Sportsmanship

Tulane University, Faculty, Students and Alumni deeply regret the incident of the "booving" last Saturday at the Vanderbilt-Tulane game.

It does not represent in any way the spirit of Tulane, but was simply a manifestation of the intense feeling...carried by the exciting conditions.

Hey! Hey!

And—O, Boy!

What a Homecoming for the old grads this year! Next Saturday, the Tulane-South Carolina game will be the Homecoming game. The activities will start Friday, however, with a big old time Gym dance. A real, old fashioned Gym dance.

But let the Dance Committee tell you about it. Here is the letter they want put over to you:

Gentle Reader:

Exactly twenty years ago, with the completion of the then new gymnasium, there entered into the life of Tulane University a series of convolutions, acrobatics and acoustical aberrations known as "Gym Dances". For several years they played their part in the social scheme not only of Paul Tulanians but of other Orleanians as well. Barely a Friday or Saturday night but six or seven of our colored brethren were to be found rolling around in their chairs blasting forth such music as till then had never been heard, while a pop-eyed trombonist rode his derby clean to heaven and back.

The Silver-Leaf Orchestra, Brown, Piron, Robichaux and others even the rafters trembled, and photograph companies were quick to seize upon the idea and give to a spell bound world what has since been known as "Jazz"—cultured and fostered upon the Tulane Campus. The "Lively Stable Blues" finally broke up the war because sedate generals stood around and "shimmied"! and even the bulllets began to "zigzag". "Zigging" when they were supposed to "zag". The cowbell had gone down in history.

Now this year of our Lord, a bigger and better gymnasium is being erected. What it will do to music and the social graces we will not now venture to guess, but it seems particularly appropriate, whilst our alumni are reuniting, to stage a singing swan song to the older building.

And so—one more old "Gym Dance" with programs, plenty of encores and breakings and refreshments. "Alexander's Ragtime Band", "Here Comes My Daddy Now", "All Night Long", the Missouri Waltz should inspire you to "Boston", "Pick Cheries", "Lame Duck" or "Turkey Trot" in addition to the usual wrestling. One antiquarian has suggested a "Virginia Reel" or a "Paul Jones" and that we get well organized and hang up a donkey and pin tails on it; another says we should award a prize to the ugliest girl and to the handsomest man; another wants a King and queen and court so we can charge them double admission.

We make no rash promises except to say that if you ever attended an original gym dance you'd be a sap to miss this one, if you never did attend one it may be your last great chance. We personally guarantee you the strangest party in recent Tulane history at 10:00 P. M. sharp Friday, October 28th, immediately following the "Jollification", at a cost of $1.00 a couple—75c for stags.

Yours for Paul, etc.

Mortimer Favrot
Willie Monroe
Adair Watters
Juno West
Lara Jones
Elizabeth Schwartz

Get hot, Boy!

That's just one feature. The Jollification ceremony which will be explained to you in detail this week through the daily press will convince you that it will be Tulane's greatest Homecoming.

New Orleans' offers many quaint expressions that sometimes bring wonder to its own citizens as to just how they originated. We believe you would be interested in a few of them, authentically explained.

Here they are:

Two Bits, Four Bits

Many people have asked for the origin of the "Two Bits and Four Bits" used to designate respectively the coins valued at twenty-five cents and fifty cents. In late Colonial and early American days, the principal specie money in circulation on the Gulf Coast and in the Mississippi Valley was the Spanish dollar. These were very scarce and the ingenious frontiersman hit upon the primitive but effective device of placing his dollars on a convenient rock and literally severing it into halves and quarters, hence the terms, "Bits," "Halves," and "Quarters," the latter being retained by the mints of the United States.

* * * *

Banquette

Strangers are often confused by the term, banquette, used by the old inhabitants of New Orleans to describe the sidewalk. The alien frequently insists that the word is senseless and far-fetched. It has, however, a very interesting and even romantic historical connection. It is well known that New Orleans was once an important fortified city. A banquette in military fortifications is the walk within the protection of the works. In early days, the citizens were limited in their activities by the necessity of keeping within the walls of the forts, hence the very natural derivation of the word and its retention in the vernacular of New Orleans.

* * * *

THE FIRST STEAMER

The first steam vessel to navigate the Mississippi from its confluence with the Ohio to the crescent of New Orleans was the packet, "New Orleans." Owned and commanded by Nicholas Roosevelt, grand father of Theodore Roosevelt and great uncle of Franklin Roosevelt. The packet was painted a sky blue color and was attired especially for defense against the Indians and raiders of the Valley. She arrived in New Orleans in the winter of 1812. It was a most hazardous voyage, during which the crew narrowly escaped shipwreck a dozen times in the uncharted waters. The crew moreover was constantly under the menace of Indian attacks and boarding expeditions by the pirates roaming the Valley. Nevertheless, Mrs. Roosevelt accompanied her husband and was full of enthusiasm at the end of the perilous voyage.

