GEORGIA TECH ALMA MATER SONG.

Music by Frank Roman.

Words by I. H. Granath.

Oh Sons of Tech arise, behold!

For the banner as it reigns supreme,
For from on high the White and Gold,
Waves in its triumphant gleam!
The spirit of the cheering throng
Resounds with joy revealing
A brotherhood in praise and song,
In the memory of the days gone by.
Oh Scion of the Southland,
In our hearts you shall forever fly!

We cherish thoughts so dear for thee,
Oh, Alma Mater in our prayer,
We plead for you in victory,
And then in victory we share!
But when the battle seems in vain
Our spirit never falters,
We're ever one in joy or pain,
And our union is a lasting bond.
Oh may we be united
Till the Victory of Life is won!

HOME?—TO TOWN? Here's How!

ID you have to come to the game an hour early to find a parking place for your automobile? Are you going to have to fight your way through that traffic tangle after the game?

Street cars and coaches offer the solution. No traffic worries. No parking troubles. On Plum Street, two short blocks away, are many special cars waiting to take you back to town. Two short blocks in the other direction, on Spring Street, is a coach line, offering special service. And just beyond that are the West Peachtree and Peachtree car lines, also operating special cars.

Try it next week and see how much more convenient it is!

Important Changes in Football Rules

- 1. GOAL POSTS—The goal posts have been moved from the goal line to the end line.
- DELAYING GAME—A delay of more than thirty seconds in putting the ball in play after it is ready for play, or a team remaining more than 15 seconds in a huddle, may be considered as prima facie evidence of intentional delay of the game.
 The captain may now claim time out only three times in each half instead of four times as formerly.
- 3. SHIFT PLAYS—In all shift or huddle plays, the players must come to an absolute stop and remain stationary in their positions and without movement of the feet or swaying of the body, for a period of approximately one second. This period may be conveniently measured by rapidly counting "1-2-3-4". In case of doubt the penalty shall be enforced. The penalty for violation has been increased from 5 to 15 yards.

CHANGES IN FOOTBALL RULES (Continued)

- 4. FUMBLED PUNTS—When a punt is fumbled before the receiver gains possession and control of the ball, it is a free ball and any one of the 22 players may recover it for his side. However, the side that kicked the ball cannot advance the fumbled punt by picking it up and running with it, but must take it at the point recovered, first down.
- 5. INCOMPLETED BACKWARD PASS—Any player may at any time hand or throw the ball in any direction except toward his opponents' goal. If any such pass made on first, second or third down strikes the ground within the field of play, the ball is dead. It shall belong to the side which made the pass at the point where it first strikes the ground. On fourth down the ball shall go to the opponents at the same point, unless the team putting the ball into play has made the required distance. The pass from the snapper back to put the ball in play is excepted from this rule.

THE NEW RULES EXPLAINED

By ED DANFORTH

Sporting Editor, Atlanta Georgian.

Not since the forward pass was written into the rule books away back when you and I were young Maggie and went buggy riding on Sunday afternoons, have so many revolutionary changes been made in the national autumn mania.

It appears that the rule-makers, tiring of making minor revisions in the penal code and the approved method of wearing nose-guards, suddenly closed eyes and blazed away with both barrels.

The results of their rule-changing cannot be forecast; until actually tried through a whole season no one can tell whether the changes are useful and interesting or futile and boring.

One thing is certain: never before in the history of the game is there such a need for an understanding of the rules in the public mind, if any. This year so much is left to the officials' judgment, so much hinges on moves that escape the notice of the man in the grandstand, that haste in declaring an official in error will be very unfair.

The major changes are five in number.

1. The goal posts have been moved ten yards back of the goal line.

Look out there and see it for yourself! That is one rule that is easy to understand. It is a good rule for it gives a wretched punter a chance to kick from behind his goal line without hitting the posts and puts a premium on goal kicking from the field. The point after touchdown is not much harder—a thirteen-yard place kick is about as easy as one of 3 yards anyhow.

Isn't this common sense?

IN buying radio performance - before you decide - just as an extra precaution - go to an authorized Fada dealer.

A complete demonstration will be yours without the slightest obligation.

Listen to Fada Harmonated Reception. You will say, as soon as you hear the voice of the announcer

"At last - he sounds human".

The glorious tone quality, the pure clarity, the rich timbre will convince you. And at prices so regulated as to fit the purse-lean or fat.

To those who want good radio at an exceptional, popular price, there is-we honestly believe-nothing to compare with the Fada Special and the Fada Cone Speaker.

FOOTBALL FASHION NOTES

By "BABY LO," Fashion Expert

Fashions for Football-alluring sound. When beauties enswathed in modish wraps are brought to the gates of the stadium in luxurious motor cars.

Fashions change with the changing weather. The opening game comes when the days are still warm, so that in the football grand-stands the eyes may feast on beauty still wearing the modes of late summer. If the temperature is very uncertain and the thermometer is jumping up and down with indecision then wear the two or three ensemble. This is always good. The new fall Vogue has given us a beautiful three piece suit with jacket or sweather-coat which is just the thing for general football wear. These suits should vary with individual personality. This means that more feminine elegance and the more important mode will be more largely and generally expressed.

TO THE FOOTBALL FANS

Our Football Yearbook is published in its present form largely by the support and co-operation of the progressive business firms of Atlanta and Georgia, who choose this medium to place themselves before you. Every firm represented is deserving of your attention and we ask that you READ THE ADVERTISEMENTS.

