I'm Always Chasing Rainbows

Singing a Happy Song - Sometimes I'm Happy
 Breathe There a man? God Bless America

An excerpt from Sir Walter Scott's "Lay
of the Last Minstrel - Canto VI

Breathes there a man, with soul so dead,
Who never to himself hath said:
This is my own — my native land?
Whose heart hath ne'er within him burned,
As home his footsteps he hath turned
Far from wandering in a foreign strand?
If such there breathe, go, mark him well!
For him no minstrel rouseth swell!
High though his titles, proud his name,
Boundless his wealth, as wish can claim;
Despite those titles, power, and pelf,
The wretch, concentered all in self,
Living shall forfeit fair renown,
And doubly-dying shall go down
To the vile depths from ~~which~~ ^{whence} he sprung,
Unhonored, unwept, and unsung.

Music

When gripping grief the heart doth wound,
And doleful damps the mind oppress,
Then music with her silver sound,
~~And~~ ^{speedy help}
~~With her silver sound,~~ doth lend redress.
From Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet."
