

Mr. Bullerdick, esq.

My dear Sir: My situation compells me to apply to your kindness, please you to give thirty or fifty dollars on account of the sum stipulated, and so I could wait longer than I thought.

Do you know well my situation, and do you know also my feelings, and consequently I hope in your generosity that you would anticipate that sum.

Waiting your answer, I remain your's