Thrifty men and women find that it pays to read advertisements. It enables them to know that they are not overlooking anything. It enables them to know where to go to get some desired product, to get "this" or "that". Without its direction they would overlook much and consequently lose a great deal. They would live in ignorance of many things that might add materially to their wealth, health, and happiness.

If you do not know all of these concerns call and get acquainted; if you do know them it is not necessary for us to go any further, only to say that they stand for YOU, GEORGIA TECH, ATLANTA, and the SOUTH.

EXPLANATION OF RULES (Continued)

2. A delay of more than 30 seconds in putting the ball into play after it is ready for play, and a delay of more than 15 seconds in the huddle are ruled "intentional delay" and subject to penalties.

Three cheers for that rule! Any rule to speed up the game and get it over with before dark is a good

In all shift plays, the players must come to a full stop for one second-long enough for an official to count "1-2-3-4."

Wisdom of this rule remains to be settled by a season of play. Some elevens have dropped their shift plays on account of it. At least the rule assures we will have intelligent officials for they must be able to count as far as "4." Stammering officials are out of luck this season.

4. When a punt is fumbled, the side putting the ball into play cannot recover and run for gains or a touchdown.

This change in the rules is not as formidable as it seems. In the rule books the change was made in the rules for onside players and is confusing to read. It is fairly clearly stated above.

If the safety man fumbles a punt, an opposing end can scoop it up or fall on it, but the end may not dash off for a touchdown or a long gain. However, if the safety man fumbles a punt, a player of HIS OWN team may pick it up and gallop away as far as he can. The rule is designed to encourage the catching of punts on the run instead of allowing them to bounce. It is doubtful whether the rule will increase the number of punts so played.

The rule also is tricky in this respect. If the safety man catches the punt, runs a couple of steps, is tackled and fumbles, it is a free ball in the broadest sense and an opposing player may pick it up and run for a touchdown. The line of demarcation between a fumbled punt and a punt that is first fairly caught then fumbled is so slight that spectators often will differ with official rulings, especially if the home team

5. A fumbled backward pass, except a snap from center, is a dead ball on first, second or third down and belongs to the side putting the ball into play.

There's the other line of dynamite in the rules. Briefly that means that the boys can shoot the works on double passes and triple passes back of the line of scrimmage without fearing loss of the ball by fumbling. It means that where the quarterback takes the snap from center and passes it to a fullback hitting the line or a halfback circling the ends the ball cannot be lost if fumbled.

A halfback can start on an off-tackle play and when about to be tackled can make a backward pass to a teammate who can sell out around the end.

A backward pass can be made anywhere on the field at any time by any player to any other. The lid is off! It costs nothing if you drop it!

Yet—there are difficult points here, too. If the receiver of the backward pass actually gets possession of the ball, in the judgment of the official, and takes a step or two with it, then fumbles when tackled, the ball goes to the recovering side.

That is where many an official will suddenly run into more unpopular notice than the average mur-derer ever encounters.

The public had best leave interpretation of these new rules to the officials. They have been studying them night and day ever since last spring and will be in a position to see what happens.

- Faster! Faster!

Just as the new rules have speeded up foot-ball so have the new Nash models speeded up motoring.

They permit faster time on the roads, yet smoother, more comfortable traveling is enjoyed. They allow split second accelleration in traffic, yet the flow of power is even, steady and noiseless.

They're as powerful as the guards, as fast as the ends, as smoothly perfect as the back-fields—and plus this, they're as good looking as the sponsors.

"Nash has again led the world in motor car values."

Stop in on your way home and see the new models. They're on display at the corner of Peachtree Street and North Avenue.

All dresses are to be selected so as to give more youthful charm to the wearer. No young girl should wear too much black, although the close fitting black velvet is especially good. Flat pleats are worn this fall, preferably on the side of the skirt. All skirts are to be longer and the extremely short dresses of the Spring season have become very poor taste. For sports wear tweeds, homespun, cheviot, and English woolens are all good.

Your furs are particularly good this season with goat leading as the sport fur. It may be either long and curly, or shaved to make a flat sleek fur. The short fur jacket is to be worn as a part of an ensemble. This becomes beautiful with all the rich, tan shades of autumn leaves whose shades are designed especially by Mother Nature for her sport loving children in the fall. Beige seems to head the list in popularity.

The chief aim of all the season's styles is to combine youth, sobriety, and important elegance into one's general appearance.

"TIME OUT!"

The sports coat that goes to the football game must be light enough for October's bright blue weather, warm enough for November's grey days, and smart enough for the after the game festivities. Lewis' fur trimmed coats meet all these requirements.

Heavier coats will be worn as usual, the wrapped coat still as good as it was in the Spring. One important fashion of this year gives a slight flare from the shoulders all around that closes diagonally. Much fur is used for trimming. This coat may cover the sheer dress, which you prefer to wear to the tea dance after the game at one of the frat houses or the fashionable hotels, instead of the sport frock which may be worn. The tea dances will bring together the selected belles in much less formal atttire than will the evening affairs. These dresses should be very individual. Geometric lines are good with odd yokes and little original details at the wrist. Everything fits snugly at the hips and blouses a bit above the hips, and flares or breaks into plaits or drapery below. This drapery is responsible also for most of the uneven hemlines so smart at present.

All hats will be small and preferably of the same shade as the dress as much less combination of color will be used this year than last. Should it rain a bright hued slicker with a small rain hat will, of course, insure the most comfort.

To be well dressed is to be properly dressed.
