

The Moon and the Stars in Poetry and Music

Dedicated to Marcus Smith, Sarah Smith, Alida Hainkel, Rhoda Faust, and Marie Barranger, kindred spirits, possessing Sight and Insight.

For the moon never beams without bringing me dreams

O the beautiful Anabel Lee!

And the stars never rise but I feel the bright eyes

O the beautiful Anabel Lee!

And so, all the night-tide, I lie down by the side

O my darling, my darling, my life and my pride,
In her sepulchre there by the sea,
In her tomb by the sounding sea.

An excerpt from Anabel Lee by Edgar Allan Poe.

Star! Star! thy home is high; I am of humble birth Thy feet walk shining o'er the sky; mine only on the earth.

And still I dream; along thy light afar,
I seem to soar, until I seem to be, like you,
a star!
