

Howard-Tilton
Memorial Library

Tulane

THE WORLD OF BOOKS IS THE MOST RE-MARKABLE CREATION OF MAN • NOTHING
ELSE THAT HE BUILDS EVER LASTS • MONU-MENTS FALL • NATIONS PERISH • CIVILIZA-TIONS GROW OLD AND DIE OUT • AND AFTER AN ERA OF DARKNESS NEW RACES BUILD
OTHERS • BUT IN THE WORLD OF BOOKS ARE
VOLUMES THAT HAVE SEEN THIS HAPPEN
AGAIN AND AGAIN • AND YET LIVE ON • STILL YOUNG • STILL AS FRESH AS THE DAY THEY WERE WRITTEN • STILL TELLING MEN'S HEARTS OF THE HEARTS OF
MEN CENTURIES DEAD

*Reprinted by permission from
"The Story of the Yale University Press" by Clarence Day*

In enduring memory of

Thelma Ducoing Toole

a gift has been made to the Library by

John Geiser III

Mr. Geiser has donated to the Southeastern Architectural Archive of the Tulane Library a copy of Stanley
Arthurs "Old New Orleans"