

$10.

New Bedford, 5^m. 25, 1841.

Having recently noticed, an "appeal on behalf of the Liberated Africans," I inclose five Dollars to be appropriated towards the expenses of their education at Farmington, in useful learning, as well as in agricultural and mechanical labours.

A Friend.

Lewis Tappan, 120 Paul St.
New York.

Having felt an interest in the welfare of these strangers among us, I would respectfully suggest for the consideration of the Committee entrusted with their support and education, whether the plan of exhibiting them in our larger towns and cities will not interfere with those habits of patient application to labour and study, on the acquisition of which, may we not conclude, much of their usefulness will depend, should they ever be restored to their native Land.

Having shown the above to another Friend, he has requested me to inclose $5. on his account, which is done.
