New Haven March 21. 1840

Dear Sir

Dear Sir

This will be handed you by James Covey, the Interpreter.

James has felt a strong desire to see the great City of New York, as he only passed through it in the night when he came from the Burrows. He has been somewhat impatient during the long & severe winter & has wished very much to return to Sierra Leone. He is now more contented & I thought I would not oppose his wish to visit New York, as he has behaved himself very well.

I have furnished him with $6. towards his expenses. Perhaps you had better make some agreement with him about his wages taking into account the amount which has been expended on him.

Respectfully Yours
Amos Bronson

My dear Mr. Brewster

Faint, mostly illegible handwritten text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page. The text appears to be a letter or report, possibly related to the 'Fisk University' stamp.
