TAR HEELS

Tulane and the University of North Carolina resume a football relationship today that had its inception in 1922 but which has been dormant since.

Wave in that year, 19 to 12, in a thrilling game which had Lester Lautenschlaeger as star for the Wave and "Red" Johnson as the standout for Carolina.

We are delighted to have North Carolina with us again. Next year, the teams meet at Chapel Hill and doubtless many Orleanians will visit the beautiful university town.

Hail to Carolina!

IN MEMORIAM

Thousands will feel the loss of Dr. Archie B. Bland, loyal Tulanian, whose untimely death shocked countless Green Wave followers last week.

Dr. Bland was known intimately to scores upon scores of Orleanians, all of whom admired his sterling qualities of true friendship and sincerity.

Never did Tulane have a finer friend and one whose interest was more paramount in the progress of the institution.

He was equally respected and admired in his chosen profession; that of dentistry. A graduate of Tulane, he was an outstanding alumnus and we shall all miss him. He graduated from Tulane in 1910. He was a professor in the Tulane school of dentistry for a number of years.

He was always generous to charity, contributing often and magnanimously when even his closest friends had no idea that he was acutely interested in some worthy cause.

His code of life, reflected always, is embodied in these lines:

"Dear Lord, in the battle which goes on through life,

I ask but a field that is fair;

The chance that is equal with all in the strife,

The chance but to do and dare.

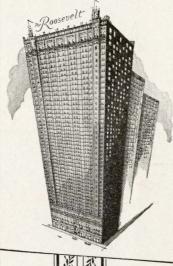

"And if I should win, may I win by the code,

With my faith and courage held high; And if I should fail, may I stand by the road,

And cheer as the winners go by."

A Word Sketch About North Carolina

By Robert A. Madry

Today's football game matches teams representing the first State University in America to begin operation and the oldest university in the deep South.

You are doubtless well acquainted with the history of Tulane. Chartered in 1789, the cornerstone of the University of North Carolina was laid in 1793, and the formal opening was held in 1795.

In the early years of the university the rest of the South had no institutions of higher learning, and this condition brought to Chapel Hill a considerable number of students from other states. When the War Between the States broke out, more than half of the 500 students enrolled at North Carolina were from other states.

The story of the University of North Carolina in those early years, and for a long time thereafter, is a record of incessant struggle, not for a luxurious or even a comfortable existence, but for the barest necessities.

Although scores of its students left the campus to fight in the Army of the Confederacy, the university managed to continue to function during the Civil War. But the days of Reconstruction dealt it a severe blow from which it was not to recover until five years later, in 1875, when it was reopened.

The greatest changes in the life of the university have taken place in the last 20 years, but the stimulus for this transformation came in the nineties. At the turn of the century the institution was recognized as a leader among educational institutions in the South. It was overflowing with students taught by an able and enthusiastic faculty.

Whereas only eight buildings stood upon the campus in 1895, today there are approximately 50. The value of the central university plant at Chapel Hill is between eight and ten million dollars. The resident enrolment this year is 3,000. The Summer School enrolment for the two terms was approximately 2,000. And there are several thousand extension students — those taking courses from correspondence and extension classes.

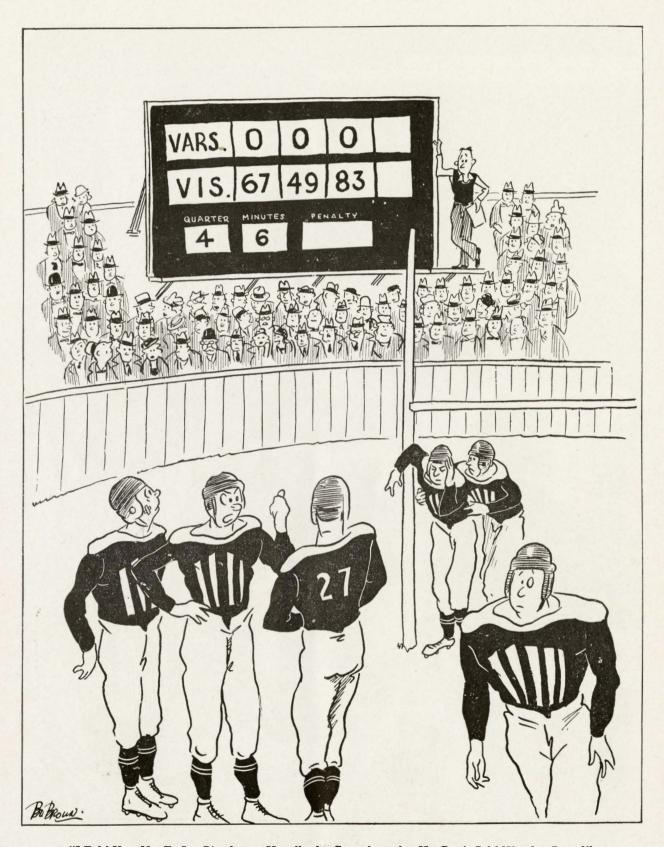

Five years ago the State Legislature passed an act consolidating the work of the university at Chapel Hill, State College at Raleigh, and the North Carolina College for Women at Greensboro. It has been the task of President Frank P. Graham—one of the most difficult tasks ever faced by any college president—to translate into actuality the terms of this consolidation. This consolidation program is still in progress.

