

Junior Philharmonic Society

The Junior Philharmonic Society gives talented young musicians and dancers an opportunity to perform in a professional atmosphere in front of young audiences. The society, in short, gives students a chance to watch their contemporaries in action.

Each spring the group auditions students from all over the state and selects those who will appear on the next season's program. This season's schedule includes recitals on Oct. 23, Dec. 11 and April 29 at Dixon Hall on Tulane University's campus and a Feb. 19 recital at Newcomb College's Rogers Memorial Chapel.

An early performer in the Junior Philharmonic was the late Norman Treigle. Others who have gone on to musical careers include Charles Anthony Caruso, Audrey Schuh Redmann, Barbara Faulkner, Jo Ann Yockey, John Brimhall, Ann Epper-son and Santiago Rodriguez.

Junior Philharmonic player Delfeayo Marsalis.
