, besides an ample supply of models, plates and instruments for the full illustration of his course—he furnishes to the senior members of his class, as many cases of labor as are necessary to give them a practical acquaintance with this important branch.

The Professor of Materia Medica and Therapeutics delivers four lectures a week on the general principles of Hygiene Therapeutics and Toxicology, and pays particular attention to the Natural History, properties and mode of administering the articles of the Materia Medica.

The Professor of Chemistry lectures four times a week. He has a large and well selected chemical apparatus, most of which has been obtained lately, and is admirably adapted to the illustration of the science in its present advanced state.

The Faculty have adopted for graduation, the rules, regulations and requisites, obtaining amongst the highest schools in the country, which are, three years' study, inclusive of attendance on lectures,—two full courses of lectures, the last of which must be in this School—the candidate must be twenty-one years of age, and must deposit with the Dean, a well written Medical Thesis, one month before the close of the Session.

TERMS:

For the ticket of each Professor, - - -	$20 00
For the ticket of Practical Anatomy, - -	10 00
Matriculation fee, - - - - -	5 00
Diploma fee, - - - - -	40 00
Fees for tickets required in advance.

Lectures and attendance in the Hospital, and subjects for dissection—gratuitous.

Graduates of all respectable schools will be admitted to the Course without charge.

The expenses of Board and Lodging in New-Orleans are now very moderate. Students requiring information on this and other subjects will please address themselves to the Dean or Professors, or call upon them as soon as they arrive in the city.

A. J. WEDDERBURN, M. D. DEAN.

TOTAL, 186.

The list of the alumni of the Medical Department of the University of Louisiana, which succeeds, is the first complete one ever published. So many pages of names have been introduced in this journal with reluctance; which, however, has been overcome by the conviction that they would be more than welcome to many of our readers, and that such lists serve the profession at large, by the assistance they give in detecting impostors, and in other ways.

Many annoyances have been encountered, and much labor expended, to render this list as accurate as possible. It would be strange if some slight errors had not crept in, which it is desirable should be corrected in a future publication of this list, in more authoritative form, by the Faculty. It is, therefore, hoped that all interested will correct such errors as they may detect. With the assistance of our alumni, the list might be made perfectly accurate: deaths might be designated, the postoffices of those still living added, and such other information given as would be interesting to them. Their aid is respectfully solicited, and any information, contained in letters addressed either to the Dean of the Faculty or to this journal, will be gladly received, and treasured up for future use.

The centre building, which is one of the most spacious and best arranged for its purposes in the country, is occupied by the Medical Department. The Legislature of the State, at its last session, appropriated $12,500 to the Medical College. This sum has been expended by the Board of Administrators in admirable improvements and alterations, which have been executed under the judicious charge of Messrs. Gallier, Turpin & Co., Architects and Builders.

UNIVERSITY OF LOUISIANA.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

The Annual Course of Lectures in this Department will commence on Monday, the 16th of November, 1857, and terminate in March, 1858.

Preliminary Lectures will be delivered daily in the Amphitheatre of the Hospital, from the first of October, on Clinical Medicine and Surgery and other subjects, without any charge to Students.

Besides these Courses the Faculty have delivered; and they will continue to deliver every year, a Course of Practical instruction during the Summer.

In 1856-'57, there were two hundred and fifty-eight Matriculants, and sixty-five Graduates in the Department.

The Students of the Classs were from Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Ohio, Texas, Arkansas, Tennessee, Kentucky, Massachusetts, South Carolina, Georgia, North Carolina and Maryland.

The Faculty announce to the public the continued prosperity of the Medical College of Louisiana.

Twenty-five hundred and fifty names are now on the Register of Matriculants.

The College is endowed by the State.

Josiah C. Nott, M. D., of Mobile, has been elected Professor of Anatomy. The election of Dr. J. C. Nott, is a source of gratification to the friends of Medical Education. His reputation as a writer is co-extensive with science; and his labors, hereafter, will doubtless contribute to the fame of our great Southern Medical College.

MUSEUM.

The Museum of Anatomy is extensive. The preparations are chiefly works of scientific artists in England, France and Italy.