With a frequency that must be gratifying to the people of North Carolina in particular and the South in general, there comes to hand from day to day manifold evidence that the work of the University of North Carolina is attracting widespread and favorable attention. Its admission to the Association of American Universities and its election several years ago to the presidency of that body is but one bit of testimony to the high esteem in which it is held.

ROY L. ALCIATORE, Prop. 717 St. Louis Street

Let me tell you, brother, when you have a famous eating place in New Orleans, it must be some place because they do know how to eat, and what to eat, and hospitality, and when you speak of Antoine's, you have reached the "2" and "&" in alphabetical praise. Antoine's was founded in 1840 and has never had to resort to a jazz band. Imagine a restaurant existing and making a worldwide reputation on just food. My sombrero is tipped to Jules at Antoine's.

LET IT RAIN!

By FELICIA LAMPORT

If that creature thinks he can make me move one inch in this pouring rain he's the mental age of my unborn nephew. It isn't as if I wanted to see the game when he's got such a swell radio — and a fireplace — and when the Martinis are the only dry things this side of the state line.

That's my beaver coat he's picking up, and he's actually smiling. And I didn't eat lunch for a month to buy it! Oh well, the little beavers spent most of their lives under water anyhow. This'll make them feel right at home.

Ugh, I'm glad to have long legs; the water's only up to my knees. "Oh, I'm all right, Johnny . . . I'm getting along just swimmingly." Smile when you say that, sister, if you can keep the rain out of your mouth. My curls were so nice and tight when I left home. Now they're dripping down my neck like a bunch of corkscrews.

Why does that other girl have to act as if she liked it! I guess she's been tried and found wanton before. It's easier for her anyhow. The bump on her nose deflects the water from her mouth.

So this is the trolley car. We climb in on top of those people. Makes it softer, I guess. And then the next crowd on top of us to make it really cozy and homelike. "Mister, do you mind giving me back my shoe? It's not that I value it so much, but, you see, my foot's in it." I don't mind his apologizing, but I wish he'd take his elbow out of my stomach while he's doing it.

There goes one of those lovely banners, right in my eye. "Oh, it's just a wee bit gouged out, but I don't mind. I've got another one."

What a big swimming pool they have here. Oh, I see, it's the Stadium. And I sit right in this lovely puddle. I wonder if people would like to see me do a swan dive at the half. I don't care if it IS the team coming in. I wouldn't stand up to see Mussolini and Hitler do a bubble dance. There's a tiny little spot in the small of my back that's still dry and I want to keep it that way, just for sentiment's sake.

Number forty-six! What is this—a football game or a raffle? Oh, he's the captain—a slippery runner, you say. Well, you can't blame him. Anyone could slip on a day like this.

What a game! In the good old days the prodigal son used to have to bring home the bacon, but now he just brings home the empty pigskin and everyone's happy. Oh lord, he's bringing out a sopping wet blanket. Wet wool smells just lovely. I think I'll have it made up as a perfume. If he tries to put that blanket around me I'll scream. EEEEEEEEEE!

Oh my God! He thought I was cheering for his team.

FOOTBALL DEFINITIONS

BALL: Of pebble grained leather, enclosing a rubber bladder. The pressure of inflation is 12½ to 13½ pounds. It is 28 to 28½ inches in circumference of the long axis; the short axis is 21 to 21½ inches. The weight is 14-15 ounces. A white ball may be used for night games.

BLOCKING: Charging into an opponent to prevent him from getting into the play.

"BREAK": An unexpected happening, such as a pass interception, a fumble, the blocking of a kick or a short kick.

FIELD: The field is 300 feet long (not including the 10-yard end zones at each end of the field) and 160 feet wide.

HOLDING: The ball-carrier is permitted to use his hands or arms to ward off tacklers, but no other member of the team in possession of the ball is permitted to hold an opponent or to use his hands or arms to obstruct them.

The defensive players are permitted the use of hands to attempt to reach the ball-carrier, but are not permitted to tackle or hold other opponents.

LINE OF SCRIMMAGE: An imaginary line parallel to the goal line and passing through the point of the ball nearest the side's goal line. Actually, then, there are two lines of scrimmage, separated by the length of the ball. The zone between these lines is known as the neutral zone, and may not be encroached upon until the ball is put in SAFETY: When a free ball or a ball legally in control and possession of a player guarding his own goal becomes dead, any part of it being on, above or behind the goal line, providing the impetus which sent it to or across the goal line came from the team defending that goal. A safety counts two points for the opposing team.

SCRIMMAGE: A scrimmage takes place when the two teams are lined up facing each other and the center snaps the ball back. The scrimmage does not end until the ball is dead.

TOUCHBACK: Made when a free ball or a ball legally in possession of a player guarding his own goal becomes dead on, above or behind the goal line, provided the impetus which sent it across the line was given by an opponent.

play.
