WAVE COACHES

Claude Simons, Jr., familiarly known to football fans as "Little Monk," is now in his third year as chief of the Wave football staff.

The son of the immortal Monk-Tulane's trainer in athletics from 1921 until the time of his death in November, 1943-Little Monk literally grew up in the Greenie tradition. As a lad, he was a constant companion of his daddy in the gymnasium and stadium almost from his earliest walking days. When he graduated from the Newman School in New Orleans, where he was a star athlete, Little Monk matriclated at Tulane. That was in the fall of 1931, When he graduated in June, 1935, he had established an intercollegiate athletic record equaled by only two Greenies. He had lettered in four varsity sports, football, basketball, track and baseball. And he had led the parade in each. In football he made many all-American halfback selections in 1934, leading his team to a co-inaugural Sugar Bowl game. He scored in every game of that season. Individually, his markers won most of the games. He was one of the greatest punters in Southern history. Weighing better than 190 pounds he was a blocker without superior.

Offered pro football and baseball contracts upon graduation, he declined and chose coaching as a career. He began at Transylvania College at Lexington, Ky., where he was athletic director and head coach. From the fall of 1935 until he returned to his alma mater as varsity basketball coach and assistant freshman football coach in 1938, he led Transy's teams. Back at Tulane, his basketball teams were respected and his coaching and scouting was a valuable asset to Coach "Red" Dawson, the Greenie head man. When Glenn Seidel left the staff as backfield coach in the spring of 1940, Little Monk moved up a peg and when Dawson left in the spring of 1942, Simons was the logical choice to succeed him.

He lost no time in proving the merit of the selection. In his head coaching debut, he took the Greenies to Los Angeles for their first game. The opponent was Southern Cal, a team highly regarded on the Pacific Coast. At the half, Little Monk's Greenies had the Trojans 27 to 0 and he coasted with reserves the rest of the way for an easy victory.

An inspiring leader, he is very close to his "boys". He works as hard on the practice field almost as they do. He goes through the grass drills with them but discontinued scrimmaging with his players as far back as his Transylvania days when he broke a leg.

Little Monk is married and is the father of two children, Chipmonk, age 5, and Sandy, 2.

Monk is a native of New Orleans, as was his father and paternal grandfather.

Charlie Rucker, assistant football coach, starred on the Tulane teams of 1927, 1928, 1929. He was Greenie captain in 1928 and an all-Southern tackle in 1929. A native of Pine Bluff, Ark., he has been one of the mainstays of the Greenie scouting and coaching staff since 1935.

Cromwell Tate "Piney" Page, varsity line coach of the Greneies, played his football at Tulane, lettering as a tackle in 1933. For the past several years he was athletic director and head coach in football at Transylvania college, having succeeded Simons when the latter returned to Tulane. Page is a native of Arkansas.

Vernon "Lefty" Haynes, end coach, is none other than the shaggy lion of Tulane's 1931 Rose Bowl team, one of the greatest pass snagging ends of Wave history. He not only coaches ends, he is also a member of the math faculty of the college of arts and sciences. Haynes is from Lake Village, Ark.

Roll, Green Wave,
Roll them down the field.
Hold, Green Wave,
That line must never yield.
When those Greenbacks charge through the line
They're bound for victory.
Hail, Green Wave, for you
We have no fear.
Hail, Green Wave, for you we give a cheer
And ev'ry man in ev'ry play
And then we'll win that game today.
Hurrah for Old Tulane!

ALMA MATER

Sing these words as Tulane's Alma Mater is played .

We praise thee for thy past, O Alma Mater! Thy hand hath done its work full faithfully! The incense of thy spirit hath ascended And filled America from sea to sea.

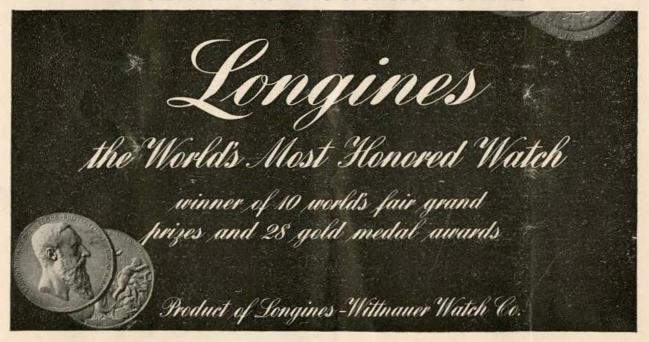

We praise thee for thy present, Alma Mater! Today thy Children look to thee for bread! Thou leadest them to dreams and actions splendid! The hunger of their souls is richly fed! III.

We praise thee for thy future, Alma Mater! The vista of its glory gleameth far! We ever shall be part of thee, great Mother! There thou wilt be where e'er thy children are!

CHORUS:
Olive Green and Blue, we love thee!
Pledge we now our fealty true
Where the trees are ever greenest,
Where the skies are purest blue!
Hear us now, O Tulane, hear us!
As we proudly sing to thee!
Take from us our hearts' devotion!
Thine we are, and thine shall be!

TULANE-RICE FOOTBALL GAME

The Rice-Tulane Series

Tulane and Rice met for the first time in football in 1916, 23 years after football had been instituted at Tulane.