* * * *

Creole

When President Coolidge was in New Orleans he asked the origin of the term Creole. No satisfactory answer was given at the time. The Tulane student body may be interested in the genesis of the appellation. Creole is a French or Spanish word derived from the Latin verb, creare. It is limited to the French or Spanish inhabitants of the West Indies, Louisiana and the French inhabitants of the Mississippi and Alabama gulf coast. Empress Josephine of France was a Creole, born on the Island of Martinique.

* * * *

Neutral Ground

In early days, there was a bitter social and commercial jealousy between the Creole and English-speaking inhabitants of New Orleans. The stronghold of the English speaking Americans was the district including and adjacent to Lafayette Square, then known as the Faubourg St. Marie. The French clung to the old city and viewed with great distrust the growth in population and commercial importance of the American quarter. The French were entirely loyal to the new Republican government, especially after the fall of Napoleon and the seething politics of France had rendered the future of that country uncertain, nor could they forget that France had once abandoned the Colony to Spain, but they regarded New Orleans as their city which they had literally raised out of the Mississippi mud. Therefore as the English speaking settlement became important in the city's commercial life, they were regarded as interlopers and the Old Quarter sought jealously to confine the best developments of the town to itself. So bitter were the feuds that Canal Street became literally a neutral ground. Later on when the early significance of the term had been lost, it was applied to the safety lines between the street car tracks.

ALMA MATER

Sing these words as Tulane's Alma Mater is played

I.
We praise thee for thy past, O Alma Mater!
Thy hand hath done its work full faithfully!
The incense of thy spirit hath ascended
And filled America from sea to sea!

II.
We praise thee for thy present, Alma Mater:
Today thy Children look to thee for bread!
Thou leadest them to dreams and actions splendid!
The hunger of their soul is richly fed!

III.
We praise thee for thy future, Alma Mater:
The vista of its glory gleameth far!
We ever shall be part of thee, great Mother!
There thou wilt be where e'er thy children are!

CHORUS:
Olive Green and Blue, we love thee!
Pledge we now our fealty true
Where the trees are ever greenest,
Where the skies are purest blue!
Hear us now, O Tulane, hear us!
As we proudly sing to thee!
Take from us our hearts' devotion!
Thine we are, and thine shall be!
Flashes of Football

- Tulane's Green Wave has won 34 games, lost two and tied two since October, 1928.

* * *

The games lost were to Northwestern at Evanston, Ill., in 1930, 14 to 0; and Southern California at Pasadena on January 1, 1932, 21 to 12.

* * *

The ties were plastered on by L. S. U., on Thanksgiving Day, 1928, 0-0; and by Vanderbilt last week, 6-6.

* * *

But, after all, Tulane's record still stands as no defeats by a Southern team since October, 1928.

* * *

Tulane started the Vandy game with only two regulars of 1931 in the line-up, namely Don Zimmerman at halfback, and Winnie Lodigues at center.

Not such a bad showing for the newcomers, eh?

* * *

Bob Tessier, sophomore, started his first game at tackle last week and played sixty minutes. His brother, George, also a soph, started his first one at guard and played 57 minutes.

* * *

Stanley Morris is chairman of the Tulane Homecoming Day committee arrangements for the South Carolina-Wave game next week-end. Albert Wachenheim, Jr., is vice-chairman.

Before the homecoming day next Friday night at the Gym, the alumni will hold a Jollification party in the old stadium with a bonfire, speeches from the coaches and three grand prizes being awarded.

* * *

Prize number one will be a railroad ticket to Lexington, Ky., for the Wildcat-Wave game; number two will be a railroad ticket to Atlanta for the Georgia Tech game and number three will be transportation and ticket to the L. S. U. game.

* * *

Tulane and Newcomb students will put on a few stunts for the old grads.

* * *

On Saturday, all the old 'T' men will collect in front of the West Side stands to give a big Hullabaloo.

* * *

CAMELS are always FRESH!

SWITCH to Camels and learn the mildness of a fresh, cool-burning cigarette. A blend of choice Turkish and mellow, sun-ripened Domestic tobaccos, Camels are never parched or toasted. That's why we say smoke them for one day, then leave them—if you can.

R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO COMPANY, Winston-Salem, N. C.

Don't remove the Camel Humidor Pack—it is protection against perfumes and other odors, dust and germs. Buy Camels by the carton for home or office. The Humidor Pack keeps Camels fresh.
