It's the new '56 FORD
America's fine car...at half the fine car price

with new Lifeguard design...new Thunderbird styling...new Thunderbird Y-8 power

With all its exciting beauty and power news for 1956, Ford announces the biggest safety news in car history. It's Lifeguard design—the first comprehensive contribution to driver and passenger safety in accidents.

Two years ago, Ford set out to determine the causes of accident injuries...so a safer car could be built. It was found that over half the serious injuries came from occupants being thrown against the steering post, against hard interior surfaces, or from the car. To guard you, Ford developed Lifeguard design—a family of safety features described at the right.

To give your safer new Ford the goingest GO on the road, Ford offers the new 202-h.p. Thunderbird Y-8 engine in Fordomatic Fairlanes and Station Wagons—the mighty 176-h.p. Y-8 in Fordomatic Customline and Mainline models—and the 137-h.p. Six in all models.

But this is only part of the Ford story. When you’ve seen its brilliant new Thunderbird styling...noted its colorful new interiors and careful workmanship...you'll know that Ford is truly the fine car at half the fine car price.

Lifeguard design...a Ford first for safety first includes new Lifeguard steering wheel with deep-center construction to act as a cushion in event of accident...Lifeguard double-grip door locks designed to give extra protection from doors opening under shock...optional Lifeguard padding for instrument panel, and sun visors made of similar impact-absorbing material, to help lessen injuries from impact...optional Lifeguard seat belts, firmly anchored to the reinforced steel floor, to help keep occupants securely in their seats. And you get all these Lifeguard features only in Ford.

TODAY’S GAME

Welcome to Mississippi State’s 1955 Homecoming.

The Maroons’ opponent today is Tulane, the surprise team of the Southeastern Conference. Coached by Andy Pilney, former Notre Dame star, the Green Wave scored a smashing 21-0 victory over Northwestern in an intersectional cash last week.

Fresh from its conquest of the Big Ten club, Tulane is apparently headed for its best season since 1950 when the final record showed six victories, two losses and a tie.

Already, the Wave has two victories in its first three games. After opening with a 20-7 victory over VMI, the Greenies were very impressive in losing to Texas, 35-21, in the first night game in Tulane’s history.

The Maroons, 33-0 victor over Memphis State last Saturday, also have a 2-1 record to date. After losing a tough 20-14 decision in its opener with Florida, the Maroons have beaten Tennessee, 13-7 in addition to the win over the Tigers.

Clever ball handling by sophomore quarterback Gene Newton and fullback Ronnie Quillian’s powerful running led Tulane to its important victory over Northwestern. These two will bear close watching this afternoon.

And the Greenies claim the best guard combination in the SEC in Tony Sardisco and Bryan Burnthorne. But they likely will get strong arguments from the Maroons on that statement. The Maroons wouldn’t swap their guard corp for any in the league. Scott Suber and Max “Spade” Williams will oppose Sardisco and Burnthorne this afternoon.

The Maroons will be without the services of Bill Dooley, a second team All-SEC guard last year, and possibly end Levaine Hollingshead. Dooley was hurt in last week’s 33-0 victory over Memphis State and will be out of action until the latter part of the season.

Hollingshead has been absent from the Maroon lineup since the opener with Florida on September 17.

This will be the second meeting of the teams under Pilney and Maroon Coach Darrell Royal, who are both in their second campaign as head coaches. State won last year’s battle, 14-0, in New Orleans.

This is the 35th game between the two schools in a series that started in 1901. Tulane has won 20, State 12, with two contests ending in ties. The Greenies’ last win in the series was in 1952 by a score of 34-21.

This afternoon’s game marks Tulane’s first visit to State College for a football battle in 42 years. On November 8, 1913, the Maroons beat the Green Wave 32-0. Tulane hasn’t been back since. However, the two clubs met in Jackson the following year, 1914, with the score favoring State 61-0.

The last time the game was played in Mississippi was in 1928, also in Jackson. This time Tulane won 51-6.

At halftime ceremonies Maroon Athletic Director C. R. Noble will be presented with a Helms Hall of Fame award by Bernie Moore, commissioner of the Southeastern Conference.