In Human and Comparative Anatomy there is—

- I.—A collection of Muscular preparations, from the Academy of Anatomy at Florence. They represent more than three hundred and fifty separate dissections.
- II.—Thibert's Tableaux of the Microscopic Anatomy of the Tissues.
- III.—Auzou's Cabinet of Human and Comparative Anatomy.
- IV.—A Cabinet of Human Bones, and a collection in Comparative Osteology.
- V.—Preparations in Wax, representing the Anatomy of the Viscera; of the Nervous and Vascular Systems; and of every organ in the human body.

The Pathological Department is enriched by models from England and France, which represent diseases of the Eye and diseases of the Skin; and, by a great number of specimens of Urinary and Biliary Calculi, obtained from Dupuytren's Museum, at Paris; from the College of Surgeons, London, and from amongst ourselves.

The models of the diseases of the Skin were made by Mr. Towne, of Guy's Hospital, London. They are perfect, and disease can be studied with their aid almost as well as in nature.

Besides the collections brought from Europe, the Museum contains Anatomical preparations made by members of the faculty, and others presented by their scientific brethren.

The Pathological collection of Bones is excellent.

The other specimens of Pathological Anatomy are highly interesting and instructive.

CLINICAL INSTRUCTION.

The number of Medical cases treated during the last year in the Hospital, was about 6,450; the Surgical patients numbered 2,450, and the Obstetrical cases, and those of special diseases of women and children, numbered about 500.

The College presents opportunities to students unsurpassed by any institution in the world. The Act which established the University of Louisiana, gives the Professors of the Medical Department the use of the Charity Hospital as a school of practical instruction.

There are about 700 cases usually in the wards of the Charity Hospital. The Professors visit every morning between 8 and 10 o'clock, the Medical, Surgical and Obstetrical wards, prescribe and make Clinical remarks.

Members of the Classes of the Medical Department have gratuitous admission to the Hospital, and to all Lectures in the Hospital.

Attendance on cases of labor in the Obstetrical wards is provided by the Professor of Obstetrics, from among the candidates for Graduation.

The Professor of Surgery performs operations and dressings in the presence of the students in the amphitheatre of the Hospital; and here, too, Lectures are delivered on Wednesday and Saturday of every week, on Clinical Medicine and Surgery, on special Pathological Anatomy, on Physical Diagnosis, and on Auscultation and Percussion.

LECTURES.

- I.—The Professor of Anatomy, Lectures six days of every week during the session.
- II.—The Professor of Physiology and Pathology, Lectures five days of every week.
- III.—The Professor of the Theory and Practice of Medicine, Lectures six days of every week.
- IV.—The Professor of Surgery, Lectures six days of every week.
- V.—The Professor of Obstetrics, Lectures four days of every week.
- VI.—The Professor of Materia Medica and Therapeutics, Lectures four days of every week.
- VII.—The Professor of Chemistry, Lectures four days of every week.

The Professors have everything deemed necessary to aid them in teaching the various branches of Medical Science. viz: 1.—Chemical and Philosophical Apparatus, of modern style. 2.—Specimens of Materia Medica and Chemical products. 3.—Surgical Instruments. 4.—Paintings, Plates, Models, Drawings, Books and Special Apparatus.

The Medical Department of the University of Louisiana affords the student ample means of acquiring knowledge of the causes, nature and treatment of diseases peculiar to our climate.

CANDIDATES FOR THE DEGREE OF DOCTOR OF MEDICINE.

FIRST.—The Candidate must be twenty-one years of age, of moral character, and must have studied medicine three years.

SECOND.—He must have attended two full Courses of Lectures—the last of which must have been in this Institution.

THIRD.—He must write a Thesis on a Medical subject, and present it to the Dean, one month before the close of the session.

FOURTH.—He must be examined by the Faculty.

The Rooms for Practical Anatomy will be open from the Second Monday in October to the First of April, during the whole day; and from 7 P. M. to 10 P. M., the Demonstrator will be constantly in attendance, for the purpose of instructing the students.

Graduates of respectable schools will be admitted to the course without charge except for Matriculation.

Students who desire further information, will address themselves to the Dean.

THOMAS HUNT, M. D., Dean.

NEW ORLEANS, August 1st, 1857.

Boarding for Students is as cheap in New Orleans as in any other large city of the Union. The Janitor, Mr. P. Borge, will aid the Students in procuring Boarding and Lodging. His residence is in the Medical College of the University buildings, Common street, between Baronne and Phillippa streets.

 The Administrators of the Charity Hospital elect annually, in April, fourteen Resident Students, who are maintained by the Institution.
