

Intermediate, Young Artist Winners in Auditions

—Photo by The Times-Picayune.

TOPS IN THEIR DIVISIONS were these intermediate and young artist competitors in the Junior Philharmonic Society auditions held Saturday at Dixon Hall on the Newcomb college campus. Seated are (from left) Eva Louise Hellmers, Janet Ann Rovira and Jewell Mary Boyd. Standing are (from left) Joseph Giacobbe, Gary DeRussy, Mary Walker, Helen Crisler, Carol Wendell and Mary Serio.

—Photo by The Times-Picayune.

JUNIOR WINNERS in the auditions were (from left, seated) Patty Wegmann Elizabeth Burke, Elizabeth Neilson, Cynthia Carashick, (standing, from left) Madeleine Simmons, Carolyn Kirby and Cathy Campbell.

Concert Soloists, Groups Selected

Soloists and groups for the scheduled concerts of the Junior Philharmonic Society in 1955-56 were chosen Saturday in auditions at Dixon Hall on the Newcomb college campus.

Some 75 young artists competed in the auditions, according to Mrs. Henry J. Mayer, auditions chairman. Each of the winners will appear in junior concerts sponsored by the society this and next year, she said.

The auditions are held annually for the purpose of giving young people a chance to be presented to audiences.

Winners in the intermediate and young artist groups were Mary Serio, Carol Wendell, Helen Crisler, Mary Walker, Gary DeRussy, Joseph Giacobbe, Jewell Mary Boyd, Janet Ann Rovira, and Eva Louise Hellmers.

Junior group winners were Cathy Campbell, Carolyn Kirby, Cynthia Carashick, Elizabeth Burke, Madeleine Simmons, and Patty Wegmann.