The broader aims of the schools of Mississippi State College are as follows:

THE SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE

... trains students for more efficient farm operation, for scientific investigation into agricultural problems, for professional service work, for teaching agriculture, and for fields of business in which a knowledge of agriculture is of value.

State College students (School of Agriculture) depart for a field trip.

THE SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING

... trains students to meet the great demands in such fields as aeronautical, agricultural, civil, electrical, and mechanical engineering.

Future aeronautical engineers (School of Engineering) study a jet engine.
THE SCHOOL OF EDUCATION
... trains students to qualify them for positions as teachers in elementary or secondary schools as school administrators, athletic coaches, and as school counselors.

Future industrial arts teachers (School of Education) practice what they'll teach

THE SCHOOL OF SCIENCE
... trains students as biological or physical scientists, to qualify them for positions with industry, for further graduate study, and for advanced training in medicine, dentistry, or other scientific fields.

Dean M. P. Etheredge (School of Science) conducts chemical analysis.
THE SCHOOL OF BUSINESS AND INDUSTRY

... provides a general education for students coupled with intensive training directly applicable to positions in specialized fields of business such as accounting, industrial and institutional management, merchandising, baking, etc.

Hotel management students (School of Business) learn food preparation.

GRADUATION DAY

... the culmination of four years of study and preparation, fun, fellowship and college activity. You are now fully equipped and trained for some specialized field.

STARKVILLE COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO.
STARKVILLE, MISSISSIPPI
The Helms Athletic Foundation of Los Angeles shares a part of Mississippi State’s 1955 Homecoming today with the presentation of the Helms Hall of Fame award to Clark Randolph (Dudy) Noble, class of 1915.

Bernie Moore, commissioner of the Southeastern Conference, will make the formal presentation of the award to the veteran Mississippi State athletic director and dean of Southeastern Conference athletic officials.

Noble was one of 20 famed college baseball coaches elected to the Helms College Baseball Hall of Fame in the first election. No other SEC coach has ever received this honor.

Coach Noble, who has played a major role in the development of athletics at Mississippi State, joined the Maroon coaching staff in 1919, following head coaching assignments at Mississippi College and Ole Miss.

For 29 years, from 1920 through 1948, his baseball teams were among the strongest in the Southland.

During his long and highly successful tenure as diamond coach, many of Coach Noble’s former players advanced to stardom in the major leagues. Among them, Buddy Meyer, David (Boo) Ferriss, Hugh Critz, Paul Gregory, Clay Hopper, Fred Walters, Valney Chapman, Lefty Bolton, Monroe Mitchell and Homer Spragins.

On May 14, 1947, the Maroon baseball park was officially named and dedicated Noble Field. In the spring of 1948, due to the pressing duties of the athletic director’s post, Coach “Dudy” relinquished active head coaching duties for the first time since 1920.

One of Mississippi State’s (then A. & M.) all-time athletic greats, Coach Noble has held every position in the athletic department. He is one of four athletes to ever win varsity letters in four sports at State.

Entering A. M. as a freshman in 1910, the name of “Dudy” Noble soon became synonymous with athletics at the institution.

In football, he was a brilliant quarterback. In the Aggies (now Maroons) most one-sided victory over arch-rival Ole Miss, Noble passed for three touchdowns and scored another as State scored a 65-0 victory. The game was played on November 6, 1915, in Tupelo, before a crowd of 6,000.

C. R. “Dudy” Noble

He captained the 1915 basketball team, playing guard. And he played every minute of every game that season. He was an outstanding outfielder on the baseball club and a champion sprinter on the track squad.

On Zipp Newman’s All-Time Mississippi State team, Noble was chosen for a berth in the third team backfield.

During his tenure as athletic director the school has become one of the ranking powers in the SEC and the athletic plant expanded to its present excellent status.

The Maroon athletic facilities, second to none in the South, include one of the finest gymnasiums in the country; a 35,000 capacity stadium (Scott Field); three new football practice fields; a nine-hole golf course; outdoor swimming pool; tennis courts, intramural building, and many other facilities for a well-rounded athletic program.