In that span, the Greenies have won five, lost three and tied one.

The record by years:

1916, Tulane 13, Rice 23; 1917, Tulane O, Rice 16; 1920, Tulane 0, Rice 0; 1921, Tulane 7, Rice 6; 1938, Tulane 26, Rice 17; 1940, Tulane 15, Rice 6; 1941, Tulane 9, Rice 10; 1942, Tulane 18, Rice 7; 1943, Tulane 33, Rice 0.

The game today brings together two of the South's ablest coaches, Jess C. Neely of Rice and Claude "Monk" Simons, Jr. of Tulane.

Jess, an alumnus of Vanderbilt, is well known to New Orleans. A few years ago he brought three fine Clemson teams to New Orleans, playing the Greenies in the period when "Red" Dawson's elevens were among the strongest in the nation, winning one of them from Tulane and losing two close decisions.

Monk, a Tulane alumnus, has sent his own teams against Jess' Rice teams for the past two years, winning both games.

The Game Isn't Over 'Til The Last Whistle Blows

Many a game is won in the last second of play . . . the war isn't over 'til the last battle is won! But, feeling sure of victory, it is so easy for us here at home to think our responsibility is over . . . our duty done. IT ISN'T! Until the last shot has been fired we must stand fast behind the man behind the gun!

Remember Your First Job?...

Sure you felt strange—it was all so new and unfamiliar. Everything you'd learn in school seemed to have as little bearing on what went on as last week's weather forecast.

Chances are the motorman who brought you to town this morning or the conductor who gave you your transfer, or the bus operator who had to do both, was experiencing something of that same feeling. For since the war hundreds of new operators have replaced those who have entered the armed services. Even with the careful training they are given—much of it "on the platform", as the saying goes,—there's always the first time when they go out on their own.

Your patience and friendliness have made it easier for them. You've remembered your first job, and overlooked the shortcomings of inexperience.

The spirit of tolerance will help keep vital transportation service going for the duration.

COLGATE-CORNELL—A study in red. Both teams below par. Colgate.

YALE-COLUMBIA—A study in blue. Columbia seems to be on the mend. Yale, nevertheless.

NOTRE DAME-DARMOUTH—A study in green. But the Irish with Kelly and Maggioli will be to much for Dartmouth in County Cork, beg pardon, in Boston.

GEORGIA-KENTUCKY — The Bulldogs by a nip.

ILLINOIS-IOWA—Illini to get back in the winning column.

INDIANA-NEBRASKA — The Hoosiers may be the team of the year. They'll take Nebraska in stride.

L. S. U.-TEXAS A. & M.—The Tiger to get going.

MICHIGAN-NORTHWESTERN—A third defeat in a row for the Evanston Wildeat.

MINNESOTA-MISSOURI—The Gophers to make it 2 and 2 for the season.

MISS. STATE-ARK. A. & M.—The Maroons of Starkville but they may be pushed.

OHIO STATE-WISCONSIN—The Buckeyes will beat the Badgers. But Gerard, a kicking, passing younster from Madison may give 'em a few thrills.

OKLAHOMA-TEXAS — If the Longhorns are recovered from that Randolph Field bouncing, they should win this one.

S.M.U.-RANDOLPH FIELD—The Mustangs get theirs today, good and proper. What a prospect.

RECORD SCORING PLAYS OF ALL TIME

(From Compilations of the Late Parke H. Davis)

IN FOOTBALL the record breakers know no season. They run, they pass, they punt, they drop kick and make field goals today much as they did yesterday. Curiously enough, unlike many other sports, football records are fairly evenly distributed over the years.

Wyllis Terry, playing for Yale against Wesleyan College in 1884, took the ball behind his own goal line and ran for a touchdown. That run of 115 yards constitutes the longest run on record. It was made when the field was 110 yards in length and therefore could not be duplicated today.

In 1937 Al Broga of San Francisco University made an 89 yard punt against Montana. Two years before, Dick Crayne, Iowa fullback, punted 102 yards with the wind at his back in a game against Indiana, but this distance included a long roll after the ball hit the turf.

The record field goal from placement and the record drop kick, oddly enough, are almost for the same distance.

In 1882, Haxall of Princeton in a contest against Yale, place-kicked the ball 65 yards.

Just two years before the United States' entrance into the World War, Mark Payne of Dakota Wesleyan drop-kicker 63 yards. In 1898 Pat O'Dea of Wisconsin drop-kicked 62 yards against Northwestern which stood as the record for many years.

Despite the lack of emphasis today on scores by kicking, the last decade has had its share of great kickers. In 1933 two 50-yard drop kicks were registered by Eubank of Washington State and Cahill of Nevada. In 1924, Pence of Coe drop-kicked 59 yards in a game against Drake,

When it comes to forward passing the record book has always awarded the palm to the throw made by "Brick" Muller of the University of California in the 1920 Rose Bowl game. Muller in that instance threw 70 yards to Brodie Stephens in a game against Ohio State. Recently the claim has been put forward that the longest completed pass was made in 1906. In that year Bradbury Robinson, playing for St. Louis University, was supposed to have made an 87-yard pass that was caught by his team mate, John Schneider.
